The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. FARMERS WILL LIFT MORTGAGES

The Big Crop Will Throw Money Back into Loan Companies' Hands

Montreal, Que., Aug. 29.—"I have been in Manitoba 16 years, and have seen nothing like the present year's crops and the so-called great yield of 1887 is simply not in it compared with that of 1895."

These encouraging words were spoken to your correspondent this morning by Mr. Acton Burrows, an old newspaper man, who arrived in the city to-day from Winnipeg. "In 1887, Manitoba reported 14,000,000 bushels, while this year the figures cannot be less than 24,000,000, with a total wheat yield of 30,000,000 and 57,000,000 bushels of all grains."

"What will the value of all this be?"

"Well, it is estimated that the total grain products of Manitoba will reach from twenty to twenty-five million dollars."

"What will the standing of the Manitoba farmers this fall be?"

"They will at least receive an average of 42 cents for their wheat, and it is safe to say that their store bills and other liabilities will be wiped off."

"And what about the mortgages?"

"A good deal will be paid, as a Toronto Loan Company informed me not long since that they were having some difficulty in getting their loans renewed. A good many of the Manitoba farmers were expecting to pay off the indebtedness on their farms. However, for my part," continued Mr Burrows, "I think it would be a mistake for our farmers to attempt too much. It would certainly be better to apply a portion of the present year's surplus revenue to the improvement of their stock and outbuildings, and I am under the impression that this is what will be done in a good many instances."

Speaking of mortgages, and mixed farming, Mr. Burrows referred to the condition of affairs along the line of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway, where the frosts of a year ago scared off the loan companies; what is the result? The farmers went at mixed farming and to-day they are better off than the people of any other section of the province. The price of beef having gone up very considerably great quantities of cattle have been sent out of the province by Gordon & Ironsides and other dealers, to the immense advantage of the people. Another important feature was also pointed out. Private parties have purchased no less than 40 carloads of two-year-olds in the district south of Owen Sound, Ont., and are placing them on a ranch at Porcupine Hill, where after a stay of two years they will be shipped to the English market.

"Is this a new scheme?"

"No, it was first tried some years ago by a Brandon firm and the success was most marked."

"What are the ideas of the people of Manitoba as regards a vigorous immigration policy?"

"That is a most important question as you must remember that the enormous yield of 1895 is the work of less than 25,000 farmers. The question of immigration should be in the hands of a commission entirely independent of political parties and should be composed of representatives of the Government, the transportation and the land companies."

The local Government of Quebec will call the Legislature together the 25th of October, and the Treasurer will be able to announce a very favorable state of affairs. The deficit will be about $160,000, or $100,000 less than last year, and the friends of the Government declare that another year will see the balance on the right side. The expenditure this year has been heavy in the Attorney-General's Department on account of the wave of crime which has passed over the province of late.

WHY MARLBOROUGH CAME.

It is Said the Duke is to Marry Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt.

Newport, R.I., Aug. 28.—A rumor is current among society here that the visit of the Duke of Marlborough to Newport is for some purpose not hitherto declared, and it is hinted that it will soon be made known. It is to the effect that the Duke will take an American heiress to wear the title of Duchess of Marlborough.

To-morrow evening Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt will give a grand ball at Marble Palace. The entire summer colony has been invited. It is reported that at this ball, which will outrival all others ever held in Newport in grandeur and splendor, an announcement will be made and that it will be the engagement of the young Duke to Miss Consuelo, Mrs. Vanderbilt's talented and handsome daughter.

It is known that the Duke showed this young lady marked attention abroad, but an engagement was always denied when the family was spoken to on the subject.

DYING BUT INSURED

An Alleged Case of Graveyard Insurance.

THE GOVERNMENT TO INVESTIGATE

A Woman Dying of Consumption Insured For $7000 and an Attempt Made to Place an Additional $5000 on Her Life in Another Company.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Mr. George Brought, agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, is at Uxbridge investigating facts in connection with the death of a Mrs. Alger at Whitevale, on Aug. 15. Mrs. Alger's death was due to consumption and she was insured for $7000 in the Equitable Life on a policy taken out in December of last year. Her application was passed by an Uxbridge physician, and issued without objection of any kind.

There is no suspicion of foul play in connection with her death, but in the early part of July an application for a policy of $5000 in the Home Life Association of Toronto was made and also passed by the same physician. While the policy was awaiting acceptance at the Toronto office Mrs. Alger died, and the insurance men, on looking into the matter, found that her death was due to an acute form of consumption. The investigations that are at present being made are with a view to ascertaining whether there was not a deliberate conspiracy to defraud.

Manager Patterson of the Home Life Association stated yesterday that it was his intention to lay the facts before the Attorney-General's Department. The Equitable Life will endeavor to show that when the application of Mrs. Alger's insurance was passed in December last she was already known to be suffering from consumption.

ELOPED WITH HIS NEICE

New York, Aug. 29.—Clapp & Company, bankers and brokers, in the Mills building, in Broad-street, have lost their cashier and a young woman typewriter and stenographer, and with them went a sum of money which may amount to several thousands of dollars.

Incidental to the loss, a wife has been deserted by her husband. The missing cashier is Christopher T. Waterstone. He is abut 40 or 45 years of age Dwight O. Clapp, the head of the firm, says that Waterstone had come to him well recommended about five or six years ago, and had been engaged as a bookkeeper. As time advanced he was made cashier and was still their most trusted man.

Mr. Clapp discovered that Waterstone had been married for about four or five years. It seems that when he was living in Fourteenth-street he met a tall and hadsome young woman, who had already been married and had been left with one child, a daughter of about two years of age. He had fallen in love with her, and they were married. Mrs. Waterstone came from Montreal, and her mother still lives there. At that time the mother had been living with her two granddaughters, daughters of a dead sister of Mrs Waterstone.

When the Waterstone's went to Montreal about a year ago they found that Mabel, one of these girls, who was then about 16, had been studying typewriting and stenography. Mr. Waterstone took an interest in her at once, and when they were coming away he proposed that Mabel should come with them.

She came, and pretty soon Mr. Waterstone found her a position in a downtown office, where she got experience but little pay. About a year ago he proposed to get her a place at the Clapps' office, but he explained to his wife that it would be best that her relationship to him should not be known.

Consequently, a Mr. Wightman was asked to recommend the girl to Mr Clapp, and she got the place at a salary of $7 a week. She lived with the Waterstones. About three weeks ago Waterstone told his wife he was going to a Missouri doctor to be operated on, and suggested that she visit her home in Montreal, which she did. A couple of weeks later she received word that her husband and Mabel were missing, and she returned here to find that the couple had been gone nine days.

SULTAN SAYS HE WAS INSULTED.

Russia and France Requested to Bring Britain to Time.

Constantinople, Aug. 28.—It is reported that the Porte has made complaints to France and Russia against the attitude of England in the Armenian question.

London, Aug. 28.—A despatch from Constantinople to The Pall Mall Gazette confirms the statement that the Porte has complained to France and Russia of England's attitude in regard to Armenia. The Gazette's despatch adds that the despatch sent by the Sultan to the French and Russian diplomats bitterly complains that Great Britain's discourteous attitude is derogatory to the prestige of the Sultan. He therefore appeals to Russia and France to use their good offices to induce Great Britain to modify her attitude. The replies of the French and Russian representatives, however, do not favor Turkey's contention or give the Sultan any encouragement.

GRADES NO. 1 HARD

New Wheat on the Market in Winnipeg.

FIFTY CENTS THE PRESENT PRICE

Grain Men in Winnipeg Talk of Forty Cent Wheat—Early Meeting to Fix the Standards—Harvest nearly Over Around Brandon.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 28.—Morning reports from along the Manitoba and Northwestern show the weather to be cool and clear, with light wind and no rain. Harvesting is general, except at Newdale and west of Langenburg, where it is only just starting; is general around Yorkton. Weather at Portage clear and warm. The minimum last night was fifty and the maximum to-day seventy.

Joseph Chambers, Ingersoll, has returned from Wawanesa district, where he says wheat cutting is almost completed and no damage from frost. The yield will be from 25 to 29 bushels per acre down there.

The first sample of new wheat delivered at Brandon comes from near Chater. The load sold for fifty cents a bushel.

H. S. Paterson has returned from Winnipeg, and says there is considerable smut in the samples of wheat which came in there from Southern Manitoba, otherwise all are fine samples. Smut is in hard balls and will blow out well in threshing.

Ogilvie's agent went around Portage Plains today, east and north, and collected twelve samples of wheat from different sections. He found it a magnificent sample, entirely free from suspicion of frost, but with slight traces of smut.

The first carload of wheat which arrived at Winnipeg from Gretna for the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. graded No. 1 hard.

Reports from the Winnipeg Grain Exchange show that an effort will be made to keep the prices of wheat at the lowest point. The worst offenders are some newly-arrived grain men from Ontario and the east, who talk of forty or forty-two cents a bushel. They may just as well learn at once that they will not get the wheat of this country at those prices. It is simply ridiculous considering the visible supply of the world's crops and outside prices.

The Winnipeg Free Press cautions the farmers of Manitoba not to let the prosperity of this great crop make them extravagant, and warns them against the evils of over buying and credit.

Reports from Nesbitt, Ninga, Swan Lake, Morden and Dominion City state that the crop is almost finished, except at Nesbitt, where it is not more than half done.

Efforts are being made to have a session of the Westren Board for the selection of the grain standards as early as possible, but it is thought they cannot get samples ready before Sept. 20. The C.P.R. will facilitate, through their agents, collection of samples everywhere.

The statement is made on good authority that there is still a scarcity of farm laborers in districts more remote from the railway. The excursionists only took ork near the railway. It is said that when threshing really commences there will be a scarcity of men. This is given for what it is worth, as it is thought that five thousand extra laborers that have come in already should be enough.

Seventy-five per cent. of the wheat is cut in a radius of twenty miles around Brandon. It is all in good shape, although some frost may be found in samples from low spots. A great rush is on in the machine shops there over threshing outfits.

A report from Chater says the wheat is nearly all cut and stacking has commenced. No damage from frost. Threshing begins next week.

No Sympathy For the Missionaries.

London, Aug. 29.—After a lecture by Lewis Appleton in the city last evening, on missionary enterprise in China, a resolution was moved, expressing sympathy with relatives and horror at the atrocious character of the offences.

Hiram M. Maxim, the inventor, moved an amendment regretting the fact that the English and American missionaries should persist in going to China and attacking the ancient and highly developed religion of the Chinese. The amendment was adopted.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The silly season is popularly supposed to end on Sept. 1st, and a correspondent of the Review, appropriately takes advantage of the few days left to write a letter, whose chief merit consists in quotations from the EXAMINER, on the Trent Valley Canal—the most truth on the subject our contemporary has been guilty of publishing for a long time. The correspondent, with doubtless unconscious irony, signs himself "Progress"—the very antithesis of the course of the work on the Trent Valley Canal. "Progress" must be the proverbial Scotchman who can't take a joke except through the medium of a surgical operation on his cranium, inasmuch as he takes even the Trent Valley Canal seriously and fails to appreciate the spirit of badinage in which the reference to "refreshments, liquid and otherwise," was written. "If Progress" takes this reference to himself, we much regret it and apologise accordingly—in fact, we will do almost anything to maintain the entente cordiale, except take the Trent Valley Canal seriously, even if we do incur the risk of being accused of "making fools of ourselves," presumably over the Trent Valley Canal. We had much rather "make a fool of ourselves," with the assurance of making a good job of the process, than be made a fool of by the Dominion Government in the clumsy, bungling manner it has been trying to impose upon the electors with reference to the Trent Valley Canal. "Progress" darkly hints THE EXAMINER having to take back some statement in reference to the Lakefield-Peterborough section, and adds, "it's a very small hole, indeed, THE EXAMINER can't get out of." It will be a mighty small hole if it's anything in the way of actual work upon this section this year.

COLONIALS of the British Empire are taught by Conservatives of the strictest sort, that the colonies can expect justice and due consideration only from an imperial government of a Tory stripe. But here we have the Salisbury Government turning a deaf ear to distressed Newfoundland and refusing its prayer for relief. Had the Rosebery government so acted the Conservative journals would declare that he was wrecking the Empire.

OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

On Monday a painful accident befel Mrs. Geo Nelson. Mr. Meagher, of Rochester, who is on a visit to this vicinity, was driving on the highway between Keene and Allandale. A colt running loose was frightened by a dog, and in turn frightened Mr. Meagher's horse, which ran into a vehicle containing Mrs. Nelson, who suffered the breaking of a collar bone, while Mr. Meagher was pretty severely shaken up. Both were conveyed to Keene, and Mrs. Nelson's injuries were looked after by Dr. Harrison, and Mr. Meagher's by Dr. Shaw.

DOURO.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Harvesting is pretty generally over, and the crop as a rule is light, especially in straw. Potatoes and other root crops have, thanks to the late rains, a great growth. Corn has also got a boom from the rain, and is growing to a great height, so great as to hide Flynnville from the gaze of the surrounding residents.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." Mrs. DARLING, St Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, Sarsaparilla is Cod-liver Oil emulsified, or made easy of digestion and assimilation. To this is added the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which aid in the digestion of the Oil and increase materially the potency of both. It is a remarkable flesh-producer. Emaciated, anæmic and consumptive persons gain flesh upon it very rapidly. The combination is a most happy one.

Physicians recognize its superior merit in all conditions of wasting. It has had the endorsement of the medical profession for so years.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

THE MISSION FIELD IN FAR ALGOMA.

THE MISSIONARY'S COMPANION.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionary for the International Mission to Algoma and North-West, attributes his escape from severe illness through summer complaints to the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. He writes as follows: "I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been to me a wonderful, soothing, speedy and effectual remedy. It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. Scott's Sarsaparilla

A CURE Inflammatory Rheumatism is produced by an excess of uric acid in the blood. Paralysis is usually a dead shock, the patient by hopes and hopeless blood block. So-called neuralgia of the stomach is usually rheumatism; cephalalgia is rheumatism in headquarters; syphilitic trouble from syphilis; gout is caused by high living; sluggish circulation chills the heart.

"THE KIND THAT CURES"

Thus the whole line of rheumatic diseases owe their being to an effected circulation of impure blood. No person can suffer a rheumatic pain that hasn't free and equal circulation of pure blood, and this accounts for Scott's Sarsaparilla curing the supposed incurable cases. It neutralizes all rheumatic poisons and acids from the blood and equalizes the circulation.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

For while you may be thinking of a pleasant beverage merely, which it undoubtedly is, Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is making its silent way through your system, and giving you new blood. All may drink it with enjoyment for it is a fine rich wine, but it is especially intended for invalids, for it is to them an invaluable help in restoring lost strength, stimulating flagging energies, and making them feel strong, and young and hopeful. This makes it unique. A rare old wine and an incomparable tonic, and not a drop of medicine in it. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4, or 75cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

Splendid Work.

On Tuesday Mr. A. B. Nichols started a Hamilton Light Steel Binder for Mr. J. P. Dixon, of Minden. The machine, when all was ready, started off as smoothly as a bicycle, and from ten o'clock till sundown ten acres of heavy oats, averaging four and a half feet in length, were cut and bound. There were 440 twelve-sheaf stooks, in all 5,280 sheaves. This is a splendid record for a new or any machine. The bearings of new machinery are generally not of the smoothest, and that the Hamilton Light Steel Binder did its work from the start without hitch or friction, is a testimony to the excellence of the workmanship, and the splendid work done bears witness to this machine being the prince of harvesters.

Don't miss seeing the Bicycle Races, to-morrow afternoon.

A FAMILY QUARREL IN COURT.

The Spectators in the Police Court Afforded Amusement this Morning.

Edward Tighe, his mother and uncle, ventilated their grievances in the Police Court this morning, and considerable amusement was afforded the large number in court.

Ed Tighe, it will be remembered, was summoned to appear in an assault case yesterday morning on the information of his uncle. Edward appeared and stated the case was settled, and that he would pay the costs.

This morning his uncle James indignantly declined burying the hatchet, and so the case proceeded.

The three then pitched into each other with their tongues, and the court was treated to a genuine family brawl, which was, to say the least, disgusting. However, it tickled the auditors outside the railing.

Edward Tighe was fined $2 for this offence; but he had to face the music on a charge of using abusive language. He was mulcted $2 for this offence.

The uncle wished to bind Edward over to keep the peace, but the magistrate assured him his bark was worse than his bite, and that he was harmless.

WILLIAMS IS DISCHARGED.

The Pen and Soap Vendor Ordered to Leave the Town.

Williams, the Montreal soap and fountain pen vendor, who was charged with being a vagrant and with insulting Mrs. T. Guerin, came up for sentence this morning.

A number of witnesses were examined whom the vendor had solicited to purchase his wares and Mr. Guerin's daughter swore that he had insulted her mother and had "cursed the Irish.' Others swore that he had begged for something to eat during his wanderings.

The prisoner then went into the box and told of his business transactions and of his movements while in town. When repeating the story of his widowed mother, tears came into his eyes, but they were quickly suppressed with one word from the magistrate.

The magistrate stated that on the evidence he could do nothing with the prisoner. He seemed to possess a sum of money, and he could not say whether his business was legitimate or not. However, he was not brought up as well as people from Montreal generally are, and in his opinion was not possessed of the politeness which characterized the Irish or French. He ordered him to leave town.

IS IT A SEA SERPENT?

A Young Man Shoots a Monster at Ross's Bridge.

After many years of doubt and uncertainty, and an almost insulting spirit of scepticism on the part of the public, the great sea serpent question has been solved at last.

A party of Montrealers came across a whopper the other day and captured it, and a Peterborough boy gets the credit of coming next in the race.

While the City of Peterborough was at Ross's Bridge on Tuesday, a number of passengers on deck noticed something moving about in the water. Walter English, who had his rifle with him, promptly brought it to his shoulder and fired, but the serpent winked the other eye and remained untouched. Bert Hall next tried his luck and a bullet was lodged in the body of the water serpent.

This seemed to awaken the strange looking customer, and he wiggled about in agony for a time. Walter English again fired, but the bullet ploughed the water, and it was not until Bert Hall sent another bullet into its body that it sent in its cheques.

The serpent was fished on board the boat, and was examined by the passengers with open-mouthed curiosity.

They all declare that the thing is six feet nine inches long, with a black skin. Some say it is a snake, but others declare it to be a river serpent, as farmers in that vicinity, they claim, have been losing geese and duck from flocks that often wandered towards the river. Of course this is only a rumour, and the the snake editor is anxiously waiting for substantial proof.

And to make the affair more gruesome, others say this is only a baby serpent, and that larger ones exist in the Otonabee.

A number of gentlemen who are firmly convinced of the existence of these serpents in the river, intend laying in wait for the appearance of another. They will camp near the scene of Tuesday's incident, and will see that no liquid refreshment enters the camp, in order that they may be better prepared to win a name.

The EXAMINER might reproduce a portrait of the serpent, but refrains from doing so out of regard for the nerves of those who have tarried with the bottle, not wisely, but too well.

The offence was proven, and Curry was sentenced to a month at hard labour in the county gaol.

Our stock are all new numbers, made for this season's trade.

Having taken this important agency we are determined to show the company that we will sell more of their goods than were sold by all the stores last season; this means that we will sell them at a very small profit.

In addition to this we have purchased a large stock of other very special lines which gives us an assortment equal to that found in any large city store.

HONOURED IN HIS FORMER HOME.

Mr. John Moffatt, a New Peterborough Citizen, Presented With an Address at Windsor—A Fine Testimony to His Value as a Citizen.

Mr. John Moffatt, of Windsor, arrived in town this morning and will hereafter make his abode in Peterborough, to act as resident manager of the new Oak Hall clothing establishment, which will make its home in the premises on the corner of Hunter and George streets, formerly occupied by the firm of T. Dolan & Co.

From the appended clipping taken from the Windsor Evening Record, it is evident that in Mr. Moffatt, Peterborough has gained a most estimable citizen, and the Y.M.C.A. and Christian Endeavour Society a warm and ardent supporter. The Record says:

A special meeting of the Epworth League was called for last evening in the lecture room of the Windsor avenue Methodist church to bid farewell to John Moffatt, who in various capacities has been a zealous and efficient member of the society. The full attendance was in itself a flattering testimonial to the popularity of the ex-president, and the general regret at his departure will long remain a pleasant memory with him. Secretary Hattie Barker, on behalf of the League, read Mr. Moffatt the following address, and at the same time presented him with

A GOLD HEADED CANE:

DEAR FRIEND AND BROTHER,—On this, which may be the last occasion of meeting together with you as a society, we take this opportunity of endeavouring to express to you the very high esteem in which you are held by us, with whom you have so earnestly, faithfully and effectually worked for the promotion of our Master's cause.

It is no doubt with feelings of some regret that you are about to sunder the associations which your position as a member of this church and league for some five or six years, and that, too, while occupying such a prominent place in all its departments, has caused you to form.

We are here to-night as members of the Epworth League and representing in sentiment and expression many others, to make known to you that such regret is mutual. In this world it is a good thing for a man to be conscious in laying down his work, in any field of labour, that he has sought to do his duty, and we are confident you must enjoy that consciousness. It is, however, a very satisfactory and animating thing for one under such circumstances to know that others believe that he has so endeavoured and that his efforts have been attended with success.

We know that there is a consensus of opinion among the members of this League that as a president you have been thoroughly earnest and capable, and leave behind you a reputation deservedly high and very enviable. We have no hesitation in saying that your charity, liberality and consistent walk and conversation as a Christian man, will leave a lasting impression in our midst.

Our object in reading this address is to intimate to you the great respect and esteem in which you are held by us. Our desire in presenting the accompanying cane is, that it be a token in days to come to recall this hour and these sentiments. You have had much merited success here—we hope very sincerely that the like may attend your work elsewhere.

We are separating at the present, and while we fondly hope that mutual remembrance and esteem may long continue, and even occasionally personal association, we sincerely pray that the Almighty Giver of every good and perfect gift, may spare you to a life of continued usefulness and happiness.

T. WESLEY RICHARDSON, President.
HATTIE BARKER, Secretary.

Following is the address presented to Mr. Moffat on board the Sappho on Friday evening by the directors of the Y. M. C. A. of which he was president at his departure:

To John Moffatt, Esquire, President of the Windsor Young Men's Christian Association:

DEAR SIR,—The officers and members of the Young Men's Christian Association of the City of Windsor have learned with regret of your intention to sever your business connections here, and pursue your daily avocation in another part of the province. On the eve of your departure we desire to express to you our high appreciation of your efforts on behalf of the Association of which you have been so long a useful and energetic member. Your untiring zeal and ambition to establish in our city this association for doing good to your fellow man, is appreciated beyond measure, and may the good work which has been accomplished through it long continue as a memorial of your faithfulness to the sacred work entrusted to you.

Your sterling business qualities have given you a place, high in the esteem of your fellow citizens. Your Christian work in this city, and throughout the county of Essex, has endeared you in the hearts of all who have known you. A record of the good you have done and of the positions of honour, and trust you have enjoyed in our association, will ever remain impressed on the memories of all with whom you have been associated.

Longfellow has said "The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, without a thought of fame." We have always admired in you that earnestness of purpose, and modest ambition to do good to others without one thought of fame or reward.

As president, you have merited the respect of all associates in office, and the admiration of all the members of the association.

May you ever be occupied in the good work of which your nature is capable, and when you are called to rest it will be with the consciousness that you have done your best.

We all wish you God-speed in your new abode and may this token of our esteem for you incline your heart to greater good and cause you to remember the officers and members of the Windsor Young Men's Christian Association.

Signed on behalf of the Association by the directors and secretary.

J. E. D'AVIGNON, V.P.,
A. F. NASH, Treasurer,
WM. C. MCCUAIG, Gen. Secy.]

Outside the ranks of the Epworth League and of the Methodist church, in both of which Mr. Moffatt was a worthy member and indefatguable worker, regret will be felt at the departure of John Moffatt. He was one of the charter members of the Y. M.C.A., and always taking a warm interest in its behalf. He was a worthy citizen, always alive to the best interests of the city add ready to co-operate in any matter to advance its affairs. Windsor can ill afford to lose men of John Moffatt's moral stamina. Her loss will be Peterborough's gain."

YESTERDAY'S MARKET.

Loss of Fruit Brought in and Placed on Sale by the Farmers.

On the market yesterday morning there were wonderful displays of fruits, vegetables and all other products that are in season just now.

Peaches are still missing from the market, but it is likely there will be baskets on sale before long, however. Plums were more plentiful than at any previous time this season, and they sold at from 30c. to $1.25 per basket. Pears were 40 to 75c. per basket, crab apples 15c. a peck, apples 15 to 20c. a peck. Grapes were cheaper, selling at from 4 to 10c. per pound.

Tomatoes were the most plentiful of any of the market offerings, and nice clear-skinned tomatoes went at 25c per peck. The crop is large and tomatoes will be cheaper yet. Potatoes were 50c per bushel, celery $1.00 per dozen, cabbage 30 to 75c per dozen, cauliflower 8 to 10c per head.

Chickens were 40 to 50c per pair, and ducks 50 to 60c.

Meats were unchanged in price.

Butter was 17 to 20c per pound, a good quality of butter selling at 20c. The general quotations ranged from 16 to 21c per pound. Eggs were 10 and 11c per doz., 10 being the prevailing price in the market building.

On the grain market the wheat prices were down still further yesterday. Wheat was quoted as low as 64 and 65c per bushel, a drop of 3c since the day before. New wheat began business high this season and it has been on the decline. Old oats were 31 to 35c, while new oats brought only 26c.

HE CONSULTED A FORTUNE TELLER.

And Was Told Who Stole His Watch.

We are informed, says the Campbellford Herald, that a young man who lives on the 11th con. Rawdon, near the Seymour boundary, has had a little profitable experience in fortune telling. He lives alone, and one day recently he hung up his watch in the house and went to his father's on the same farm. A neighbour came along in his absence, and took the watch and deposited it in what he thought to be a safer place. When the owner returned his property was missing, and after a diligent search had been made, the famous fortune teller of the neighbourhood was consulted. She told him that a Jew had passed that way and taken the watch, and if he followed the thief he would find him at Hoard's Station. Before starting, however, the man who entered the house told him what he had done with the watch, and of course it was recovered. The experience cost him 50 cents.

THIS HAS BEEN A COOL AUGUST.

But the Last Few Days Have Been Uncomfortably Warm.

The past three days and nights have been uncomfortably warm, as the average citizen will readily admit, but August, 1895, is not a marker to August, 1894, for hot weather. A year ago the thermometer had a busy season in August, keeping the mercury up in the 80's the greater portion of the month, and as high as 89 degrees in the shade was reached.

The hottest day this present month was day before yesterday, and the closeness of the atmosphere made it very oppressive. With the old familiar friend, General Humidity, around, the last two or three days it has been depressingly hot, but the month's average of heat is away below what it was a year ago, on account of the few days of cold weather last week.

Nature's Voices.

To the discerning ear Nature has many voices. She has a message in the sweet tones of the brook as it rushes down the hillside in ocean's moody voices, now rippling with gentlest cadence upon the golden sands, anon in deep boisterous voice as she lashes the beach with foam. Then the voice of trees which the laughing winds bear to our ears, of sunshine and shade, of hill and valley, of birds and flowers. But she comes in pain, too, the voice of the aching, stinging corn speaks impressively, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the worst corn in twenty-four hours, painlessly and without leaving sore spots.

BERT HILL GETS FIVE YEARS.

An Incorrigible Youth Sent to Penetanguishene.

The three youths, Bert Hill, Long and King, who were implicated in the whip stealing from St. Andrew's church sheds, came up for sentence this morning. County Crown Attorney Wood was present.

It seems that young Hill has been a wayward youth for some time and beyond the control of his parents. He was besides ringleader in the case for which they were tried.

Hill's mother appeared in court, and pleaded hard for her son. She asked that he be given another trial. The young lad seemed to realise his position, and together with his mother wept bitterly. The court was of the opinion that a term in the reformatory would do the boy good, and he was therefore sentenced to five years in the Penetanguishene Reformatory. The two other youths were discharged with a warning.

Hill wept bitterly when taken to his cell, accompanied by his mother, who remained with him for some time.

HE FAINTED IN COURT.

A Peterborough Man on Trial in Lindsay Yesterday.

County Magistrate Deacon held court in Lindsay yesterday, and the first case was that against O. L. Patrick, a canvasser of Peterborough, charged with having taken a coat from Mrs. Austin of Fenelon Falls, under false pretences. The man was arrested in Peterborough and brought to town this morning by Chief Bell. He is a very delicate man and fainted in court, and it took some time to bring him around again. The case was adjourned until Tuesday next at Fenelon Falls, and the accused took the 11.20 train for Peterborough, being conveyed to the station in a hack. Reeve Dickson, of Fenelon Falls, also sat on the bench during the case.—Post.

WHEEL.

If the clerk of the weather only smiles on Peterborough to-morrow one of the greatest bicycle meets ever held in the Dominion will take place at the Driving Park. The races begin at two o'clock sharp and the fastest riders in the world will participate. No such assembly of crack wheelmen has come together in Canada before and the results of their trials of speed will be interesting indeed to witness. They are all after the big diamonds which are offered for prizes and the Canadians will not let the Americans win everything without a great effort to capture the valuable trophies for themselves. Visiting wheelmen will be present from all over the province and in the evening a grand promenade concert will be given for their entertainment in the skating rink. It will be the greatest day in wheeling circles that Peterborough has ever known and the races should be patronised by every citizen in the town to help the boys clear themselves of the great expense involved in bringing all these fast riders here.

LACROSSE.

Brampton, Aug. 28.—Although the Brampton Lacrosse Club had no chance of winning the junior championship, the deepest interest was manifested as to the result of the scheduled game here to-day between the Athletics of St. Catharines and the home team.

The general character of the play was rough in the extreme, some very coarse, and frequently unnecessary checking by both teams being indulged in. In the sixth game Warbrick was laid out with a terrific blow on the head. Kelly also suffered a terrible blow on the eye. Short stops were necessary. None of the games were of long duration, and the teams were pretty evenly matched. The combination work of the visitors was at times very brilliant. The first game was particularly fast, Brampton winning the draw. The ball traveled up and down in rapid order, and was finally scored by the Athletics in 7 minutes.

In the second St. Catharines scarcely touched the ball. Brampton won the draw. Kelly shot in front of the goal, and the ball rolled through. Time 1-2 min.

The third game also came to the Excelsiors in 8 minutes' play by a clear shot.

St. Catharines won the fourth and fifth games in 1-2 minute each.

In the sixth game there was a delay of three minutes on account of Warbrick's injuries, but finally it was scored for the Excelsiors in 7 minutes.

The teams now had each three games to their credit, and the tension was intense, while the vast crowds waited for the referee's whistle. Finally, at 4.17, the signal was given, and the teams lined up for the last struggle. It was fast and furious, a St. Catharines man and Kelly, were both laid out, and there was a delay of 5 minutes. Play being resumed, the ball traveled up and down the field, but by a clever piece of combination work, Brampton scored in 7 1-2 minutes, thus winning the match.

Mr. Clemes of the Tecumsehs made an acceptable referee, but was too lenient. The Garden City Band supplied plenty of music between the games, and at the conclusion of the match. When the match was ended the vast crowd howled, while many stalwart men rushed on the field and carried the Excelsiors off. Fallis, the Brampton goal, played his first match today of the season, only returning from Europe Monday morning. Not much money changed hands, although piles of it came with the St. Catharines contingent to place on their team, and big odds were offered, with few takers.

The Seaforth-Fergus protested match will be played here Monday next.

DR. TANNER AGAIN IN EVIDENCE

What Promised to Be a Lively Scene in the Commons Over the Estimates Cut Short by Mr. Balfour

Moving Closure—Radicals Interview Harcourt

London, Aug. 29.—In the course of the discussion of the estimates in the House of Commons yesterday the Irish and Scotch Radicals attempted to obtain a postponement of debate on the home votes.

Mr. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury and Government leader of the House, refused to consent to this, and the House proceeded with the discussion of the matter of salaries for the London University.

Dr. Tanner, Nationalist member for Mid-Cork, who a fortnight ago was suspended for a week for intemperate language in the House, took part in the discussion. Tanner's remarks were objected to and Hon. James W. Lowther, chairman of committees and Deputy Speaker, warned him to discuss the question in a more serious and relevant manner, declaring that he would deal with him in a summary manner if he wilfully persisted in obstructing the proceedings of the House.

Mr. Timothy Healy interrupted Mr. Lowther, and cried out: "Suspend the whole of us." Mr. Healy then made a speech upon the question before the House, at the conclusion of which his brother, Maurice Healy, rose to speak.

Mr. Balfour took the floor, however, and moved closure, which was carried by a vote of 123 to 34.

Radicals Confer With Harcourt.

London, Aug. 29.—A committee of Radical members of Parliament, headed by Sir Charles Dilke, called upon Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. Thomas Ellis, the first Liberal who this afternoon and had a consultation with them in regard to the severance of the National Liberal Federation and the Central Liberal Committee. It is learned that the question of the leadership of the Liberal party was not discussed at the conference.

PRACTICAL AID FOR IRELAND.

Proposed Convention of Irish Members During Recess.

London, Aug. 29.—H. C. Plunkett, Conservtaive for the South Rivision of County Dublin, has written to the Dublin papers appealing to all the political parties in Ireland to sink all bitterness and differences for their country's good. He suggegsts that during the Parliamentary recess a committee, to be composed of thre anti-Parnellites, two Parnellites, two Irish Unionists, and any practical Irishman whose opinion is valuable, be invited to join in the discussion of matters of pressing need. Mr. Plunkett proposes to begin with discussing the feasibility of a Board of Agriculture for Ireland and a technical education bill. The plan hos been much discussed in the lobby of the House of Commons and its good intention is generall yrecognized. The proposal is supoprted in some quarters, but a majority of the members of the House doubt that it would have practical results.

The Times says it fails to see how Ireland's advancement is likely to be furthered by a conclave in which her ingenious well-wishers like Mr. Plunkett, would be in Timothy Healy's grasp.

Bankrupt Banks Call on Bankrupt Shareholders to Pay Up.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 29.—The trustees of the Commercial Bank, now insolvent, issued a circular to-day calling on the shareholders to pay their reserve liability of $200 per share as provided by the Act of incorporation. The total amount of the reserve liability is $306,000, but there is no likelihood of the trustees getting half of this, owing to the straitened circumstances of most of the shareholders. It is claimed by these that the trustees have acted without the authority of the Supreme Court, under whose jurisdiction the winding up is proceeding. Payment of the call will be strenuously resisted until it is shown that the trustees have a legal right to collect money. This action on the part of the trustees causes more excitement than has prevailed since the bank's failure and arouses much bitter feeling on the part of the shareholders and note holders, who are now clamorous for the prosecution of the directors.

ALCOHOL AND EDUCATION

Damaging to the Race, Physical Training a Nation's Salvation.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 29.—The 28th convention of the Canadian Medical Association began here to-day with Dr. Bayard, St. John, N.B., aged 81 years, presiding. President Bayard in his address denounced alcohol, holding that the Government should establish inebriate asylums, as they profited by the traffic. Sir James Grant likewise assailed alcohol as a curse, and also held that excessive education was damaging the race. Dr. B. F. Mackenzie declared for physical training, and Dr. Sayre, New York, said a nation depended on its physical condition.

A Corsican Duel is Fatal.

Ajaccio, Corsica, Aug. 28.—M. Benedetti and Alessandri, rival candidates for the Canton of Pedicroce, fought a duel with pistols to-day, with the result that Alessandri was killed. The duel grew out of a violent newspaper article.

Alessandri fired his first shot before the word was given, whereupon Benedetti fired in the air. A second shot was then fired and Alessandri fell dead.

French Royalists Give Up the Fight.

Paris, Aug. 28.—Echo de Paris announces that the Duke of Orleans, who upon the death last year of his father, the Count of Paris, became the head of the Royalist party in France and claimant to the throne, has become convinced of the futility of further fighting the Republic. He has, therefore, decided to abandon the Royalist newspapers and abandon the offices in Paris occupied by the Royalist Committee.

Germans May Call Gen. Munier a Liar.

New York, Aug. 28.—A Berlin special to The Herald says: A committee of German generals will demand disclosures of the name and place from the French general, Munier, in respect to the accusations contained in his letter to The Paris Figaro. If these particulars are not forthcoming the committee will denounce him as a liar.

G.T.R. ENGINEER DROWNED.

A Toronto Driver Loses His Life at Collingwood.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Mrs. William Ivey, who lives at 538 Front-street west, was notified yesterday by the G.T.R. authorities that her husband had probably been drowned on Monday night at Collingwoo.

It appears that William Ivey, an old and trusted engineer in the Grand Trunk Railway, went to the end of the Collingwood pier at about 9 o'clock at night to bathe his feet, as is customary with engineers, who find it a great relief after standing in a hot engine all day.

As Ivey did not return before morning a search was instituted with the result that some of his clothing was found on the end of the pier. The bay was dragged all day yesterday, but the body was not recovered.

Ivey was 42 years of age and had been in the employ of the G.T.R. for 25 years. For some time past his run had been on a freight train between Toronto and Collingwood. He would be at each place on alternate nights.

Deceased leaves a widow and five children, the youngest of them being 3 years of age. The eldest, a boy of 17, has been ill in bed for three weeks, suffering from hemorrhage of the lungs Ivey was well known in Toronto, he being a member of the Masonic order, Oddfellows, Brotherhood of Engineers and other societies. He and his family attended Queen-street Methodist Church. He was of a bright and cheerful disposition and was in the best of spirits when he left his wife and family on Monday morning.

"COLD LEAD IN THE HEAD."

Attempted Murder by a Father in Montreal by Shooting.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—A man named Lecuyer was charged before the Police Court to-day with firing three pistol shots at his daughter with intent to kill.

The prisoner had been on a spree and after asking the young woman how she would like to feel cold lead in her head he blazed away, but fortunately the balls did not hit the target aimed at, and hence the charge as laid. The accused was sent up for trial.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 136 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. WHENCE COMES THE COLOR.

Beautiful Hues Thrown Out by a Black and White Top.

Scientists of England have been giving a great deal of serious consideration lately to the study of a mere toy which they are still unable to satisfactorialy explain. It is a top called the "artificial spectrum top," in which mere tracings of black and white are made to assume colors when in motion.

The top as now constructed consists of a revolving disc, half black and half white. On the white half are short concentric arcs of black. When the top revolves close under a bright lamp these arcs appear, not as gray lines, as might be expected, but as lines of color. To most eyes the effect is as follows:

(1)—When the revolution is such that the black line is preceded by the black half or the disc and followed by the remainder of the white, it appears red. (2)—When the direction of rotation is reversed it appears blue. (3)—When the lines are on the central portion of the white (so as to have equal white immediately on each side) the color given is green. (4)—Intermediate positions give approximately the intermediate colors of the spectrum. A few people see these colors differently, and one or two people, by no means color blind, can see no color at all. Curiously enough, a few people who are somewhat color blind can see the colors on the top very well.

Interesting News for Farmers

A cow will shrink in her milk because of lack of a supply of drinking water sooner than from any other cause, and it may be safely stated that insufficient water when the cows are in the pasture is a very frequent occurrence on farms.

The stable should be protected from flies and insects with wire screens. If this is done the animals will secure more rest and afford a larger profit.

Oats when cut in the milky stage (before the grain is ripe) make an excellent ration for horses. The nutritious matter is arrested in the stalks and both straw and grain are relished.

Nothing is gained by feeding an animal more than it should be allowed at one meal. Food that is left over is usually wasted. Give as much as will be eaten clean. This may be done by observing the animal for a few days. It is sometimes better to feed rather less than a meal than to allow too much, but it will be necessary to understand the characteristics and peculiarities of each animal to know how to feed to the best advantage.

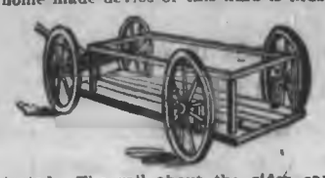
Humus is a term applied to certain organic matter in soils. It expresses no definite product, but applies rather to the entire product of organic decomposition, or rather, an intermediate stage of this decomposition. This process of organic decomposition results in the production of ammonia, which combines with certain acids, and is absorbed. Thus the humus may be taken as a measure of the nitrogen in a soil.

After the sheep are sheared all the ticks on the flock will find their way in a day or two, on the unshorn lambs. This is the time the owner of the flock takes to clean them off. It is done very quickly by immersing the lambs, except their heads, in a solution of tobacco stems, made in boiling water and allowed to cool. The lambs are left in about half a minute, so that the wool will be thoroughly saturated down to the skin. If the lambs get any of the liquid in their mouth or nose it will make them sick for a few hours, but without any permanent bad effects.

The rape plant has been much praised by workers at the Ontario Experiment Station, and their advocacy has enlisted many farmers in its growth. It is used mainly for feeding off the ground by sheep, yet cows have been given a chance at it. It can be sown in midsummer, and following another crop, may, as it costs little, afford advantages worth inquiry into its merits. When drilled, three to five pounds of seed are used, and when broadcast, twelve to fifteen pounds are sown.

Low-Hung Farm Wagons.

These wagons are a great convenience and save lots of lifting. A simple, home made device of this kind is illustrated.



The rail about the sides can be removed or put into place in a moment, or light chains can be used in place of it. Several styles of low-down milk wagons, hay carts, etc., are also manufactured and have a wide sale and growing popularity.

Convenient Initials.

"What did you say that young man's name is?" asked Mabel's father.

"Mr. Isaac Oliver Upton," was the reply.

"H'm, I begin to understand."

"To understand what?"

"A remark that was made about Mr. Upton. I was told that he seldom wrote his name in full; that he nearly always used his initials."

Canadian Courtesy.

Charles T. Murray, a well-known Washington newspaper man, has just been visiting Ottawa, the capital of Canada, and after meeting all sorts of Dominion officials, makes this admission:

"In the treatment of strangers I miss the offensive arrogance of our petty officials, the impudence of pages and democratic influence of office generally that pervade our republican institutions. Dignity and courtesy, such as characterize gentlemen in private intercourse, meet us half-way on every hand. I have been about Congress for twenty-five years, and the contrast makes me smart in my innermost democratic soul."

Wooden Hats.

Connecticut has always been prolific in inventors with a genius for utilising wood in unexpected directions from the time when one of her sons manufactured nutmegs out of pine knots down to the present day. The latest outcome of his ingenuity is a wooden hat. A Connecticut man has made a machine that cuts a block of wood into fine strips. These are moistened and then woven like straw into headgear, which is said to be very durable. The inventor says that the substance is lighter than straw, and that because of its easier manipulation and lower cost it will supersede the other material.—Boston Herald.

Accident Company for Him.

"I want to take out some life insurance," he said. "Certainly," exclaimed the active young man, as he hastily gathered an application. "What occupation, please?" "Baseball umpire." "You'll find the accident company just across the hall," coldly came the active young man's voice, as he slowly laid his pen aside.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Broken Rudder Won't Show.

Young Lady (out yachting)—What is the matter, Captain Quarterdeck?

Captain—The fact is, my dear young lady, we've broken our rudder.

Young Lady—I wouldn't worry about that. The rudder is mostly under water, you know, and it isn't likely people will notice it.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

A Constantly Growing Force.

Every Day Gives Momentum to the Success of South American Nervine.

Canadian Citizens from Every Quarter Tell of the Extraordinary Results Following the Use of This Wonderful Remedy.

MR. C. G. CHAPIN, OF BURK'S FALLS, ONT.

There is encouragement in the knowledge that even after the skill of eminent physicians has failed, and many medicines have been used, a certain cure for the diseases of life is to be found in South American Nervine. This is a remarkable medicine, especially when the trouble is nervous debility, indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headache, or a general breaking-up of the system. It has made thousands of cures of Canadian citizens all over this beautiful Dominion, and they have not been slow to sing its praises.

The strength of South American Nervine rests in its being something more than a mere tonic. A tonic will give temporary benefit, but if disease is in the system something more is needed to remove it. South American Nervine possesses all the virtues of a tonic, but more than that, it is a disease-healer. It has been discovered that certain nerves have entire control over the stomach, liver, heart, lungs and indeed all internal organs. When disease comes upon the individual, if a careful analysis is made of the trouble, and things are not gone about in haphazard fashion, it will be shown that the disease has its origin in a derangement of these nerve centers. South American Nervine goes at once to the nerve centers and removes the disease. Then strong, rich, pure blood runs through the veins and gives health and exhilaration to all parts of the system. This is one secret of the power of South American Nervine. But it does not stop here. There is no medicine that is so great a nerve-builder, nor flesh-producer as Nervine. It purifies the system. It imparts to it health and vigor, and builds up the constitution.

Now, this is exactly what was done in the case of Mr. C. G. Chapin, a well-known jeweller, of Burk's Falls, Ont. He says: For years I had been much troubled with nervous debility, and believe I had tried all proprietary medicines, but none seemed to relieve me, until I used South American Nervine. To my surprise the first bottle gave me great relief. I am still taking this great remedy and must say I have not felt so well in years. I highly recommend it to all suffering from nervous disease, for it has made a great change in me."

IRISH SUPERSTITIONS.

Queer Beliefs Entertained in the West of the Emerald Isle.

Here in the west the belief in fairies, always of a malevolent sort, is still very deeply rooted. A dispensary doctor, whose district lay some miles from here on the Clare coast, told me that he had one day met the funeral of a young man he had some time before attended for lung disease. He was surprised, as he had been given to understand the patient no longer required medical visits. He stopped one of the mourners, and asked for an explanation, and why he had not been called in again. She was unwilling to speak, but at last whispered mysteriously: "Sure, you could do nothing for him, doctor; nor could any doctor upon earth. Sure, it's well known what happened. Him such an elegant dancer; never home from a wedding or a wake till 3 o'clock in the morning, and living as he did beside an old church, what chance had he? Sure, the fairies has him swep'." Good dancers are well known to be coveted by the fairy host to join their revels. At another time a woman brought her son for advice, but without much hope for its efficacy. "For sure," she said, "he is weak in his head ever since one time he was out with the men working, an' he fell asleep an' slep' for four hours in a rath, and the fairies have his wits stole since then."

Drinking water from a holy well, out of a skull, was a more favorite remedy for most ills than drugs. A new priest spoke against it and removed the skull, but another appeared there next day. The old ring-shaped raths or forts are always fairy-haunted. I remember one day searching in vain for one we had been told of. We asked a countryman riding by if he knew of it, but he could not recognize it by any description till my husband said on chance—"A place the fairies come to." "Oh, the place where the fairies do be; I know that well enough," he said, and pointed out the way. Though wandering from the subject of fairies to that of "the new woman," I may be forgiven for adding that this man told us he was on his way back from "burying his first cousin's wife," but seemed resigned to her loss, as she was from the County of Clare, "and the Clare women are a great deal cleverer than the Galway women, and that makes them a great deal crosser." A few years ago, within a month of the death of a member of the Galway hunt, a fox twice ran to earth within sight of his house. The country people declared it was his spirit which had taken that form, and for the rest of the season refused to allow the earths in the neighborhood to be stopped.—London Spectator.

A Long Appointment Promptly Kept.

A peculiar incident happened at the Fifth Avenue Hotel on a recent afternoon which goes to show that this is not such a big world after all. A man whose cheek was bronzed by travel walked up to the desk and asked the clerk if a certain person, giving his name, was in the house. The clerk replied that he was, and that he had just arrived that forenoon on the steamship New York from Europe. The caller sent up his card, and in a few moments word came back that he was to go to the parlor. As he turned to go, he said:

"I haven't seen Mr. —— for nearly a year. I met him in Cairo, Egypt, about September 1 of last year. We were both interested in certain business, and I made an engagement to meet him here at 3 o'clock to-day. It is now (looking at his watch), 3:05 and we are both on were seen in the cafe together. The stairs. Later in the afternoon the two were seen in tthe cafe together. The comment that the clerk made was: "It isn't often that people keep engagements like that."—New ork Tribune.

HIS FALL MAY BE FATAL.

A Former Toronto Man Meets With an Accident in New York.

New York, Aug. 28.—David Mitchell jr., son of the Rev. Dr. David Mitchell of Jersey City, and formerly of Toronto, Can., has been employed by McKim, Mead & White, architects, as supervising architect at an old building at 117th-street and the Boulevard which is to be rebuilt and used as one of the Columbia College group of buildings. Shortly before 6 o'clock last night he was on the second floor inspecting the work.

There is a hole four feet square in the floor. In some way Mr. Mitchell fell through the opening. It was 20 feet to the floor below. Mr. Mitchell struck heavily, but he managed to crawl toward a door, where he was seen by one of the workmen. He became unconscious in a few minutes.

The ambulance doctor from the Manhattan Hospital, where Mr. Mitchell was taken, found that his leg was broken, that there were a number of scalp wounds, and that there had been a hemorrhage of the brain. It was feared that Mr. Mitchell would die. He is 24 years old.

WILL RETAIN THE BROTHERS

Ottawa Separate School Board Will Not Dismiss Its Present Teachers Until December.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—Under pressure brought to bear by Archbishop Duhamel, the Separate School Board has decided to continue the Christian Brothers as teachers in the French schools until December. Their retention, however, is conditional upon compliance with the Ontario school law as to the teaching of English and the use of the Sadlier series of text books. This means that they will go at the first of the year. French Trustees Moffet and Seguin threaten to take legal proceedings to prevent the Brothers reopening the schools next week.

Mr. Haggart left to-day for the West and Dr. Montague has gone to Dunnville.

A telegram was received at the Interior Department announcing the departure to-day from Prince Albert of Sir M. Bowell, Messrs. Daly, Hayter, Reed, and party for Battleford. They expected to reach the settlement of Victoria on the Saskatchewan River, about 60 miles distant, to-night.

During the Exhibition in Montreal two British war ships will visit that port, viz., H.M.S. Canada and H.M.S. Magicienne, which are now in Halifax. Magicienne sails on the 2nd and H.M.S. Canada on the 9th of Sept.

They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

KILLED WITH AN OAR

Surgeons Say James Barrett Was Not Drowned.

DEAD BEFORE THE BOAT UPSET.

Warrants Issued For the Arrest of Two of the Man's Companions, and a Provincial Detective Sent to the Scene of the Alleged Murder to Investigate.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 30.—The suspicions entertained by John Barrett of 96 Ulster-street, this city, that his brother, Jas. Barrett of McMurrich Township, Muskoka district, whose body was found floating in Buck Lake on the 18th inst., was murdered, have been strengthened by the post-mortem examination made upon the remains.

As a result warrants are out for the arrest of two men named Knowles and Molson, on a charge of murder, and Provincial Detective Greer has left for the scene of the tragedy to take the two men into custody.

Barrett, Knowles and Molson started across Buck Lake in a boat owned by Barrett, who was a farmer residing on the lake shore, to attend a Patron picnic. An hour or two later Barrett's companions reported that while they were crossing the boat had sprung a leak and gone down bow first, throwing its three occupants in the water. Barrett, who was a good swimmer, made for shore, but before he reached it sank. Knowles and Molson managed to relieve themselves of their clothing, and finally righted the boat and reached land in safety. Next day a broken oar, which was recognized as belonging to the boat, was found floating in the water. This circumstance, with the alleged contradictory stories told by Barrett's companions, excited the suspicions of the dead man's brother, who went up to bring the body home. The remains were, however, interred in Mount Pleasant Cemetery without a post-mortem examination or inquest.

John Barrett subsequently notified the Attorney-General's Department, and the exhuming of the body and the conducting of a post-mortem examination by Drs. Harrington and Bingham was the result. The post-mortem proved unmistakably that Barrett did not come to his death by drowning. There was not a drop of water in either the lungs or the stomach, showing that the man must have been unconscious when thrown in the water. There was also an ante-mortem wound on the head, sufficient to have caused unconsciousness, which had been inflicted by a heavy blow of some flat instrument. The wound might have been caused, the surgeons reported, by an oar.

So far as John Barrett could learn, during the two or three days at Novar and vicinity, the two companions of Barrett had no motive in doing the latter to death. Barrett had a dispute with a neighbor to the north of his farm, named William Remington, and as a result had the latter summoned for trespass, Knowles and Molson being witnesses against Barrett. It is not known that any grudge existed between the men as the result of the suit, however.

THE COAT HOWARD PITZEL'S

The Mother Identifies the Buttons and Cloth Holmes Will Be Tried in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—A telegram was received from Mrs. Pitzel at Galva, Ill., to-day, describing the overcoat worn by her son, and the description tallies with the buttons and remnants found. As this is probably the most conclusive evidence against Holmes that has been found, the detectives believe that he will be brought here for trial.

The identification of the charred bones found in a cottage here as those of Howard Pitzel is becoming more positive, and the evidence that Holmes accompanied the boy here, more sure, as time passes.

To-day pieces of the mysterious black trunk formerly owned by the Pitzel children, and for which many detectives have searched in vain, were found. The trunk had evidently been cut up by Holmes to get rid of it.

Holmes "Almost Certain" It is Howard

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—Holmes says that he is almost certain that the fragments of human bones unearthed by the detectives are those of the missing lad, but declares that the boy was murdered by the mysterious Hatch. He further positively asserts that Hatch killed both of the other Pitzel children.

40 BUSHELS PER ACRE

ONE MANITOBA FARM'S SHOWING

The Grain So Thick Binders Could Hardly Work—Ontario Men Waiting For Big Wages—Farmers Advised to Hold Their Wheat.

Portage la Prairie, Aug. 29.—With P. W. Snyder, manager, your correspondent visited the McLaren farm, thre miles northwest of Portage, which belongs to the Ottawa lumber king's estate, and is managed by Snyder. It comrises a mile square, or 640 acrs, 560 acre bing in wheat. A quarter-section of 160 acres, which was summer fallowed last year, has produced the most magnificent crop ever seen. The stalks are four and a half feet high and stand as thick as they can grow, leaning over with the weight of the heads, and will easily go forty bushels number one hard to the acre. Binders on that part of the farm have four horses, and cannot cut a full swath as they cannot use the sheaf carriers. The sheaves come so fast they must be droped when formed. The ground is thickly dotted with them until stacked and these look like haycocks for size. The binders kept jamming in the rank grain and cutting was slow. Farmers here never saw such grain, such big stooks or so close together before. Fourteen binders working, one following the other, made such a terrific clatter you could not hear yourself talk. The machines were jamming so much in the rank grain, and the men rather nervous at turning out every fe minutes, that it was decided to break up the procession and send in three or four in different parts of the field. They will finish in a couple of days. This crop, owing to its rankness, was rather backward. At a fair estimate the average yield of the whole farm will be 30 bushels per acre, which will give a total yield of 16,800 bushels of wheat of th best grade free from smut. This section was bought during the boom here from Dr. Cowan for $32,000 and has always produced fine crops.

Vice-President Adelai Stevenson of the United States passed through town to-day, returning from his Alaska trip. He says he got up at 6 o'clock this morning near Brandon and all morning had been passing through a perfect ocean of grain, which was a revelation to him. Without exaggeration, he says, it was as good as the best he had ever seen. He was given a pleasant reception at Winnipeg by Lieut.-Governor Schultz and others.

At the opening of the Northwest Legislature, Governor MacIntosh's address dwelt principally on the fine crops and recommended diversified farming.

The Hudson Bay Company are building a $20,000 brick and stone flour mill at Prince Albert.

Harvesting is nearly finished on Portage Plains. Some farmers who have finished are giving neighbors a lift to finish up quickly.

The Patrons Advocate stron[illegible] vises farmers to hold their grain as prices will rise later on. "Sell only what you are compelled to and hold the balance."

Mr. Armstrong, of the Ogilvie Company, collected 24 more samples of wheat to-day, north and west on the plains. They turned out some as fine samples as yesterday, with no smut and no suspicion of frost anywhere.

IN THE COMMONS.

Bill to Validate a Canadian Act Read a First Time.

London, Aug. 29.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir J. Kennaway, Conservative, asked what information the Government had in regard to the reported appointment of Liu Ping Chang, formerly Viceroy of Sz-Chuen, as Chinese High Commissioner to investigate the circumstances of the Cheng-Tu outrages.

Mr. George N. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, said the Government had received no information that Liu Ping Chang had been appointed as alleged. The report of his appointment, he said, does not appear to be true.

Deputy Speaker of the Senate.

Mr. Chamberlain asked leave to introduce a bill for the purpose of removing doubts as to the validity of the Act of Parliament of the Dominion of Canada respecting the prerogatives of the Deputy Speaker of the Senate. The bill was read the first time.

Urged to Take Plunkett's Advice.

London, Aug. 29.—The Pall Mall Gazette and The St. James Gazette agree in commending the olive branch extended to the various factions of the Irish party by Commoner Plunkett in his letter to the Dublin papers and declare that the Irish leaders would do well to heed his advice.

MURRAY HINTS AT MURDER.

The Government Detective's Conclusions Are That Frank Walker Was Murdered at Windsor

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 30.—Government Detective Murray is here looking into the death of Fred Walker of Guelph, whose body was found in the river at Amherstburg three weeks ago. Detective Murray says he has information going to prove that Walker was not alive when put into the water; in other words, that the case is not one of suicide. The circumstances were looked upon by his relatives in Guelph as very suspicious and they made application to the Attorney-General for an inquiry into the cause. Mr. Murray has spent several days looking into the circumstances. He is unable to reconcile the suicide theory with the facts he has learned about Walker's doings previous to his death. He further points to the great distance of the spot where the body was found from the city of Detroit, where Walker was staying the night before, and he cannot understand how it could have drifted out. There is a probability, he admits, in the theory about the man having gone aboard a river steamer and fallen off on the trip, his head coming in contact with the paddle wheel of the vessel, but from certain facts in his possession the detective has formed another opinion as to how the unfortunate fellow came came to his end.

New Grand Master of the Knights Templar.

ON A CHARGE OF ARSON.

William Glenn Arrested For Firing the Aurora G.T.R. Freight Sheds.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Coroner Johnson concluded the inquest into the origin of the Aurora fires at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when the jury returned a verdict that the fire which destroyed the G.T.R. freight sheds was kindled by design, and that John Glenn was accessory thereto. They added a rider expressing the opinion that, from the evidence submitted, it did not appear that Graham Bros. had over 2000 pounds of wool in the warehouse at the time of the fire as was claimed. Glenn was immediately placed under arrest. Later in the day he was brought to Toronto and arraigned before Magistrate Ellis on a charge of arson. He was remanded for a week. In his evidence before the jury, George W. Graham of the firm of Graham Bros. made the statement that his firm had 2051 lbs. of wool in the shed when the fire occurred. On June 5 he took out the insurance on the goods in the warehouse, $400 on the oats, $500 on the wheat and $400 on the wool. In addition to this Messrs. Coffee & Co. had an insurance of $300 on the wheat. John Glenn had frequently worked for witness when sober. Witness met Glenn on the night of the fire and accused him of being the incendiary. Glenn indignantly denied the charge.

Insurance Inspector J. R. Hoover stated that from information he had received from an expert he thought it impossible for the wool to have been consumed in the warehouse, as was claimed.

When John Glenn was called, he denied being in the vicinity of the sheds when the fire broke out. He claimed to have been lying on a lounge at his own home when the alarm was sounded. He had never had a conversation with Graham as to his willingness to fire the place.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 30.—Seventeen houses were burned and 50 people rendered homeless by fire which broke out at midnight in Mechanicsville, a suburb of this city. The sufferers are mostly mill hands, and in very few cases is there any insurance. The village is entirely without fire protection.

St Catharines Shoe Store Burned

St. Catharines, Aug. 29.—W. G. Sutton's shoe store was completely destroyed by fire this morning. The flames spread to D. W. Bixby's stationery store and McClung's large drygoods establishment. The fire was got under control without doing much damage to McClung's. Mr. Bixby's store was deluged with water. The building occupied by Sutton was owned by Mrs. Taylor and insured for $1000. Sutton's stock was insured for $6300. R. W. Bixby had $6500 insurance.

J R Booth Has Another $20,000 Blaze

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 29.—J. R. Booth's log-hauling station near Calendar was burned last night. Damage to the extent of $20,000 was done, on which there is an insurance of about $11,000. The property destroyed consisted of large store-houses, sleeping-house, offices, stables and other buildings.

THE MURDERED PICKERING MAN.

Kempthorn Was Well Known Throughout His Native Township.

Pickering, Ont., Aug. 29.—Albert Kempthorn, the victim of the shooting affray at Scriba, N.Y., Tuesday morning was a native of this village. He was 29, and was the youngest member of a large family, all of whom are now dead, excepting two boys, Thomas, who still lives here, and George, who holds a responsible position on a Michigan railway. The family was well known throughout Pickering Township and also in the town of Bowmanville, where William, one of the brothers, resided for years. "Bert," as he was always called, was the last one of the boys to leave home. He supported his aged mother up to the time of her death a few years ago. After that he went to Battle Creek, Mich., where his brother secured him work on a railway. Last fall he returned to his native place. He remained during the winter, going to Scriba in the spring.

The murdered man had been conducting a butcher business in Scriba.

NATIONAL UNITY.

At the unveiling of the Chenier monument in Montreal on Saturday last Mr. H. C. St. Pierre, Q.C., a French Canadian, made a speech, in the course of which he said: "He would like to see less exclusiveness in this province, for why should not a French-Canadian be as much at home in Toronto as in Montreal? He would like his compatriots to realize that Canada is a great deal more than the Province of Quebec. Be English, be Scotch, be French, be Irish, if you will, but above and before all be Canadians. We have no gratitude," said he, "to offer old France for she cowardly abandoned us to our fate 100 years ago, and we have ourselves alone to thank for the great liberties we now enjoy." This is the language of true patriotism, and only a practice of this spirit of national unity can effect the consolidation of the diverse elements of this great Dominion into a homogenous citizenship of real Canadians. The title French Canadian is, or should be, a perfectly superfluous expression. In speaking of other quasi foreign elements of our population we say that So-and-so is a Canadian of English, Irish, Scotch or German extraction as the case may be; and why not speak of a citizen of Quebec as a Canadian of French ancestry; if the distinction that now exists had passed away a generation ago we might not be troubled with the burning and largely racial question that now constitutes the chief disturbing element in our national politics. The distinction referred to is a constant infant keeping up the spirit of old feuds which should have died when the bones of their originators, British or French, were laid in the earth. We can only be a great country by being a united people, and when the diverse elements of our population come to the feeling that the proudest title they can bear is "Canadian," we enter the most important stage of our national development. We can all cherish in our hearts the traditions of the lands of our fathers, and still be loyal, united, patriotic Canadians. We can feel in the spirit of these lines from Tennyson's welcome to the Princess of Wales,—

"Saxon and Norman and Dane are we,
But all of us Danes in our welcome to thee."

Which paraphrased and addressed to our beloved Canada might read:—

English and Irish and French are we,
But Canadian all in our fealty to thee.

The exigencies of metre and the demands of our contention require the omission of the "Scotch" from the first line, but the sons of Caledonia are, perhaps, more practical than poetical, and can look out for themselves in any clime.

THE Globe's correspondent, says the Buffalo Express, directs attention to the ignorance which exists among the majority of Canadians touching the resources of the Dominion. Thousands of them who have crossed the border into the United State, he says, would, under a wiser policy and a better knowledge of the Canadian West, have migrated thither and set to work to build up Manitoba and the Territories. Much of Canada's hope for the future, he believes, lies in battering down the tariff walls which now divides the two nations to their common disadvantage and harm. A glance at the map, especially with regard to that portion of British America lying to the north of Dakota and Minnesota, shows the almost illimitable resources of the Dominion from which these crop reports come. The acreage of farm lands under cultivation must be only a handful to the whole. There is room there for millions of people. Yet the Canadians continue to flock to the United States. Probably no country on the face of the globe presents so remarkable a paradox of resources of wealth vast in extent and a population turning its back on them. The Canadian question is a perplexing as well as an interesting one.

THE Toronto World says that Mr. Laurier will contest every constituency in Quebec. This does not look like shirking the contest. And the probabilities are that he will win the majority of them, as he is pretty certain to do in Ontario.

ON THE TRENT CANAL.

Ottawa Citizen, Aug. 28th.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber has returned from an inspection of the works on the Trent Valley canal. On the Onderdonk contract, Simcoe and Balsam Lake division, the chief engineer found that half a mile of channel had been cut through the swamp down to grade. Six large derricks have been erected on the heavy rock cut, where an entrance has just been made. As soon as the canal level is reached it is expected these derricks will turn out 200 cubic yards each per day; and they will be kept at it all winter. A number of dump waggons will also be put to work at the western end.

On the Peterborough and Lakefield division Mr. Schreiber found that Contractors McDonald, Brown & Lowe had already commenced clearing the right of way and were getting their plant, such as scrapers, plows, tc., on the ground.

THE MARBLE HALL BALL.

Mrs. Alva Vanderbilt's House in Honor of Her Daughter

Newport, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Willie K. Vanderbilt's marble palace was the scene of a grand ball last night, given in honor of Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, and to which 350 invitations had been issued, nearly all responding. Dancing was held in the gilt drawing-room. Colored fire was burned on the cliffs all night and a military band was stationed on the lawn, which was illuminated with butterfly lanterns.

Mrs. Vanderbilt received in the pink marble room. She was dressed in Nile green satin, trimmed with white satin and Spanish lace. Miss Consuelo wore white satin and lace.

There was no attempt at extensive floral decoration inside the house, for everything is so handsome as to require no further embellishment, but in the large hall a remarkable floral feature was made near the grand staircase. At the south side of the hall is a large bronze drinking fountain, surrounded by an immense bevel plate-glass mirror.

To make that spot cool and inviting the basin was filled in with water plants in full flower. The tall lotos flowers stood up about the score or more of pink and white nymphal blossoms and the delicate lilac flowers of a mass of white hyacinths and tiny fairy lamps, while all around swarmed a flock of humming birds.

At one side of the mirror was a group of spikes of tall pink hollyhocks, standing 15 feet high. Hovering around the open flowers were butterflies and bees, which had been imported for the occasion.

The favors were white and gold, and were imported from Paris at an expense of $5000. They included sachets, silk bagpipes, such as played by the French peasants; fans, hats, boxes, hand glaces, etc.

It was the gossip that the engagement would be announced of the Duke of Marlborough to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, but no such announcement was made.

Suicide of a Muskoka School Teacher

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 30.—A man about 35 years of age entered the Kensington Hotel, King-street, at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, registered as Frank W. Webb, Montreal, and was shown to room 19.

Yesterday morning a gentleman called at the hotel to engage lodgings and was assigned to room 19. A bell boy ran up to see that the room was in order and was horrified to find Webb lying dead with his arms drawn up and the face of a dark bluish color.

Coroner Young found a vial that had contained prussic acid lying on the bed and on the bureau was an empty glass. Deceased wore a dark blue coat made by McKeown & Taylor of Bracebridge, and in his pocket was found a card of Davie & Company, valuators and builders, 73 Summerhill-avenue. No other papers were found and all the money deceased had amounted to 65 cents. Coroner Young says that Webb must have been dead at least ten or twelve hours when found.

Mr. A. H. Campbell, president of the Muskoka Mills Lumber Company, is of the opinion that the deceased was an Englishman named Frank Webb, who taught school in Muskoka for some years, and was afterwards employed as a clerk in one of the company's offices in Muskoka. He had been out of work for some time and came to this city a few weeks ago to seek employment.

Mr. Campbell is probably correct, as on Tuesday evening deceased, who was coming up York-street in an intoxicated condition, stopped to speak with Mr. McBride, who keeps a fruit store near the corner of Front-street. Webb said he was a school teacher and had lost his position through his refusal to read the Bible in the school. He also told Mr. McBride that he was going to commit suicide and showed him a phial. Mr. McBride placed no importance in the man's remarks at the time, believing them to be drunken maunderings.

Melted Down Their Spoils.

Hamilton, Aug. 30.—At the Police Court this morning John Findlay, a tailor, aged 33, was committed for trial for burglarizing the residence of Miss Lister, 135 Victoria-avenue south, on Aug. 17. Findlay was defended by L. H. Patten. H. Ross, who was charged with the same offence last week and is out on bail, was the principal witness. He is employed at W. E. Parker's jewelry store, King-street east, over which Findlay and Donald McKellar had a tailor shop. While conversing with McKellar a few days previous to the arrests, the latter asked him if he could keep a secret and then told him how he had seen two men digging behind the Lister house, and when they left he went to the place and found two parcels containing all sorts of jewelry. McKellar and Findlay gave him the jewelry to melt. He melted the metal, estimated it to W. Ellis, Toronto, and Findlay pocketed it. When Ross was melting the rest of the jewelry Sergt. McKenzie came along and arrested him. McKellar ran out the back and has not been apprehended yet.

SOO CANAL IS READY.

And Will Be Opened on September 9th

WITHOUT FUSS OR CEREMONY.

Piracy by Labrador Fishermen Clearly Established—They Stripped the Navies of Everything Then Fired the Boat—The New Imperial Sealing Order.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 29.—Monday, Sept. 9, has been definitely fixed upon as the date for the opening of the Canadian canal at the Soo. Mr. Schreiber, the Deputy Minister and chief engineer, says there will be no formalities or ceremonies of any sort at the opening. The first vessel at the entrance on Monday will be locked through just as if the canal had been in operation for 30 years.

There has been received at the Department of the Interior the report of the two delegates, Messrs. Jacob Bender and John Peters, who were sent out from Friend, Neb., to look up suitable locations for settlement in the Canadian Northwest. Their investigations were confined chiefly to the Stoney Plain and Beaver Hills districts. The delegates are Germans and from the German settlers at Stoney Plain they obtained full and reliable information of the climate, crops and general conditions of the northwestern country. The comparison which they make between these and the conditions which obtain in Nebraska is certainly most favorable to the Canadian Northwest. Delegate Bender, in the course of his report, states: "I find that at Stoney Plain, Alberta, my countrymen who have settled there for the past four years have no taxes to pay, no municipal charges of any kind; their crops are invariably as to roots, native grass, barley, and oats, an unqualified success. They have near at hand, if not upon their very homestead, all the timber which they and their children require for generations to come. Their cattle roam at large over rich natural pasture for from seven to ten months in the year. Abundant native hay is available for winter feed. In short, the essential conditions of comfortable existence are of cheap and easy accomplishment. They are not putting by much money, but they are increasing their cattle rapidly, improving their buildings, and so far as I can see are absolutely secure in a comfortable livelihood for themselves and children for all time." Bender adds that he came out to Edmonton expecting to find a much less favorable state of affairs. In this connection he asserts a fact that is apparent to almost everyone in Canada, when he says, "What letters we see down in Nebraska in the local press are usually written by people who have been disappointed, who have failed for whatever reason, found. I am not going to argue the matter with them. I'll just say that this Edmonton district suits me and I mean to settle in it. I expect there may be 15 families who will come up with me as soon as we can get our affairs in Nebraska settled, perhaps this fall, and I shouldn't be surprised if next spring 50 or even 100 families followed our example."

In reference to the cable despatch in to-day's papers announcing promulgation of an Imperial order-in-Council respecting prohibition of sealing by British subjects in certain of the Asiatic coast waters, your correspondent learned at the Department of Marine and Fisheries that the order referred to an Act passed during the last hours of the late Liberal Administration in England. This Act gave power to the Imperial authorities to enter into an arrangement with Russia to prevent pelagic sealing over a very extensive area. The order-in-Council referred to does not go the full length of the prohibitive powers authorised by this Act of Parliament. It simply renews the agreement with Russia which has been in force for the past year or two and makes no addition to protested zones around the Russian seal islands, nor does it in any way increase the stringency of the regulations under which pelagic sealing has been pursued in Asian and North Pacific waters for the past two or three seasons. That the liberality of the order is probably attributable to Mr. Chamberlain's regard for Canadian interests may be taken as an earnest that his colonial policy will be satisfactory to the Dominion.

On the 7th of July the steamer Mexico was wrecked in the Straits of Belle Isle, bound from Montreal to Liverpool with a general cargo, including live stock and provisions. It was announced shortly afterwards that complaints of piracy were made by the captain of the vessel against Labrador fishermen. An inquiry was accordingly held by Capt. Smith of Halifax, whose report was received at the department to-day. The investigation appears to exonerate the master of the Mexico from blame in connection with the loss of his steamer. That he overran his course 15 miles is attributed to influence of an unknown easterly current. The charge of piracy against fishermen of the Belle Isle coast is unfortunately only too clearly proven. Had the marauders contented themselves with looting the ship's stores and such of her cargo as consisted of provisions they could not be severely blamed. The report says that immediately after the steamer went ashore she was boarded by scores of fishermen, who plundered the vessel of everything they could carry away. They came in such numbers as to terrify the crew, and the captain could thus do nothing to save his ship from depredation, and besides carrying away quantities of butter, cheese and flour, they stripped the vessel of her sails, carried off the captain's and officers' personal effects and even the nautical instruments, which, with the exception of the compasses, could be of no use to them, but to sell. Worse still, they set fire to the wreck for the purpose, it is believed, of gaining access to the more valuable cargo stowed in the lower hold.

WHERE WAGES ARE $10 A DAY,

Visit of a French Engineer to the Yukon Country—Suicide of a Montreal Man.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 30.—This morning your correspondent met Mr. A. V. Roy, civil engineer, who left Paris April 20, crossed the continent by the Canadian Pacific to Seattle, Wash., took steamer to Juneau City, and thence through Chilkoot Pass to the head waters of the Yukon and followed that great river to its mouth and home again via Seattle and the Canadian Pacific, arrived yesterday in Montreal. Mr. Roy is a graduate of the Ecole Centrale, Paris, and his mission to the Yukon country was to look into the gold mining possibilities of that vast region. He was accompanied as far as Fort Cudahy, three days' march from the Yukon mines, by Mr. Weare, president of the North American Trading and Transportation Company, and they suffered a good deal of hardship getting from Juneau City up through the Chilkoot Pass. About a week after Mr. Roy's boat got over the White Horse Rapids, a Montreal man named Brophy, who formerly worked for the Dominion Bridge Co., was drowned. About 500 miners have gone into the Yukon country via Chilkoot Pass this year. Yet the engineer thinks that the circumstances are such that not more than 100 of the number will winter in the country. Wages are $10 a day, but the working days of the year will not average more than 60, so it happens that the saloonkeepers who sell whisky at the mines at $1 a glass get most of the gold. At present the posts that supply all the mines of the Yukon region are in Canadian territory, but the mines are all located in Uncle Sam's dominion. Mr. Roy left Fort Cudary on the 27th of July, and although it takes steamers to go up from St. Michael's some 15 days he arrived at the mouth of the Yukon in five days. The particular steamer in which Mr. Roy came down the Yukon was the P. B. Weare, 350 tons, and she burned a cord of wood an hour; they had to stop about ten times a day for fuel. When the sand bars were run into all hands had to turn to and help the craft out of her difficulty. The French civil engineer who has just completed this wonderful trip states that he contemplates giving his impressions of that vast country before one of the scientific associations of the French capital.

A sad occurrence took place at an early hour this morning at Sorel. Some time since a man named Charles Hutt, who resided for a number of years in Detroit, where he occupied a good position in a wholesale house, returned to the little town at the mouth of the Richelieu and has lived with his mother ever since. Although Hutt had not been in good health, yet no one suspected that he had any desire to take his own life. This morning he was found hanging in his room, and life appeared to have been extinct for some time.

This morning Judge Dugas sent James Crowe, who had stolen $223 from Michael Hanley, to the penitentiary for three years. A woman named Williams was likewise accused, but she was acquitted.

Mr. R. W. Sheppard, president of the Ottawa River Navigation Company, died here, aged 76 years.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president, and Vice-President Price of the Grand Trunk, met some 300 of the company's mechanics at the Point and delivered excellent addresses to the men. The president and party left for the west this evening.

The Dominion liner Labrador, which will be at Quebec Saturday evening, has 230 first-class passengers; being the largst number ever brought up the St. Lawrence.

The first lot of fresh beef, consisting of 17 car-loads from Swift & Co. of Chicago, will leave here Saturday by steamer Angloman.

Dr. Bergeron of 67 Dubord-street dropped dead this evening at his residence.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Team of Horses Out on a Run Last Evening.

Last night, about 8:15, a team of horses, said to belong to Mr. Joseph Redmond, of Otonabee, dashed along Hunter street at a break neck speed in the direction of Ashburnham. When near the railway track of the Loop Line, the wheels struck fire and sent forth a streak of light similar to a lightning flash.

On over the bridge the runaway team dashed, and continued their mad career up through the village, turning at the corner of Stewart and Elizabeth streets, and from Stewart to Concession street.

The runaway team still kept up its pace and while darting along the Zion road at at a rapid rate, ran into a driving party from Colborne, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Mr. Harris and daughter. The two teams came together with a crash, and it was thought that the driving party were quite severely hurt.

On examination it was found that the horses received a number of severe cuts and bruises, while the equipages and harness were pretty badly damaged.

Residents in the vicinity came to the rescue of the ladies and gentlemen, and they were conveyed to a town hotel where they are registered.

SIR CHARLES DID NOT COME.

The Grand Trunk President Took the Main Line to Toronto.

Word was received in town last evening that Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, the new President of the Grand Trunk, and the other distinguished gentlemen connected with the management of the road would arrive in town on a special train between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning, on a tour of inspection.

In order to give the distinguished gentlemen a fitting reception, a meeting of the Council was called for nine o'clock, this morning, at the council chamber.

However, word was received that Sir Charles and party had taken the main line for Toronto, where they will be banquetted by the Board of Trade of that city this evening.

It is expected that the President and party will pay a flying visit to Peterborough next week.

A PLEASANT TRIP DOWN THE ONONABEE.

THE P. N. CO. TAKE AN EXCURSION PARTY OUT.

The Councillors and Town and County Officials Take in the Outing, as do About a Hundred of the Citizens—A Most Enjoyable Day.

At the invitation of the Peterborough Navigation Company, yesterday afternoon the members of the town council, the town and county officials and a large number of prominent citizens journeyed down the river on City of Peterborough. There were about a hundred guests on board, and all being congenial spirits, a very pleasant outing was enjoyed.

The City left her wharf at about two o'clock in the afternoon, and threaded her way slowly through the logs which dotted the river and was soon through the booms and ploughing the waters of the Little Lake. A few who had missed the boat at the wharf caught it at the Locks and the party was complete.

THE OFT ADMIRED SCENERY

along the banks of the sinuous Otonabee is of a nature which does not weary the eye, and those on the boat drank their fill of it, whilst loling out on the deck smoking and chatting. Not many were aware of the fact that in the down trip the steamer headed to every point of the compass, except due north, before she reached the lake, but such was the fact and therefore it can be understood how after over an hour's run down the river when Rosa's Bridge was reached, the distance to Peterborough by land was only six miles, whilst by water it was about fifteen.

A stop of about twenty minutes was made at the Bridge to allow those interested an opportunity of disembarking and examining the progress of the work. On the east side of the river is finished, as is also one in the centre. The approach to the former is now under way. On the west bank another huge pier is being constructed, fully a score of men under Foreman Hayes being engaged in the work. The huge derricks and blocks of stone surrounded by the busy masons and stone cutters, give this point the appearance of a hive of industry, indeed. A large number of those engaged on the work live in tents pitched on a grassy knoll just back of the embankment, and their camp is quite a cosy place. Some additions to their usual menu were left for the men, much to their pleasure, after which the steamer resumed her trip.

Jubilee Point was reached at five o'clock, and again the whole party disembarked to walk over and admire the beautiful grounds, which Mr. Calcutt has fitted up at such expense and trouble. For a summer resort the place is an ideal one, indeed, standing sufficiently above the level of the water to remove all fear of malaria and to catch every cool breeze which blows during the sultry days. That it is a fishing ground was shown, yesterday, when an Indian landed a huge lunge just as the steamer arrived at the wharf. It was quickly purchased by a South Monaghan man. He was besieged with offers to buy the fish, but although he was guaranteed a good price if he would allow it to be put up at auction, he would not part with the lunge. The excursionists scattered over the grounds very quickly, and so delighted were they with the many improvements which have been made that it was with reluctance they returned to the steamer at the imperative summons of the whistle.

On leaving Jubilee supper was served in the boat by "Jimmy" Blaine, assisted by Dan Simons, and the way the viands vanished from the table that "Jimmy" has not forgotten just what kind of a menu is most pleasing to the palates of a crowd of hungry excursionists. Three times were the tables reset before all could be accommodated, but there was so much to see from the steamer's deck that those waiting for the later tables did not grudge their places in the dining room to their more hungry brethren.

On leaving Jubilee the steamer crossed the lake to Idyl Wyld, where the excursionists were cordially welcomed by the genial Spellman brothers. Over an hour was spent at this lovely spot, which never loses its attraction no matter how often visited.

THE RETURN TRIP

in the moonlight was not the least enjoyable portion of the day. The singers congregated on the deck, and led by Tom Dunn's clear baritone, the choruses made the wooded banks re-echo again and again as they were wafted by the breezes from the steamer to the shore, intermingled with many a laugh, as, inspired by the eager listeners, many a droll story was related.

A stop was made at Jubilee on the return journey to allow Mr. Dickie McBride to go ashore, and long after the boat had put considerable distance between it and the Point, Sir Richard could be seen gesticulating in the moonlight, and uproarious laughter could be heard from the shore, where he was relating the day's experiences to the Jubilee Point guests.

At about eleven o'clock the steamer pulled in to the Wolfe street wharf and made fast, the day being voted one of the most pleasant ever spent down the river, and one whose enjoyment was only equalled by the Olympic Club's outing. The hope is universally expressed that the officers of the Navigation Company will make the trip an annual occurrence that may be looked forward to each year.

Nature's Voices.

To the discerning ear Nature has many voices. She has a message in the sweet tones of the brook as it rushes down the hillside in ocean's moody voices, now rippling with gentlest cadence upon the golden sands, anon in deep boisterous voice as she lashes the beach with foam. Then the voice of trees which the laughing winds bear to our ears, of sunshine and shade, of hill and valley, of birds and flowers. But she comes in pain, too, the voice of the aching, stinging corn speaks impressively, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the worst corn in twenty-four hours, painlessly and without leaving sore spots.

LABOUR DAY PROCLAIMED.

The Ontario Government has declared Monday, September 2nd, a public holiday. Such announcement, though merely a sentimental concession to the rights of the workingman, is of a piece with the general policy of the Ontario Government to legislate on all occasions in the interests of labour whenever and wherever such interests are in anyway concerned, which is shown by the large number of enactments on the statute books beneficially affecting the interests of labour.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

A meeting is called in the club rooms over the Palace Restaurant for Saturday evening, when the town Rugby Football Club will be reorganized for the season. A number of the fastest and best men will be missing from the field this year, but it is rumoured that the new blood which will be introduced into the team will be sufficiently strong to keep the local club up at the top of the ladder, as usual. It is to be hoped that this season the club will enter the Intermediate League and give the citizens an opportunity of seeing some grand games. The meeting to-morrow evening convenes at eight o'clock sharp.

LACROSSE.

Lovers of lacrosse should witness the game on Monday afternoon on the Driving Park, between the Athletics and Markham lacrosse clubs. The visitors are said to be first class lacrossists, the team being composed of a number of fast men. Arrangements are being made to have the Fire Brigade Band present during the game.

FLOWERS, FRUITS, AND THE FINE ARTS.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Best Yet Held—A Magnificent Exhibit—General Excellence of Quality—Numerous Entries—Large and Encouraging Attendance—The Prize Winners.

The annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Market Hall, was without exaggeration, a brilliant success, which should be a source of encouragement to the directors and members. The exhibition in all departments was a splendid one, and the competition was keen. The attendance in the evening was very large, an evidence of the increasing interest taken in the work of the society and the culture it seeks so successfully to promote.

The scene in the hall was a delightful one. Never before in town was there such a large, varied and extensive exhibit of cut, blooming and growing flowers. The several tables devoted to them were flamed with vari-coloured masses of bloom, dazzling to the eye, while their exhalation of perfume was almost oppressive to the sense. Half a score of large tables were veritable banks of bloom, which represented scores of varieties of flowers, and numerous competitors. The extent and magnificent quality of the floral exhibit evoked almost less admiration than the great and general artistic taste shown in the arrangement of the cut flowers. The bouquets and baskets gave special proof of this. Mrs. J. H. Cobb, with a magnificent bouquet, was easily a winner of the crimson card, while others were most creditable competitors. The table devoted to coxcombs exited great admiration, but the finest display was made in sweet peas. Without discriminating, the prize list may be referred to for information as to the best collection. Then there were magnificent displays in all the chief annuals, Japan pinks, snap-dragons, asters, petunias, verbenas, dahlias, stocks, balsams, salpiglossis, phlox, Drummondi and perennial, nasturtiums, etc., etc. In the amateur class there were several ambitious and extensive exhibitors. Mr. Percy Hamilton with a collection of plants in pots, a collection of foliage plants, etc. Mr. J. H. Cobb, collection of plants in pots, a superb lawn vase, a magnificent hanging basket and a basket of flowers, which was, however, ruled out of competition, as being considered a floral design, besides bouquets and cut flowers. Mr. James Head, gardener at the Nicholls Hospital, showed a collection of geraniums, a collection of foliage plants, a collection of begonias, a splendid collection of cut flowers, and a considerable display of roots and vegetables. His collection was ornamented by three fine pictures—flower pieces.

Mrs. E. Cooney, of Ashburnham, whose enthusiasm as an amateur florist is well known, made a credible exhibit. There were several other exhibitors not so extensive as those mentioned, who also made good displays, and where these were of unusual merit the prize list will indicate it.

The professional florists had fine displays. Mr. Mason showed a specially fine collection of high-grade coleus plants grown this year from German seed. In this large collection no two plants can be found with similar foliage. Mr. Mason also shows a fine and tasteful floral design for dinner tables, which was much admired, and a hand bouquet.

Messrs. Jordan Bros. make a very large and fine display—perhaps the largest exhibit of a single exhibitor ever made in town. They showed a green house collection, a decorative collection, and a collection of foliage plants. Altogether their fine and varied collection totalled about a thousand pots. They exhibited large collections of geraniums, with magnificent trusses of bloom and collections of begonias and ferns respectively, as well as a collection of cut flowers and a floral design.

The show of roots and vegetables was extensive and excellent, many magnificent specimens being shewn. There was a good show of fruit, grapes, apples, plums, etc. Though dismissed with a line, the fruit display was worthy of special attention.

The ladies' department was large and the quality of the work was admirably excellent.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT.

This department, thanks to Mr. D. A. Shaw, artist, from being merely, as in former years, an insignificant appendage of the exhibition, has become one of its most important and interesting features. Nearly all of the excellent exhibits made, with an exception or two, were the work of Mr. Shaw's pupils. A detailed criticism being impracticable, it is sufficient to say that the work was generally well done, and in some cases exceedingly so, in drawing, colouring and general spirit. In oil figures the exhibitors were: Mrs. John Crane, "The Broken Pitcher,"—a disconsolate damsel at a well with woe-begone face, well brought out—with her broken pitcher at her feet; Miss Cassidy, "A Mother's Prayer;" Miss Annie Simons, "Resignation" and a dainty little miniature canvas, "The Fisher Girl;" Miss Doherty, "The Gypsy's Toilet;" Mrs. John Cox (Miss Bailey) "Alone." Landscapes were hung by Chas. Matthias, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Crane, Miss Simons, Miss Doherty, Miss Florence Waller and Miss Marion Best. In animals Mrs. Crane, Mr. Chas. Matthias and Mrs. John Cox were exhibitors, and Miss Clementi. Flower pieces were shown by Mr. Chas. Matthias, Mrs. Crane and Miss Cassidy. Water colours of of very creditable conception and elaboration were shown by Miss Cassidy and Mr. C. Matthias, who also exhibits mechanical drawings. Miss Laura Davidson has the field to herself in some fine crayon drawings of animal heads. The interest of the collection is greatly added to by several canvasses of Mr. Shaw—in oils—"Tired," portraits of his two children fallen asleep over a picture book, and "Waiting," a fisherman's wife waiting for her husband's return. These were not entered for competition, neither were the fine collection water colours that adorned the northern wall of the hall. These water colours, some by Mr. Shaw, and many by leading English artists. Worthy of special admiration were two or three pictures by that well known English artist, G. Harlow White, whose work is noted for clearness and purity of tint and freedom of wash.

Mr. E. Elcome makes a most creditable display of taxidermy, including animals and birds. The work is excellently done. His comparison case containing the lynx and the wild cat, felis Canadensis and felis rufa, respectively, permits of studying the distinctive points of these allied varieties. Mr. James Head also showed a case of guinea pigs and the common muskrat.

During the evening the Fire Brigade Band delighted the visitors with splendidly performed selections.

Altogether the exhibition was a most successful one, and the directors of the society have reason to feel themselves well rewarded for their efforts to furnish the public with a first-rate horticultural exhibition.

A Ceaseless Procession

Of little Men and Women—the school boys and girls—flanked with bigger youths of both sexes, have kept tramping in and out of the Peterborough Bookstore all week, loading up with School Books and other School Supplies. What a great time we've had! The satisfying of such eager crowds of anxious faces, as they swarmed around our counters and tables demanding their school amunition was no light task. But our system was perfect, and we were strongly fortified for the occasion. Our stock, though at times nearly run out, was never exhausted, because we kept constantly replenishing, and to-day it is complete and convenient in every line.

Better late than never. If any of the scholars have not yet been served, we are waiting for them—ready to fill their school bags and straps with any thing they require at the lowest possible prices. Our prices tell.

Purses, et cetera.

This store is bigger than people think and each season shows substantial progress in store and services. Magnitude means mastery, if other conditions are right—and they are right here. No lag. No stop. Bigger and better all the time.

Leather Goods are a leading specialty. We are always very strong in Purses, and all allied goods for shopping, travelling and marketing. All sorts and sizes, plain or mounted, in cute combinations, stylish furnishings, all sorts of fashionable leathers, cheap and expensive. An immense variety of worthy goods to choose from, and just now selling at clearing prices.

Card Cases

For calling cards, designed in plain and sterling mounted goods, and in the new fall styles, colour and leather.

A PROMISING FUNGICIDE.

Copper Sulphate Solution Compared With Bordeaux Mixture and Other Preparations.

It is now about three years since a strong solution of copper sulphate first came into use as a fungicide upon the bare branches of trees before the buds opened, and the results obtained from its application have been so favorable that it is recommended by nearly if not all of the spraying calenders. When used at the rate of from one pound to fifteen or twenty-five gallons of water it destroys the mycelium of such fungi as winter upon the branches, and prevents the germination of such spores as may come in contact with it; but at this strength it will destroy the foliage, hence it cannot be used later in the season.

For the second and third application bordeaux mixture is generally recommended and the virtues of this spraying material are so well known that it requires no further attention here. As the fruit approaches maturity it often becomes desirable to spray for the apple scab and the rot of the cherry, peach and plum; but as bordeaux mixture spots the fruit with its lime, and is not safe to use, at best, from the large amount of coppper that it contains, within three weeks of the time the fruit is to be used for food, recourse is had to some of the weak ammonia solutions, which do not appreciably spot the fruit and contain much less copper, besides being readily washed off. While the modified eau celeste, ammoniated carbonate of copper and other forms are fairly efficacious, they have the objection of being quite expensive. As a substitute for these ammonia solutions I have had excellent results from a weaker solution of copper sulphate in water. When used at the rate of one part of copper sulphate to one thousand parts of water, it does not injure anything except the plants with tender foliage, such as the peach and bean; but I conclude from the experiments at the Michigan station that one part to two thousand, or one pound of copper sulphate to two hundred and fifty gallons of water, is necessary to secure good results. While that there may be no possible danger from its use upon tender foliage, I advise that in such cases the strength be reduced to one to four thousand, or one pound to five hundred gallons of water. At this rate it forms a very inexpensive fungicide, the cost being from one to two cents per hundred gallons, or five cents per acre for a single application to bearing trees.

It has all the advantages of the ammonia solutions, and besides being much cheaper can be prepared with much less trouble. Being soluble it is washed from the foliage by dashing rains, and for this reason I am not prepared to recommend it for the second and third applications, the sticking qualities of bordeaux mixture being at that time to its advantage. It is possible that the addition of a small quantity of molasses, as is now recommended for bordeaux mixture, will lessen its liability of being washed off, and if that is the case it can be counted on as the coming fungicide for use at all times and upon all plants. I have been especially pleased with its use in the green house and upon bedding plants. While it has seemed even more efficacious, as there used, than bordeaux mixture, its freedom from spotting the foliage, being in marked contrast to the results where the lime mixture was used, seems to make it a most promising fungicide for that use. —American Agriculturist.

Tethering Horses and Cattle.

It is often desired to tether a horse, cow or calf in the field. To keep them from winding the rope about the bar or stake to which they are attached is important. Two methods are shown herewith. A long, stout iron hook may be pressed down into the turf, there being just curve enough in the part in the ground to keep it from pulling out, but not too much to prevent the hook from being turned about in the soil as shown in Fig. 1. The hook must be long enough and stout enough so that it will not pull out through the turf. The device illustrated in Fig. 2 needs little explanation. The wooden affair that slips down over the iron bar, and that turns freely about it, must be of hard wood and short enough to stand the strain upon it. The pieces of plank may be bound with hoop iron around the edges for added strength. Even if the rope get wound about this it will rewind when the animal pulls upon it.

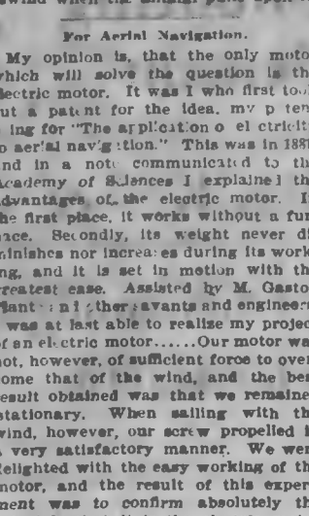
For Aerial Navigation.

My opinion is, that the only motor which will solve the question is the electric motor. It was I who first took out a patent for the idea, my patent being for "The application of electricity to aerial navigation." This was in 1881, and in a note communicated to the Academy of Sciences I explained the advantages of the electric motor. In the first place, it works without a furnace. Secondly, its weight never diminishes nor increases during its working, and it is set in motion with the greatest ease. Assisted by M. Gaston Plante and other savants and engineers, I was at last able to realize my project of an electric motor.....Our motor was not, however, of sufficient force to overcome that of the wind, and the best result obtained was that we remained stationary. When sailing with the wind, however, our screw propelled in a very satisfactory manner. We were delighted with the easy working of the motor, and the result of this experiment was to confirm absolutely the principle that it is the electric motor that must be used. Although we did not make headway against a wind blowing at a rate of three metres the second, we were able to resist it and to deviate from its current by tacking, with the greatest facility.—Gaston Tissandier in McClure's Magazine.

Girl's Party Dress.



This figure shows an exquisite party dress for a 14-year-old girl, in which our artist has excelled himself, so charmingly artistic and graceful are its soft lines. One cannot conceive of anything that would be more appropriate for a young girl than this. It is made of pale gray accordion-pleated crepe. The belt, streamers and rosettes are of white satin ribbon. The large, flat, three-pointed collar is made of white French muslin showing a narrow yellow lace edge and insertion. Gray silk stockings and gray suede slippers complete the costume.—Jennes Miller Monthly.

Cherry Pudding.

Sift a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder into a pint of flour; add a half teapoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of melted butter, the yolk of two eggs, well beaten and sweet milk enough to make a thin batter; beat all well together, then lightly stir in the whites of the eggs after they have been whipped to a stiff froth. Put in well-greased cups a spoonful of this batter, then a spoonful of stoned cherries, another spoonful of batter, then cherries, and so on, alternating until the cups are nearly full. Set them over boiling water and steam them for twenty minutes. Serve with wine sauce, made by creaming half a pound of butter into a pound of white sugar, seasoning with sherry wine and grated nutmeg.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Somach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London Ont.

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

A LIFE SAVED BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. CHINESE GORDON.

His Resignation and Prophetic Message to the Khedive.

A correspondent writing to the Scottish American says: One chilly morning at Suez, in the winter of 1879-80, I received a message from Col. Gordon. He had just landed from Suakim, and wished to see me. I found him seated in a room at the old Suez hotel, with his black secretary and trusty factotum, Mahomed El Tohamy, and a few friends, including the Governor of the town.

Poor Mahomed El Tohamy (who was destined to see his master fall at Khartoum, and probably shared his fate) was looking cold and miserable, and I noticed he was sipping some hot mixture of which the aroma did not seem familiar.

On my entering Gordon exclaimed:

"I have resigned the Governor-Generalship of the Soudan, and am returning to England. The khedive's ministers dared to send me instructions, and so I have resigned. Now, tell me honestly; what will the world say of my work in the Soudan after the years I have spent there? What is the apparent result?"

I said something to the effect that his name would live and be remembered.

"Ay," he replied, "but what visible trace remains of my exile and labor? It is now God's will that I should abandon my task, and there is absolutely nothing to show—nothing for the world to gaze at—except"—he added with a curious smile, and pointing to the shivering son of the tropics at the other side of the table—"except, perhaps, that I have taught my Mohammedan secretary to drink hot toddy at 10 in the morning."

Certainly Gordon's work was not intended for show. At Alexandria he had an audience with the late khedive, Tewfik Pasha, at which he tendered his resignation, and then, removing his "fez"—the badge of allegiance—addressed some words of stirring advice to his highness, "as from an independent English gentleman." Before embarking for Europe, Gordon wrote a famous telegram to the khedive—"Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin," which was shown to me and to the correspondent of a great London newspaper; but it is a question whether it was ever despatched from Malta. In any case, it was curiously prophetic. Within two years the Soudan was in open revolt, and Egypt under foreign control.

FRENCH LOSSES IN WAR.

Six Million Men Said to Have Perished in the Wars of the Last Century.

Dr. Lageneau of the French Academy of Medicine, has been making an estimate of the deaths by the wars of France for the past century. He finds that the civil wars of the end of the eighteenth century and of the republic, up to and including the year 1800, cost the lives of more than 2,120,000 Frenchmen. From the year 1801 to Waterloo, when France was fighting Europe in arms, more than 3,150,000 Frenchmen were engaged, and nearly 2,000,000 perished. Under the restoration, Louis Philippe, and the second republic, when there were campaigns in Spain, Greece and Algiers, the army included less than 215,000 men, and the loss in battle was only twenty-two per thousand. Even in the brilliant African campaigns the mean annual loss was less than 150 men.

Next came an era of frequent and bloody wars, the war in the Crimea, the war in Italy, the war in China, the war in Mexico, and finally the war with Prussia. Out of rather less than 315,000 French soldiers sent to the Crimea 95,615 perished. Of the 500,000 that took part in the Italian war nearly 19,000 perished. Nearly 1,000 perished in the expedition to China. The medical statistics of the French in the war of 1870 have not been published, nor have those of the Mexican undertaking. The effective strength of the French in 1870-71 was 1,400,000 men. The number lost is not positively known, but it is believed that the wars of the second empire cost 1,600,000 lives. Dr. Legeneau estimates that the small wars of the third republic have been fought at comparatively small loss of human life. He estimates the total loss for the century to have been 6,000,000 men, mosly young.—New York Sun.

Where Did He Hide.

The captain of the Bath schooner Eunice Crocker had a queer story to tell when he reached New York last week. During the voyage the negro steward, Henry Silvie by name, mysteriously disappeared, and a thorough search failed to disclose any clue to his fate. Another man was put in his place, and some time after the sound of rapping was heard in the foreshold. Thinking that the missing steward might have been imprisoned there, the men off duty made a thorough search of the cargo space, but failed to find any trace of him; but a few days later the crew were startled by an emaciated apparition, which suddenly appeared on deck, coming from no one knows where. It was Silvie, the lost steward. He was so weak that he could hardly stand and in a dazed condition, and unable to give any explanation of his disappearace or where he had been stowed away. Capt. Crocker concluded that he had become insane, and on arrival at quarntine turned him over to the authorities, and he is yet puzzling over the question where the man could have hid himself, as every part of the vessel was thoroughly searched. —Lewiston Journal.

FOR UNLOADING AND STACKING HAY.

A Device by Which 20 or 30 Loads Can be Put in a Single Stack With Little Labor.

Place a stout pole or mast (a) 20 feet long, six or eight inches in the ground within four feet of the end of the intended stack and two feet from the side, leaning over the stack in a slanting position, as shown in the illustration. The load f is on the opposite side of the stack. There are strong guy ropes to hold the mast in position, and of such length that when in the position illustrated the two ropes d and g are tight, while the rope b is loose. The fork is pulled down and inserted in the load of hay and the horse attached at h, the load is lifted, and when it reaches the top a, a line of draft will pull the pole towards an upright position, al, the rope b becoming tight and the rope d loose. In this manner it is possible to swing the forkful of hay up over the stack, and if the ropes are properly arranged, to drop it anywhere along the center of the stack. As soon as the forkful of hay falls off the mast is pulled back by the man who loads the hay fork. Of course these guy ropes must be arranged so as to allow the mast to move in any desired position. This can be easily accomplished by any one who has ever ge ingenuity. A pulley is needed at mast head for fork rope to run through. Also set a post in the ground about two feet from the mast, parallel with the stack; put a pulley on this, run the fork rope through it, and hitch the horse to the end. With this simple device, 20 or 30 large loads of hay may be put in a single stack with very little manual labor.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

ODDS AND ENDS.

By comparing the statistics of English and Scotch universities in a given year it was found that Scotland, with a population of 3,725,000, had 6,600 university students, while England had only 6,000 students out of a population about six times as great.

John Sebastian Bach's bones have been discovered and measured at Leipsig. He was buried in the Thomas kirchhof 145 years ago, but within this century a street was built through the graveyard, and many of the graves, including his, were obliterated.

In Paris they call a bunco game "robbery in the American style." The Paris press is at present in great glee because an American who had a letter of credit for 25,000 francs fell a victim recently in the French capital to this home industry, and was relieved of his money by an obliging chance acquaintance.—New York World.

It is said that money has been subscribed to buildan elevated bicycle track between Chicago and Milwaukee. The plan contemplates an elevation of 16 feet and a toll of 10 cents for the entire length of the road. Such an elevation to a prairie country would probably give a dead level track for the whole distance, and practically throw off the speed limit.

Thirteen pieces of old money were recently found under the fluted stone pillars which for so many years have stood at the entrance of the Tremont house, Boston's famous old hostelry. Among them was a 10-cent American coin with the date 1823 upon it; coppers bearing the dates of 1826, 1822 and 1823; an English halfpenny of 1815; two Spanish coins with the inscription "Georgius III., D. C. Rex, 1810"; a copper piece of 1802, "Georgius III. Rex."; one sou of 1780, and a Nova Scotian coin of 1814.

One of the hospitals had a curious case of blood-poisoning to deal with the other day. The patient was an elderly woman, who, in wiping a clothesline with a damp cloth, got a germ under one of her nails. There was no abrasion of the skin, and nothing to indicate that the finger had been injured in any way until the poison began to manifest itself. Six or seven incisions were made in the arm and hand in order to afford relief, and two of the tendons in the finger in which the trouble began were destroyed.—Chicago Post.

An odd circumstance happened once at Winchester. As Dr. Wilson was one Sunday morning going through the streets towards the cathedral, he heard a woman cry: "Mackeral! All alive, all alive, O!" And on his arrival at the church he began the service as follows: "When the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive, alive, O!" These last words the doctor proclaimed aloud, in the true tone of the fish woman, to the great surprise of the congregation. But the good doctor was so studious and absent that he knew not what he had done.—Household Words.

Fathers Must Be Careful There.

Among the Indians of British Guiana usage bids the father go to bed when a child is born, and allows the mother to return at once to her household duties. James Rodway's recently published book of that country explains the custom by a superstition which attaches the spirit of the child to the body of the father. The author says:

"The father must not hunt, shoot, or fell trees for some time, because there is an invisible connection between himself and the babe, whose spirit accompanies him in all his wanderings, and might be shot, chopped or otherwise injured unwittingly. He therefore retires to his hammock, sometimes holding the little one, and receives the congratulations of his friends, as well as the advice of the elder members of the community. If he has occasion to travel, he must not go very far, and, in passing a creek, must first lay across it a little bridge or bend a leaf into the shape of a canoe for his companion."

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Donovan's Yacht Crowds Up on Defender and Vigilant in t... Trial Race That Defender Won.

New York, Aug. 29.—The severe drubbing which the Defender administered to the Vigilant in the second official trial races to-day has had the effect of considerably reviving the hopes of yachtmen in this vicinity, which have been drooping somewhat since the syndicate broke down in her last race and failed to finish. The Vigilant was beaten over every leg of the 24-mile course and finished 13 minutes 3 seconds behind the Defender. Nearly half of the difference, however, was due to the fact that the wind died down to nothing just after the Defender had crossed the finishing line and while the Vigilant was still on her way in.

An additional element of interest was lent to the race by the appearance on the course of the challenger, Valkyrie III. It was the first opportunity that any one had had to see the rival yachts sailing anywhere near each other and it was eagerly embraced by the enthusiasts. Peculiar wind conditions served to make this appearance of the Valkyrie a most sensational one. She seemed to be overhauling the two American yachts with ease. She was about a mile and a half behind them at the starting of the race. While they wer drifting along in the lightest of airs the Valkyrie crept up on them, bringing a breeze with her. Inside of an hour she had aproached to within less than half a mile of the Vigilant and the faces of the spectators lengthened. Then she git into the glassy area with the other yachts and slowed down. She continued to gain on the Vigilant, however, for a few minutes, after she had come into the same weather conditions. The Defender was also gaining perceptibly on the Vigilant at the same time, and the Valkyrie, not wishing to give the Americans too good a line on her speed, put about and went back up up the bay. Her fast work in the light wind was something of a surprise, and confirmed the feeling that she will come nearer to winning the famous old cup than any of her predecessors have done. The course decided upon for to-day's race was a triangular one, eight miles to a leg.

Racing at Woodstock

Woodstock, Aug. 29.—The fourth day of the bicycle meets in the L.A.W. circuit was held here this afternoon, and was successful in every way. The track, a new quarter-mile one, was all that could be desired, and ideal racing weather prevailed. About 1400 people were present. No records were broken, but the times were generally very good. Lougheed, the class A champion, appeared in only two events, losing one and retiring in the other, as he was unable to overcome the handicap.

Of the class B events, the Canadians got their share, McLeod winnig one and McCarthy another. There were three accidents during the meet. Laver fell in the one-mile class A handicap, but did no damage. Kennedy fouled Cooper in the final one-mile, class B, open, and they were both thrown out of the race. Rigby touched the tandem in this heat, and made a bad spill. In the second heat of the two-mile open, class B, Barnett fell, and DeCardy, who was following closely, went over the top of him. Carman, who was behind them, turned out of the way to save himself, and went over the bank. All three were very badly injured

That Tired Feeling
Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25c.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

Wear Glasses!

If you do, the important question is—DO THEY FIT? Probably not. Now, do you know you are ruining your eyes every day? A poor pair of glasses wears the sand on one's eyes as slow poison does on the human body. That is they are sure to destroy.

Now if you will call and see I will guarantee to fit you with a pair of glasses that will be right and the price will please you. If you are troubled in any way whatever with your eyes I should be pleased to see you.

IMPERIAL COMMONS.

The Newfoundland Relief Bill Criticised.

THINK BRITAIN WAS IMPOSED ON

Mr. Chamberlain Says the Distress Was Exaggerated and the Grant Should Not Have Been Made—No Special Special Pension For Duke of Cambridge.

London, Aug. 31.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, announced that the Duke of Cambridge would not receive a special pension upon his retirement from the command of the army, but only the usual retiring allowance of a field marshal of £1700.

The Government declined to make any further enquiry into the condition and progress of the Scotch Crofters who emigrated to Saltcoats, Canada, but gave assurance that the Secretary of State for Scotland and the Colonization Board would continue to give careful attention to them.

Dr. G. B. Clarke, Radical member for Caithnesshire, in order to raise a debate upon the question of England's occupancy of Egypt, moved to reduce the Foreign Office estimates. In support of his motion he declared that it was time the Government should do something in the direction of evacuation of Egypt.

Mr. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, thought it was not a fit occasion upon which to debate so large a question in view of the fact that the attendance in the House was greatly depleted. In the face of empty Opposition benches, comprehending the absence of Sir William Harcourt and many of his colleagues in the late Government, he (Curzon) declined to enter into the question. He would only say that he saw no signs of a drift in the English position in Egypt.

Sir Charles Dilke (Radical) insisted that England was bound in honor to evacuate Egypt.

After a discussion the motion submitted by Mr. Clarke was withdrawn.

During the debate on the Supply bill Sir Charles Dilke criticised the giving of assistance to Newfoundland. He said that he believed a stronger case for State relief works might often be made in Great Britain. Bad government was largely answerable for the colony's trouble.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary, remarked the absence from the House of the ex-Ministers who were answerable for the policy criticised, and said he did not regard the arguments that had led to the adoption of it sufficient to justify a grant of £50,000.

Of this sum he said £40,000 had been expended already. If Great Britain gave money to a quasi-independent Government the conditions and the distress prevailing ought to be very exceptional. He did not believe such was the case in Newfoundland. Moreover, the existing distress, which had been exaggerated, arose from bad government. The commissioner had arranged that a part of the money expended should be repaid, but as usual in such cases, all the certainty had been some imposition and that it would be found that a certain amount had been dissipated in the colony. He assured the House that it was unlikely that such a policy would be repeated under the present Government. (Cries of "Hear, hear.")

Mr. Sydney Gedge, Conservative member for Walsall, moved to reduce the vote £1000 as a warning to colonial secretaries not to spend money in such an outrageous manner.

Mr. Chamberlain and the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, deprecated the amendment, which, after some further discussion, was negatived.

Britain's Claims in Siam.

Prime Minister Salisbury made a statement in the House of Lords today in regard to the questions between France and Great Britain in regard to Siam, and especially in relation to the differences as to the rights upon the banks of the Mekong River. Negotiations were still proceeding with France concerning these questions, he said, and there seemed to have existed on the part of both France and Siam a tendency to underrate the claims and rights of England, but all of the parties were approaching the discussion of the question involved in a thoroughly friendly spirit.

TO AVOID FINANCIAL DISASTER.

New Zealand Parliament Proposes to Pass a Novel Bill.

London, Aug. 31.—The report of the committee of the New Zealand Parliament that is inquiring into the affairs of the Bank of New Zealand and the Estates Company recommends that, in order to prevent the disaster which the suspension of the bank and company would entail, the colony of New Zealand assist the concerns by the passage of a bill embodying proposals to be submitted by the committee. It is certain that the passage of such a bill would be strongly opposed.

A despatch received to-night from Wellington says that a bill embodying the Parliamentary Committee proposals passed its second reading in the Assembly to-day by a vote of 35 to 20. The Premier announced that the directors of the Bank of New Zealand accepted the bill, which places £2,000,000 at the bank's disposal. A motion to convert the bank into a state institution was rejected by a vote of 44 to 15.

FIERCE POACHERS FIGHT.

British Coastguards Have a Tussle With Belgians.

Lowestoft, Aug. 31. — The Belgian trawler Lelust, which was fishing in the channel within the three-mile limit, was boarded by the British coastguard to-day. The Belgians resisted with knives, axes, pumphandles and other weapons, but were finally overpowered by the gaurd and driven into the hold of their vessel. The fight was a severe one and several were wounded on both sides.

ELGIN REFORM PICNIC.

Walls were rent and roofs caved in. The inhabitants of the stricken towns have taken refuge in open country, in fear of other formidable shocks, as a comparatively slight trembling continues. The severe shocks were preceded by a loud roar, coming from the sea, and it is believed in the stricken locality that a subterranean volcano is on the point of eruption.

DEATH A RELIEF.

Deliberate Suicide of a Montreal Broker.

SHOT HIMSELF IN A VAULT.

Financial Embarrassment Which the Wealthy Father Declined to Relieve Drove Him to Make His Wife a Widow—A Second Suicide Prefers Drowning.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—One of the most deliberately planned suicides known to the metropolis, took place here Friday. For some months past Alton F. Clerk, a popular member of the Stock Exhange, has been going behindhand, and although he bravely stemmed the current fate appeared to be against him, and in spite of the fact that the young broker was a sober, hard-working man, and a devoted son and husband, his own father and mother, who are, together, worth about $1,500,000, refused to come to his assistance, and at last the crash came, in more ways than one. Clerk had been suspended in the stock exchange and to-day his seat was to have been sold. His fellow brokers, however, realizing that he was in hard luck, did not push him, and day after day he hoped that his father would come to his assistance.

All that was required was $25,000, as Mr. Forget, to whom he owed $22,920, and others, would have compromised, but all to no purpose. Mr. Alex. Clerk, who owns Montreal Bank stock to the amount of half a million dollars, and who could have realized a round million in three days, refused to extend a helping hand to his son and yesterday the poor fellow was obliged to ask a friend for a loan of $5 to purchase some necessaries for his family.

Alton Clerk married a Miss Tabb a few years ago, and their domestic relations were without a cloud. More than once the stock broker said to his friends, "If it were not for my wife and children, I would not live long." He had three sons, aged 1, 3 and 5 years.

This morning, at a quarter past nine Mr. Clerk went into the office of Mr. W. J. Turpin, stock broker in St. Sacrement-street, left a letter on the latter's desk, and after talking business with the clerk he walked out.

Mr. Turpin came down to business a few minutes after 10, and, opening the letter, read as follows:

Montreal, Que., Aug. 30.

My Dear Turpin—I cannot stand this strain any longer. My nerves are completely unstrung, and before you get this letter I will be past human aid. You will find me in the office and Allan has a key that fits my door. I hope that you will break the news as gently as possible to my dear wife and family. You will find my insurance policies in the tin box at home, and please see that the money is invested safely, so that my family may be provided for.

Yours, very sincerely,
ALTON.

Mr. Turpin ran out, and was soon in his friend's office in St. Francois Xavier-street. Nothing was out of place, but pulling open the vault door poor Clerk was found sitting in a chair dead, with the blood flowing from a bullet wound in the head and a revolver lying at his side. The body was taken to the morgue, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that Clerk had committed suicide while laboring under an attack of mental aberration. It is said that the insurance on his life is either ten or fifteen thousand dollars. The father, who is 83 years of age, is summering at Cacouna.

As foreshadowed the other day Messrs. Bosquet and Charbonneau, who were throwing writs at each other not long since with a free and open hand, are settling their difficulties and in all probability will soon be in charge of the Canada Shipping and Trading Co. Their respective suits in the criminal courts were dismissed by Judge Dugas.

Some time since Pierre Ste. Marie, who ran a train on the Canadian Pacific between Montreal and St. Jerome and St. Lin and lost his position for negligence while on duty, has since then been out of employment. To-day his body was found floating in the Back River and it is supposed he committed suicide.

George McKenzie of the Hudson's Bay post at Abitibbi, over half way between Mattawa and James Bay, is in the city.

A half-yearly dividend of four per cent. and a bonus of one per cent. was declared to-day.

Messrs. MacMaster & McLennan, on behalf of the Finsbury Distillery Company, London, Eng., have entered suit in the Superior Court against the Canadian Trading and Shipping Company, limited, for $717,000. They have also served a petition for a winding up order and the appointment of liquidator.

A Silent Miracle Worker

For while you may be thinking of a pleasant beverage merely, which it undoubtedly is, Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is making its silent way through your system, and giving you new blood. All may drink it with enjoyment for it is a fine rich wine, but it is especially intended for invalids, for it is to them an invaluable help in restoring lost strength, stimulating flagging energies, and making them feel strong, and young and hopeful. This makes it unique. A rare old wine and an incomparable tonic, and not a drop of medicine in it. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4, or 75cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

—The Josephine Kid Glove Cleaner is unlike any other—that's the good of it. Ladies will not do without it at twice the cost once they use it. Sold by Robt. Fair, sign of the Golden Lion, headquarters for Perrin Freres' celebrated Kid Gloves, in newest styles for all occasions.

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

LABOUR DAY.

Monday, Sept. 2nd, will be Labour Day, and in deference to the majesty of the mighty force that is indispensable to the activities of civilization, the EXAMINER will not be published that day, Labour is the foundation on which all human progress is built, and even human existence is, by the divine decree, dependent upon labour. Remove all the mighty material forces of the age—steam, electricity and water power—and the world would continue to wag on—in a way; but remove or abolish labour and chaos is come again. And labour is worthy of a day of rest, of a day consecrated to its dignity, which has been preached of in pulpits, sung of in song, written of in prose, and universally recognised—in theory at least. But not always and not often enough in practice; because in these grasping times capital, the natural ally and and creature of labour, forgets or fails to recognise to the extent which justice demands, that labour has a dignity to be respected and rights to be rendered. In consequence, the workingman is hurried, hustled and in many cases driven, and in many cases, underpaid, till his vital forces, as well as his ambition and spirit are depressed and a holiday is imperatively demanded. The employer takes his holiday at the seaside, or summering resort, spending in the enjoyment of these luxuries the money earned, in reality, by his employees, with perhaps, no thought of the source from whence the means of his enjoyment comes, or with no thought for the weariness of his employees over their sweating tasks. It is but a scanty concession to give the working man one little day that he can call his own, and regard as a genuine holiday. He deserves that and much more. It is to be hoped that the weather on Monday will be propitious, and that labour will enjoy to the fullest its holiday, and that every employer will see that it is a holiday for those who have served him faithfully the long working days of the year. Fair play is bonny play.

THE TRUE BLUES AND THE MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Orange Sentinel quotes the following from the Review:—"Mr. C. W. Sawers, delegate from the District Orange Lodge to the Grand Lodge, returned from Halifax Saturday evening. About 300 delegates were present—the greatest number in many years. Everything passed off most harmoniously except when the Manitoba school question was under discussion. When the vote on the question was taken it was difficult to decide whether the yeas or nays had it, and a standing vote was called for when it was seen that those opposed to remedial legislation were in the majority." Commenting upon this, the editor of the Sentinel says,—"The statement of our contemporary that when the vote was taken censuring the Government for its course in the Manitoba school question, it was difficult to decide whether the ayes or nays had it, is entirely misleading. There was an overwhelming majority in favour of the vote of censure; our contemporary has no doubt been misinformed.

The same page of the Sentinel contains two or three letters scoring Mr. C. W. Sawers of this town for his defence of the government for its attitude on the Manitoba question. The writer of one letter, J. Cobarn, jr., Grand Chaplain Loyal True Blues, says in one place, "Derry had its Lundy. But in spite of the traitor, the gates were closed. 'No Surrender' was the watchword, and by it and the grace of God, Derry triumphed. We have our Lundy's too."

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should enrich their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

TO ACCOMMODATE THE FARMERS

F. W. Hodson, of the Guelph Agricultural College Will Have an Office on the Toronto Exhibition Grounds.

Arrangements have been made by Mr. F. W. Hodson, Superintendent of Farmer's Institutes and Secretary of Associations, to temporarily move his office from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph to the Exhibition grounds, Toronto. From Sept. 2 to 14 he will, with Mr. J. W. Wheaton, Secretary of the Western Dairymen's Association, occupy a tent east of the cattle ring and in front of the horse and cattle sheds. One or more members of the college staff will be there during the greater part of the time.

Officers and members of all Farmer's Institutes, of Live Stock, Dairy, Poultry, Fruit Growers' and kindred associations, are invited to make this tent their headquarters during the time of the Exhibition. Mr. Hodson will be pleased to meet officers and members of Institutes and kindred associations to discuss with them the best means to advance the work of the Institutes in their respective districts. On Tuesday, Sept. 10, at 1 p.m., the Sheep Breeders Ass'n. will convene in the tent; the Swine Breeders Ass'n, on the same day at 7 p.m., and the Cattle Breeders Ass'n. on Sept. 11th at 7 p.m.

A GOOD SIGN.

One That Points to Coming Unity in our National Life.

(Stratford Beacon.)

Mr. Andrew Pattullo, of the Woodstock Sentinel Review, while spending a vacation in Quebec, had the privilege of delivering an address at Mr. Laurier's great meeting at Sorel. Mr. Pattullo spoke in English and his audience was, of course, entirely French Canadian, yet he received a kindly and appreciative hearing. In writing of the incident to his paper Mr. Pattullo says that though it was a Catholic and French-speaking district, probably 50 per cent. of the people understand an English speaker perfectly, while only a small and diminishing percentage are entirely unable to understand the language of the majority of Canadian people. This is decidedly encouraging information. It is a convincing answer to those who are insanely crying out against French aggression and French exclusiveness, and will be read with pleasure by all who are really desirous of seeing the various elements of our national life blended into harmony.

GOIN' A CAMPIN'.

So, joyously ho! away we glide,
In the early dawn, with wind and tide,
To camp 'neath a fragrant cedar tree,
For life like the redmen's, untrammeled and free.

The starch and rigour of civilized ways
We'll barter for free and easy days;
We'll scorn our delicate city bloom
And a healthy nut-brown tan assume.
While Heaven's wide air our nostrils fill,
Flower, sweet from the valley or keen from the hill,
Till hearts are buoyant and pulses beat strong
As we gather new vigour the wild winds among.

We'll bestir when the birds their nests forsake;
With whistle and song the sun we'll wake,
Till he brightly lifts his shiny bald head
From the purple and gold of his eastern bed.
Then away to the shore with a jolly halloo;
Ere day has stolen the morning dew,
With a hip hurrah! and a mighty plunge
We dive to call on the maskinonge.

The forest and water shall find us fare,
Spoil from the fields we merrily bear,
As we forage for dainties that help to feed
The capacious depths of a camper's need.

In the gloaming, when weary of liberty,
Will our camp fire blaze right royally;
The sputter and sparkle of logs a-low,
Shall rival the blinking stars far away
The drone of insects, the croak of frogs,
The crackling warmth of burning logs,
Will drowsily keep us company
And make us a fitting lullaby.

Yo-ho! he-ho! for the vagabond hours,
When trophies of water and forest are ours,
There can be no truer delight, I ween,
Than the glorious life of a sportsman keen.
How we chat of our prowess ashore and afloat,
In the snug retreat of our upturned boat;
Till the hush of night doth o'er us creep
And lull us to sound untroubled sleep.

Then—joyously ho!—away we glide,
O'er the dancing waves, with wind and tide,
For our camp 'neath the fragrant cedar tree,
And life like the redmen's, untrammeled and free.

REWARDS OF BRAVERY.

Royal Canadian Humane Association Awards Made.

A meeting of the Investigation Governors of the Royal Canadian Humane Association was held Thursday at the office of Sheriff Marton in the Court House at Hamilton.

A number of cases of heroic action were brought to their notice, and after due consideration nine of the Association's bronze medals were awarded, and also a number of parchment certificates. Amongst those awarded bronze medals was Ephraim Godfrey, of Young's Point, whom it will be remembered rescued Herbert Hatton and Bruce Graham from drowning, at the risk of his own life. This recognition of young Godfrey's heroism will meet with the cordial endorsement of everyone in the vicinity, who is acquainted with the circumstances of the case.

There were several other cases submitted; some of these were not deemed worthy of recognition, and others were held over for further evidence. So soon as the engraving on the medals is completed and the acts recorded on the parchments, the presentations will be held in a public manner in the several localities.

Have you ever had in the morning what is fancifully called a "dark brown taste" in the mouth. If so, it is the effect of a deranged stomach and liver, the best remedy for which is a dose of Ayer's Pills, together with a little discretion as to diet and mode of living.

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

THE PASTOR'S WIFE.

AN INTERESTING INTERVIEW WITH MRS. (REV.) F. B. STRATTON.

Threatened With Paralysis—Weak, Emaciated and Unable to Stand Fatigue—Pink Pills Restore Her Health.

From the Napanee Beaver.

The Rev. F. B. Stratton, of Selby, is one of the best known ministers in Bay of Quinte conference, of; which body he is the President. During the two years Mr. Stratton has been stationed at Selby, both he and Mrs. Stratton have won hosts of friends among all classes for their unassuming and sincere Christian work. Some time ago Mrs. Stratton was attacked with partial paralysis, and her restoration having been attributed to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a reporter of the Beaver was sent to interview her. In reply to the reporter's question, Mrs. Stratton said that she had been greatly benefitted by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and was perfectly willing to give her experience that those similarly afflicted might be benefitted. Mrs. Stratton said that before moving to Selby she had been greatly troubled by a numbness coming over her sides and arms (partial paralysis) which, when she moved, felt as though hundreds of needles were sticking in the flesh. For over a year she had been troubled in this way, with occasionally a dizzy spell. She was becoming emaciated and easily fatigued, and was unable to get sleep from this cause. The trouble seemed to be worse at night time. Mr. Stratton had become greatly alarmed at her bad state of health, and it was feared that complete paralysis would ensue as Mrs. Stratton's mother, the late Mrs. Weaver, of Ingersoll, had become similarly stricken at about the same time. Knowing a young lady in Trenton, where Mr. Stratton had been previously stationed, who had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, it was determined to give them a fair trial. When Mrs. Stratton began using the Pink Pills, she was very thin and her system badly run down, but after taking the Pills for a time all symptoms of paralysis disappeared and she found her health and strength renewed and her weight increased. Mrs. Stratton is about fifty years of age, and a more healthy, robust, and younger looking lady is seldom seen at that age.

In reply to the reporter's inquiry as to what Pink Pills had done for his wife, Mr. Stratton said, "Look at her, look at her, doesn't she show it," and the reporter could not but admit the truth of the statement.

These pills are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nervous system. Sold by all dealers or by mail from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y., at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50. There are numerous imitations and substitutes against which the public is cautioned.

COUNT DE DORY.

A Well-known Denmark Nobleman Makes a Statement which Will Prove of Great Interest and Value to Many.

Under date of September 1st, 1894, Count de Dory writes as follows from Neepawa, Man.: "I have been ailing constantly for six or seven years with severe kidney and bladder trouble. I have doctored during all this time with physicians in different countries without any relief. During my travels I was induced to try South American Kidney Cure, from which remedy I received instant relief. I most heartily endorse this remedy, as I do not think it has an equal." South American Kidney Cure invariably gives relief within six hours after first dose is taken. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Shocking Crime of an Insane Kentucky Farmer.

Cincinnati, Aug. 30.—Hezekiah Roberts, a young farmer at Butler, Ky., cut his wife's throat this morning and then cut his own. He died instantly. His wife is fatally hurt. He is supposed to have been insane. The bloody deed was witnessed by their three children, aged from 1 to 4.

SLOWLY STARVED TO DEATH.

A Peach Stone Had Lodged in the Victim's Oesophagus.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 30.—George Howell, aged 51, died this morning of starvation. He starved on account of his inability to swallow food, not even a drop of water having passed into his stomach for a period of 10 days. On the 16th inst. Howell was eating a peach, when, by accident, he swallowed the stone, which lodged in his oesophagus. He gradually wasted away until he was a mere skeleton.

At times he begged for food and water, but when they were given to him he could not swallow them. Physicians performed the operation of oesophagotomy, but failed to remove the obstruction.

The autopsy showed that the stone was turned crosswise in its passage to the stomach, and the sharp end had penetrated into the walls of the oesophagus.

HAMILTON NEWS.

Died in the Ambulance Mr. Owens Succumbs to His Injuries—Bishop at the Beach.

Hamilton, Aug. 31.—Richard Reeves, about 52 years old, died in the ambulance while being taken to the City Hospital this morning. Deceased had suffered for a few days with strangulation of the hernia and was being removed to the hospital so that an operation could be performed.

Hamilton will have two attractions on Labor Day. The first will be the cross-country run around the Beach, a distance of 19 miles. There are 16 entries and the race will start at 9 o'clock, and is expected to be finished shortly after 11 o'clock. In the afternoon and evening the Labor Day demonstration by the Trades and Labor Council will be the attraction. There will be a monster procession, games of all sorts at Dundurn Park and not the least attractive feature of the day will be the tug-of-war contest between the champion team of the world, the West Zorra team and the Barton team.

James Owen of Oakville, who was run over at the King-street station last night, died at a late hour, and an inquest was opened this morning at the City Hospital. The spectators of the affair say it was purely accidental and every effort was made to save the man's life.

The will of the late J. P. Nottle has been entered for probate. The estate is valued at $28,303. Miss Louise Nottle receives a dwelling house, and the widow receives $11,000 and the household furniture. At the widow's death the estate will be equally divided between the two daughters.

On Tuesday afternoon next the fourth annual tournament of the Ontario Lawn Tennis Championships will be held in this city. Many crack players from Ontario and the States are expected.

Sir Charles Rivers Wilson is expected to visit Hamilton next Thursday. He will be received by the Board of Trade and will probably be welcomed by the city council.

Mrs. Wilson, Hunter-street, unfortunately broke her hip bone at the Beach this afternoon while atttempting to get off a moving train.

The 48th Highlanders' band of Toronto gave an excellent band concert in the drill hall last evening.

KILLED WHILE DUCK HUNTING.

Willie Gibson of Napanee Shot by Accident in Gull Lake.

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 31.—Willie Gibson, 20, eldest son of Mr. Stephen Gibson, Registrar of Lennox and Addington, while duck hunting at Gull Lake to-day with two young men from here, was accidentally shot and killed. Mr. Gibson was in a small boat alone, and in some way unknown while moving in the boat the gun was exploded, the charge entering the back of his head. FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

CAUGHT ON STOVES.

The Farmers of This District Being Worked by "Shanks."

(Belleville Ontario.)

Some sharks are fishing for suckers among the farmers of this district, and judging by reports they already have a very nice string. The bait this time is stoves and the game is worked something after this fashion. A couple of agents for a Toronto stove firm will go to a farmer and try to sell him a kitchen range for $60. The farmer don't want it. But the agent has a mighty fine thing; he will take the farmer's old stove and allow him $12 for it, and the agents will board at his place for two weeks and pay him $10 a week for themselves and horse; now that's $32 off the price of the stove. The farmer thinks he'll take it. Then the wily agents persuade him to sign a note for the full price of the range, $60. This is all they want and they never take the stove or wait to board at $10 a week.

Occasionally they vary this programme by going to a farmer of good standing and offering to give him a range in exchange for his services at $2 a day, these services to consist in simply driving about the country with them, taking them to the best men to deal with. But they get his note, not to send to headquarters, of course, but just to hold as security for the stove. The note goes in, and after a time he finds that he cannot even collect wages for the time he has wasted, as the agents are no good.

Farmers beware.

A BONDED CAR ENTERED.

Two Tramps Arrested for the Offence.

The Chief of Police this morning received a message from the C.P.R. station to the effect that two tramps had broken into a bonded car.

It appears that a freight had pulled into the C.P.R. station shortly after six o'clock this morning, and the conductor noticed that the door of a box car loaded with oats had been forced open.

Upon examination it was found that the car contained two inmates, and the conductor promptly closed the door, and went to secure his gun. While away the two tramps endeavoured to kick the door through, but they desisted on the arrival of the conductor, who stood on guard until assistance arrived.

Constable Stewart was on hand in good time and the pair were marched to the police station. They gave their names as Thos. Madden and Jas. Maher, of Montreal. They were arraigned before Police Magistrate Dumble, at nine o'clock, County Crown Attorney Wood being present. The court was adjourned until four o'clock this afternoon.

DROWNED IN YUKON COUNTY.

A Former Bridge Works Employee Meets a Sad End.

A Montreal despatch to the Toronto World, contains an account of the visit of a French engineer, Mr. A. V. Roy, to the Yukon country. While travelling from Juneau City up through the Chilkoot Pass they suffered a good deal of hardship, and a week after when passing White Horse Shoe Rapids, a young man named Brophy, of Montreal, met death by drowning.

Brophy was well-known in Peterborough, having been employed some years ago in the Central Iron and Bridge Works. His many friends in town together with his fellow workmen will regret to learn of his tragic death.

REV. L. W. SHOWERS

Gives His Experience With Organic Heart Disease—The Dread Malady on the Increase.

For many years my greatest enemy has been organic heart disease. From an uneasiness about the heart, with palpitation more or less severe, it had developed into abnormal action, thumping, fluttering and choking sensations. Dull pain with a peculiar warm feeling were ever present near the heart. I have tried many physicians and taken numberless remedies with very little benefit. Seeing Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart advertised in the Kittanning, Pa., papers, I purchased a bottle and began its use, receiving almost instant relief. I have now taken several bottles of the remedy and can speak most highly in its favour. The choking, abnormal beating, thumping and palpitation have almost entirely disappeared. The remedy is certainly a wonder-worker, for my case was chronic. Rev. L. W. Showers, Elderton, Pa. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

PETERBOROUGH BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Practically a New Institution—New Premises — New Course and New Managers.

The Peterborough Business College in a new building, with a new course, and with new proprietors and managers will be at home in its elegant new quarters on and after Tuesday, Sept. 3rd. Messrs. Pringle & McCrea, two energetic and thoroughly qualified young men, having purchased the interest and equipment of the Peterborough Business College, determined to renew it in every respect—give it a new home—institute a greatly improved new course, and throw into its management the energy of new blood. They have been fortunate in securing splendid new rooms on the third floor of the new Bank of Commerce building, corner Water and Hunter streets, with the entrance on Water, between the Crown Timber office and the office of the Manufacturer's Life Insurance Co.

This fine suite of rooms is excellently adapted to the purposes of a first class business college, as that of Messrs. Pringle & McCrea, being conveniently arranged, with lofty, airy ceilings, admirably lighted with numerous broad windows. The building is new and everything is bright, clean, neat and attractive. These rooms which are all en suite, consist—in order of approach—of a large and convenient office, gentlemen's room, ladies' dressing room, a large class room and a commercial room. This latter is 22 feet in width on Hunter street, and 50 feet long on Water, with lofty ceilings and is exceedingly well lighted, the northern windows facing the post office and one giving a vista of Court House Park and the intervening stretch of Water street. It is admirably adapted to its purpose, completely equipped with special furniture, the windows neatly curtained. The class room is to be devoted to the use of those studying shorthand and type-writing and also, with furnishings adapted to this purpose.

The rooms are all heated with hot water, and for the evening classes, which will be a special feature of the curriculum, lighted by electricity. In connection with the rooms are elegant lavatories and toilet rooms.

In the matter of premises the Peterborough Business College can now boast of as centrally situated and cheerful as well as convenient and airy and well equipped rooms as any other business training school in Ontario.

In addition to splendid premises and material equipment, the pedagogic equipment is also of the highest order. Both the principals—Mr. Wm. Pringle and Mr. W. C. McCrea—are in the prime of life and thoroughly trained in the most advanced methods of business education. Mr. Pringle holds a first-class teacher's certificate, has had ample and successful experience as a commercial teacher, and several years' experience as a practical accountant. Mr. McCrea is a graduate of Peterborough Collegiate Institute, from which he holds a teacher's certificate. After a special teacher's training in all branches of commercial college work, he has had ample practical experience in teaching. Messrs. Pringle & McCrea make a strong team. Their college and their new course is specially commended to those requiring a sound, complete and thorough business education with, for non-residents, a temporary home in one of the brightest, cleanest and most progressive towns in the Dominion.

The prospects for a successful future are excellent. Already numerous applications have been received, and no doubt the opening of the term next Tuesday will witness a large attendance of students.

Persons contemplating taking a commercial, or shorthand and type-writing course are confidently commended to the Peterborough Business College, which will willingly send a copy of its handsome annual announcement to any person addressing Messrs. Pringle & McCrea, Peterborough Business College, Peterborough.

AMERICAN CIRCUIT AT PETERBOROUGH.

A Great Day On the Local Bicycle Track.

CANADIANS CARRY OFF THE MOST HONOURS.

Lionel King Wins the Novice Race—Walker Shows up Well, Winning The Handicap—The Canadian One Mile Record Broken by Coulter.

From the spectators' point of view the bicycle races held in the Driving Park yesterday were a grand success. Every event was keenly contested and what made each race doubly interesting was the fact that it was always a fight from the start to finish between the Canadian and American cracks to see whether the most prizes would remain on this side of the border or be carried back to the United States. Nearly everything went the way of the Canadians, however, as they won twelve of the eighteen valuable prizes and naturally the crowd of spectators was correspondingly pleased by the result.

There were about 800 on the grounds and so enthusiastic did those in the grand-stand become that as the riders whirled into the stretch every one arose to see the final

SPURTS OVER THE TAPE.

The novice race was won by Lionel King, and as he swept by the grand stand and won by a length from Lord he was accorded a hearty cheer. His victory over a rider of Lord's staying and sparting abilities was hardly expected, as the latter has been riding very fast this summer. The course of training to which King has subjected himself through participating in almost every summer and winter sports stood him in good stead in the final spurt which carried him past Lord and Lush like a streak of lightning, and landed him in a winner, as stated, by about a length. The next race was the Class B, One Mile, open. It was won by Dr. Brown of Cleveland, and was a popular win with the other riders, as this is the first race which the doctor has won on the Canadian Circuit. The Class A quarter mile, open, event was the young Sarnia flyer, with McKellar of Toronto, hard on his heels. Gardner, of Toronto, was third, and as these three speedy young Canadians swept over the tape in one, two, three order they were loudly applauded.

WON BY LOUGHEAD,

The class B half-mile handicap was won by M. G. Walker, of Peterborough, who had things all his own way from the start. Everyone was much pleased to see this genial young rider carry off honours on this occasion. Young, of Toronto, took second and Marshall Wells crossed the tape next in order.

Loughead, of Sarnia, though starting from the scratch, in the Class A mile handicap, overhauled his opponents one by one and catching McKellar in the stretch beat him out by a length. Gardner of Toronto crossed the tape third, and Evans, of Peterborough, was fourth, coming up rapidly in the stretch, but not quite quickly enough

TO GET A PLACE.

The one mile tandem was a great race, but the spectators came very near not seeing it, as the riders did not wish to ride under a time limit, and Mr. Horkins was firm in his resolve to have them race from the start and not loaf around the track. A tandem team regulated the track in 2.09 last year, and Mr. Horkins wanted to make it a proviso in the race that unless the mile was made in 2.10 there should be no prize. The time limit was finally arranged at 2.15 and the three tandems got away at the crack of the pistol. Bainbridge and Anderson, of Chicago, took the lead and shaking off their opponents were a couple of lengths in the lead at the half mile. Sam Gibbons and Percy Brown, of Toronto, were next, and were closely trailed by Van Herik and Lund, of Chicago. As the three tandems

TURNED INTO THE STRETCH,

the Toronto team's front wheel was lapping on the rear one of the leaders and the American men attempted to do a little dirty work by crowding the Canadians away out and forcing them to make a very wide turn. The idea apparently was to let the other Chicago team slip by on the inside and win the race, but the Americans mistook their men. The Toronto boys had not been travelling with their American cousins for a week without learning a trick or two and had been lying back in the race for nothing. They put on a magnificent sprint at the critical moment and swept over the tape over a length in the lead. The applause meted out to them for their achievement was liberal indeed. The time made was 2.10 than the Canadian competition record.

BEING TWO SECONDS FASTER

Loughead took the Class A Mile Open event with Gardner second, and McLeod, of Sarnia, won the Class B. Mile Handicap from the 50 yard mark, Bernhart, of Quebec, from the 70 yards mark was second and Kennedy, of Chicago, (50 yards) was third over the tape.

Cooper, of Chicago, carried off the honours in the class B. two mile open, Monte Scott, of the Morgan & Wright Chicago team, being second and Bliss, of Chicago, third.

Just previous to this last race it was announced that C. R. Coulter, of Mansfield, Ohio, would make an attempt to lower the Canadian record for one mile, paced. The record was 1.59, which Coulter himself made at Waterloo on July first. Paced by a Chicago tandem he took over the tape and neatly tacking on to the tandem's rear wheel was carried the half in 58½ seconds. Another tandem caught him up at this point and the transfer was very neatly made. As quite a heavy breeze was blowing it was hardly thought that the feat of lowering the record would be accomplished, and as the Ohio flyer sped over the tape the time announcement was awaited with intense interest. When it was known that the mile had been made in 1.57 4-5 there was a perfect uproar of excitement in the grand stand, and cheer after cheer was accorded the plucky young western rider.

Some of the spectators were dissatisfied because the various races were not run off in heats as announced, but as all those who had entered were not present, and some of those who did put in an appearance were not able to ride on account of injuries received on the Woodstock track the day previous.

The reason why all the entries did not fill was simply that as the circuit travelled around the country the weaker riders have been dropping out one by one until only the cream of the whole aggregation was left, consequently the racing of these cracks, and their sensational finishes should have been ample compensation for the shortening of the programme. As it was the races occupied a little over three hours.

The different events were run off as follows:—

NOTES.

The time of 31 2-5 for the quarter mile open, was the fastest time in which the distance has been negotiated during the Canadian loop of the American Circuit.

The Megaphone, manipulated by Mr. T. W. R. McRae of Belleville, was a great institution. Through it the results of the races, etc., were announced to the spectators in all parts of the field. It throws the voice in a wonderful manner.

The fact that not an accident or spill of any kind occured in the races yesterday, ought o be a big factor in the securing of the C.W.A. meet next year, as ought also the fact that faster time was made on the track in some of the events than at any other of the meets this year.

The breaking of the poles supporting the canvas covering of the grand stand created quite a panic amongst the ladies for a minute or two, but the canvas was soon safely out of the way.

The track was in fine condition, as was evidenced by the fast time made.

The meet did not receive the financial encouragement which it should have done. There were only about 800 admitted to the grounds, and the receipts will therefore not cover the expense of the purchase of the prizes.

The Morgan and Wright flyers were all present and their tandem teams were of great use in pacing Coulter when he was after the Canadian record.

THE PROMENADE CONCERT.

The prizes were presented at the Skating Rink in the evening by Mayor Kendry, and the galleries were well filled. The Rink was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Turner & Sons, and looked very gay and festive, indeed. As the winners walked into the centre of the floor to secure their diamonds they were cheered and applauded and subjected to a running fire of comment from their friends, much to the amusement of the spectators. The Fire Brigade Band was present and rendered a select programme which was greatly appreciated. The visitors left early, the majority of them catching the 8.55 Grand Trunk Express for Port Hope and going from there to Montreal where races are being held to-day. The Canadians will return to Belleville to-morrow and take part in the Labour Day races there on Monday, after which they will return to their respective headquarters and probably cease active training for the winter. The Americans will race on Monday in Boston and afterwards conclude the American circuit at the various places, where meets are arranged to occur.

Riders were present in uniform from Belleville, Hastings, Port Hope, Lindsay, Norwood and Millbrook for the races and were greatly pleased with the contests. The Belleville men were successful in securing a number of the fast Canadian men for their meet on Monday.

GRAIN MEN DEFEAT THE MILLERS

Mr. Patterson to Be Sworn In as Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba Next Week—United States Misrepresentation Touching the Alaska Boundary Survey.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Apparently the Controller of Inland Revenue has been having an uneasy time of it with the millers and the grain men on the subject of grading. Last winter the Ontario millers entered a vigorous protest against smutted wheat that had been scoured being mixed with number one grades at the elevators. Still the mixing went on. This season, however, the millers began the agitation in better time and with the result that on Aug. 8 an order-in-Council was passed providing that "no wheat which has been subjected to scouring or brushing for removal of smut, bunt or other fungus growth shall in any case be mixed with No. 1 Manitoba hard." At this there was a commotion among the grain men of the west. Several of them made a pilgrimage to Ottawa last week, and now it is their innings. To-morrow's Canadian Gazette will contain an order-in-Council, dated yesterday, striking out the foregoing paragraph altogether, and thus permitting the mixing of scoured wheat as of yore.

My despatch of Wednesday last week about the aproaching departure of Hon. J. C. Patterson for Winnipeg is corroborated by the well-authenticated rumor to-day that he has, as Mr. Patterson himself would put it, "finally consented to accept the Lieut.-Governorship of Manitoba." It is understood he will be sworn in early in the week, and in the course of the next fortnight will have moved to Winnipeg with his family. There will not likely be any bye-election in West Huron.

The departure of two Ministers from the Cabinet has given the choice of two eligible residences to Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who is about to move from his rented house facing Cartier-square to the Patterson property.

The Dominion statistician, in his researches for Year Book material, has found that during the 27 years of the Dominion's existence our imports from Great Britain have amounted to $1,-205,342,158, a yearly average of $44,-642,000. In the same period we have imported from the United States to the value of $1,211,131,392, an average of $44,857,000. Thus, our custom has been pretty well divided between the Mother Country and our neighbors across the line. Deducting the imports from both from our total imports in the period since Confederation, there remains the sum of $431,-472,709, or an average yearly importation from foreign countries of $16,-000,000.

General Duffield, superintendent of the United Coast Survey, in an interview published on Thursday, corrects several erroneous impressions in regard to the international boundary survey in the borderland of Alaska and the Canadian Northwest Territories. The press of the United States has persistently misrepresented the purport of the operations which have been proceeding in that territory under the auspices of the two countries for the past three seasons. The leading papers have industriously promoted the notion that by means of the survey Canada was endeavoring to establish claims to territory properly belonging by treaty to the United States, but as General Duffield pointed out, the boundary is fixed by treaty, and the only object of the survey is to enable the International Commission definitely to locate the boundary line. W. F. King, who has had charge of the Canadian survey parties, holds his appointment as boundary commissioner from the Imperial Government. The agreement entered into between Great Britain on Canada's behalf, and the United States, stipulates that surveys shall be completed and the report of commissioners drawn up by the 31st of December next. It is possible King and Duffield, who succeeded Dr. Mendenhall as United States commissioner, will make another trip to Alaska this fall. The Canadian survey party has about completed its labors and will shortly return from the field of operations. The United States surveyors are about through with their part of the work.

LAURIER ON THE LIQUOR QUESTION

The Liberal Leader Prefers Local Option to National Prohibition.

Hamilton, Aug. 31.—In The Templar to-day Editor Buchanan publishes an interview he had with Hon. Mr. Laurier on the question of prohibition. He quotes the Liberal leader as stating that he thought local option preferable to National Prohibition, because it did not bring any collision between political parties, because it only applied where the public sentiment favored its general recognition, and because, while it closed the saloon, it did not interfere with the manufacture or importation, and left it easy for those who really wanted liquor to secure it. He thought that Prohibitionists went too far and demanded too much. Neither he nor the Liberal party was committed to the principle of plebiscits. He was not enamored of the plebiscit at all, and did not propose it. When it was proposed by Liberals who were ardent Prohibitionists he was disposed to accept it as a kind of compromise. But he said: "We cannot assume that all who vote for prohibition in a plebiscit will support a prohibitory law."

HOLMES POISONED YOUNG PITESEL

Gave the Boy Cyanide of Potassium—Fate of the Victim Unearthed Partially Burned.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—The coroner's jury has brought in a verdict that the remains of the body found in the chimney hole of the house at Irvington are the remains of young Howard Pitesel, and that he came to his death through the instrumentality of cyanide of potassium administered by H. H. Holmes.

Interesting testimony was given by Druggists Navin and Perry. John Navin said that Holmes visited his store frequently during the first week of October. Several times he purchased a solution of cocaine, and on time called for four grains of morphine, dissolved in a two-drachm vial of water. Dr. Navin readily recognized him by the photograph. Druggist Perry said Holmes at one time a pound of chloroform. This was on Oct. 2. Holmes several times lounged about his drug store, accompanied by a little boy, whom he said was his son, and for whom he bought candies. As recognized by the photograph, the boy was little Howard. Dentists and doctors also contributed to the evidence that the remains were those of young Pitesel.

Drs. Thompson and Barnhill cleaned up some of the bones found. The lower part of the intestines and stomach, with parts of the liver and spleen, were found; also the first vertebrae at the base of the skull, the Adam's apple and the cheek bones. The physicians say there is no doubt that these are the remains of a boy the age of Howard Pitesel. In the charred mass that was pulled out of the chimney hole 15 teeth were found. Dr. J. Q. Byram, a dentist, sorted the teeth and found seven upper and eight lower teeth. He set these in imitation jaws of plaster paris, and they were put away in the box that went to the coroner, where was also found a piece of the lower left jawbone containing the sockets of a six-year-old molar.

The physicians are of the opinion that Holmes gave the boy cyanide of potassium, and while he was under the influence doubled the body up and put it into the stove, after which he covered it with cobs, pieces of the trunk and chunks of wood. Then he saturated the pile with coal oil and reduced everything, as he supposed, to ashes. After the body was destroyed and the stove cooled down, he shoveled the ashes into the stove hole. The stove was in the kitchen, and Holmes was not aware that there was an opening in the flue in the cellar beneath where the stove stood. It was failure to find this opening that brought about the discovery of the charred remains.

Boys digging under the Holmes house in an unfinished portion of the cellar yesterday found the two feet of Howard Pitesel. They had been burned, but not destroyed, and were evidently too bulky to put into the chimney hole.

With the feet was found buried a five-quart can, containing coal oil. All of the witnesses were before the coroner and the grand jury yesterday.

THE BARRETT MURDER CASE.

Arrest of the Two Accused Men—Preliminary Hearing To-Day.

Novar, Ont., Aug. 31.—Knowles and Molson, the two men charged with the murder of James Barrett, McMurrich Township, Aug. 18, were arrested today by Government Detective Greer. The prisoners will be arraigned before Magistrate Savage on Saturday, when the coroner will ask for a week's remand, and the accused will be sent to Bracebridge jail.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 165 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115½ Maria St., London Ont.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $30,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. WARD, 8 Quimby Ave., Lowell, Mass.

TO MAKE A HAMMOCK.

A Barrel and Hemp Rope are the Materials Required.

A hammock may be easily constructed out of an ordinary barrel and a good length of hemp rope, sufficiently stout to bear the weight of a grown person. One should be careful to select a clean, nicely made barrel for the purpose. If there is no empty one to be found in the storeroom or cellar of your home, it may be purchased at any grocery store for a quarter of a dollar. Remove the top and bottom of the barrel, bore holes by means of a gimlet between the staves all around. Thus you have a row of holes at each end of the barrel, through which may be laced the rope, inside and out, fastened firmly at a chosen stave on either side. You will be surprised to find how nicely the ropes will adjust themselves in the half circle or grooves afforded by the gimlet holes.

Knock off the barrel hoops and your hammock will fall at your feet, the staves opening out smoothly, held securely together by the ropes.

Ropes attached at the four corners will swing the hammock; from stout hooks fastened on the tree trunks on the lawn, or betwixt a piazza post and the house, upon the latter.

There is a deal of luxury in this simple, homely device. The swell of the stave toward the centre will be found to exactly fit the back when in a reclining position, and moreover, this hammock will not double up and expose one in uncertainty in getting in and out, as the net ones are so prone to do.

For the lawn the hammock need only receive a coat of enamel paint in some bright, cheery color, and be fitted with a Japanese rush pillow, or circular net, which can be purchased for ten cents, but for the piazza we have seen one elaborately decorated. It was painted a vivid yellow, and the ropes had been stretched over in crimson wool, finished in bunches of pon-pons that hung from the brass hooks that suspended the hammock.

A very thin pad or mattress, made of hair and covered with a Bagdad rug, which hung over the sides of the hammock, as an oriental valance added to its luxury, besides this was a nest of down cushions gay in bandana covers piled at one end.

Such are the possibilities, but the woman who has created this mellow vision of comfort and repose, confided that her first hammock made of a barrel lacked even paint. For three years she had been an invalid, and throughout three long summers her lonely hammock hung in an old apple orchard away from the desecrations of the household.

Physicians claim that a resisting surface is cooler and better for the back than one that gives, so stretched upon the barrel staves, which admitted air between the interslices, with a pillow for her head, the woman tells us that she swung in the gentle breeze, reading, dreaming, napping, waking, the white and yellow daisies beneath, and the blue sky overhead glimpsed through the tender green of the apple tree boughs, while the atmosphere was filled with the fragrance of the ripening fruit, all nature and herself bathed in wholesome sunshine and changing shadows, long, idle days, through which she reclaimed her health.

One canont wonder that now she exalts her hammock in its decoration, in memory of the patient profitable hours that are always so good for all of us, for it is in them we grow.

A Portable Fence.

It is often more economical to pasture off a piece of rich fodder than to cut it and wheel it away to the sheep or other stock. The lack of a fence often prevents this. A portable fence can be made after the suggestions given in the sketch. A few panels of this will inclose sufficient feed for a day's cropping, and can be shifted to new ground the next day. If sheep are to be thus folded, an extra board will be needed in each panel. These panels may be 12 or 14 feet in length, well braced to keep the fence firm as to lengthwise motion. The crossplece at the bottom of the upright should be long enough to keep the fence firm the other way. The construction is plainly shown in the illustration.

SOMETHING NEW IN FENCING.

Old-Fashioned Window.

The old-fashioned French windows that could be set ajar like so many doors are beginning to find favor again, because they make perfect ventilation possible, especially in those cases where they are to be found on several sides of a house, allowing a current of air to sweep directly through rooms and to penetrate every corner. The drawback to the ordinary window is that if opened two or three feet above the floor, when the air pours in the heavy gases are apt to settle and stay inside. Even when a room is provided with a ventilator near the top, the stratum of impure air above may remain. With a sash low extending from the floor to the ceiling, and made so that it can be opened wide, a complete change of air in a room is possible.—New York Evening Post.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manisested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

A LADY OF WATERFORD COMPLETELY CURED.

Suffered for Two Years from Indigestion and General Debility.

Unable at Times to Attend to Her Household Duties.

Treated by Nearly All the Doctors in the Town Without Relief

"Six Bottles of South American Nervine Cured Me," Says Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., Over Her Own Signature.

MRS. D. A. GRAY, OF WATERFORD, ONT.

Certain dates are epoch making. They mark transitions in the individual life that are never forgotten. Their impress may be pleasant or sad, or both. As Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., an estimable and highly respected resident of that community, goes back in memory to the year 1893, her recollections are not of the most roseate character. Can there be anything rosy to one who is a victim of indigestion? All is sombre and sadness. But there was a silver lining to the cloud, as we shall see. Previous to 1893 Mrs. Gray tells us she had been troubled very much with indigestion and general debility for a period of nearly two years. Hers was no ordinary case. At times she was prevented altogether from attending to her household duties. Waterford has a number of skilled physicians in its midst and their services were called in, but in her own language, "I cannot say that they relieved me in any way." An era of joy was ushered in when her mother read the story of a cure by South American Nervine in a case where the symptoms, as Mrs. Gray says, "seemed to be exactly like her own. I bought a bottle and found much relief. After taking six bottles I was cured." The date was an epoch making date in this lady's life.

What the symptoms of Indigestion are, too many know. What the trouble is in its worst forms thousands know. People lament the spread of insanity in the present day. How far removed from loss of reason is a case of aggravated indigestion? The world to every such victim is blue enough, black enough, so uninviting and depressing that no wonder they are beside themselves. And yet the remedy is within the reach of all. That great discovery, Nervine, will cure the most desperate case of indigestion, debility or nervousness. You ask for evidence. A cloud of witnesses in the Dominion of Canada are saying amen, and amen, to the testimony of Mrs. Gray. Why suffer, fellow-citizens, friends and brethren?

Fetichism.

"He who believes that God has revealed himself more fully in his religion than in any other, cannot do otherwise than desire to bring that religion to the knowledge of all men," says President Bonney of the World's Congress of Religions, in his opening address before that Congress.

His statement was true and relevant to all in that presence, but there were a vast number not represented there, who, holding a religion which, through ignorance of all others, they believe is the fullest possible revelation, yet make no effort to propagate the same.

The case with which the study of comparative religions can be prosecuted in this day, has brought the facts which concern each religious system so fully forward that they have become, or may become, the common property of all. We talk of the faith of Islam, of Buddha, of the teachings of Confucius and Zoroaster, and we study the characteristics of Brahaminism, and we do this with an easy intelligence which might excite the envy of a visitor from a former age, and it is well that we should do so, and that every reasonable stimulus should be given to a yet with each form of religion, which to any extent binds the nature of man.

The last decade has been prolific in works on this subject from Christian writers, and few are of more value than a small book, "The Religions of the World," by Dr. Burrell, of New York. In this book Dr. Burrell not only presents in concise form the truths of the various great living faiths of the world, but looks back upon the dead faiths which so strangely have impressed the ages. And yet in neither of these does he seem to so much awaken interest as in his opening chapter on that system which in strange variation holds a vast mass of the race in its grasp—a system, if indeed it be a system, which gives us an opportunity to see man in the farthest away darkness of human living, and note his action there. A system which he gives the name Fetichism. It might be well to review this chapter, but first let us note that there is some of each religion in every other, and that in Fetichism can be traced some of the great principles which suffice to regulate and even in Christianity may be found, not in its essence, but in its practice, some of the controlling elements of Fetichism.

"Fetichism," says Burrell, "is the farthest point of arrest in the retrogression of the human soul from God." Comte says it is "the initial stage in the logical evolution of religion." Max Muller says "Fetchism is a decided corruption of an earlier and simpler religion. If we want to find the true springs of religious life we mount higher."

Fetich is from fetisso, a charm, and may be best defined as any material thing living or dead, which, while not regarded as Divine, is reverenced on account of a supposed supernatural influence proceeding from it.

The central thought of fetichism seems to rest on the fact, which the savage clearly perceives, that he is controlled by a power or powers not himself, and that the most important business of his life is to discover these powers. He supposes that his good or ill is identified with some material thing, and he invokes its aid or placates its wrath—this thing is his fetich for the time being. It may be a stone, a stick, a plant, an animal, a river, a mountain, a star, a cloud—anything,— or earth beneath. There may be many fetiches, there may be one or more permanent and others variable, they may be cast off and even destroyed; but always to some one material thing does the faith trend in hope of superior influence therefrom.

The fetich is not a God. It is never so considered by the savage. The deep darkness of the savage in his religious living is not so dense that he can be a polytheist. Human nature in its primitive springs of religion knows no such impurities. The fetich is not an idol, could it become such it would not be a fetich. "They worship the thing without any reference to any divinity" says Schultz. Fetichism is not Pantheism. The savage merely gives to the thing for the time being, or permanently by his faith "an influence all its own to make or mar."

This religion is a system. It has an order of ministers, a service, mysteries and temples. Its medicine-men are its ministers and guard, its mysteries and conduct its services. It has no real sense of sin; it cannot have, or of virtue either, for its great end is and the highest term of the cultus is good luck. It has no definite provision for the future. It cannot have, for the sensual tendency is engrossed with the present, and its acceptance of immortality, which is apparent, is almost lost in the servitude of mind and soul to the "luck charm," the "twasoot," the fetich.

Such is the religion of a very large part of the race. It is, perhaps, not a religion in the true sense, but rather a great superstition organized to some extent in correspondence with the deep-seated needs of human life. It is a spiritual bondage, at all times dark and sad, and sometimes terrible in its tortures and conflicts.

The Fetichist has a conception of God—a faith in the unseen—and he takes a step (all he knows to take) toward Him, and stands in the darkness, waiting to be led; yet, perhaps, ever distrustful of any further leading. He has begun his journey, and there are steps all the way out to the Light without darkness. Shall he find his way or die on the journey?

To what extent are we all fetichists? The ban over Friday-begun toil, the blessing of a look over the left shoulder at the new-moon, the decisions of the wish-bone—these, with hundreds more, are but the recognized expressions of a yet-clinging superstition. When shall a redeemed world stand above all the miasmas and the darkness of ignorance and doubt on the table land of certainty, and use surely such terms as "Providence" and "Redemption" and "God."

Nature's Voices.
To the discerning ear Nature has many voices. She has a message in the sweet tones of the brook as it rushes down the hillside in ocean's moody voices, now rippling with gentlest cadence upon the golden sands, anon in deep bolsterous voice as she lashes the beach with foam. Then the voice of trees which the laughing winds bear to our ears, of sunshine and shade, of hill and valley, of birds and flowers. But she comes in pain, too, the voice of the aching, stinging corn speaks impressively, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the worst corn in twenty-four hours, painlessly and without leaving sore spots.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

SOME SUGGESTIONS

As to Subjects For the Premier to Ponder Over.

HIS RECORD NOT UNSTAINED.

The Infamous Gerrymander Act and Its Effect on Hamstring the Free Vote of the People—Colonization Rakes and Blind Shares For His Son-in-Law.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Premier Bowell, during his trip West, ought not to neglect making a study of the workings of the various colonization companies in Manitoba and the Territories. In 1882 a craze set in for the formation of colonization companies in the West. The plan was to secure an order in council from the Dominion Government granting large tracts of land at low prices to individuals who would then form a joint stock company to buy out their grants. For this purpose a member of the House of Commons, now deceased, associated himself with Mr. James C. Jamieson, a son-in-law of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, then and now a minister of the Crown, and they procured for themselves and ten others in April, 1882, an order-in-council granting them several townships of very choice land. Mr. Bowell was consulted about it before the order in council was passed, and knew of the exceedingly advantageous 'deal' that had been arranged for the profit of his supporter in the House, and for his son-in-law. Both of those gentlemen were to receive what was called "blind shares" in the stock of the company, that is stock on which they were to receive all the profits without paying any money into the company. A company called "The Prince Albert Colonization Company," was accordingly organized with twelve shareholders, ten of whom were paying parties, and the aforesaid two gentlemen were non-paying holders of "blind shares," each to the extent of $33,000. It is true that Mr. Jamieson had to pay another party $500 to get in on the ground floor, but so warm an interest was taken by Mr. Bowell in this clever scheme of making money out of the Government grant that he offered to lend to Mr. Jamieson this $500, which was afterwards repaid to Mr. Bowell when Mr. Jamieson sold out his blind shares for cash. On the demand of Mr. Edgar these charges were referred for investigation of the Committee of Privileges and Elections. They were proved to be literally true; yet by a majority, composed entirely of Ministers themselves, Mr. Bowell was whitewashed by the committee, and his conduct was declared to be beyond reproach. This report was laid before the House of Commons on 18th May, 1886, but although the House sat until 2nd June, the Government did not dare to move for its adoption. The position, therefore, is that Sir Mackenzie Bowell was accused in the House of conduct of which he himself said: "These statements affect not only my position as a Minister of the Crown, but my reputation as a public man." These chargets, so serious and disgraceful to a Minister and a public man, stand on record yet against him on the journals of the House of Commons. They have not been dealt with by the House. Are they wiped out by reason of his elevation to the Senate? He allowed the session and the Parliament in which the charges were made to pass without a move, satisfied, apparently, with the whitewash of a packed committee, and a verdict cast by his own colleagues on that committee. Is this the stainless Premier, the pure and lofty statesman, who leads the Conservative party of Canada to-day? No wonder that he moved the resolution to burk the enquiry into the charges made against his colleague, Sir Adolphe Caron in 1892. "A fellow feeling made him wondrous kind."

Upon the Premier's return to Ottawa he might with advantage to the country ponder over the Gerrymander Act, and grasp to some extent the injustice of such legislation.

The Liberal party at the National Convention, declared, as the Liberal members in the House of Commons had declared in 1882, the time the Gerrymander Act was passed, and frequently thereafter against the Gerrymander Acts, by which redistribution was made of the constituencies, after the census of 1881 and of 1891. The object of an election is to keep the House of Commons in touch with the country, and to see that it continues to be a fair exponent of its public opinion. Any system of representation which will prevent the prevailing political sentiment of the country from acquiring a paramount influence in Parliament is seriously defective. In some countries, where society is segregated into orders and classes constitutions have been devised to favor certain orders and classes and to give them representation out of all proportion greater than that to which their numerical strength would entitle them. In Canada we have no such divisions of the community. Our people are democratic. The aristocratic element which; at one time exercised no little influence in the Province of Quebec.

Under the present constitution each province is given its due weight in the House of Commons by having apportioned to it representation, after every decennial census, in proportion to its population. How this is to be accomplished is pointed out in section 51, which provides that the representation shall be readjusted by such authority in such manner as the Parliament of Canada from time to time provides. The Parliament of Canada has never called into existence the authority by which redistribution is to be made.

The Liberal party set out in its platform resolutions, in which it is declared that in order that the House of Commons may be so constituted as to become a fair exponent of public opinion, it was desirable that in the formation of electoral divisions county boundaries should be preserved, and that in no case should parts of different counties be put in one electoral division. The Liberal party, in adopting this resolution, simply ratified the principles which the leaders of that party affirmed in 1872, and which has been frequently defended by them on the floor of Parliament since that time. The position taken by the Liberal party in Canada upon this subject did not set out any novel or revolutionary doctrine. The opinions which they advanced and the principles which they enunciated and defended were held by leading statesmen in England in 1832, and were again recognised and acted upon by the leaders of both parties when redistribution was made in 1882. On both these occasions it was agreed that nothing could well be more destructive to true representation than to subordinate the municipal divisions of the country to mere numerical representation. The county, and not the whole country, is the unit to be divided.

Certain relations grew up between the electors themselves who are in the habit of uniting [illegible] ous public objects and [illegible] which [illegible] are the better qualified to act together for the election of members to the House of Commons. Those who are brought frequently in contact, in the discharge of public duties learn to know each other; they become acquainted with those who are best informed and who are best qualified to act as leaders and spokesmen in whatever public business they are called on to transact. They have in their public meetings an opportunity of forming in their own minds an estimate of the capacity and fitness of the men who may aspire to represent them, for where such opportunity offers, the electors will consider not only the political opinions, but the private worth of those who are candidates for seats in Parliament. Where a constituency is made up of fragments wrested from several adjoining counties the electors in each are strangers to those in the others, and each has only had an opportunity of forming an opinion of the fitness of candidates from his own section, as it is only in his own section that an opportunity has been afforded him of knowing anything of the ability and character of the men who may aspire to a seat in Parliament. The candidate who resides in the county fragment that is the most populous has the best chances of success, though he may be quite inferior to the aspirants from other sections of the same constituency.

The wisdom of this view was recognised by Sir John Macdonald when the "Redistribution Act of 1872" was under consideration. On that occasion he said: "With respect to the rural constituencies, the desire of the Government has been to preserve the representations for counties and subdivisions of counties as much as possible. It is considered objectionable to make representation a mere geographical term. It is desired as much as possible to keep the representation within the county, so that each county that is a municipality of Ontario should be represented, and if it becomes large enough, divide it into ridings; that principle is carried out in the suggestions . . . but it is obvious that there is a great advantage in having counties elect men whom they know. Our municipal system gives an admirable opportunity to constituencies to select men for their deserts. We all know the process which happily goes on in Western Ontario. A young man in the county commences his public life by being elected by the neighbors who know him to the township council. If he shows himself possessed of administrative ability he is made a reeve or deputy-reeve of his county. He becomes a member of the county council, and as his experience increases and his character and ability become known, he is selected by his people as their representative in Parliament. It is, I think, a grand system that the people of Canada should have the opportunity of choosing for political promotion the men in whom they have most confidence and of whose abilities they are fully assured. All that great advantage is lost by cutting off a portion of two separate counties and adding them together for electoral purposes only. Those portions so cut off have no common interest; they do not meet together and they have no common feeling, except that once in five years they go to the polls in their own township to vote for a man who may be known in one section and not in another. This tends towards the introduction and development of the American system of caucuses, by which wire-pullers take adventurers for their political ability only, and not for any personal respect for them. So that, as much as possible, from any point of view, it is advisable that counties should refuse men whom they do not know, and when the representation is increased, it should be by subdividing the counties into ridings."

To these opinions the Liberal party cordially subscribed. At that time it was supposed that the rule, as stated by Sir John Macdonald, would at all times be strictly adhered to whenever it became necessary to readjust our representation. Unfortunately for the moral the political well-being of Canada, this rule was wholly disregarded in 1883 and in 1892. Certain members of the Conservative party, at the request of the Government, undertook the task of making such a division of the Province of Ontario, as would enable them, with so small a vote as was polled in 1874 to secure a return of a majority of the members from this province to the House of Commons. It is unnecessary to point out the mischievous effect that such a measure was calculated to have upon those who supported it. It is impossible that any man could give his sanction, much less could he undertake publicly, to defend a measure of this kind—unjust alike to his political opponents and to the country—without sinking to a lower moral level than he held before, and without becoming disqualified by his conduct for the work of honest administration and legislation. But apart from the mischievous effect upon the House and the country in the way mentioned, it does a further mischief by violation of the principle of continuity in the representation of constituencies.

The British North American provinces preferred, not without reason, the English system of responsible government to that system which prevails in the neighboring republic. Under the British system, the men best qualified for the place become the leaders of their respective parties. Their ability, industry and parliamentary experience render them year by year better qualified for the places which they fill, and entitle them to the increased confidence of their respective parties. Were it not such men, serious mistakes, which are for the parliamentary experience of now avoided, would be made. It is under their leadership that the new men who come in at every general election become trained to the work of legislation and government. But where county boundaries are disregarded at every readjustment there is increased danger to our institutions, increased risk of mistakes to the great detriment of the country by substituting too great a number of men without parliamentary experience for those to have seen long service.

Any alterations in our institutions which is calculated to unduly diminish the public regard for faithful service is an alteration for the worse. Now the Gerrymander Acts destroy, in a large degree, in every constituency where county boundaries are disregarded, the relations which have grown up between an existing member and those whom he formerly represented. We cannot too strongly impress upon the people of Canada the wisdom of adhering to the English practice in this regard. Nothing has done more to exclude able men from the Congress of the United States than the destruction of county constituencies, and the effect which has followed it in that country is likely to flow from its introduction here. It offers to men who are ambitious and unscrupulous, a strong temptation to use the power of altering the electoral divisions for mere party purposes, until an election falls to indicate by its result the opinion of the country. The Liberal party, therefore, in the interest of honest representation and justice to all parties and of honor in public life, insist upon the preservation of county boundaries in the redistribution of seats after each decennial census.

McCARTHY SPRINGS A MINE.

A Sensational Appeal to the Kerry Electors By the Leader of the Irish Party.

London, Sept. 3.—Mr. Justin McCarthy has issued an appeal to the electors of the South Division of County Kerry exhorting them to support Mr. Farrell, the candidate for the seat, who was chosen by the regular convention. Mr. McCarthy denounces the candidature of Murphy as treason against party discipline, and declares that his nomination was due to a conspiracy concerning which he (McCarthy) has hitherto been silent. For three years, he says, there has been an incessant campaign against the unity of the Irish party, which reached its climax in the baseless falsehoods uttered by Mr. T. M. Healy at Omagh, when he asserted that the Irish Parliamentary Committee had sold seats for English gold. Such a state of things, Mr. McCarthy declares, means the bankruptcy and destruction of the Irish cause.

The Pall Mall Gazette's lobby reporter has had an interview with several members of the Anti-Parnellite section of the Irish party regarding the appeal issued to the electors of South Kerry by Mr. Justin McCarthy. All of the gentlemen interviewed concurred in the opinion that the document was a surprise to the party. Mr. McCarthy, they all said, had not consulted the committee of the party before issuing the appeal, and it is surmised that he had acted upon the advice of only Messrs. John Dillon and Thomas P. O'Connor. The document has produced a profound sensation, and has widened the breach with the Healyites.

BRITISH TRADES CONGRESS

A Million Members Represented at the Meeting in Cardiff.

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 3.—The twenty-eighth annual Trades Union Congress of Great Britain opened at noon today in the Town hall here with David Holmes, President of the Cotton Spinners' Association, in the chair. The chairman announced that there were present 344 duly elected delegates, representing over a million members of various unions. At the conclusion of the chairman's remarks the Mayor of the city delivered an address of welcome to the delegates. The Mayor, in the course of his speech, alluded to the growth of Cardiff, which, he said, in this and other respects, is supposed to resemble Chicago. Here Mr. John Burns interrupted the Mayor by crying out:—"I hope not." The interruption was received with laughter. The Congress then proceeded to the election of a president, the balloting resulting in the choice of Mr. Jenkins, a shipwright. Mr. J. H. Wilson decided to postpone until to-morrow his challenge of the action of the Parliamentary Committee in excluding certain delegates.

Trilby's Foot.

The step 'twixt the sublime and ridiculous is quickly made. Surely literature presents no more grotesque idealization than Trilby's foot, and the numerous worshippers that have figuratively speaking bent knees and kissed the big toe of the foot, when reason once more come to their rescue, will feel as if the production of the genuis Asz were perennial. By the way did you notice when reading Trilby how highly it commended Putnam's Corn Extractor, which renders impossible this discordant excrescence, corns. Trilby's foot would not be worthy of homage if marred by corns; neither would yours. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. THE AMERICAN TARIFF AND THE WORKINGMAN.

A frequent question and a pertinent one also, in the United States is, "Has tariff reform injured the industries of the United States"—the interests of the industries, involving of course those of the workingman. A Chicago paper—high taxation—says that the loss done by the Wilson bill is about one billion. This is a very liberal generalization and must be wide of the facts and specific instances tend to reduce the estimate almost, if not quite, to zero, if not place a decided advantage on the other side.

The Wilson tariff was one year old on Wednesday, and the New York World celebrated the anniversary by publishing on account of one year's experience of that measure, and comparing it with one year's experience of the McKinley act. Here are some of the instances given:—

Carnegie Steel Works, under McKinley act—January, 1891, wages reduced 9 per cent.
February, 1891, 4,000 men out of work.
April, 1891, another reduction of 5 per cent.
August, 1891, open hearth department closed.
July, 1892, 3,800 men strike against another heavy reduction. Several weeks of riot.

Under Wilson tariff—May, 1895, wages of all employees in every mill increased 10 per cent. voluntarily.

Illinois Steel Company, Joliet, Ill., under McKinley tariff—March, 1891, over 5,000 men refuse to accept reduction in wages.
July, 1892, 45 per cent. reduction offered and refused, and mills shut down.
August, 1892, a reduction of 22 per cent. accepted by the men.

Under Wilson tariff—June, 1895, an increase of 10 per cent. to 7,000 men.

Illinois Steel Works, Chicago, Ill., under McKinley tariff—January, 1891, proposed reduction of wages about 33½ per cent.
August, 1892, workmen in finishing department accepted reduction of 10 per cent.

Under Wilson tariff—June 20, 1895, 7,000 men's wages increased voluntarily 10 per cent.

Pennsylvania Company, Lebanon Pa., under McKinley tariff—May, 1892, the ten-inch mill die.

Under Wilson tariff—June, 1895, a 10 per cent. increase in wages.

Lackawanna Iron and Steel Co., Scranton—Under McKinley tariff—August, 1891, the lower mill shut down.

Wilson tariff—June, 1895, wages of 4,000 men increased 10 per cent.

Reading Iron Company, McKinley tariff—April 1891, wages of 2,000 puddlers reduced $3.25 per ton.

Wilson tariff—June, 1895, wages increased 10 per cent.

Shenango Valley Furnaces, Youngston, Ohio, under McKinley tariff, January 1891—Fifteen blast furnaces closed and several thousand men out of work.
June, 1891—A reduction of from 7 to 12 per cent. was announced.
April 10, 1893—Another reduction of 10 per cent. affecting several thousand men.

Wilson tariff, June, 1895—Two increases of 10 per cent. and over.

Bethlehem Iron Works, Bethlehem, Pa., McKinley tariff, December, 1890—Over 1,000 men out of work.
January, 1891—A reduction of 10 per cent. announced after February 1st.

Wilson tariff, May, 1895—The wages of 2,000 men advanced 10 per cent.
June, 1895—A second increase of from 5 to 10 per cent. was announced.

Pottery Trust, Trenton, N.Y., McKinley tariff, January, 1891—Reduction of 33½ per cent. in wages announced.

Wilson tariff, June, 1895—Increase of 10 per cent. and over in wages announced.

Cotton and Woollen Mills, Webster, Mass., McKinley tariff, December, 1890—Mills running on three quarter time.

Wilson tariff, April, 1895—Wages advanced 10 per cent; mills on full time.

Acushnet Mills, New Bedford, Mass., McKinley tariff, December, 1890—Several hundred spinners strike against reduction in wages.

Wilson tariff, January, 1895—Wages voluntarily increased nearly 10 per cent.

Washington Woollen Mills, Lawrence, Mass., McKinley tariff, December, 1890—Mills closed.

Wilson tariff, April, 1895—Wages of nearly 4,000 men advanced from 5 to 10 per cent.

Rowland Paper Co., McKinley tariff, October, 1893—Mills closed at irregular periods.

Wilson tariff, April, 1895, wages increased from 10 to 15 per cent.

Cotton Manufacturers' Association, Fall River, Mass. McKinley tariff, September, 1891—Wages of 7,500 operatives reduced 10 per cent.

Wilson tariff, April, 1895—Old scale of wages restored.

At the same time the World gives figures to show that most of the necessaries of life are 10 to 35 per cent. cheaper than before. A reformed tariff which gives cheaper raw material to manufacturers, and which increases the wages of working cannot have, as specifically shown above, a bad effect upon industries.

C.P.R. NOT ALARMED

At the Alleged Combine to Kill Its Original Business.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 2.—The New York World story to the effect that a great railway and steamboat combination had been formed to wrest the round-the-world business from the Canadian Pacific, has not created a panic at the offices of the last named company in this city. The scheme to get control of the traffic is stated to ... by C. P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific, and when your correspondent showed the article to Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy, the vice-president, spoke as follows: "I feel confident that Mr. Huntington would not be so unneighborly as to snuff out the Canadian Pacific without giving us a few days warning at least. The Canadian Pacific," continued the vice-president, "has received its large Oriental and round-the-world business on its merits alone, simply because it has the best railway, the finest scenery and the best steamships, consequently, we can give the traveler the maximum of pleasure and comfort." In conclusion, Mr. Shaughnessy stated that he had only heard of this alleged combination through the newspapers and did not feel the least disturbed over it. Sir William Van Horne, had not heard about the great scheme until reading it in The New York World, and he did not believe Mr. Huntington knew any thing about it. The president added, however, that there was nothing to prevent the Southern Pacific or any other road from selling round-the-world tickets.

Mr. Joncas M.P. for Gaspe, is doing a great deal of work these days, his latest effort being an attack upon Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P. for East York. Mr. Joncas dubs his Ontario colleague a young member, and says The World is one of the most fanatical newspapers in Ontario. Mr. Maclean, he continues, holds a mandate from the people, which obliges him to give an example of respect for the laws and the constitution, but his prejudices and hatred for everything French and Catholic causes him to forget his duty, and, although he admits that a great injustice has been done to the Catholics of Manitoba, he does not wish the Parliament of Canada to interfere. Mr. Maclean admits, in fact, if he is pushed to the wall, that it is a great misfortune that Catholics should be forced to pay for the support of schools that their children cannot attend. Mr. Joncas continues in this strain at considerable length, but declares that sooner or later Mr. Maclean and those who work with him will have to give way.

Labor Day was celebrated here today by a pretty general shutting-down of business. The procession was hardly as long as formerly, although the turnout was fairly good. There was a general absence of politicians, Mr. Lepine, M.P., being about t' only legislator in the ranks. There seems also to have been a little friction between the leaders of the labor movement and the church, consequently there was no religious ceremony amongst the Roman Catholic workingmen. On the whole everything passed off well.

A watchman named Robert Nisbet, who came here a short time ago from Orangeville, was accidentally killed at Montreal Junction last evening.

Attempted Murder in Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 2.—Leonardo Rocco of Detroit, Mich., jealous of the attentions which William Kelt had paid to Mrs. Rocco, yesterday attempted to murder Kelt in a saloon. Kelt was badly cut, and Rocco is under arrest.

MOUNT TACOMA MAY ERUPT.

Every Indication of Its Approaching Activity.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 2.—Mountain climbers from Mount Tacoma report steam, smoke and gas belching from the foot of the Nisqually Glacier, where the Nisqually River has its source. They were much alarmed by the strange phenomena. The people up the Nisqually River valley would not be greatly surprised if the mountain should begin belching lava. At the rim of the crater southeast of Columbia crest the ground is quite warm notwithstanding the arctic atmosphere of the summit.

LOSS OF FLESH

is weakening. You cannot afford to fall below your healthy weight. If you will take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda when your friends first tell you you are getting thin, you will quickly restore your healthy weight and may thereby prevent serious illness.

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce a day of Scott's Emulsion. This seems extraordinary; but it is absolutely true.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

LABOR DAY SPORTS.

Two International Cricket Matches in Progress.

BELLEVILLE BICYCLE RACES.

The United States Makes a Poor Showing Both in New York and Toronto— Orton Beaten by Connell— Johnson Defeats Sanger and Tyler.

Fine weather favored the 500 spectators of the international cricket match between Canadian and United States elevens yesterday at Rosedale. The Canadians proved themselves far stronger than their opponents, who evidently are a lamentably weak team. Bristowe of Ottawa was absent and G. S. Lyon took his place.

The Canucks won the toss, and their innings lasted 3 1-2 hours, ending with the score at 156, while the visitors were disposed of in 70 minutes for 65.

The length of the innings of the home team was attributable to the profitable partnership of Wadsworth and Jacques. During the two hours they were together 84 runs were compiled, 70 of which belonged to the former. No little credit, however, is due to the Manitoban, who tallied only 14, but by careful play contributed greatly to the large score of his team. Wadsworth's score is the second largest made in an international game played on Canadian soil. Saunders and Martin started out well, the first wicket putting on 36.

The visitors were totally unable to deal with Laing's lightning breaks, Bohlen being their only man who appeared at all likely to stay; but when he had run up 20, and was becoming dangerous, a brilliant catch by Martin off Goldingham caused him to retire. After this Uncle Sam's wickets fell rapidly, and Laing brought about the finale in retiring the last three men by a neat performance of the hat trick.

During the remaining half-hour which was left Martin and Boyd went in for the Canadians, and scored respectively 4 and 2 before adjournment. The scores:

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that, whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Stony Lake.

The cottages in Stony Lake are being deserted. The store and post office will be closed on Wednesday, and the islands and the lakes will be largely left to duck hunters. The families of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, Mr. A. L. Davis, Mr. J. J. McBain and Mr. K. G. Loch, town, and that of Mr. E. H. Piper, Toronto, returned from the lakes Monday.

With the Sweetness of Melting Foam.

Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

Scotch Heather.

The Secretary of the St. Andrew's Society received by the last English mail a parcel of heather, picked about ten days ago on the Argyleshire hills. The sample is in a singularly fresh condition and full of delicate aroma peculiar to this beautiful Scottish plant. It was sent by Mr. W. C. Kirk, formerly of this town, who is now in London, England, assisting his father in the management of his large tea business. The heather is very much appreciated and Mr. Kirk has the hearty thanks of the recipient for his kind thoughtfulness.

Looks Plausible, but—

Trust it not, it is full of deception. Do not buy a label; buy a good wine in the bottle. The label may be imposing; and the long price may give confidence; but know this that the day has come when all the people can drink good wine at a cheap rate, at nominal prices. Eight dollars, ten dollars, that day is done! For good Clarets and Burgundies—$3, and $4 per dozen quarts. Tested by the best judges, among whom is Lieut. Governor Chapleau; enjoyed by the people; asked for in all parts of the country. The famed Medoc at a trifle. Rich wines, a little more than the price of beer. No sting; muscle blood makers. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

THE CIRCLE OF THE LAKES.

The Labour Unions of the Town Take in the Delightful Trip.

The different trades unions of the town celebrated Labour Day this year by an excursion around our chain of northern lakes, which was in every way an unqualified success.

The steamer Columbian left her wharf shortly after the arrival of the excursion and the trip through Chemong and Pigeon lakes was made.

Butcher's excellent orchestra was on board and supplied delightful music for dancing, which, it is needless to say, was taken advantage of by a large number.

Arriving at Buckhorn, a stay of one hour and a half was made for dinner. Mine Host Eastwood served a first-class dinner as usual, which was partaken of by a large number. Others enjoyed themselves by strolling around and fishing.

At Lovesick and Burleigh an hour was also spent in viewing the locks and other points of interest.

Continuing her sail, the boat, instead of taking her usual route, took the full circle of the lake, going up as far at Crow's Landing near the head of the lake, where a splendid view was obtained of the cottages and scenery at this point.

Lakefield was reached at 6 o'clock, where an hour and a half was given the excursionists, after which the run to town was made.

The arrangements for this outing were made with a view of catering to the enjoyment and comfort of those who patronized it. The committee in charge of this successful outing were Messrs. W. King, chairman, R. Mulligan, secretary, and Jno. Wilson, H. Woods, C. Clemence, Frank Sollit and J. L. O'Brien.

The highly successful outcome of yesterday's outing will no doubt encourage the management to hold another over this popular route next season.

THE OUTING AT HASTINGS.

The United Catholic Societies Spend the Day There.

The excursion to Hastings yesterday under the auspices of the united Catholic societies of the town was not very largely attended. However those who did take it in spent an enjoyable day in Johnston's beautiful grove in that village. Hodgson's orchestra was present and provided music for dancing.

The Band Excursion.

The excursion under the auspices of the Fire Brigade band down the river Saturday afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended. The band provided an excellent programme during the trip, and the outing was a delightful one in every respect.

The Duck Season Opened.

The duck season opened with a rush yesterday and the feathered game was gathered in rapidly at Jubilee Point and vicinity. The marshes at the mouth of the river were alive with hunters yesterday, and the game proved to be very plentiful. One hunter at Jubilee bagged eight duck in short order yesterday afternoon.

His Foot Crushed.

On Saturday Mr. John McDonald, Queen street, who is employed at the C. P. R. freight sheds, met with a severe accident. He was engaged in removing a barrel, when a bar of lead, which was reclining against the barrel, fell on his foot, crushing a number of his toes. Mr. McDonald will be laid up for some time as a result of the accident.

A Pleasant Outing.

The following composed a party that took a private excursion around Stony lake, per steamer Golden City, on Saturday last: Mrs. D. Udy, Misses Pauline and Lily Udy, Mrs. R.J. Grant, Miss Lottie Meharry, Mr. Percy Udy, Mr. Smyth Kelly, Rev. H. T. Lewis, Bridgenorth; Misses Eunice and Maggie Milburn, "Dr." A. J. Milburn, from Smith township; Rev. S. J. Green, Bobcaygeon; Miss Maud Nugent, Millbrook; Mr. R. R. Waddell, Orono; Miss A. E. Peters, Peterborough.

Mr John McNaughton Injured.

Saturday afternoon, Mr. Armstrong, carter, while driving a lady to the locks, was accompanied by Mr. John McNaughton. When turning Lake to Crescent street the horse took a sharp turn and threw the lady and Mr. McNaughton off. Mr. McNaughton landed against a post, but the lady escaped uninjured. Mr. McNaughton was put on board a car and conveyed to Nicholls Hospital, but beyond a severe shaking up his injuries are not serious. The cart was considerably damaged.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day" performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would no doubt prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though (as will be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award due credit to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and uncolicited, and, therefore, of the higher value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of his claim that Maltine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel," and affirms that "it is a wonderful heart sustainer." This preparation may be had of all druggists, and may be relied upon as an agent of infinite value in nervous prostration and brain exhaustion, resulting from undue strain upon the mental or physical energies.—Daily Globe, July 6, 1896.

THE BATTLE OF SPRINGVILLE.

A Savage Fight Disgraces the Village —The Arrest of the Parties on Two Charges.

For several years the little hamlet of Springville has been noted for its quiet law-abiding character, and during the time that the late Archibald Goodfellow carried on business, the village itself and the vicinity wereas orderly a place as one could find in the countryside. But since Mr. Goodfellow disposed of his business the place has lost its good name to a large extent, and has in addition gained considerable notoriety from difficulties and disagreements whose settlement could apparently only be effected by club law. Not long since the store and contents formerly belonging to the late Mr. Goodfellow was destroyed by fire and the drill shed and a large portion of the village has also been burned and not long ago a fierce fight took place in the street, the circumstances of which were ventilated in court. Again on Saturday night another disgraceful and serious row occurred. It appears that bad blood has existed between the Smith and Irwin families. Smith is the village postmaster and it was hardly to be expected that one of Her Majesty's officials would go so far to break the law as Irwin charges that he has done.

THE RUCTION.

On Saturday morning both families were in town and in the course of conversation Mrs. Irwin made some statement which led Smith to call her a ——————— liar, Smith at the same time challenging Irwin to fight the matter out in a hotel yard. Instead, Irwin and his wife started up town to lay a complaint of assault against Smith, but a mutual friend, it appears, dissuaded them on the understanding that the matter would be dropped and no complaint was laid. After the return home in the evening, Irwin, as he states, went to the post office and asked for his mail. Smith replied, "I'll give you your mail and something else, you ——————— I" With that Smith made for Irwin and the latter retired to the street where Smith attacked him and a fierce rough and tumble fight followed. While the fight was in progress, Irwin's father came to the assistance of his son, while help for Smith speedily arrived in the shape of his wife who knocked down the old man with a brick and followed that up by repeating the operation on the younger Irwin with a stone. The latter's wife at last succeeded in getting her husband clear of the battlefield. But according to the Irwins Smith still showed fight. They state that he came to the house with the avowed purpose of killing old man Irwin. The latter, it appears, took down the shot gun to defend himself, but the son took it from him and fired it in the air for the purpose of deterring Smith, who may way, did not accomplish his purpose.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Smith's version of the story is very brief. He says that Irwin came into the post-office and challenged him (Smith) out to fight. He does not deny that he accepted the challenge which he says Irwin made or that he punished the elder Irwin pretty badly

The latter was brought to town and Dr. Carmichael attended to his injuries which were pretty severe. A gash in the cheek required five stitches, and it was necessary to lance the other cheek beneath the eye in three places. He complained of other injuries about the chest and other parts of the body.

At the same time he laid an information against Smith charging him assault and a warrant was issued by County Constable Archie Moore, who arrested Smith on Sunday morning and lodged him in jail, from which he was released on Monday evening on bail to appear at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon before County Police Magistrate Edmison

Mrs. Smith came to town and laid an information against Irwin, charging him with pointing and firing a gun at her after the fight. Constable Moore also arrested Irwin on this charge.

It is to be hoped that the magisterial investigation will result in fixing the fault and in the administration of such a penalty as will set at rest all such unseemly feuds. A post office is a place for the public convenience, and the public should be free to visit it without the risk of being involved in street fights at the post office doors. It is immaterial to the public who is to blame in the matter, so that the right person receives exemplary punishment, which it is hoped the police magistrate will lay on with a heavy hand.

A little detective work at Springville might result in landing the author, or authors, of the more recent fires that have nearly destroyed the village, in the penitentiary.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

County Police Magistrate Edmison Held Court at Lakefield Labour Day.

OBITUARY.

The Late Robert Pope.

The citizens of the town generally will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Robert Pope, street inspector, which sad event took place after a long and painful illness at his residence, 207 Stewart street, on Sunday. The deceased gentleman was a native of the town of March, Cambridgeshire, England, and at an early age came with his parents to Canada. The family settled at Newcastle where they still reside. Mr. Pope was employed for several years on the main line of the Grand Trunk and was for some years roadmaster on the Midland. About five or six years ago he was appointed street inspector for the town, and satisfactorily performed the duties of the position till within about six months, when the illness from which he had been suffering for some time compelled his retirement. The deceased was united in marriage about sixteen years ago to Miss Bennett, eldest daughter of Mr. Jos Bennett, North Monaghan. Mrs. Pope and one son survive the husband and father. Mr. Pope was a member of the congregation of St. John's church. He was of a quiet and retiring disposition and very highly respected by all who knew him. The funeral took place this afternoon at three o'clock under Masonic auspices, the remains being followed to the Little Lake Cemetery by a large concourse of citizens.

PATRONS' PICNIC AT JUBILEE POINT.

SUCCESSFUL OUTING OF COLD SPRINGS ASSOCIATION.

Their Outing Largely Attended—Speeches by Prof. Mills, Grand President Mallory and Mr. Hilburn—Plain Talk to Farmers—Mallory Explains the Patron Platform—His Arraignment of the Political Parties—A Football Tournament

Labour Day was fittingly observed by Coldsprings Association, No. 1098, Patrons of Industry, by an excursion to Jubilee Point, which was in every way an unqualified success.

The City of Peterborough left the Wolfe street wharf shortly after eight o'clock with a large number on board, and after gathering in the excursionists at the different points along the route, the steamer reached Jubilee Point at 12.30, with about 500 on board.

The steamer North Star also brought a number from points on Rice Lake, which considerably swelled the gathering.

After dinner had been partaken of Mr. Dawson Kennedy, President of the county Association, called the people together around the speakers' platform, where the would address them.

Mr. Kennedy occupied the chair, and in a few words introduced the first speaker.

Prof. Mills of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, stated that he must admit that he never took pleasure in speaking at a picnic. People as a rule gather for another purpose. As regards himself he came among them for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the farmers of this well-known locality. He had an interest in this place, having heard of it when he was a boy. Prof. Mills stated that he was born in Simcoe county, and worked at farming until twenty one years of age, when he in a threshing accident. He then studied and taught school, and afterwards entered the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, which was instituted for the benefit of the farmers. There was a great deal of prejudice against the college, he remarked, especially in this locality. The farm consisted of 550 acres, 350 of which was worked as farm. He was prepared to admit the operation of the farm didn't pay, especially in these hard times. They had besides a large lawn of fifty acres for the pleasure of the farmers and their daughters who visited the College, and during the past three years fully 12,000 had visited the farm.

Back of the college there was another fifty acres and about seventeen or eighteen places for testing seed and other operations. In this testing of seed, the speaker stated it took three years to come to a conclusion. The largest grain is taken, then the medium and poorer variety, and all are planted side by side. The plumpest growth invariably gives the best result.

He next referred to

THE FARM PROPER.

A large number of thoroughbred animals are on hand. There are eleven breeds of cattle, nine breeds of sheep and five breeds of hogs. All stock men know if you wish to succeed you must select your breed and stick to it. Why, the speaker asked, do we keep all those things? Simply that young men have an idea of stock raising in order to make practical farmers. The cattle are brought into the class room so as the students can handle them.

On the opposite side of the road from the college is the best in the Dominion. Students are taken in during the winter months and taught dairy butter-making and milk testing.

The poultry department was also referred to as being in good order.

Continuing, the professor said, that farmers in this locality seem to think that the experimental farm is only for purpose of growing a crop and also raising cattle. This College he told them, was to educate farmer's sons. It was the object there to give every boy an education who intended to make a home on a farm. Farmers generally figure on sending James to school to prepare for a teacher. George was to go to College and John is given the land without an education. It simply means, the speaker contended, that John would be a hewer of wood and drawer of water. It would be better to give him ten acres less and an education. Boys grew into looking more to the land than to education.

At Guelph, Mr. Mills said

FULL LECTURES WERE GIVEN

on agricultural questions—on live stock and dairying and veterinary science. Natural science and a practical and thorough English education as well as a course in mathematics were given in order that the boy might successfully cope with other professions.

The speaker was of the opinion that a boy should learn the details of farming on a good farm before attending the college. While at college they are given work to do, which pays their board, and besides keeps them from acquiring a

DISTASTE FOR FARMING.

Our public schools, Mr. Mills said, gave our boys and girls a good practical education, but not for farming. At the college they have not only failed to keep up the boy's taste for the farm, but have succeeded in sending them away with a proper view of the dignity of farm life. The speaker was not prepared to join with some farmers in depreciating farming. A good farmer depends a good deal on the elements of nature just as much as on a farmer's energy and skill.

The speaker proceeded to prove that farming was one of the best calling after all in health, independence and leisure. Farming can compare favourably with other callings.

Farmers can't make money without a certain risk. Farmers in this county are as fairly well off as any class in the community, besides they are economical. The occupation is what they make it and they should not grumble.

In conclusion the speaker urged the farmers to be more tasty about the farm, to be proud of their calling and furthermore to provide the home with good practical reading for their families. They should subscribe for periodicals and magazines. In Oxford county the sturdy Scotch farmers spend on an average of $20 a year for reading material. Encourage the boys to become readers and they would become the better farmers and better men.

GRAND PRESIDENT MALLORY,

after a few humourous remarks, stated it was the first time he had heard Prof. Mills and would have been much pleased if he had continued. The speaker said the subject he would deal with was a dry one, "The Political aspect of Patron's of Industry." He was, he said, greatly pleased with Mr. Mills' desire to raise the condition of the farmers. If his object was accomplished it would be a grand work. He narrated the story of the cleaning of the Augean stables by the union of two rivers, and asked his audience what that had to do with farming. The toilers, he said, composed 90 per cent. of the inhtbitants of the Dominion and are divided into two parties, Grit and Tory. Now the Patrons is the canal built like Hercules' canal. The Tories contended that there was a great deal of corruption at Toronto and also in Quebec, and the Grits say the same state of affairs is very bad at Ottawa. Now, the Patron canal intends to unite the Grit and Tory rivers, break down the great enclosure, and at Ottawa. This is the supreme object of the Patrons.

CLEAN THE AUGEAN STABLES

It would be impossible for him to go over the whole Patron platform, but he would take one or two planks.

Maintenance of British connection. All parties, he stated, believed in it, and the farmers are the most loyal and patriotic people in Canada. The professional man, if he fails to make a living in Canada, can pull up stakes, but the farmer cannot. He is of necessity patriotic.

Mr. Mallory then proceeded to deal with Mr. Massey, the implement manufacturer, who was a good "Grit" once, and then a wonderful Tory. When the Patrons sent in a petition to have the duty from 35 to 30 per cent. on agricultural implements, Mr. Massey was going to pull up and go to the States. The government at Ottawa introduced a 35 per cent. duty on agricultural implements, with a rebate of 99 per cent. of the duty on raw materal that comes in, Mr. Massey, he contended, sent a better binder at lower prices out of the country than the farmers here can buy from him.

He then turned to another plank—reciprocal trade on fair and equitable terms, and

TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY.

Great Britain, he said, had a reciprocity treaty with seventy-eight nations to-day. After dealing briefly with the platform of the Patrons, Mr. Mallory remarked that it had been said that there was no room for a third party, adding that every nation at the present day had more than two parties. He then dwelt on the great combinations the farmers had to contend with. Stocks were rising in value and farm stocks depreciating, until now they were not worth 75 per cent. of the amount they were worth ten years ago. Farmers were he asserted, bled 31½ per cent on what they purchased.

The Patrons tried to break the salt combine, and undertook the manufacture of binder twine, and had been instrumental in reducing the price. The Brantford factory is not a Patron institution, but if it did anything against the Patron's interest they would drop it. Dalton McCarthy, who was counsel for the Consumers' Cordage Co., had told the speaker that the Company paid 90 per cent. dividend on paid up stock.

A voice—You are wrong.

Mr. Mallory—I got this statement from Mr. Dalton McCarthy, counsel for the company.

The speaker in the audience, Mr. W. H. Brown, of the Consumers' Cordage Co., Port Hope, took exception to that statement, and also that the Patrons reduced the price of twine. The reduction in price, he argued, had been caused by a corresponding decline in the price of hemp.

The chairman informed Mr. Brown that they had not met there for discussion.

Mr. Mallory said Sir John MacDonald once travelled through the country and was happy to see the farmers so happy and contented. He did not blame Sir John for this belief. In this country three-fourths of the farms are under mortgage and despite this Sir John had seen evidences of prosperity. He however, did not see the difficulties they had to contend with. Others had gone to Ottawa to have the tariff tinkered, but when the farmers went to Ottawa asking for all duties to be removed on certain things, Sir John Thompson, who was there then, looked at the petition, and after remarking there was more than 25 000 Grits in Ontario,

CONSIGNED IT TO THE WASTE BASKET.

The next petition sent to Ottawa asking that duty be taken from binder twine and that coal oil and agricultural implements be placed on the free list, contained 40,000 signatures. We got an interview with the Premier and Mr. Foster. The petitioners argued with them, and were told that the Premier would give the question his serious consideration. The speaker added that the Ontario Government had received them in much the same spirit.

Continuing, the speaker said, it had been asserted if the Patrons had secured a majority at Toronto that the but it was the Tories that turned "Grit." There had been a bargain made he said between the two old parties to crush out the Patrons. The Patron's didn't care, he exclaimed, who ruled. They have got to rule in the interest of the masses. Seventy-five per cent. of the population should not get down on their knees to those who should be our servants and not our masters. Sir Oliver Mowat, he said, would have given us all we asked if we had maintained our standing in the House. It had been asked where the revenue would come from after a reduction in tariff. The president of the Bank of Montreal had stated as his opinion that it was time a halt was called in public expenditure to allow the country to recuperate. Canada's net indebtedness is $350,000,000. What reason, he asked, have we for piling up this debt? There is a mortgage indebtedness of $100,000 in this county for Dominion purposes. The speaker vigorously condemned the granting of railway subsidies, and on this question handled the Goverament without gloves.

In connection with the

he stated this body had accomplished no good. The superannuation system, pensions and gratuities were also vigorously condemned.

The Kingston Military College mismanagement was also dealt with, as well as the extravagance of the Militia Department.

In closing the speaker urged them all to be proud of their calling and to stand by their rights. When an election came 750,000 farmers would show Mackenzie Bowell that they were masters of the soil.

Mr. E. H. Hilburn, President of the Ontario Salt Co., was the next speaker, but his time was short and he confined himself to the history of the salt company which he represented. He also urged the farmers to become educators and be proud of their calling.

A FOOTBALL TOURNAMENT.

During the afternoon a football tournament was held for a valuable trophy presented by the Navigation Company. The Lakeviews, of town, did up Gore's Landing to the tune of 1 goal to nil, and were forced to try conclusions with the Otonabees Giants. The town boys made a plucky fight, but were defeated by one goal. Following are the teams:

Faulkner, who has been manager for this district for the past three years of the North American Life Assurance Comaany, has been promoted to the position of resident manager for British Columbia. TO THE NORTH POLE.

An Attempt Will be Made to Reach It by Means of a Balloon.

It would seem as if every way but one had been tried to reach the North Pole, and that way has already been suggested to us in one of the tales of the versatile M. Jules Verne. It is the one that uses the air as a route and the balloon as a means of transport. The plan will not remain long untested, a committee of the Paris Academy of

M. ANDREE, THE AERONAUT.

Sciences having reported favorably upon it. In the opinion of these learned men, M. Andree, who is to try the experiment, will probably reach the pole, though they are rather doubtful as to his ability to get back again to tell his story. Science, speaking of the projected expedition, says: "In the mean while M. Andree is in Paris superintending the construction of a balloon. The balloon is to be of sufficient size to carry three persons, scientific instruments and provisions for four months, and a boat transformable into a sledge, weighing in all about 3,000 kilograms, about three tons. Gas under pressure in cyclinders will be taken in order to refill the balloon from time to time—sufficient to keep the balloon in the air for thirty days."

A writer in L'Illustration, Paris, from which we copy the pictures that accompany this article, gives some additional particulars regarding the balloon, which will be steered by an ingenious device of M. Andree's. This is a so-called "rudder sail" fastened at the top of the apex of the balloon and at the bottom to the car in such a way that it can be moved freely. This rudder sail was tested in a trip taken last summer, and is said to have been completely successful. The writer in Science gives the following particulars of his projected trip:

"M. Andree expects to start from one of the Norwegian Islands of the Spitzbergen Archipelago situated to the extreme northwest of the mainland. July is fixed as the month of departure. A clear day will be chosen with a south wind. The balloon will travel at a minimum rate of 27 kilometers, sixteen miles, an hour, and M. Andree hopes to reach the pole in a voyage of forty-three hours and to return safely to the inhabited regions of North America or Siberia.

"According to an account in the Revue Scientifique by M. Ch. Rabot, the meteorological condition of Spitsbergen are very favorable for a long aeronautical voyage. The sun in July never sinks below the horizon, and the variations of temperature are consequently very slight. The lowest temperature observed in July, 1883, at Cape Thordsen was: No.8, and the highest, 77.6. At Spitsbergen, during the first fortnight in August, 1892, the largest daily variation observed was 3 degrees, and as a rule it was not greater than 1.5 degrees. The movements of the balloon would therefore be very regular. There is no storm to be feared in the polar regions. The rainfall is small, and no fall of snow at this time of the year would be no obstacle to the balloon."—Literary Digest.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

The Value of Rhubarb.

Mr. Gaston, of Illinois, speaking of the very dry and frosty spring, says he is convinced that growing fruits of all kinds is an uncertain business. For early use, however, rhubarb can always be relied upon. It grows rapidly under very adverse conditions. This spring the hard frosts and dry weather had apparently no influence upon it. It grew luxuriantly, and was ready for the table early in the season. It will grow in almost any climate, and with heavy fertilizing will be found very satisfactory. It may be used for pies or sauce, and will, to a certain extent, take the place of fruits for these purposes.

Do Their Grazing at Night.

It is one of the disadvantages of pasturing that it necessitates getting the cows at night in a yard for milking where they are usually left until morning without feed. If cows could have their way they would do most of their grazing at night, while the air is cool, only lying down when they had filled themselves. It will pay to cut some grass for the cows put in the yard, and when this is done the effect of increased yield will induce the farmer to stable his cow during the heat of the day and provide green food for them. At night the cows might be allowed to run in some pasture near the barn, putting them up in the morning. Only a feed at noon and night would then be required.

FASHION'S CREATIONS.

Dove-colored slippers worked in fine jet are much admired.

Blue is at present the important color in millinery and gowns.

A novelty is a black mohair cord running through a colored wool crepon.

Broadcloths come in pretty shades of red and brown and green and pinkish tints.

Mohair or alpacas are still playing a conspicious role among the summer stuffs.

The newest sailor hats have high crowns in a color contrasting with that of the brim.

Black lace and insertion on sheer white costumes is a new wrinkle in fashion's domain.

Beautiful made-up ribbon bretelles and girdles, arranged over elastic to remain in shape, are a novelty.

Although feathers are in use, flowers continue to be the most popular trimming for all kinds of millinery models.

Buttons of white enamel set with a single tiny brilliant are beautiful for trimming white and ecru linen gowns.

Narrow lay-down collars and cuffs of hem-stitch linen or cambric are the latest thing for accessories on dark cloth costumes.

Undoubtedly the dressmakers will display trimmed skirts next season; whether they will be accepted or not time alone can tell.

One of the conspicuous fads of fashion are the plaid-stripped and flowered ribbons. They are the main feature of many thin gowns.

Many of the new blouses extend below the belt, but there are almost as many others whose loose part overhangs the waist-line.

The woman with the deft fingers who can imitate the wings, tips, et cetera, of professional millinery can have a hat for every gown.

For trimming white dresses the first favor is given to Dresden ribbon having a white ground and pink, blue or rosy-violet flower designs.

Coarse black net over silk is used in fashioning the bodices of stylish midsummer costumes. The skirt is of the silk, untrimmed.

Appropriate Dressing.

To be well dressed is to be appropriately dressed. This is an axiom, however, that many women are apt to disregard, thinking ignorantly that fine feathers make fine birds, whensoever and whatsoever display, and not realizing that in really good society it is considered vulgar to make a display of fine clothes in the street or at church. A well-bred woman of assured position who has recently found it expedient to "put down" her equipage and horses, remarked the other day, "the very fact of using or not using a carriage habitually necessitates an entirely different style of dressing. Rich garments, which might be quite appropriate if the wearer is driven to or from her place of destination, are obviously out of place for walking or in a public conveyance." Of late years the unwritten laws of what should and should not be worn have become more and more stringent; and the lines of distinction between different styles of costume for this or that function of occasion are even more strictly drawn.

"Never dress for the general public," is also an excellent axiom for those who desire to attire themselves in good taste. The more imposing the company the grander the clothes. Of course, there may be exceptions, like the opera, where milady puts in an appearance after a dinner and goes later to a ball—or perhaps the horse show or exhibitions for which functions it has become the custom (a custom, by the way, which is sure to become obsolete soon or late), to wear fine raiment. But it is safe to assume that a true "grande dame" does not desire to attract the attention of the crowd or to be commented upon by the vulgar.

Why Not You?

When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to overcome the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dyspepsia and all diseases caused by impure blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures others, why not you?

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient. 25c.

For cholera morbus, cholera infantum, cramps, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery and all summer complaints, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for nearly 50 years.

SCALDS and Burns are soothed at once with Perry Davis' PAIN KILLER. It takes out the fire, reduces the inflammation, and prevents blistering. It is the quickest and most effectual remedy for pain that is known. Keep it by you.

CATALINA'S PIGEON POST.

Probably the Only Feathered Mail Service in This Country.

So far as I can learn, the only regular pigeon post service on this side of the continent, or the other is that which bears messages every day in the summer season between Los Angeles and the little town of Avalon, on Catalina Island, and bears them at a speed which can be beaten only by the telegraph or telephone.

The steamers run once a day between island and mainland, and once it has cast loose from the wharf the island, with a summer population of perhaps several thousand, is as completely cut off from the world as though it were in midocean, and yet the shore is a scant twenty miles away. The demand for some additional service grew. Often there were men of affairs among the visitors, and they were not infrequently sore distressed to find means of communication. I remember hearing one financier declare: "I'd give $500 gladly to get a dispatch to Los Angeles; it would be worth $5,000 to me easy."

It remained for two young men of Los Angeles, Otto and Oswald Zahn, to relieve the island visitors and residents from their embarrassing isolation. This was accomplished by the establishment of a carrier-pigeon post between Avalon and Los Angeles. The service was inaugurated last summer and conducted for several weeks with unequivocal success. It was feared at first that the pigeons, which are distinctly "land birds," might hesitate to fly across so large a body of water; but, as far as known, there need have been no cause for anxiety on this point. The message bearers usually started without delay, arriving at their destination with a certainti and promptness almost incredible. The air-line disance from Avalon to Los Angeles is about fifty miles. This was accomplished by some of the Catalina flyers in fifty minutes. From three to four hours is required to make the trip by railroad and steamer.

Last year a considerable revenue was earned by the forwarding of dispatches from Catalina by the winged messengers. Small bills posted conspicuously about the town of Avalon convey the somewhat startling information to the irresolute islander that "private messages and business orders may be forwarded at any hour of the day, and, in connection with the telephone, telegraph and cable lines, to any part of the world."

The young pigeon fanciers also add to their income by supplying the daily press of Los Angeles with the latest news from Catalina.

Last year the Zahns had not more than a dozen homers in the service, and it was found by repeated flyings at short intervals that the birds towards the end of the season became less reliable. It is not the flight across the water that exhausts them, but the boxing and shipping on the return trip. The Zahns lofts at Avalon and Los Angeles number this year nearly 100 birds of high degree, and these will insure constant and efficient service to and from the island throughout the summer.

In a very few instances the birds have been wounded by pot hunters or thoughtless sportsmen.—San Francisco Chronicle.

An Island Lake With Tides.

Russian scientists have lately been studying the curious island of Kildine off the coast of Russian Lapland, and separated from it by a narrow strait. This island has a lake that has no visible connection with the sea, but is affected by tidal movements. To be sure, the tides in the lake rise and fall only a few inches, while those in the surrounding sea rise and fall several feet. The periodicity of the lake tides make it plain that the lake has a subterranean communication with the sea.

The water on the island is of three kinds, fresh water from rains and from brooks at the hihgest points; a little lower, salt water like that of the sea; at the lowest point sea water, surcharged with free sulphuretted hydrogen. The fresh water is inhabited by the animal life usual in the fresh water of that region. The salt water has sea creatures, sponges and the like, while the water surcharged with sulphuretted hydrogen has neither vegetable nor animal life. The phenomenon of this free sulphuretted hydrogen has its counterparts in the depths of the Black Sea, where the presence of the gas destroys animal and vegetable life.

Polishing Granite.

Iron sand is used for sawing and polishing granite. Its employment enables machine polishing to be executed about three times as fast as when set sand is used, and about 10 times less is necessary. The process of manufacturing it is interesting. Into an opening at the top of a fire-brick cupalo, lined with an outer casing of iron, are thrown from an elevated stage coke and scraps of old cast iron. A fierce heat is kept up in the furnace by steam-driven fans. The metal when melted finds its way out at the bottom of the cupalo down a spout, and a powerful steam blast sends it flying in white-hot spherical globules into a brick chamber containing a tank of cold water. The spherules dropping into the water cause numerous minute explosions. The water is run off, the spherules collected, dried and put through a series of sieves moved by steam power, from which about seven different sizes are obtained, varying from fine powder to about the size of No. 6 shot. The product is then put into one hundredweight bags for sale.—American Architect.

Beautifying in Paris.

The women of Paris put starch in the water to soften it. It is much cheaper than borax or toilet vinegars and more reliable than ammonia, which undoubtedly stimulates the delicate growth of down. Every chamber, even the smallest, has a fireplace and mantel, and one of the ornaments is a porcelain caddy or jar for the toilet starch.

AN INCORRIGIBLE PRINCESS.

A romantic case just brought to light through the Children's Aid Society is that of Nanette Dantzig, a flaxen-haired, blue-eyed Dane of 11 years. Nanette's father was a linguist, and had charge of the royal archives in Denmark. Her mother came of a good old Danish family, and it is said will inherit money and estate. Her paternal grandfather had been a trusted officer in the royal family, and was supposed to have been the bar sinister of a royal personage, to whom he bore great likeness.

Domestic trouble compelled the Dantzigs to leave Denmark. Last fall they arrived in America, and settled in this city, where the father tried to earn a precarious living by teaching the continental languages. His health failed him and he fell an easy victim to tuberculosis. Mrs. Dantzig contributed to the family support by taking in sewing. Nanette was kept home from school to do the housework and this led to disputes, one of which she overheard. Like all royal progenies Nanette was self-willed and inclined to be incorrigible.

One day she ran away. An officer took her to a station-house and communicated with the society in whose care she has since remained. At the first home in which the society placed her to board she showed her royal proclivities to a marked degree, pilfering everything she could in the way of jewelry and laces. Of course she had to be removed. She promised to do better.

The next place the society procured for her was with a refined family in the country. Here Nanette read in a book of etiquette that to wear jewelry was bad form. Simultaneously Nanette discarded rings, pins and such things as unbecoming one of royal pedigree. She had learned to play the piano, showed marked artistic ability, which the people are cultivating, and is learning, moreover, all the useful arts, dressmaking, millinery, housekeeping, which she no longer regards as infra dig. Possibly this little left-handed princess of an honored Danish race may return to her own land and people; until she reaches "woman's estate," however—unless some of her relatives send or come for her—she will remain a ward of the society.—Philadelphia Telegram.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Occupants of a Motor Car Shocked by a Live Wire.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 29.—A trolley wire snapped in State-street in front of the City Hall to-day, and fell on the track. A car containing three women and two men ran upon it. They were all shocked, some of them with much force. They sprang to their feet and started for the door. One of the women, Mrs. Frederick Kneubel, in her excitement fell to the ground and sustained a severe scalp wound. The others escaped injury. The motorman, Charles Kneckenberger, shut off the current and ran into the car, escaping by the rear platform. Although he felt no pain at the time, he subsequently discovered that his hands were severely burned.

POINTS THE WAY TO PERFECT HEALTH

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE

The Great Health Restorer of the Century.

Sickness Cannot Cope With It—Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record—Cures at the Nerve Centers, and Thus Cures Permanently—A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility—Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but by scientific methods he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health, only when the nerve centers are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centers. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centers, from which comes these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and then builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centers are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

NOW MAKING RESTITUTION.

George T. Parsons, Bookkeeper for Gurley & Co. of New York, Flies to Toronto and Has Already Made Up Considerable of the Shortage of Which He Was Accused.

Toronto, Sept. 3.—Among the recent arrivals in Toronto is George Talbot Parsons, until lately a bookkeeper for George R. Gurley & Company, importers of elastic, at No. 101 Franklin-street, New York. Mr. Parsons is boarding with Mr. William Grahame, barber, 30 Queen-street east.

Up to a few weeks ago Parsons, who is married, lived in a flat at No. 2468 Seventh-avenue, New York. His neighbors and the tradesmen thereabouts thought he was a banker. He wore fashionable clothes of the finest quality and smoked expensive cigars. His wife, a lovely woman, so the neighbors say, was very modest. She dressed neatly, but not expensively.

Rumors reached Gurley & Company that Parsons was living beyond his means. His salary was $40 a week and Parsons was spending more than $100 a week. Mr. Gurley spoke to Parsons about the reports. Parsons denied them. Matters reached a climax when Mr. Gurley discovered the bookkeeper fast asleep over his books, and promptly discharged him. Parsons pleaded to be retained, but Mr. Gurley was obdurate.

"All right," remarked Parsons, "you will regret it."

Parsons had been in the employ of the firm for over eight years, and enjoyed the confidence of all the members of the firm. He received and endorsed all cheques payable to the firm and his word was accepted regarding the financial standing of the concern.

A new bookkeeper was engaged, and he soon reported that for years Parsons had been falsifying the books. Expert Accountant William Waddell of No. 71 Wall-street, discovered that the firm had been robbed during the past two years.

This information was put in the shape of an affidavit by Mr. Waddell, and submitted to the District Attorney by Blumenthal & Hirsch, of No. 209 Broadway, counsel for the firm. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Parsons, but when the detectives went to his home to arrest him they discovered that he had flown.

The books of the firm were taken before the grand jury by Mr. Townsend, a partner, and Mr. Waddell. On their evidence the grand jury ordered two indictments against Parsons, and Recorder Goff issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

"We cannot tell exactly how much Parsons stole," said Gurley & Company, at the time of his disappearance, "but it is in the thousands. He was in a position to steal as much as he liked. We placed implicit confidence in him, and never once suspected him of any wrong-doing. His wife came to the office frequently, and they seemed much attached. I have reason to believe Parsons has fled to Canada. His wife has relatives there."

"What do you think Parsons' stealings will amount to?" the reporter asked Mr. Townsend.

"That I cannot say," he replied. "It would cost thousands of dollars to find out, and we decided not to go to that expense. We got sufficient evidence to have him indicted, and intend to charge up the amount taken to profit and loss."

Since Parsons disappeared a thorough audit of his books has been made and it is understood the total shortage is only some $1800. The firm is now convinced that Parsons was not dishonest, but merely neglected to enter up in the books certain sums he received while he was on a spree. Since coming to Toronto the deficit has been reduced to $200, and Parsons is endeavoring, and will probably succeed, in making up his shortage.

LACROSSE.

The match yesterday between Markham and the Athletics of town, was witnessed by a good crowd and proved to be as interesting as any game played here this season with probably the exception of the Port Hope game. Through lack of practice that sureness of catch and passing and staying powers of the home team were not up to the usual standard. The teams lined up as follows at 2 o'clock, with Mr. H. LeBrun referee:—

Athletics.		Markham.
Dobbin	Goal	W. Hamburg
Lynch	Point	H. C. Wales
Brown	Cover Point	C. E. Rainey
Jos. McDonough	1st defence	C. N. Vangant
Thompson	2nd "	T. Fox
J. T. McCabe	3rd "	R. Pringle
T. McDonough	Centre	C. Pringle
Phelan	3rd home	C. L. Querrie
Rubidge	2nd "	W. Wilson
Lipsett	1st "	C. Teft
Galley	Outside "	C. Morrison
J. McDonough	Inside "	G. Barnes
Doris	Field Captain	Ed. Wilson
E. Wasson	Umpire	D. Gleason

H. LeBrun, referee.

The two goals scored by Peterborough were taken by the very hardest kind of hard work, as shot after shot was stopped by the Markham goal keeper, who was pronounced to have but one equal of all the men who have played the game in Peterborough, and that man is our own goal keeper Dobbin.

Owing to some change the captain of the Athletics wished to make, Galley, as one of the men concerned, refused to acquiesce in the arrangements and left the field.

The Fire Brigade band was present and is a great addition to any event taking place on the grounds.

It is likely that the Athletics will go to Markham on Saturday and the people of that town can look for as good an exhibition of the game as ever given in that part of the province.

The visiting team had several good chances to score but seemed to work the ball away from the goal instead of shooting, and if it was shot it was generally inside of the flags.

BASEBALL.

A team representing the 'Prentice Boys and a nine from the Matthews pork packing establishment battled on the Riverside Park diamond yesterday. The pork-packers were batted out of existence to the tune of 30 runs to 6.

Seaforth Champions of the C.L.A.

Brampton, Sept. 2.—This afternoon the protested lacrosse match between Fergus and Seaforth was played off on the Roseka Athletic grounds, and resulted in favor of Seaforth by 4 to 2.

Some delay was caused setting preliminaries. Finally Dr. Heggie was selected as referee, and F. C. Milner and James Fallis umpires, all belonging to the Excelsiors of Brampton. After the start the ball was immediately shot upon Fergus' goal, and remained in that vicinity until after the first game was scored for Seaforth by Johnston in 2 1-2 minutes.

The second game also fell to Seaforth in 7 1-2 minutes, scored by Brierley. In this game there was some very rough play. A Fergus man was cautioned, and a delay of 10 minutes occurred, in which there was considerable jangling, and an enthusiastic spectator from Seaforth jumped into the oval to see fair play. He was escorted to the fence by Dr. Roberts. Seaforth was given a free throw.

Fergus won the third game in 3 minutes, scored by Irving.

The fourth game was hotly contested. Fergus made a determined effort to win, but after 3 minutes' effort failed, and Seaforth scored again, Brown doing the trick.

Fergus again gained heart after scoring the fifth game in half a minute. Michie shooting the ball through.

The sixth game was won by Seaforth after six minutes' play, by Freeman, although it looked as if the Fergus goalkeeper fumbled and let the ball go through his own goal.

The quality of the play was about even, both teams showing some beautiful combination work and team play, but generally it was a scramble for the ball. Fergus had a great many chances to score, but failed to take them. Black, home player, perhaps their strongest man, was off, which may in some measure account for the result.

Their victory yesterday gives Seaforth the championship of the C.L.A.

The St. Catharines' club, chafing under their defeat at Brampton, have challenged the Excelsiors to play home and home matches, but this was declined, as Allen is ill and two or three other players unavailable.

60 BUSHELS WHEAT TO THE ACRE,

Enormous Yields Vouched For By The Edmonton News in the Northwest Territories.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Sept. 2.—Harvesting is still in full swing west of Minnedosa, but nearly finished on this side, and will be soon over all along the line. Threshing has commenced this side of Neepawa, and stacking is going on as far as rapidity. Weather here the past few days has been nearly perfect.

In reply to a Wisconsin man's query the Edmonton News says oats will average from forty to ninety ubshels per acre, wheat twenty to forty, barley forty to sixty, rye, flax and other grains are grown there, but there is nothing positive as to the yield. Potatoes will yield from three hundred to five hundred bushels per acre. It adds in its editorial column that yields of 125 bushels per acre of oats and 65 bushels of wheat per acre have been verified by responsible people; also the yield of potatoes mentioned above. It says that wheat cutting is general, and the safety of the bulk of the crop is assured. In all the principal wheat districts there is no damage from frost except on low-lying land, where some damage is done.

The Morden Monitor says the agony is over and faces beam with smiles over a crop all safe. Stacks are springing up all over the district as far as the eye can reach. One hundred and four young cattle were bought in Morden last week and taken west to be fed in Alebrta. About $30,000 has been spent around Morden in that way recently.

The Pilot Mound Sentinel hopes the success of this year's crop won't lead to a return to the system of a wheat crop alone as was practised in Manitoba some years ago. It thinks such a thing would be disastrous.

The Winnipeg Commercial says the oat crop is so heavy around Winnipeg this year that they will be able to almost supply the wants of the city. A correspondent from Hilton calls for another elevator, and says there is only one to handle the crop of about 200,000 bushels. The Commercial deprecates booming the crop and overestimating the yield, and says its effect is to bear prices. It also says many of the reports sent east are wild guesses. This may be so, but your reports are as accurate as can be obtained.

We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. LOVED HIS MOTHER.

Pathetic Incidents Touching Fred Walker's Death.

IT WAS SUICIDE, NOT MURDER.

Provincial Detective Murray Traces the Movements of Bookmaker Walker From the Time of His Disappearance Until His Body is Found in Lake Erie.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Mr. John Murray, chief of the Provincial devincial detective force, has just returned after two weeks' investigation into the circumstances connected with the death of Alexander, better known as "Fred" Walker of Guelph, whose body was found floating in Lake Erie, five miles outside the mouth of the Detroit River, near Bear Point, about 3 o'clock on Tuesday, Aug. 12.

The surroundings of the case led the family of deceased, who reside in Guelph, to the belief that Walker had been murdered, but Detective Murray, after a exhaustive investigation into all the facts in conenction with the tragedy, is positive that the young man committed suicide.

The disappearance of Walker, who was the son of Hugh Walker of Guelph and was well known in Toronto as a bookmaker who fololwed the races, has already been referred to in The World.

The details in connection with this rather eventful life during the past 10 years and with the peculiar circumstances in connection with his death have, however, never yet been published, and furnish one of the most remarkable and interesting cases on record.

Alex. Walker had reached the age of 27 years, but notwithstanding the nature of his calling, that of following horse races as a bookmaker and gambler, generally, he never forgot his mother. During the 10 years preceding his death he invariably wrote to her weekly, sometimes bi-weekly, telling her of his movements and his contemplated departure for other cities. One thing he kept, however, from her, and one only, and that was the fact of h simarriage.

While his life in New Orleans some years ago, he became acquainted with the wife of W. A. McIntyre, a prominent politician and sporting man. When McIntyre died he married the widow. The fact of his marriage he told to none except two or three fellow-bookmakers.

Walker, who was in hard luck, left Cincinnati for the Windsor races on Aug. 5 with a fellow-bookmaker named Taylor of Chicago. On Monday, the 12th, Walker pawned his gold watch with a windsor barber named Stewart, realising $25 upon it. On the afternoon of the same day he left the race-track for Detroit, where he was stopping at the Detroit Hotel on Woodward-avenue. Taylor at the time was stopping at eGorge Geiss' Hotel, but intended to remove next day to the Detroit Hotel with Walker.

About 8 o'clock on Monday evening the landlord of the Detroit Hotel saw Walker sitting outside the hotel. The landlord spoke to him, and he said he was waiting for a man. That was the last seen of him alive. At 3.15 the next day his body was found floating in the Detroit River near Bar Point by some dredgers who were dredging the channel. The corpse was brought to Amherstburg and the following day an inquest was held. Dr. Teeter, who conducted the post-mortem extmination testified that he found a large contusion on the back of the had evidently made by some heavy, blunt instrument, and also that there was no waer in he lung I was then concluded that Walker had been deliberately murdered, and the jury brought in a verdict to that effect.

Then it was that Detective Murray wen up to investigate the facts.

In Walker's room at the Detroit Hotel some letters were found by Taylor, one of them which was addressed to Taylor, read:

"This will tell the tale. Do the best you can for Annie; you know her address. I am tired.—(Signed) Fred."

Another to his mother read:

"Dear Mother,—You didn't know I was married to Mrs. McIntyre. I hope you will treat her well.—Alex."

Another one, which was dated on the day of his disappearance, read:

"My name is Alex. Walker. My parents live in Guelph, Canada. My wife—God bless her!—lives in Cincinnati. Her address is 114 West Seventh-street. I am tired.—Fred Walker."

The last one, which was addressed to his wife, and although evidently written on the Saturday previous to his disappearance, bore the postmark of the same day that he was last seen alive, read:

"Dear Annie,—Good-bye. More sorrow for you than anyone else, except mother. Go to mother in Canada.—Fred."

Detective Murray ascertained that two suspicious characters had arrived at Amherstburg on the night that Walker's body was found, and offered to sell a boat at a good deal less figure than it was worth. It was suspected at the time that they had stolen the boat, and the boat-house keeper told them to come around next day. They came around in the morning and offered to take anything for the boat which the man liked to offer. He told them it was in the possession of the customs house officers, and they immediately disappeared. This strengthened the murder theory.

Mr. Murray discovered, however, that the boat had been hired from a man above Grosse Isle named Scheserkart. He traced the man whoengaged the boat down the river, and found that they were at a boat-house near Wyandotte at the time the body of Walker was discovered in the river, and consequently they would have nothing to do with his disappearance.

Meanwhile Al Taylor, Walker's companion, had left the country for Louisville, Kentucky. Murray, of course, kept track of his whereabouts, but after thorough investigation, found that he could have had nothing to do with his friend's disappearance.

Up to this time the letters found by Taylor in the room at the Detroit Hotel had not been seen by the Walker family. Detective Murray took possession of them, and on Monday evening arrived at Guelph. The letters were compared by him with other letters that the mother of the dead man had received from her son, and the officers found that the epistles found in Walker's room were undoubtedly written by him, and arrived at the conclusion that he had deliberately committed suicide.

A singular circumstance in connection with the tragedy is the fact that the wife of Walker received a letter from him which had been posted on the day of his disappearance, in which he spoke of his hard luck. He expressed the opinion that things would turn out better in a few days, and advised her to look on the hopeful side of the case.

At the time the letter was written he evidently had no intention of taking his own life. What caused him to do so will probably ever remain a mystery.

WINDING UP THE MANITOBA HARVEST.

Special Crop Reports Show Hail in Some Sections—Threshing Progressing—Roots Promise a Phenomenal Yield.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Sept. 3.—Farmers at Carberry are paying $3 a day and board for harvest hands. They have wired the C.P.R. passenger department for more men.

A meeting of the Manitoba Millers' Association to-night will select a trade mark to distinguish flour manufactured in Manitoba and the Northwest.

It is ideal threshing weather and reports that have come from all over the province show that the weather is very favorable everywhere.

Special crop reports from along the Manitoba Northwestern to-day are:

Yorkton—Frost on several nights this last fortnight has damaged wheat seriously, but will not affect the district, as 80 per cent. of the crop is oats, which will be a fine crop. Cutting is general, and the weather is favorable. The root crop is very large, potatoes being particularly good.

Saltcoats—Harvesting is general, the crop being cut fast. All grain is looking fine; very little is touched by frost immediately around town. Root crops still growing, and will be a big yield.

Langenburg—Crop nearly all ripe, and harvesting is in full swing. Wheat has been touched by frost in some places, also oats.

Binscarth—Wheat cutting almost finished. Frost of 30th has slightly damaged some of the late wheat. About one-fifth of the oats are cut.

Birtle—Two-thirds of the wheat cut will likely grade No. 1 hard, except on some low ground, where it is slightly touched by frost. Oat crop will be very heavy. It is not harvested yet, but is ripening rapidly. Wheat will average from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. Oats 40 to 60. The root crop was never better, potatoes being exceptionally good.

Shoal Lake—Wheat and oats cutting has been rushed and is now half cut. Wheat in low places is slightly affected by frost. Bulk of the crop will be cut in a few days.

Strathkir—harvesting is progressing nicely; wheat, barley and oats being almost finished. Frost of the 28th did some damage to late wheat. Last night's hail storm lasted 15 minutes, doing considerable damage to standing grain. Some farms soe hailed out completely. Threshing not yet started.

Newdale—Harvest is general. Some barley and wheat in stack. Grain that was not hurt by yesterday's hail storm, doing fine. Wheat is a good sample and very heavy yield.

Minnedosa shows little damage; harvesting nearly over. The yield will be very large.

Neepawa—Harvesting is over and threshing beginning. The yield is fine. Roots are a big crop.

Gladstone—Harvest is almost compeletd. Wheat, oats and barley threshing commences to-morrow and grain shipping will begin at once. No damage near Gladstone, but some is reported from districts known as Richmond and Tupper, were hail did some damage last night.

Westbourne—Crops of all kinds about cut. Threshing in full swing. Reports show the yield of wheat to be from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. No damage by frost.

Russell—Fifteen per cent. wheat and oats cut and most of the barley. Harvesting is general. Frost of 30th did some damage to wheat, but not to oats. This station is in the extreme northwest corner of the province. Reports of hail are confined to small localities in two or three districts and the damage will not amount to much.

SCHOOL OF PEDAGOGY TRANSFER.

Hamilton Accepts the Government's Proposition—Seven Years For Robbery—Proposed Police Re Organization.

Hamilton, Sept. 3.—A special meeting of the Board of Education was held this afternoon, and the proposition of the Ontario Government to transfer the School of Pedagogy from Toronto to Hamilton on condition that a new Collegiate Institute is erected for the accommodation, was approved of by the board. It was decided that a new building should be erected on the unoccupied property adjoining the Central school, and an architect was engaged to prepare plans. A committee was appointed to wait upon the City Council and apply for the granting of funds for the erection of the building.

NO GOLD COINAGE

For Canada, Say Prominent Bankers.

THEIR REASONS FOR OBJECTING.

While It Would Give Us a Higher Standing as a Dominion the Government Would Not Make a Profit From the Mintage, as Little Gold is Used in Canada.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—The suggestion to establish a Canadian gold coinage does not appear to meet with approval in banking circles here. Your correspondent interviewed a number of these gentlemen to-day and they were generally adverse to the change.

Mr. E. S. Clouston of the Bank of Montreal said: "I do not think there is anything in it. The requirements of Canadian trade are not such as to warrant the creation of a gold coinage in this country at the present time, and it certainly would never pay the Canadian Government to establish a mint here.

"While the Government," continued the general manager, "makes a very large profit out of the silver coinage it would not be so with gold. There is not, in fact, sufficient gold used in this country to justify such a coinage. It is, however, different in England, where almost every man has sovereigns in his pockets, while here if you happen to get a five or ten dollar piece you hasten to get it changed.

"Canada is not as great a gold producing country as it may be in the near or distant future, and then it will be time enough to take the question of a gold coinage into consideration. As it is at present gold is generally kept stored away in banks for use in case of an emergency.

"No," concluded Mr. Clouston, "I do not see that any good can be got out of a gold coinage for Canada, either by the banks, the mercantile community or the country at large."

Mr. William Weir of the Banque Ville Marie was likewise seen, and that veteran banker expressed himself as follows:

"I do not see any great advantage in a Canadian gold coinage, except perhaps the higher standing it would give us as a Dominion. It is true, our pieces could be coined at a British mint, so that the cost of a Canadian mint would not be required. The only advantage accruing from the change, would be that exchange, both in New York and England, would have to advance to higher rates than at present before a drain of gold for export could take place. On the other hand, the banks and the Government Treasury have the option at the present time [illegible] in United States gold coinage or British sovereigns, and this option is almost as good a check to the export of gold as a Canadian coinage would be."

"There is practically," added the president of the Ville Marie Bank, "no gold coinage in circulation in Canada, it being a mere measure of value, the United States gold dollar being our standard for the Canadian dollar, which accounts for the English sovereign being legal tender at $4.86 2-3."

Mr. F. Wolferstan Thomas of the Molsons Bank was next seen, and he, too, considered that a Canadian gold coinage was not a burning question, although the general manager believed it would soon be discussed by the Canadian Bankers' Association.

"Australia," continued Mr. Thomas, "has a gold coinage which is equal to a British sovereign and the coin is made in England. I don't, in fact, think our Government could make anything of it in comparison with the profit on the silver coinage."

"If, however, a Canadian gold coinage were ever established, Mr. Thomas would like to have the value placed the same as the English sovereign, as it would be a sort of connecting link between Canada and the Mother Land, and he thought the coins would be made in Britain."

HARTY ELECTION PROTEST.

Details of the Charges Made Public—Eight Alleged Personal Offences.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 4.—The particulars in the Harty election protest have been issued. One hundred and eighty-nine main and four supplementary charges of bribery and corruption are made against 65 persons, one having 18 and another 13 charges made against them. Votes are alleged to have cost from $2 to $10 each.

The votes of the students and inmates of charitable institutions are said to have been illegally recorded.

Money is said to have been provided for corrupting purposes by Mr. Harty's friends in Toronto and by the Ontario Government.

The trial occurs Sept. 16, before Justices Osler and Maclennan. The respondent is accused of eight personal offences.

Trilby's Foot.

The step 'twixt the sublime and ridiculous is quickly made. Surely literature presents no more grotesque idealisation than Trilby's foot, and the numerous worshippers that have figuratively speaking bent knees and kissed the big toe of the foot, when reason once more come to their rescue, will feel as if the production of the genuis Asz were perennial. By the way did you notice when reading Trilby how highly it commended Putnam's Corn Extractor, which renders impossible the discordant excrescence, corns. Trilby's foot would not be worthy of homage if marred by corns; neither would yours. U Putnam's Corn Extractor.

A despatch states that the assumption of the office of Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba by Hon. J. C. Patterson has been hastened by the need of a Lieut.-Governor in whom the Ottawa Government could have confidence. It will be interesting to know if the new incumbent would be more obliging to the government than Lt.-Governor Schultz.

HON. J. C. PATTERSON has been sworn in as Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba. He immediately left for Owen Sound, where he took the steamer en route for Winnipeg. It is said that Sir John Schultz was not serving the Ottawa Ministry in the school question as they wished, and that Mr. Patterson's assumption of office has been hastened owing to the need of a Lieut.-Governor in whom the Ottawa Government would have complete confidence. It is also understood that Mr. H. H. Smith will be removed at once from the position of Dominion Land Commissioner, Winnipeg, and appointed Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa and that Mr. W. B. Scarth, of Winnipeg, will be his successor in his late office.

THE CATTLE HORN FLY.

A History of this Mischievous Milk Lessening Insect.

After a long search and study of this mischievous little insect, I propose to let the public have the benefit of my researches. This is a small black fly which first appeared in sufficient numbers to attract attention in the United States in the year 1887. In that year they appeared in the counties adjoining Philadelphia, Pa. In the following year they extended into Maryland and a year later they reached the district of Columbia and Virginia. About a year later they extended to the Border States and invaded Canada and has been increasing rapidly each year ever since and if prevention is not looked after they will prove a serious detriment to our dairying industry.

They attack cattle in the fields by piercing their skin and sucking the blood. When they are present in large numbers they collect upon the base of the horns along the top of the neck or under the belly, thus proving a veritable pest among cattle. From the fact that they congregate upon the bases of the horns when they are at rest they have received the popular name of horn fly. The technical name of which is Hematopia Serrata. They the early part of May, and disappear after the frost in the fall.

The flies are observed in the greatest number during July. The characteristic habit of clustering around the base of the horn seems to exist only when the flies are quite abundant.

When they average only a hundred or so to a single animal, comparatively few will be found on the horns. Moreover, as a general thing, the horn clustering habit seems to be more predominent earlier in the season than later, although the flies seem to be as numerous. The clustering upon the horn, although it may excite considerable alarm, is not productive of the slightest harm to the animal. The flies assume two characteristic positions—one while feeding and the other while resting. It is in the resting position in which they are always found when upon the horns. In this position the wings are held nearly flat down the back, overlapping at the base and diverging only moderately at the tips. The back is held in a nearly horizontal position, and the legs are not widely spread. In the active sucking position the wings are slightly elevated, and are held out from the body, not at right angles but approaching it. The legs are spread out widely, and the

of the animal, is held in nearly a perpendicular position. The fly before inserting its beak has worked its way through the hairs close to the skin. While feeding, however, the hair which can be seen over its body does not seem to interfere with its speedy flight when alarmed for a fling of the tail or an impatient turn of the head will cause the flies to rise instantly in a cloud for a foot or two, returning as quickly again and resuming their former positions. The horns are not the only resting places, for with the horns covered by them for two inches above the base, toward nightfall vast numbers will also settle upon the neck where they cannot be reached by the head or tail. When feeding they are found over the back and flanks and on the legs. During a rain storm they flock beneath the belly. When the animal is lying down a favourite place of attack seems to be under the thigh and belly around the bag. With certain animals the dewlap is badly attacked, while in others this portion of the body is about exempt. Certain cattle again will be covered with the flies and will lose condition rapidly, while others are but slightly affected. It is stated that the flies alone an animal. They reduce the condition of stock considerably and in the case of milch cows the yield of milk is reduced from one fourth to one half. Their bites seldom produce sores by themselves, but large sores have been made by the cattle in rubbing themselves against trees, fences, etc., in an endeavour to allay the irritation caused by the bites, or in spots where they could not rub by licking constantly with the tongue, as about the udder and on the inside of the thighs. These sores are usually difficult to heal, as from the continued irritation by the flies and the repeated licking by the animal the sore is maintained. The flies are propogated from eggs laid in the droppings of cattle by the female flie: thus a new generation of flies is produced about every two weeks. As a preventive to their propogation, lime should be dusted upon every dropping of the cattle in the field, to destroy the larvæ after they leave the egg and previous to their transformation into the fly. By doing this twice a month the number of subsequent flies could be lessened, and possibly the pest altogether eradicated.

WILL NEVER CAUSE THE DEATH OF

And to prevent the flies from attacking animals I have compounded a wash to which I would refer the public in my advertisement in another column.

Two Thousand Yearling Steers to Be Purchased in Ontario For Shipment to the West.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 4.—Mr. Thomas Crawford, M. L. A., of the firm of Crawford & Hunnisett, cattle dealers, has made a contract with a ranching company in the Northwest, controlled by the Allans of Montreal, to deliver to them 2000 steers in the Province of Ontario, on the line of the C.P.R., for transportation to their ranch in Manitoba, for the purpose of fattening. Mr Crawford is now making arrangements to buy these steers in different portions of the province, and will give on the average $19 to $20 per head. They must be at least yearlings, and two-year-olds would be preferred. These cattle will be taken to the Northwest and fed there for two years, when they will be sold for 4-year-olds to the English and Eastern markets. This is a comparatively new industry, but it is likely to expand. The ranchmen in the Northwest have fattened most of the stock they have in hand, and are short in the way of young animals, and find it cheaper under present circumstances to replenish their herds in Ontario, rather than to breed there. Mr. Crawford stated to The World yesterday that he thought this industry might be greatly expanded, and said it would have an important bearing on the future of the farming industry of both provinces. There is an unusual supply of good feed in the ranching country this year.

SOO CANAL IN OPERATION.

Though the Formal Opening Will Not Take Place For a Week.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Sept. 3.—The first American boat to pass through the Canadian ship canal lock was the Hursley line tug L. D. Smith, which was locked through west bound at 11 o'clock this morning. Capt. Hursley had a party on board, consisting of canal officials from this side of the river and several lake captains and newspaper reporters. It required six and a half minutes to fill the lock chamber, and everything worked in perfect order. The formal opening of the canal will occur next Monday, when the Canadian passenger steamer Pacific will be locked through. The approaches at either end have been dredged and cleaned up and the channel above the canal has been thoroughly staked out. After next Monday American boats can lock through.

Radical Changes in the Service Suggested.

THE SEPARATE SCHOOL TROUBLE.

Captain Peterson of the Dolphin Deposed —Winter Ocean Mail Contracts—The Soo Canal Already in Use— Fined $20 For Illegally Soliciting Insurance.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—All the Ministers have received invitations to attend the first annual convention of the International Deep Waterways' Association, which is to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 24-26. It will be remembered that the association is the outcome of the conference held in Toronto nearly a year ago. Mr. O. A. Howland, M.L.A., is the present president. A capital program of subjects for discussion had been arranged, and invitations extended to the different cities and towns and commercial bodies of Canada and the United States to send delegates.

Mr. Cochran, M.P., was here to-day, accompanied by Mr. G. H. West of Winnipeg, and had an interview with the Minister of Justice, with a view to securing the release of a prsoner named McKelvin from Stoney Mountain Penitentiary. McKelvin was convicted in April last of a criminal offence in the Territories. The impression, however, prevails that he is not guilty of the charge brought against him.

Captain McElhinney, Nautical Adviser to the Marine Department, has just returned from an inspection of the life boat service of the upper lakes. He found everything in a satisfactory condition, but at all points he heard complaints of lowness of water. Apprehension respecting the proposed Chicago canal has been allayed, as the United States have more to lose than Canada by the proposed experiment, and there will be protests against carrying the project out. Owing to the substitution of steam for sailing vessels on the lakes and consequent greater safety of navigators, it is expected that Captain McElhinney will make radical suggestions for changes in the life saving service.

Andrew Allan, head of the well-known steamship line, and H. Montagu Allan, were in the city to-day and had an interview with Sir A. P. Caron in reference to the winter mail service. The mails will, as usual, be carried from Halifax in the winter and the compay desires to close the contract for the winter without delay.

Captain Holmes of Napanee, who has been engaged for some time in immigration work for the Government, is here to receive instructions with reference to work during the fall.

Surgeon Strange of the Kingston Penitentiary was in the city to-day. It is rumored that he will shortly be retired on superannuation allowance.

The official board of the Dominion Methodist Church has fixed the stipend of Rev. Dr. Saunders, the present pastor, at $1500 per annum, or $600 less than Mr. Benson received last year. It is reported that this course has been taken as a protest against the action of the Stationing Committee of the Montreal Conference in appointing Dr. Saunders pastor of the church instead of Mr. Sparling, who had been invited. The Free Press characterises the action of the official board as, "Not very Christ-like," and says it is a "stab" at Dr. Saunders.

The Government cruiser Dolphin has lost her commander, Capt. Peterson having been deposed for quitting his vessel without leave. The Dolphin is in dock at Owen Sound at present.

Mr. Hewitt, private secretary to the Governor-General, and Mrs. Hewitt have returned from Quebec, where they spent their holidays.

A. D. McQuarrie was fined $20 and costs at the Police Court this morning for having acted as an insurance agent in the city without having first obtained a license.

A young lad named Sherman was drowned in the Rideau River this afternoon. He fell off the railway bridge, from which he was fishing, and sank before assistance could be rendered him.

Detective Wasson of Toronto is here on business for the Medical Council of Ontario. He had an interview with Inspector O'Leary of the Dominion Police to-day.

Prof. Robertson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, was in Montreal to-day in connection with cold storage shipments.

O. Armstrong, colonization agent of the C.P.R. was here to-day to ask for the establishment of a post-office at Desbarats, a new distributing point on the C.P.R., east of Brize Mines.

Hon. Mr. Costigan it at present in St. John, N.B.

To-day a telegram was received from Brother Flamier, director of the Christian Brothers, that he accepted the conditions as laid down by Trustee Lavoie's motion, which removed conditionally all objections to the opening of the schools. The scholars were, therefore, admitted promptly in all the schools, except Garneau, situated in St. George's Ward. At 9 o'clock the official hour for the opening. Chairman Beguin of the French Committee, took a position in front of the school building, and five minutes later Brother Patriciens, accompanied by a confrere, appeared on the scene. On their reaching the doorway, Trustee Seguin interposed, saying: "We do not require the Brothers to teach here." Brother Patriciens replied, "Very well, sir, we simply desire to enter our legal protest against this strange exclusion without legal notification. I protest in the presence of these witnesses," pointing out two of the bystanders. This was the only sign of opposition made by the Brothers. What the Brothers say, however, is that the matwill not rest at that. Legal advice, they say, has been sought, and it is further said proceedings may be instituted, seeking the legal enforcement of the conditions mentioned in the agreement made by the board of trustees with Brother Flamier. The Brothers say they have legal advice already to the effect that the agreement is binding.

Prof. Craig of the Experimental Farm arrived here from Montreal this evening, after completing arrangements for the shipment of the first consignment of fruit from Canada by the cold storage system. The consignment will be shipped on the S.S. Mongolian Saturday morning, destined for Liverpool.

Hotelkeepers Being Swindled.

Binghamton, N.Y., Sept. 3.—Manager S. D. W. Cleveland of the Commercial Travelers' Home Association of America has learned that swindles are being perpetrated on hotelmen throughout the United States and Canada by agents, purporting to represent certain commercial travelers' associations, which do not exist, who are soliciting funds to build a home.

BRITAIN AND ARMENIA.

Mr. Curzon Declines to State the Government's Line of Action

London, Sept. 4.—In the House of Commons, Mr. George N. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, stated that the communications which had been received from the Porte relative to the reorganisation of the system of government in Armenia were not satisfactory. The project of the new Armenian organization had not received the official support of Germany, Austria and Italy, he said, but the powers were in sympathy with the movement and had not in an unofficial way advised Turkey of their favorable consideration of the scheme. Mr. Curzon declined to state what course the Government would pursue in the case, nor would he undertake to say that no action except in a diplomatic way would be taken without Parliament being previously informed thereof. In regard to Samsoon, he said no difficulty was experienced in the distribution of relief.

Sir M. W. Ridley, Home Secretary, stated that the Home Office had no power to order a public inquiry under judicial forms in the case of Mrs. Maybrick, now serving a life sentence in Woking Prison for the murder of her husband.

Solicitor-General Kenny Re-Elected.

Dublin, Sept. 3.—The Parliamentary election in St. Stephen's Green division of Dublin, which took place yesterday in consequence of the appointment of the sitting member, Mr. William Kenny, Unionist, to the office of Solicitor-General for Ireland, resulted in the return of Mr. Kenny, by a vote of 2,-325 to 2393 cast for Mr. Mahoney, Parnellite. In the election held a few weeks ago Mr. Kenny received 3681 votes and Count Plunkett, his Parnellite opponent, 3205.

DROWNED IN HAMILTON BAY.

Walter Chapman, a Drug Clerk, Seized With Cramps While Bathing.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 3.—Walter Chapman, 24 years old, son of Samuel Chapman, druggist, 483 King-street east, was drowned in the bay this afternoon. This evening three boys, George Malcolmson, William Carveny and W. Dean, discovered a man's coat and vest lying on the shore at Carroll's Point, across the bay, and later found a boat in which was a pair of pants floating near the shore. The boys took the boat to Bastien's boathouse, and found it had been engaged by Walter Chapman. The police were notified and the body was grappled for, but up to a late hour to-night it was not recovered. The young man left the drug store in which he was employed about 2 o'clock for a wholesale drug store, and did not say he was going across the bay. It is thought he went in bathing and may have taken cramps.

Broke His Back in the Bush.

Watford, Ont., Sept. 3.—Henry Learn of the 10th concession of Brooke, while out chopping this morning, cut down a tree which lodged in another, and while chopping it fell, striking him on the neck, doubling him up and breaking his back. He is quite paralysed and cannot live long.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 3.—While returning from a picnic at Burghoffs' Park last night, Mrs. George Baldwin fell from a moving street car and broke her neck.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that there troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

Looks Plausible, but—

Trust it not, it is full of deception. Do not buy a label; buy a good wine in the bottle. The label may be imposing; and the long price may give confidence; but know this that the day has come when all the people can drink good wine at a cheap rate, at nominal prices. Eight dollars, ten dollars, that day is done! For good Clarets and Burgundies—$3, and $4 per dozen quarts. Tested by the best judges, among whom is Lieut. Governor Chapleau; enjoyed by the people; asked for in all parts of the country. The famed Medoc at a trifle. Rich wines, a little more than the price of beer. No sting; music blood makers. The funeral of the late Robert Pope took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended. The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the Masonic Order of which deceased was a member. The town council attended the funeral in a body, having met in the afternoon when the following resolution was passed:

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Best—That this council, having learned of the death of Robert Pope, who has served the town as Street and Bridge Inspector during the past seven years, desires to place on record its deep regret and sorrow on account of the death of a faithful, zealous and efficient officer and of a man who by his sterling character and uniform courtesy had won the confidence and esteem of all who had the pleasure of his acquaintanceship; that the members of this council desire to tender to Mrs. Pope and family their deep sympathy with them in their sorrow and irreparable loss in the death of a loving husband and father, with the assurance that they have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their bereavement, and also that as a mark of respect to the late Mr. Pope this council do now adjourn and attend his funeral in a body, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Pope.

The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. H. Bush, W. J. Martin, J. J. Lundy, J. W. Crosby, Dr. Carmichael and K. Mark.

HIS WATCH AND VEST TAKEN.

A Sneak Thief at Work in Ashburnham.

Mr. Albert Mercier is mourning the loss of his silver watch and vest, and is at loss to know how it disappeared, keeping the loss quiet, awaiting developments.

It appears he is in the habit of hanging his vest in the hall of his home on Lake street, and on Friday last he was surprised to find the watch and vest missing.

The watch is a silver one and it is supposed the thief had been loitering around until an opportunity presented itself for him to make the theft.

Some time ago burglars entered the same house and carried off two ladies' watches, which were never recovered.

During the summer months it would be wise for citizens to remove everything of value from their halls and in their stead place a good fierce bull dog on guard.

Presbytery of Peterborough.

A meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough was held in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. A. Laird, Moderator, Port Hope, was in the chair. The call from St. Andrew's church, Campbellford, to Rev. Mr. Laird, brother of the Moderator, was considered. Rev. A. MacWilliams, Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. Mr. Thompson of Hastings, Mr. Robert Tully, Mr. Clark, and representatives of the Board of Management and congregation were present from Campbellford to prosecute the call. Rev. Mr. Thompson stated the call was very unanimous, a salary of $1,000 being promised, and a manse. The representatives from Campbellford were also heard. Rev. Mr. McWilliams moved, and Mr. R. Tully seconded a motion that the conduct of the Moderator be approved and the call sustained as a regular gospel call. Mr. Laird refused to give a decided answer until Sept. 17th.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day" performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would no doubt prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though (as will be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award due credit to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and, therefore, of the higher value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of his claim that Maltine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel," and affirms that "it is a wonderful heart sustainer." This preparation may be had of all druggists, and may be relied upon as an agent of infinite value in nervous prostration and brain exhaustion, resulting from undue strain upon the mental or physical energies.—Daily Globe, July 6, 1895.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

A Few Men at Work.

A short time ago the air was full of promises and great hopes were held out to those seeking employment that plenty of work would soon be obtainable on the Lakefield section.

The session of parliament came and an appropriation was made for the work. The contract was let. Messrs. Dennistoun & Stevenson were entrusted with the passing of the titles and the contractors are said to be at work, but if no greater progress is made than appearances indicate, the next generation will be on deck looking for work on this same section.

Why all this delay?

If the work is to be pushed forward to completion what better weather could be desired than the present?

What more opportune time than now to give those desiring work employment?

Why have only half a dozen men and as many more bosses been at work "grubbing," when two or three hundred might as well be given the privilege of earning their daily bread for themselves and families?

We would like to see our paternal government make a move. Let the contractors get a hustle on and commence work as if they meant business. The land is practically expropriated and the titles can be made good later on. There is no possible excuse for the slowness of these operations. Now is the time. Give the unemployed work, and allow the town to enjoy some of the benefits that it was said would be obtainable when the contract was let.

INDUCTED AS RECTOR.

His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto Formally Inducts Rev. C. B. Kenrick as Rector of St. Mark's, Port Hope.

At St. Mark's church, Port Hope on Sunday the Lord Bishop of Toronto, assisted by Rev. Dr. Bethune, formally inducted Rev. C. B. Kenrick as rector.

The ceremony was witnessed by a large congregation, and at its conclusion the regular service of the day followed, after which his Lordship preached a sermon of much interest from I Thes. v, 12 and 13, and earnestly commended their new rector to the sympathy and esteem of the congregation.

In the evening His Lordship again preached, after which the rector came forward and announced that the contributions offered on the altar that day amounted to the magnificent sum of $614. He said that this would enable him to undertake the renovation of the inside as well as the outside of the church as there were some members of the congregation whose offerings had not yet been received, and others had promised additional sums in the future. He appealed to the people to let this successful response to his appeal act as an incentive to exertion in spiritual things and warmly thanked all who had contributed to the offertory, especially several kind friends not of this congregation and communion. The Bishop then addressed the congregation expressing his great surprise and unbounded gratification at what had been accomplished, and wishing pastor and people a hearty God-speed.

The many friends whom Mr. Kenrick had won in Peterborough during his curacy of St. John's church, will wish him continued success as pastor of St. Mark's, Port Hope, to the incumbency of which he was formally inducted on Sunday.

THE WRONG MAN CLUBBED.

Infuriated Arabians use Clubs on Joshua Jackson in Mistake.

The Arabian colony figured conspicuously in the police court this morning.

This colony is situated on Sherbrooke street and is noted for being a noisy settlement.

On Monday night the inhabitants retired to rest after having spent Labour Day in true holiday style, but they were scarcely in the arms of Morpheus when a huge stone crashed through the window and fell with a thud inside.

In a few seconds the dusky Arabs made their appearance armed with clubs and started in pursuit of the villian who disturbed their slumbers. He was seen making his escape in the distance, quite beyond the reach of the clubs.

About the time of the disturbance a number of young men in a buggy were driving by, and hearing the commotion they reined their horse and decided to view the combat.

One of the young men, Joshua Jackson, decided to get a better view of the melee, and stepped down from the buggy to the roadside. He was immediately surrounded by the infuriated Arabs, who used the clubs on him in good style, thinking they had the man who threw the stone.

Jackson, after having received a severe beating, made his escape, and yesterday laid an information against his assailants. Two of the Arabs were arrested last night and this morning appeared before the magistrate.

One of the number was fined $10, and the other was discharged. The colony appeared in court and were given a severe lecture by the magistrate regarding their conduct in the future.

MR. SAWERS' COUNTY ORANGE LODGE CONDEMNATION.

Written Words Inscribed Upon the Official Minutes in Spite of Attempts at Explaining Away a Plain Slap in the Face.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I have read with much pleasure Mr. J. Graham Weir's letter in the EXAMINER of the 15th instant, and with a great deal of surprise your comments thereon.

As the Master of L.O.L., No. 419, I wish to tell you and the readers of the EXAMINER that I heartily substantiate what Bro. Weir has stated with reference to my lodge, and I also wish to say that Bro. Sawers is held in the highest esteem by the brethren of my lodge and by all who listened to his address at our dedication ceremony.

You have been making a great fuss over a resolution passed at the County Lodge last June, and just now made public, and which relates in a way to my own lodge. As I was present at that meeting it will not be out of place for me as Master of 419, and also as a Past District Master, to state how the matter came up and ended. Bro. W. J. Green, P.C.M., introduced a motion, something of the nature of the one published in your paper. After it had been read Bro. Dr. Burgess, P.C.M., arose and said it was a most extraordinary motion to bring up, and asked for particulars and if it was intended as a censure upon Bro. Sawers. Bro. Green declared it was not intended as a censure upon him in any way, that he had done nothing but what he believed he had a right to do, that it was simply for the purpose of letting the Grand Master know that the County Master and Past County Master were quite capable of performing the ceremony of dedicating Orange Halls. Bro. Burgess asked if it was intended that the resolution be given to the public, and Bro. Green replied that it would not be published, and it was understood that a copy should be sent to the Grand Master, and that nothing more would be heard of it. On that understanding the County Master declared the motion carried—not even Bro. Sawers or any of his friends objecting. Such being the case, I should very much like to know how you became possessed of the incorrect information given by you to the public. If you think by so unjustly attacking Bro. Sawers you are making friends for yourself and enemies for him, you are very much mistaken.

Now, Mr. Editor, it has not yet been made clear to me that the constitution has been violated in any way either by Grand Master Wallace or by Bro. Sawers, or the members of my lodge. The Grand Master being unable to perform the ceremony, he, at our special request, duly appointed Bro. Sawers to take his place. Such being the case, it does appear to me—a farmer—that we have acted quite constitutionally, and that you have made a great fuss about nothing at all.

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
STEPHEN HARRISON,
W. M., L. O. L. No. 419.
Hall's Bridge P. O., Aug. 31st, 1895.

[With reference to the above the EXAMINER gives it space, not so much for any new information it contains, but merely because it may be of some interest to the members of L. O. L., No. 419. Mr. Sawers, it will be remembered, was at one time very loud in condemnation of constitutional Separate Schools in Ontario—when he hoped that such denunciation would work injury to the candidature of a Liberal candidate But at once he discovers that the same attitude would be injurious to the Dominion Government, he performs the flop and declares as loudly for Separate Schools in Manitoba, a circumstance which shows that the opinions of Mr. Sawers on such matters are worthy of about as much respect as the erratic gyrations of a weather-cock—founded on no principle but self glorification and a desire to make himself solid for some government office—say official assignee—a position which will be very lucrative if the trade policy of the government he supports continues. It would be interesting for the persons concerned to know whether the two gentlemen who went north on Labour Day to concoct a certain letter, carried with them the green "eye opener" or the terrible tiger. To refer to the letter [illegible] in the resolution condemning Mr. Sawers' officiousness was passed in the County Orange Lodge, it was not, as Mr. Harrison says, carried unanimously; because himself and anot her gentleman opposed its adoption, and Mr. Sawers' mouth was closed, he being referred to directly in the resolution. However, this matter is not worth the space already given it, and we must decline to be a further party to the promotion of a controversy disigned specially to advertise Mr. Sawers. If he wishes to further boom himself through the EXAMINER he is informed that our advertising rates are five cents per line, with a liberal discount to long term advertisements.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A brass band is about to be reorganised. It should have a helping hand from the citizens, as a band is a great help to a village, and the citizens should subscribe liberally to the cause.

Another change has been made in the mail, and the villagers now get their mail at 4 p.m., instead of 10 a.m. the next day.

The Keene football team played a team from Havelock at Jubilee Point on Monday, the match resulting in a tie.

Miss Lena McCrea, of Toronto, and Mrs. (Dr.) Moffat, of Norwood, were in the village this week.

Mr. Walter Bryce of Keene, but late of Queen's University, Kingston, is now in Toronto attending the Normal.

Mrs. Cambiyn, who has been in our village for some time has returned home to Port Hope.

Mrs. R. S. Skinner and her mother, Mrs. P. McNeil, are visiting friends in Baltimore.

The Smalley Brothers of Boston are again occupying their cottage on Rice lake, and intend staying till the first of November.

Why don't some enterprising men take an interest in Rice Lake and boom it? If the many islands on the lake, which certainly cannot be surpassed for beauty of scenary, were fixed up a little our little lake would soon be as popular as Stony Lake, and is pronounced by people who know both to have better advantages. As Mr. Spellman talks of erecting cottages on Idyl Wyld, some one else should follow his example on the sister islands.

Mr. T. H. Hamilton and brother, of Peterborough, passed through here on Thursday. Tom drives a fly turnout.

Miss Mary Eaton, Norwood, county delegate to the Y.P.S.C.E. convention, Boston, gave her report here on Wednesday evening in the Methodist church, to a large audience. The report was well got up and Miss Eaton certainly deserves great credit for the excellent manner in which it was given.

Miss J. Kennaley, who has been visiting friends in Norwood and vicinity, has returned home again.

Court Otonabee, No. 1319, held their regular meeting on Wednesday evening, and had a good attendance. The order is doing good work here, has 52 members on the roll and more coming.

A new culvert has been placed across Front street, south of the Victoria House.

Several young men from the village are away to the north shore for the winter,

Mr. James Fraser, of Hastings, was in the village on Monday.

Mr. George Garbutt, of Peterborough, passed through Keene on Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. Wedlock made a shipment of frogs to New York on Wednesday.

Monday, Sept. 2nd, Labour Day, was observed in our village and the shops were all closed.

There is some talk of the grist mill changing hands and a full roller process put in, capacity, 60 barrels. It is hoped satisfactory arrangements will be made at once as we are badly in need of a first-class mill here.

The Westwood football team drove up here on Saturday and played a friendly game with the home team, resulting in a score of one to nothing in favour of the home team, although the visitors said they would not allow it. The Westwood boys played purely a defense game, as the ball was around their goal most of the time. Keene has a team they need not be ashamed of.

Football picnic to Bewdley on Friday next.

Miss Morton, of Peterborough, spent a few days here last week.

Mr. John Kindred, sr., who has been very ill for some time, is slowly recovering.

Monday morning the duck-shooting season opened, and every available point on the lake was covered with sportsmen long before daylight waiting for the first glimmer of light to bag their prey. Many came back with their game bags empty but well pleased with the day's outing.

Mr. Cephas Edwards, principal of the Keene public school, occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Liddy.

Mrs. J. Soucie is suffering from a broken ankle resulting from a defective plank in a platform at the back of her house. We hope she will soon be around again.

HETTY GREEN'S WAYS

SHE OBEYS THE COMMANDMENTS AND TAKES CARE OF HER HEALTH.

Practical Common Sense Advice by America's Richest Woman—Constant Work the Secret of Success—Hetty Was Once a Pretty Girl.

Away up among the green valleys and wind swept hills of old Vermont, just where the Connecticut tumbles and swirls over the rocks of Bellows Falls, Mrs. Hetty Green, the owner of several railroads and banks and acres of buildings all over the continent, is passing the summer days in caring for her husband, who is an invalid, and devoting as little attention as possible to her business interests. I was there I found her and obtained an interview.

When I asked Mrs. Green the secret of her success in life she said: "It is due to the fact that I obey the ten commandments, take care of my health and keep busy. The result is that I have a clear conscience, a good appetite and sleep soundly. When I obey the commandments I know that I am treating everybody justly and I have nothing to worry about. I live simply, not for the sake of saving expense, but from choice, and as a result my health is good.

"People seem to think that if I do pay a lot of attention to my dress and get myself up in the latest fashion that I am not doing right. I don't bother with my appearance. What I am trying to do is to accomplish something and I am succeeding. That is more than many of those who criticise me are doing. What do appearances amount to? Why, when I go into the court room in New York, and I have been there often of late, I don't stop to wory aubout the apeparance I am going to make. It is what I am going to accomplish that interests me.

"Why, during the hearing in New York they even hired an old woman to walk up and down the sidewalk on Broadway to prejudice the people against me. But they canont harm me.

"It is work that counts. I have worked hard and can work a little now when I have to. Many and many nights I sit up until two o'clock working and get out the next morning at five. They say at the bank that my example has a good effect upon the clerks there, for I am always working."

"Do you think a woman should take part in politics, Mrs. Green?"

"She is better out of than in politics," was the reply. "She is better in her own home, with her own children.

"Politics may sometimes help a man in business, but very seldom a woman. Men who run for office get in love with it. I do not quarrel with the women who want to vote, but I don't want to vote myself."

"Are you fond of litigation, Mrs. Green?"

"I am said to be, but I am not," she replied. "I am perfectly willing to defend my own at any time.

"Did you know that I was a Quakeress? Well, it is true. I can 'thee' and 'thou' with the best of them. I am of the same stock in a sense, that produced [illegible] and I have some Pennsylvania Quaker stock in me, too. I still hold the old family estate in Rhode Island, and it dates well nigh back to Plymouth Rock, as me ancestors in this country do."

"You are an American, then, Mrs. Green?"

"In every sense."

"I do not care for that sort of life that makes up the rounds of some other women's lives. I have my children. I am devoted to my home. I attend to my business for the reason that it needs close attention, and no one knows its details quite as well as I do. Mark you, this is because I have given it my own close attention.

"Perhaps you wouldn't think that I was once a pretty girl. But I was. Here is a picture taken when I was about nineteen. Then I had plenty of color in my face." The picture was that of a remarkably pretty girl, with a wealth of hair. On the back was written: "Miss Hetty H. Robinson, taken on the way to a dinner at Saratoga Lake, given by ex-President Van Buren and his son, John, to Lord Althrop, afterward Duke of Northumberland; Lord Harvey and James Scarlett, afterward Lord Abinger; matronised by Baroness Stoeckel, wife of the Russian Minister."

In concluding the interview she said: "When you write about your call I want you to treat me as you would like to have my son treat your mother. I put you upon your honor."

Hetty Green was born November 20, 1834, and is therefore about sixty years old. She appeared much younger, not over fifty. She wore a dress of smooth cloth, with small checks of blue and black. In her welcome she was animated and cordial. Mr. Green's illness is caused by muscular rheumatism, which Mrs. Green says he contracted while watching a Fourth of July celebration.

Shades for Treeless Pastures.

Where pastures contain no trees for shade in the strong heat of summer, it is cruel not to afford some artificial shade for the stock. Such shelter should be provided on humane grounds, but there is a question of dollars and cents in it as well. Discomfort of any kind lessens productiveness and growth. A rough shed of boards, or even a rough framework covered with green boughs will answer the purpose very well, but where lumber is expensive and green boughs are not at hand, cheap cotton cloth can be used very effectively, and economically. Such cloth can be bought for five cents or less a yard, and can be stretched over a framework set up against the pasture fence.

Club Root in Cabbage.

Messrs. Halstead and Kelsey of the New Jersey experiment station have been testing materials as remedies for the club root of cabbages with but little success. Of a reputed cure, they say: "Wood ashes were of no avail as a preventive of club root. Their effects, however, were essentially different from those of kainit, in that while the latter served only to impede growth former acted as a stimulant. While most of the turnips grown in the checkbelts were so badly distorted as to be worthless, the clubbing upon those from the areas treated with ashes was confined for the most part to the tap root."

The investigator says: "Air-slaked stone lime gave sufficient evidence of its usefulness as a preventive of club root of turnips to warrant its being recommended for this purpose. When so employed it is advised that it be used at the rate of not less than 75 bushels per acre and applied at least three months previous to the time of planting. Gas lime, kainit and ashes all failed to prevent the malady. Gas lime and kainit are both injurious to the crop. A half-strength solution of corrosive sublimate applied to the soil, at the rate of 4,320 gallons per acre, was not harmful to the plants, and gave evidence of having materially diminished the amount of clubbing."

Parallel Between Two Lovely Things.

Money not only talks, but, like a woman, it usually has the last word.—Somerville Journal.

Nearly all of the most successful farmers are those who make a specialty of milk production, and they are the ones who get rid of mortgages and finally bring their farms up to the highest condition of fertility. The best dairymen are those who discard the scrub and use cows of the highest producing capacity. When the herds are improved so as to increase the milk supply, the cost is reduced, because fewer cows, less labor and smaller expense for shelter will increase the profits

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars
Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars
More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

Ayer's Pills

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use.

For Stomach

Liver, or Bowels,

my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and

LIVE-STOCK NOTES.

If given in the very first stages a little alum in the water will often cure diarrhea in poultry.

The difference in the price of well-bred stock and scrubs when sent to market ought to be a sufficient argument to induce anyone to breed the best.

Is your horse well shod and does his harness fit him? If not, put on a pair of boots one size too large or small and let down one suspender and find out for yurself how he feels.

The flavor of eggs depends a great deal on the kind of food the hens are furnished with. A hen that must find her own living will not produce as good eggs as one that is well fed on wholesome food, and if once this fact could be widely disseminated there would be a demand for fine flavored eggs that would command a price for such, making it profitable to take more pains in this matter.

Sheep are the scavengers of the farm, for they are great weed and grub killers and where they pasture the fence rows never grow up to hedge rows of bushes and brier. They are renovators of the soil, for a field will become fertile, no matter how thin it might have been in the beginning. If it necessary to keep sheep for what the carcass will bring, it is better to keep them in a large part of country, than to sell them for a song. The golden hoof is the farmer's best friend, and on every farm where mixed farming is practiced sheep should have friends.

In feeding skim milk to pigs much more can be made of it if it is fed with a grain ration. Skim milk is excellent for growth, but it is not a complete ration. A very little linseed meal cooked to a porridge and stirred with it makes it as good a food as whole milk, either for growing or fattening animals. If this is supplemented with clover, either cut for sowing or for pasture, pork can be made cheaper thus in summer than on any other kind of feed. On most farms the calves get more than their share of milk, so far as profit is concerned. If the calf is merely fattened for veal it will not pay to keep it long after it has passed the age required by law to make wholesome veal. The milk it will require after that age will yield better returns if judiciously fed to growing pigs. Some parts of the skim milk should always be saved for the hens. It is one of the best egg-producing foods.

Eggs from hens that are fed largely on slops and refuse are not as good for cooking purposes as those which are laid by hens having a liberal ration of corn or wheat, and of the two, corn makes the richest egg, as it adds to the fat content and gives the contents of the shell a consistency that makes it especially valuable for baking and kindred uses. A meat ration also adds to the value of the eggs, and it is because ducks are such ravenous hunters of frogs and the many insects on land and water that their eggs are preferred to all others by bakers and confectioners. Guinea eggs are specially rich in this quality and are better for baking and making icing than those of almost any other fowl. The production of good eggs is a comparatively new idea and it has not been discussed half as much as its merits deserve that it should be.

A FORGELESS SMITHY.

A Horseshoeing Shop Where the Heating is Done Electrically.

A picture of a blacksmith shop without a forge is shown herewith. It is probably the only one in this country, and it is operated by William Patterson, at Niagara Falls. The great cataract supplies the power.

The decomposition of water by the electric current is an old and well-known phenomenon, says the Electrical Engineer, but the heating of the negative electrode by the ignition of the liberated hydrogen gas has only recently attracted the attention of those interested in electric heating, welding and forging.

The first method of heating a piece of of metal by the liquid forge was to connect a lead plate to the positive wire and a pair of tongs to the negative. Then, by grasping with the tongs the metal to be heated and immersing it in the vessel containing the positive electrode and a good conducting solution of dilute sulphuric acid or soda, the metal will begin to increase in temperature, and if the operation is continued long enough will melt. All the time it is increasing in temperature it is in view of the operator, and can be withdrawn when the desired heat is obtained.

The above method of electric heating by complete immersion requires considerable current, and this led George D. Burton to perfect the method now used, of holding the metal to be heated in contact with the surface of the liquid, and as the hydrogen gas is given off it is ignited directly in contact with the metal, which absorbs the heat generated.

The time required to heat iron varies. It takes from eight seconds for a piece of iron one-quarter inch square cross-section, to one minute for a piece one inch square; the latter requires 26 ampheres at 220 volts which cost, it is claimed, is less than a quarter of a cent for current. The cost of preparing a horse shoe with a coal forge, with coal at $6 per ton, is 5.58 cents; with the electric forge, and current at 15 cents per 1,000 watt hours, it is 2.33 cent.

From the above the economy is readily determined, and all that can be said in favor of the electric motor over the steam boiler and engine applies equally well to the electric forge as against the coal forge.

What an Acre of Fruit Contains.

As it is not generally known how much fertilizer a crop of apples, pears or grapes will remove from the soil, the following statement by Prof. J. W. Fields of the Pennsylvania Experiment Station is of interest. An acre of apples producing 320 bushels removes from the soil 24 lbs of nitrogen, 3 lbs of phosphoric acid and 34 lbs of potash, all valued at $4.74. An acre of pears yielding 225 bushels removes 16 lbs nitrogen, 6 lbs phosphoric acid and 14 lbs of potash, total value $3.09. Grapes harvesting 8,160 lbs per acre contain 18 lbs nitrogen, 9 lbs of phosphoric acid, 22 lbs potash, worth $3.61. Of peaches, the report was not complete but the yield per acre was 135 bushels containing 8 lbs of phosphoric acid and 10 lbs of potash. These figures show plainly a preponderance of potash. Potash may be supplied in cottonseed hull ashes and wood ashes, and bones and animal matter are also valuable fruit fertilizers.

Analysis of crimson clover shows that it has a large proportion of potash. Some of the failures to grow it, especially on sandy soil, are proba ly due to a deficiency of potash. The common red clover frequently fails from the same cause. A dressing of wood ashes, or where this cannot be had, of muriate of potash, will secure a seeding where without it there have been repeated failures of clover to catch. Heavy soils have usually a considerable amount of potash, but even on these a potash dressing often gives beneficial results, for it ; reserves the mineral plant food in available form.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, Liver, or Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street

BARGAIN DAY IN THE COURT.

314 Pleas of Guilty Entered by New York Liquor Dealers Yesterday.

New York, Aug. 28.—The Court of Special Sessions was crowded to-day with the liquor dealers anxious to plead guilty to violating the excise laws. A day or two ago, Magistrate Jerome, presiding magistrate of the Court of Special Sessions, announced that all liquor dealers who pleaded guilty of illegal selling up to to-day would be fined $25; that those who pleaded guilty after to-day would be fined $300, and that those convicted would be sent to the penitentiary for three months. The effect of this notice was to overcrowd the court with bartenders and saloonkeepers anxious to avail themselves of the last day of grace. Up to recess 314 pleas of guilty had been received, and $7850 had been taken in by the clerk. This is the biggest day's work ever done in this court.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

EXPLODED ONE MYSTERY.

Little Foundation For Port Alma's Sensation

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 4.—During the past fortnight the provincial papers have published several columns with reference to what is known as the Port Alma mystery.

Some weeks ago the skull and thigh bone of a man were found in the woods near Merlin, in Kent County and the residents at once scented a diabolical murder, and communicated with the Attorney-General's Department. Mr. John Murray, chief of the Provincial Detective Force, was sent up to investigate the facts in connection with the case, and promptly upon his arrival at Chatham, several columns of alleged information were wired to the metropolitan papers, giving the supposed details of one of the most gruesome tragedies ever committed in Western Ontario.

As a matter of fact, the bones found were in all probability deposited there by a medical student, after he had finished with the "subject." An effort was made to prove that the bones were remnants of the body of Joseph Walker, who disappeared from Merlin at about the time the tragedy was supposed to have been enacted. Detective Murray found, however, that Walker was alive in Romney, working for a man named Church in Talbot-street. Then the disappearance of John Rollit was broached as a possible solution of the find. Rollit, however, has turned up at Peterboro.

The medical men in the vicinity, who examined the remains, expressed the opinion that neither the skull nor the thigh bone had ever been through the fire. The fact that they were found in close proximity to the burned stump of a tree alone gave rise to the murder theory.

TRADES UNION CONGRESS.

Lively Discussions at Yesterday's Session at Cardiff.

Cardiff, Wales, Sept. 4.—At to-day's session of the annual Trades Union Congress, President Jenkins delivered his inaugural address. He denounced the ...dependent labor organizations, ...constant interruptions. He declared that the anti-labor and anti-... union party had been privately ...sidized by the opponents of or... labor, and challenged them to ...ce their accounts showing where ... got their funds.

H. Wilson, M.P., of the National ...rs' and Firemen's Union, moved ...te of thanks to President Jenkins, ... Delegate Potter objected. He, therefore, moved that it was the sense of the Congress that such expressions were a departure from precedent, and that offensive passages in the address be stricken out.

Mr. David Holmes, vice-chairman, ruled that Currie's motion was out of order and the vote of thanks moved by Wilson was carried.

Mr. Wilson challenged the action of the parliamentary committee in excluding certain delegates and offered a motion declaring that such action was unconstitutional.

Delegate Curran denounced the intrigues which had preceded the meeting of Congress against men who had grown grey in the service of the working men and whom the new rules were especially framed to exclude.

Ben Tillett of the Dock, Wharf and River Side Workers' Union threw blame upon Mr. John Burns for dictating a policy tending to ruin trades unionism.

Henry Broadhurst, M.P., charged that the parliamentary committee in their action had gone beyond their instructions.

Mr. Wilson, having made the closing speech of the de...ate on the question, the president announced that a vote would be taken in accordance with the committee's resolution, which provided for the exclusion of delegates who have ceased to follow the trades they are alleged to represent.

This announcement caused a great uproar, but a vote was finally taken, which resulted in favor of the action of the committee. The vote showed a representation of 604,000 trades-un...sts in favor of the committee and 357,000 against. The Congress then adjourned until to-morow.

A hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a state of constant irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to chronic bronchitis. No prompter remedy can be found than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effect is immediate and the result permanent.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, cholera, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

Another Hamilton Citizen Cured of Rheumatism in Three Days.

Mr. I. McFarlane, 256 Wellington street, Hamilton:—"For many weeks I suffered intense pain from rheumatism—was so bad that I could not attend to business. I procured South American Rheumatic Cure on the recommendation of my druggist and was completely cured in three or four days by the use of this remedy only. It is the best remedy I ever saw. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

CANADA'S TOTAL 411.

The Dominion Eleven Put Up 225 in the First Innings.

In the second innings of the international cricket match, United States v. Canada, the Canadians improved greatly upon their record for the previous one. Until 4.30 p.m. they kept the wickets, retiring when the score stood at 255, or a total of 411 for the two innings, towards which the visitors counted only 65 in their first effort and 25 for two wickets in their second.

After some uneventful play, and the separation of Martin and Boyd for 18, Terry went to bat on the second wicket, and started Uncle Sam on a leather hunt which lasted 80 minutes, and ended in the placing of 70 runs to the credit of the Londoner, a duplication of Wadsworth's feat on Monday, before Goodman took his wicket with a magnificent break to bye. He was followed by Saunders (25), Laing (15), Goldingham (24), and Wadsworth, who this time scored 10.

Then Jacques and Wilson, the two Winnipegers, came together, and appeared likely to stay. The score crept up from 186 to 222 before the latter's 40-minute innings was ended for 23, he being caught by Ralston off Brookes. Jacques was joined by Lyon, but after batting 75 minutes, and scoring 26, Brooke found his middle stick. Score, 231. Lyon stayed on with Gillespie (15), but Brooke again scored, dismissing him for 9, thus terminating the Canadian innings.

Wilson and Lyon made the hits of the day, each sending a ball into the grand stand.

The United States' team batted for the remaining three-quarters of an hour, and at adjournment had lost two wickets for 25, Houghton keeping his bat for 14. They thus require 292 runs to win the match, and have eight wickets to do it with.

Thus the chances of the Canadians are particularly bright, but no one can tell what the lively eleven from across the line have in store for us to-day at Rosedale, play to resume at 11.30 a.m. The attendance has been very encouraging the past two days, but it will likely be doubled at the finish to-day. Scores:

Canada, first innings, 156.
United States, first innings, 65.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

MONTREAL MURDERS

Two Cases on Trial at the Assizes.

GAUTHIER PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

A True Bill Returned Against Demers For Killing His Wife—A Schoolgirl Killed By a Train and a Boy By a Fire Engine—Realty Movements.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—It now looks as if Alderman R. Wilson Smith, who has so ably represented St. Lawrence Ward in the City Council for some time past, will be Montreal's next chief magistrate when Mayor Villeneuve's term of office expires. It will then, according to the unwritten law in force here, be the turn of an English-speaking Protestant, and all classes seem to have their eyes upon the gentleman just named. Ald. Smith was returned to the Council as a civic reformer, and he has certainly done splendid work in that direction. He is an able financier and will make a model Mayor.

Gauthier, the alleged murderer of his affianced wife, Celina Consigny, was arraigned in the Court of Queen's Bench to-day, and pleaded not guilty. His counsel, Mr. G. N. St. Jean, Q.C., applied for a commission to inquire into his sanity, but Judge Wurtele declined to grant it.

A true bill was returned against Napoleon Demers for the murder of his wife at St. Henri.

The volume of business in sales of real estate for the month of August has shown an increase over those in July of about $22,000 exclusive of sales, the full value of which is not given. Montreal West shows an increase of $13,000; Montreal East an increase of $29,000; and Hochelaga an increase of $30,000, making a total increase of $62,000. Of the outside properties, the sales in Montreal Annex show an increase of $15,000, while St. Henri has decreased $5000, and St. Cunegonde has decreased nearly $23,000. The only sale of over $20,000 was the transfer of a factory and water power between the canal and river in Mill-street from Mr. W. Johnson to Mr. R. C. Smith (in trust for the Cold Storage Co.), the price being $100,000 and an annual rent of $645. The next largest sale was also a factory on the canal from Messrs. R. W. Blackwell and C. Scott to the Canada Switch and Spring Co., the price being $19,000. Business shows signs of improvement, and sales are likely to be more numerous now that the summer holidays are about over. Loans have been made at about the same figures as last month, namely, from 5 to 7 per cent. The totals are as follows: Montreal West, $174,049; Montreal East, $113,473; Hochelaga, $78,973; Cote St. Antoine, $54,651; Montreal Annex, $19,573; St. Henri, $14,113; St. Cunegonde, $1600; Montreal Junction, $1557; St. Lambert Boulevard, $2904; totals, $460,901.

A little girl named Rose Bluteau, 5 years old, and residing in Richmond-street, was killed this morning while en route for school. The fatal accident took place at the Richmond-street crossing, and although the gates were closed the little thing ran underneath and was crushed to death by a Vermont Central engine.

James McCoombe, aged 12, an adopted son of George McCoombe, 91 Wellington-street, was run over and killed by No. 4 chemical at the corner of Prince and Wellington-streets to-night. The fire itself was trivial, several boys having set fire to some waste in a yard.

H. M. STANLEY COMING.

Rumor That He is Promoting Belgian Emigration to Canada.

London, Sept. 5.—Henry M. Stanley sailed to-day for New York.

"I have decided objections to being interviewed," said Mr. Stanley. "I have nothing to say or do that concerns the public. I am simply going over to Canada and British Columbia for my health and to see what may be seen in the new land."

Mrs. Stanley, who is in Switzerland, will not accompany her husband, whose tour will extend two months.

When the news of Stanley's voyage reached the lobby of the House of Commons it was surmised immediately that he was in all probability concerned in behalf of the King of the Belgians, to whom he recently paid a visit at Ostend, in the promotion of a big emigration project to Canada.

$500 CHINESE TAX

Recommended By the Trades and Labor Congress

AT ITS MEETING IN LONDON, ONT.

Cheap Coolie Labor Interfering Seriously With Workers on the Pacific Coast—Motion in Favor of Non-Sectarian Schools Made by a Quebec Delegate.

London, Sept. 5.—President P. J. Jobin occupied the chair at last evening's session of the Trades and Labor Congress, when the attendance was considerably increased by the arrival of the representatives from Ottawa. The chief subject of debate was the admittance of the Socialist Labor party to membership in the Congress.

The credentials of this party were not accepted, upon the ground that the constitution did not provide for their admission. Notice to change the constitution was given by Delegate Darlington of Montreal and this will cause a lively debate before the Congress closes.

Secretary Dower read a lengthy communication from the Trades Council of British Columbia, which gave a review of the condition of labor in that country. It is not flourishing, owing, in a great measure, to the overcrowding of the labor market by Chinese immigration.

A report from the Standing Orders Committee recommended that the Dominion Governrent be asked to appoint a commission to inquire into the sweating system in the cities of Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal, with a view to making a test case for the Dominion, and if the system does exist to the extent which has been reported to the Congress, that the Government do take steps to have such laws passed as will stamp it out of existence.

An amendment was offered by Delegate Darlington of Montreal, who desires to have special inquiry made into how far the farmers' wives came into competition with those employed in making garments in those cities.

This was the signal for a very warm debate, in which every delegate took part. Eventually the amendment was withdrawn on the chairman of the committee explaining that the resolution offered by the committee was intended to cover everyone engaged in all classes of work where the sweating system has been introduced.

The next subject taken up was the immigration policy of the Dominion Government in admitting Chinese into this country, and particularly in British Columbia, and after everyone present had exhausted themselves in expressing their views on the subject the following resolution was carried: "That this Congress views with alarm the rapid increase of the Chinese population in the Dominion, and would ask the Federal Government to further restrict the immigration of the cheap coolie labor from the Orient by raising the poll tax to $500 in order to save the workers of this country from undue competition with a class of people who are a detriment to any civilized country and should be totally prohibited."

Delegate G. Pierre of Montreal introduced the following resolution: "That inasmuch as the present school system is costly and unsatisfactory to the toilers of this land, and, further, that it is a channel from which a large amount of the disagreements among the different nationalities of this country emanate; further, that under the present system a working man's child has no chance of obtaining a fit and proper education so necessary to their future life; therefore, be it resolved that this Congress desires to express itself as being unqualifiedly in favor of a free, compulsory and non-sectarian school for all classes, and that the different Provincial Governments be petitioned accordingly."

DECLARED FOR AN 8-HOUR DAY.

The Trades Union Congress Ask That This Be Made a Law.

Cardiff, Sept. 4.—The Trades Union Congress approved the report of the Parliamentary Committee with an addendum asking that Parliament pass legislation providing for the payment of union rates of wages to all workers in the Government depots.

During the debate an amendment censured the Parliamentary Committee for failing to promote legislation in favor of Socialism and land production. Delegate Salmon charged John Burns with deserting the unemployed workers and cultivating only those sources which would be likely to assist his re-election to Parliament.

Mr. Burns replied that these lying statements were inspired by blackleg journalists who had now been dismissed from the Congress. A bill for the nationalisation of land production had been entrusted to Mr. Broadhurst. Where was it? he asked. If the bill had been entrusted to him (Burns), he would have licked it into shape. He had attended to his place in the House of Commons instead of lecturing for hire at 5 guineas a lecture and had also been present at 22 meetings of the Parliamentary Committee on the unemployed, while Keir Hardie had attended but eight. Social revolution, he said, was slow work. There were men who were trying to get it immediately and it was possible that they had laid the foundation stone of the social millennium.

The amendment was rejected and the resolution favoring a general eight hours working day was passed, with an amendment excepting miners from its provisions. The resolution declares: "That the time has arrived when the hours of labor should be limited to eight per day in all trades and occupations in the United Kingdom, and that the Parliamentary Committee be instructed to draft a bill on the lines of this resolution, with a view of getting it passed through Parliament and made a law of the country."

BEER SWELLED HER TONGUE.

How Mrs. Longstreet is in Great Pain and May Die.

Paterson, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Joseph Longstreet, a married woman, about 37 years old, is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a peculiar trouble. During the hot spell of last week she went to visit friends at Little Falls, and while here drank a glass of beer.

She felt a queer sensation on her tongue, and thought no more about the matter until yesterday, when the tongue began to swell. A physician was called in and pronounced the case one of inflammation of the tongue. The organ has swollen to such an extent that her mouth can hardly contain it, and she suffers the most intense pain. It is feared that it will kill her.

STRANGLED BY PARALYSIS.

Sudden Death of a Bradford Man From Throat Paralysis.

Bradford, Ont., Sept. 4.—Frank McAfee, aged about 22, son of Robert McAfee, of West Gwillimbury, drove into town this afternoon to consult Dr. Stevenson about a tickling which had been in his throat for a few days. He put his horse in a hotel shed and proceeded to walk to Dr. Stevenson's, but when he reached the Doctor's gate, he fell dead on the spot. The cause of death was paralysis of the throat.

Died From Fright.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 4.—Charles S. Bottomley's 3-year-old daughter Elsie was teasing her father's bird dog eight days ago and the dog became angry and sprang at her. He evidently did not intend to injure the child, but simply seized her by the dress at the back of the neck and shook her vigorously. The little girl's cries of alarm brought her mother, and when the child was released it was found that she was apparently uninjured. She had been badly frightened and the shock brought on an attack of nervous prostration. This was followed by convulsions, and yesterday the child died. Her physicians say there is no doubt that her death was due to the fright she received.

Made Comedons by a Fall of 50 Feet.

Port Jervis, Sept. 4.—On last Saturday Enoch Davis of Port Jervis, 14 years old, fell from a peach tree. He was taken to the hospital unconscious and remained so, although no fracture of the skull was found. This morning Dr. Swartwout visited his patient's room, but the boy was missing. The doctor's attenton was attracted outside by noise, and looking out the window, he saw Davis lying on the ground of the adjoining place. The boy had fallen from a third story window, a distance of 50 feet. No bones were broken, and the fall had restored him to consciousness.

MOROCCO MUST PAY UP.

Spain Determined to Secure Her Indemnity and Enforce the Treaty.

London, Sept. 4.—A despatch to the Central News from Madrid states that in consequence of the failure of diplomatic measures the Government has decided upon a naval demonstration at Tangier to enforce the terms of the treaty signed with the Government of Morocco. Four warships are now at Cadiz in readiness to start.

The treaty between Spain and Morocco was concluded with the Sultan of Morocco in March, 1894, by General Martinez Campos, now in command of the Spanish forces in Cuba, after the troubles with the Riffs at Melilla. The convention provides for sending the offending Riff tribes into the interior and for the execution of the ringleaders and the imprisonment of others of the principal aggressors. In addition, Morocco agreed to the establishment of a neutral zone and to pay Spain an indemnity of 20,000,000 peretas. As none of the more important provisions of the treaty, especially that requiring the payment of indemnity, has been carried out, despite the diplomatic endeavors and threats of Spain, it is now proposed to resort to other and more drastic measures of compelling the Sultan to keep his agreement.

COMBINATION OF PHYSICAL AND MENTAL CULTURE.

In these days of intellectual activity and of cram in the public and other schools, the importance of physical culture as the handmaid of mental exertion, especially, is of the greatest. We, of the older generation, are apt to undervalue its importance. In our school days there was not the multiplicity of studies, there was not the rivalry that forms the incentive to the mental application that characterizes the school pupils of the present day. Without disparaging the merit of this rivalry and resulting severe study one may be permitted to emphasize its ruinious effects, unless it is judiciously balanced by regular, systematic and well directed physical exercise. All are, more or less, familiar with instances of brilliant pupils, who, to superficial observation, had equally brilliant futures before them, utterly collapsing, and, instead of becoming intellectual giants, becoming intellectual and physical wrecks before they reached the age of manhood or womanhood. Had they paid attention to the promotion of the physical, pari passu with the mental, development, such a calamity would have been averted. Though the progress in study might not have been so rapid it would have been safe and wreck would have been avoided. Certain disaster will follow the working of too heavy machinery in hull of a slight vessel, but if the hull be strengthened to meet the strength of the machinery no evil from disproportion will result. So if the physical system of a student is maintained in a healthy condition by the proper physical exercise and development proportional to the mental wear, the results will be in these respects satisfactory.

In this connection the letter of Sergt.-Major Rundle in another column is timely and to the point. One that observes cannot fail to notice the fine physical appearance of the girls and boys on their way to and from the Collegiate Institute building. Their springy step, alert, firm movement, shoulders well set back, and a healthy, happy look in their faces, bear evidence of the fact that their physical culture is not neglected, and that, in spite of the close application required at the Institute where, under the present regime, pupils have to be proficient in their lessons according to their ability, the balance between the mental and physical development is nicely maintained. We have healthy, happy pupils, with a symmetrical physico-mental development—in a word, sound minds in sound bodies. That the bodies are sound, one may see with half an eye; that the minds are sound is shown by the records of the examinations, where the pupils of the Collegiate Institute take rank with the best schools of the province.

THE riots between Hindoos and Mahomedans in the Bombay Presidency, India, and their prompt suppression by British troops, shows that that great country, without the strong, restraining hand of Britain, would soon be the scene of civil wars, massacres and all the horrors of strife between hostile and semi-barbaric peoples. The fact that the Mahomedans would gain the upper hand is a strong argument in favour of British predominence. Else we should have in the Indian peninsula another Turkey established and the possibilities of a perpetuation of the horrors that mark with blood and rapine the rule of the unspeakable Turk in Armenia.

GENTLEMEN,—Having used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam in our family for years I have no hesitation in saying that it beats everything else we ever tried for coughs and colds in children as well as grown up people. It relieves that tight binding sensation in the chest. We would not be without it for anything, as we have a large family. WILLIAM ANDREW, Commissioner in B. R., Balmoral, Man.

LIVE LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. R. J. McWilliams, wife and family spent Sunday in the village.

Mr. Frank Bowker and son, of London, England, and former residents, are here renewing old acquaintances and looking after their property interests here.

Mr. E. Sawtell, of Orangeville, was visiting friends and looking up his old acquaintances.

Mr. W. H. Casement has gone to Dakota to visit his father. He will go through Manitoba going out.

Mr. W. M. Graham is in Toronto this week completing the fall purchases.

Mr. J. H. Sherin has gone to Minneapolis, Minn., to look after his farming interests in that locality.

Miss Mary Kay has returned from her holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Dymond and family, who have been spending July and August at Stony Lake, returned home on Monday.

The Golden City will run an excursion to Mount Julian on Saturday next in connection with the Methodist Sunday schools of Lakefield and Young's Point. Children of the schools will be carried free. Tickets for adults, 35c; children, 15c. It is expected that a large crowd will take it in and a very pleasant day spent on the lake. The boat will leave the wharf at 8.30 a. m. At three o'clock the boat will leave Mt. Julian making a sail around the lakes, returning to Lakefield about six o'clock.

On Wednesday a police court was held before Reeve Casement and S. Nelson, J. P. Geo. Waite and W. Cory, men on Gilmour's drive, were brought up for fighting and disorderly conduct, and were fined $5 and $2 respectively, with costs.

A large number of cows have lately been running at large near the business centre of the village, and breaking down fences and otherwise destroying property. Is it not time that Lakefield adopted bylaws similar to other places of its size in regard to cows, so that there would be no cows running at large at all, and gardens and lawns could be nicely kept, without any fear of finding them destroyed by these wandering cows?

A very successful lawn social was held last week at the residence of Mr. C. Quinn under the auspices of the ladies of the Baptist church. There was a large attendance, and upwards of $20 was realized.

The excursion to McCracken's landing, per steamer Golden City on Labour Day was well attended.

APSLEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A meeting of the council of Burleigh, etc., was held on Saturday, Aug. 31st, in the town hall. All the members present, Mr. A. Brown, reeve, in the chair. The minutes of former meeting were read and confirmed. The report of the final settlement between this municipality and township of Chandos was read and adopted.

Mr. A. Windsor applied to have back taxes on lot 35, con. 6, Anstruther remitted.

The clerk was instructed to notify county treasurer to take off from his books all taxes against the following lots: 35, con. 6; 32, con. 3, Anstruther, and lot 10 con. 5, Burleigh South.

Mr. D. Anderson, treasurer, presented a report on the present financial standing of the municipality, and also tendered his resignation of his office, to take effect on Oct. 3rd next.

Moved by W. Gallon and W. Hales, that Mr. Anderson's resignation be accepted, and that we take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Anderson for the very efficient manner in which he has carried out his duties during the 13 years he has occupied the position of treasurer. It is with regret his resignation has to be accepted now, on account of his removal from this municipality to Toronto.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gallon and Mr. Hales that T. G. Eastland be appointed treasurer.

Bylaws fixing the rates, etc., were passed; rate—22 mills to cover county and township rates.

Mr. Chas. Hales was appointed collector.

Application of J. Hindley re back taxes was allowed.

The clerk was instructed to notify P. J. Elmhurst to appear at next meeting of council for adjustment of road work. A grant of $10 to the Agricultural Society was voted. Council adjourned till Oct. 31st.

The Rev. Mr. Jopp is visiting Rev. Canon Harding. He preached at St. George's, Apsley, on Sunday evening to a large congregation.

It is with deep regret that we have to chronicle the removal of Mr. D. Anderson from this place to the city of Toronto. Mr. Anderson has lived here among us for the past 25 years and will be greatly missed when he leaves us on the first October. He was Crown Land Agent for 24 years, treasurer of the municipality for 13 years, besides holding other numerous offices during his residence here, in all of which he will now be missed. We wish him and his family every happiness in their new home.

A Wide Range.

A preparation which enriches and purifies the blood and assists nature in repairing wasted tissue must have a wide range of usefulness.

Such a preparation is Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. The uses of Scott's Emulsion are not confined to wasting diseases, like consumption, scrofula or anæmia. They embrace nearly all those minor ailments associated with loss of flesh.

PURBLIND PROVINCES

Neglect to Be Represented in Great Britain

AT THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

Sir John Schultz May Contest Lisgar—Deputy Minister Low to Be Superannuated—Migratory Weeds in Manitoba—Prince Edward Island Enterprise.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 5.—Some surprise is expressed here that the first vessel to go through the Soo lock is, as indicated by despatches to-day, a United States tug boat. More especially is this the case in view of the fact that special permission was asked and granted for the passage through the canal of the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Manitoba in advance of the formal opening next Monday.

Mr. H. Watson, curator of the Canadian section of the Imperial Institute, is in the city, and had an interview to-day with Mr. Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. In the course of conversation with your correspondent, Mr. Watson stated that the courts of the several provinces in the Imperial Institute building are not yet as complete as they should be. The authorities desire to secure adequate exhibits of the resources of the several provinces. At the outset a direct appeal was made to the several Governments to arrange for exhibits. Some Governments, however, have practically ignored the Institute altogether. For the honor and dignity of the country something should be done at once towards making the exhibits thoroughly representative, and Mr. Watson hopes those Governments which have been remiss will attend to the matter without delay.

The Government has decided to have the roadways and sidewalks on Parliament grounds relaid before winter sets in. The footpaths will be of artificial stone and roadways asphalted, an improvement which no one will cavil at, in view of the fact that it will do away with the long-standing complaint of muddy roadways in approaching the Parliament buildings during wet weather. Mr. Peter McRae is reported to be the lowest tenderer for the work.

Through the instrumentality of Lieut.-Governor Howlan, a strong company has been formed for the purpose of supplying cold storage for the butter and cheese business in Prince Edward Island. At the present time the products of the Island are being sent to Montreal for cold storage, and the new arrangement will enable the farmers of the Island to put the profit into their own pockets, which is now going into the hands of transportation companies.

The Capitals have notified the Vancouver lacrosse team if they want a game in Ottawa during their tour East this month, and wish to face the Capitals for the championship of the world, they will have to come to Ottawa first, instead of coming here last, as outlined in their program. The Capitals point out that to have Vancouver's wind-up here would not be fair to the home club, as, unless they swept everything before them, they would be a poor drawing card here. A previous defeat or two would take the interest out of the game in Ottawa. On the other hand, if they come direct here and play for the championship, and happen to win, it will make the rest of their tour all the more triumphant. If they lose they will be in no worse position.

Mr. James Fletcher, botanist and entomologist of the Experimental Farm, has just returned from an extended trip to Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia, the special object of his tour being to investigate the different kinds of weeds and injurious insects which are troubling farmers and fruit growers. Mr. Fletcher had opportunities of inspecting the crops at different points. He also addressed several meetings of farmers, who were well pleased with the information given them as to the nature of pests and the best methods of treating them. At Central Farmers' Institute meeting at Brandon early in July the subject of weeds was one of burning interest, as was evidenced by the large number of specimens brought into the meeting. Special efforts were advised by Mr. Fletcher for combatting two comparatively new pests, which have increased with alarming rapidity. They are the "tumbling mustard" and the "hare's ear mustard," both of which now grow widely in Manitoba and parts of the Territories. Fifty miles is a small estimate of the distance which tumbling weeds may be blown. Mr. Fletcher says the grain crop in Manitoba and the Northwest is undoubtedly the best in the history of the country, being enormous in quantity and of the very best quality. A fair estimate of the crop places the average at 27 bushels to the acre, but from what he saw Mr. Fletcher believes it will exceed that amount.

The live stock inspector at Montreal has forwarded a report to the Department of Agriculture of the shipments of animals from that port this year. During August 29,449 sheep were shipped, making a total for the season of 79,341, as against 60,977 for the corresponding period last year; 15,589 head of cattle were shipped during August, making a total of 60,216 for the season to date, against 55,322 for the corresponding period of 1894.

The Department of the Interior was notified to-day that Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Mr. Daly are to-day at Battleford. To-morrow they leave for Duck Lake, and on Friday for Prince Albert. The party will remain there until Monday, when they proceed for Regina.

It is expected that contemplated changes regarding the Deputy Ministership of Agriculture will be made during the next few days, Mr. John Lowe retiring on superannuation allowance and his place being taken by H. H. Smith, present Dominion Lands Commissioner at Winnipeg. As previously announced W. B. Scarth will succeed Smith in the latter office.

Hon. Mr. Ouimet returns to the city to-morrow.

Controller Wallace returned to the city to-day.

Mr. Colin H. Campbell of Winnipeg had an interview with Hon. Mr. Wallace to-day on customs matters.

Mr. Scriver, M.P., is in the city to-day.

The city auditors have reported on certain charges preferred by ex-Ald. Cluff against the City Treasurer's Department as to the method of civic bookkeeping. The report shows there is nothing wrong with the general bookkeeping of the city.

The Ottawa Field Battery goes into camp at Rockliffe on Friday.

The impression prevails here that Sir John Schultz will contest Lisgar at the coming Dominion elections.

MANITOBA GRAIN RING SPEAK.

The Actual Wheat Yield Shown to Be From 25 to 30 Bushels Per Acre

Portage la Prairie, Man., Sept. 4.—Morning reports from along the Manitoba Northwestern show the weather favorable and harvesting is being rushed where not completed.

Canadian Pacific reports: Calgary—Calm, rain, 40. Edmonton—Cloudy, calm, 40. Regina—Cloudy, calm, 38. Prince Albert—Cloudy, calm, 42. Brandon—Cloudy, 45. Souris—Clear, calm, 38. Gretna—Clear, 46. Napinka—Cloudy, calm, 40. Winnipeg—Clear, calm, 42.

Hugh Grant, Burnside, threshed 200 acres, with a yield of 25 bushels to the acre, all a good sample.

Henry Ogletree threshed 4000 bushels of wheat. The yield averaged from 26 to 30 bushels per acre in different fields.

D. Love threshed about 4000 bushels, which averaged over 25 to the acre.

Mr. Macdonell of the Government staff has returned from the Dauphin Lake district and says settlers are still coming in there from various parts of the world. A colony of Icelanders is expected to settle there next spring. The farming is of a mixed kind, ranching predominating, until a market is opened nearer. Settlers now have to go 45 miles or more to the nearest railway station. Settlers are working into goods herds of stock and are becoming comfortable, pending the arrival of a railway.

Prof. Saunders has just returned from the West and says he is surprised at the extent of the irrigation ditches of Calgary, and of the benefit to the country, which is even better than anticipated. He drove from Brandon southward by Killarney, coming east from the Gretna district, and says the crops are magnificent. The grain is all cut in stook or stacks. Threshing is general in some districts.

A car load of grains, vegetables and native fruits of Manitoba have been sent east by the Canadian Pacific to Toronto and Montreal Fairs. They will then be divided up for the smaller fairs in Ontario and Quebec. Neither wild plums nor grapes, which are grown in considerable quantities along the Assiniboine River, have begun to arrive on the market yet, but immense quantities of high bush cranberries are being sold already.

New Brunswick Farmers Ruined by Hail.

Moncton, N.B., Sept. 4.—Entire crops were destroyed on a number of farms by the hail storm. Some fifty farmers and their families are absolutely penniless and in want of daily food and fifty other families have lost from one-quarter to one-half of their crops. Nearly all the loss was in St. Mary's parish near Buctouche.

EIGHT OUNCE HAILSTONES.

Missouri Visited By a Record-Breaking Storm.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 5.—Reports received to-day from Central Illinois and Eastern Missouri state that last night's rain storm did a great deal of damage. In some places the wind reached the dimensions of a hurricane and telegraph and telephone wires were demolished.

At New London, Mo., the heaviest hailstorm ever experienced in that section swept over the country. Some of the stones measured 12 inches in circumference and weighed eight ounces. A heavy rain followed the hail-storm and [illegible]

PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars
Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars
More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $500,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A Proposed Electric Line.

Mr. Peter Randall, head pusher of the proposed electric line between Cobourg and Port Hope, was in town on Tuesday afternoon. He says he has $40,000 stock already subscribed, and has promise of $10,000 from the township of Cavan if he runs a branch out there. There is no scheme too big for Peter Randall to tackle, and if he don't make them all go, it is not for want of talking them up.—Sentinel Star.

A Cheese Standard.

At a meeting of the cheese trade at Montreal on Tuesday with Professor Robertson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, the question of establishing a standard for the finest cheese was discussed at length, and President Wm. Nevin occupied the chair. A resolution defining finest cheese was adopted, but this was finally withdrawn, and a committee consisting of Messrs. J. McKergow, Hodgson, and A. J. Brice, was appointed to look into the matter, confer with the inspectors and report.

A Cruel Arabian.

One of the Arabians who figured in yesterday's Police Court is somewhat of a tyrant. After leaving court, it is said, he went to his home and turned his children out on the roadside, refusing to give them anything to eat. Last night the unfortunate children were forced to face the heavy downpour of rain, their father still refusing to take them in. P. C. Stewart visited the scene, and the Arab told him if the children were to remain in the house he would leave it. The Children's Aid Society is looking after the matter.

Looks Plausible, but—

Trust it not, it is full of deception. Do not buy a label; buy a good wine in the bottle. The label may be imposing; and the long price may give confidence; but know this that the day has come when all the people can drink good wine at a cheap rate, at nominal prices. Eight dollars, ten dollars, that day is done! For good Clarets and Burgundies—$3, and $4 per dozen quarts. Tested by the best judges, among whom is Lieut. Governor Chapleau; enjoyed by the people; asked for in all parts of the country. The famed Medoc at a trifle. Rich wines, a little more than the price of beer. No sting; musle blood makers. DOUBT AS TO HIS AGE.

Trouble in Fixing a Youth's Age at the Police Court this Morning.

Mr. C. LeBrun, of the Palace Restaurant, and Mr. Martin Connors, of the Hub, were charged at the Police Court this morning with selling liquor to a minor, under 18 years of age, on Aug. 31st and 15th, respectively. Mr. W. H. Moore appeared for defendants.

It appears from evidence that on a previous occasion the boy had passed himself off as over 18 years of age, at the Palace, and able to drink anything they had behind the bar.

The youth himself could not tell the year he was born in, but said he had been told he was 16 years of age.

A number of witnesses were examined relative to their opinion of the lad's age. They all seemed to think he was fully 18 years of age.

The Magistrate, in conclusion, told the boy to keep out of such places, dismissing the cases with the remark that he could overrride witnesses' evidence as regards the boy's age, but did not feel disposed to do so. Only one glass of lager had been obtained at the Palace.

Street Watering.

Harry Lindley Coming.

The opera season will be opened in Peterborough on Monday evening next, Sept. 9th, by Harry Lindley, the old-time favourite comedian, who will open a week's engagement in the opera house. Harry has a first class company this season, and a choice reportoire of plays, and has been playing to crowded houses in Ottawa and Kingston. The prices are the old-time popular ones—10, 15 and 25c. 1d

A Correction.

The Hastings Star says: "The Peterborough EXAMINER in its "News Nuggets," made the following discovery, that "the Editor of the Hastings Star is off on a fishing expedition." We'd like to known who furnished the "Nugget." We wish it was true. Our fishing ground, for the information of the EXAMINER, is in the Star office, not one day fishing or pleasure have we taken since we entered it. The season is now nearly over and like the old lady going to the Centennial, we'll just wait until the next one." The EXAMINER obtained its information from a resident of Hastings, and is sorry to learn that Brother Scriver has not enjoyed a vacation.

Take Your Local Paper.

No man is too poor to take his local newspaper, says an exchange, and it is false economy to get along without it. Hardly a week passes that something does not appear in its columns that will be a financial benefit to the subscriber, and by the end of the year he has made or saved from one to twenty times its subscription price. The city papers don't take the place of your local paper, although some people seem to think they do. The city papers are all right in their way, but they don't give you what you are most interested in—your local and county news. You cannot learn from them when public meetings are to be held, who are dying, or who are marrying, who are moving out, court proceedings, who wants to sell land—in fact, hundreds of items, which might be of particular importance for you to know. Such matter city papers cannot furnish, but your local paper can and does.

Changes in the Electric Plant.

The Port Hope Electric Light Company have been busy of late renewing the machinery of their plant. The alternating system, which was formerly used exlusively for incandescent lighting, has been replaced by the monocyclic system, which will supply sufficient power for motor running, as well as for lighting purposes. Duplicate wire mains have been put in through the business portion of the town, transformers of greater capacity erected, and the lines extended. Incandescent lighting will be now as cheap as gas, and the company propose to supply motor power to those who require it. The new machine is a generator of 2,000 volts, double the capacity of the old one, and weighs about two tons and one-half. It is the first of its kind installed in any plant in Canada, and was manufactured by the Canada General Electric Works, Peterborough. The expense of the different changes undertaken by the company will total up to nearly $5,000.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day" performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurane in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would no doubt prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though (as will be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award due credit to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and, therefore, of the higher value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of his claim that Maltine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel," and affirms that "it is a wonderful heart sustainer." This preparation may be had of all druggists, and may be relied upon as an agent of infinite value in nervous prostration and brain exhaustion, resulting from undue strain upon the mental or physical energies.—Daily Globe, July 6, 1895.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

The Carruthers-Kindred Nuptials Celebrated Wednesday Afternoon.

One of those happy events that always cause a flutter of excitement and which are looked forward to with pleasurable anticipations took place Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Wm. A. Kindred (Temperance House), Hunter street, when his eldest daughter, Miss Mary Louise Kindred, was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. Carruthers, head miller at Meldrum & McAllisters' Auburn flouring mills.

The interesting ceremony that united two happy hearts was performed by Rev. Mr. Beer in the presence of a large number of relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The lovely young bride, who was given away by her father, was handsomely costumed in cream with harmonising trimmings and carried a bouquet of roses.

The bridesmaid on the occasion was Miss Trucie Kindred, sister of the bride, who was becomingly attired in a dress of gray, and also carried a bouquet of roses.

Mr. Andrew Carruthers, brother of the groom, acted as groomsman on the auspicious occasion.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was partaken of, the dining tables being ornamented with natural flowers, and the young couple received the congratulations of all present, after which they left on the 4.48 C.P.R. train for points in Western Ontario, where they will spend a brief honeymoon. A number of friends had assembled at the station to see them off and wish them every happiness.

The bride and groom are both well and favourably known in Peterborough and vicinity, and were the recipients of many costly and useful tokens of esteem, among which might be mentioned the gift to the bride of a handsome silver fruit service from the employees of the Auburn Flour Mills. Their many friends will wish them every happiness in the new sphere of life in which they have entered.

THE PHYSICAL PART OF EDUCATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Dr. McKenzie at the convention of the Canadian Medical Association at Kingston the other day, declared for physical training, and Dr. Sayre said that physical training was a nation's salvation.

These are important statements, and coming from such authority we should consider them seriously, and do all we can in assisting to keep the race in the highest possible state of physical power.

I agree with these gentlemen and could produce ample proof of their statements, resulting from a systematized course of physical education.

Many of the pupils who have graduated from our Collegiate Institute have compared favourably in the field of sports and gymnasiums in distant cities, and won the admiration of their associates for their physical power and activity, and I often hear from those who call at the gymnasium when in town how highly they appreciate the training they have had, and would not have possessed such physical power if they neglected it.

A physical education is not display; the entire system means health and body building.

It would be well if parents would ask themselves at the outset what is their object in

THE TRAINING OF THEIR CHILDREN.

They wish them to be thoroughly educated, would probably be the response, then let their first care be, that the body shall be healthy and fairly grown, and do not imagine that your sons who are destined to what are chiefly, or exclusively, sedentary professions need not so much preparation for the coming life. The clergyman, the physician, the barrister, are often called upon to endure even as much bodily fatigue as the soldier or the sailor, and the numerous premature failures among all these classes show how needful such preparation is, and how little the necessity has been recognized.

I have assisted to educate hundreds of undeveloped young men and fit them for the field, and they have after the completion of sixteen days' manœuvres, realized what their physical power has attained by the training they have had, in the possession of which they feel proud. The best proof of a nation's physical power can be found in the British Army, and in the schools, colleges and universities of the Mother Country, where the pupils are physically educated.

With regard to our Collegiate Institute, the Board of Education has provided everything necessary to carry out a proper physical course. The gymnasium is one of, if not, the best in the province for school work, and it is for the pupils to take advantage of the time allowed, which is ample, and exercise wisely and intelligently.

We are proud of our public schools, for they are to the state what the heart is to the human body—the centre and source of its vitality and power, and as no special provision has been made for the full physical training of the pupils, I feel confident that the time is not far distant when our earnest-minded men conducting them will do their utmost in establishing training classes and placing the same on the schools' curriculum.

I have dwelt principally on

but I would here mention that exercises may be classed under two distinct heads—Recreative and Educational. The first of these embrace our school games sports and pastimes.

The influence of our national games upon the national character is valuable beyond commutation; nothing could take their place. Nothing could atone for their loss.

Recreative exercises, then, from their very nature are inadequate to produce the uniform and harmonious development of the entire frame, because the employment which they give is essentially partial, recreative exercise in sufficient amount is usually in itself sufficient to maintain health and strength after growth and development are completed, but it does not meet the many wants of the rapidly changing and plastic frames of youths, spending a large portion of their time in the constrained positions of study, taking shape almost day by day, from day to day occupation. Hence the necessity for a system of educational exercises.

Have parents ever noticed a rapid upward growth when the chest scarcely expands at all during the process. It will be seen to run up from the waist, while the shoulders fold round to to the front, and the head stoops forward from the base of the column of the neck, and seldom does a straight spine accompany such

ABNORMAL GROWTH.

The chest has been known to actually diminish in girth, grow narrower and narrower, as if it were tightened by the extreme elongation of the general frame.

Whatever may be the developed capacity of the untrained body it is as far from the symmetry and strength to which it may attain with proper culture, as is the clever but self taught man, from what he would have been with thorough educational training.

A great many boys left to their own inclinations take no exercise at all, or take it so listlessly that the results are all. Yet these are the very boys that need exercise the most of all, and their reluctance to enter upon it, and feebleness and awkardness in pursuing it, are the strongest proof of their great need of it, the strongest proof that as boys they are not living boys' lives; and the boy's life leads to man's.

And, now, what can be done for our boys? Will some one who is interested in the boys' physical welfare suggest something. One hour per week is and this could be taken after school and on Saturday, and I do not hesitate to say that Col. Bell, Major Brennan, Adjutant Mason and the officers generally of the 57th Battalion would do all in their power to make and for the time being allow the Drill Shed to be used for that purpose.

It would require the sympathy and support of the citizens, and more especially the parents' encouraging influence.

Below is the measurement of a boy who commenced at ten and continued taking one hour weekly until he was seventeen years old:—

Age.	Height.	Weight.	Chest.	Fore-Arm.	Upper Arm.
Years.	ft. in.	lb.	in.	in.	in.
10	4 6¾	64	26	7¼	7¼
Increase	1 4	90	13½	4¼	5¾
17	5 10¾	156	39½	11½	13¼

Height above average, other measurements average.

From commencement growth rapid, and sustained with regular and uniform development, the frame advancing to great physical power.

Thanking you Mr. Editor,

I remain

Yours truly,

E. G. RUNDLE, Sergt.-Major.

THE METHUEN TOWNSHIP MICA MINES.

An American Mica Manufacturing Company Prepared to Dispose of the Mica.

A few days ago, a mica manufacturing company of New York city wrote to Mr. J. T. Vosper, editor of the Campbellford Gazette, ordering a quantity of mica from his mine which is located in Methuen township, county of Peterborough. The Company stated that they had a large number of customers to supply, and could dispose of the mica whenever he was prepared to make a shipment. Representatives of four firms are now negotiating for the purchase of this valuable mine which contains an immense quantity of the mineral.

Several mining experts have lately inspected the property and pronounced the mica a No. 1 article; and one miner stated last week that a company could not exhaust the supply in half a century.

The product of this mine is said to be as fine as the Carolina mica, and some very large sheets have been taken from it. On the same property several rich deposits of black mica, feldspar and [illegible] have been discovered. The price of mica varies from 60 cents to $12.00 per pound, according to quality and size, and vast quantities of it are used for electrical purposes.

Large tracts of mining lands containing traces of mica are being purchased by American speculators, who will no doubt develop them in the near future, and make fortunes out of the transaction.

NORWOOD EXHIBITION, OCT. 8TH AND 9TH.

By some inadvertence the date of the East Riding Exhibition at Norwood is printed in the list of fall fairs in the Central Exhibition prize list as Oct. 9th and 10th. This is a mistake, the correct date is Oct. 8th and 9th.

Trilby's Foot.

The step 'twixt the sublime and ridiculous is quickly made. Surely literature presents no more grotesque idealization than Trilby's foot, and the numerous worshippers that have figuratively speaking bent knees and kissed the big toe of the foot, when reason once more come to their rescue, will feel as if the production of the genuis Ass were perennial. By the way did you notice when reading Trilby how highly it commended Putnam's Corn Extractor, which renders impossible the discordant excrescence, corns. Trilby's foot would not be worthy of homage if marred by corns; neither would yours. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

WHY YOUR SOCIETY IS RUNNING DOWN.

Maybe it is because your officers have no snap. Electrify them.

Or maybe it is because the members have no grit. Bring out the sand box.

Possibly you have not songs enough. Appoint a music committee.

Or more likely you have not prayers enough. Hold some prayer meetings.

Perchance you have two or three important ones who want to run the society. Run them off on a side track till they get more sense.

And perchance your society is suffering from lack of leaders. Get enough confidence in God to become a leader yourself.

Mayhap there is a little strife or jealousy among your members. Pray for the Holy Spirit to drive the devils out of your hearts.

You doubtless have few associate members and are not working for what you have. Get more of Christ's love for souls.

Perhaps you have carelessly admitted into your active membership some worldly minded non-Christians. Make them see what the pledge means, and cause them either to observe it or become associates.

May be you are not doing anything for missions. Take up a collection at every meeting.

Or may be your are not doing anything for your church. Attend the next mid-week prayer meeting in a body.

Quite certainly you do not love the Bible enough. Pray earnestly at home and in the meetings for the plentiful outpouring of God's spirit of love upon you.

It may be that you do not care to find the reason for the running down of your society. In that case stop calling yourselves Endeavourers and stop calling yourselves Christians.

But if you do care to find the cause, you can easily find it, and having found it, you can easily find a remedy; and with a prayer on your lips and love in your hearts you can soon become a live society again. May God bless your endeavour.

FROM THE INFORMATION COMMITTEE.

There is in Enniskillen, Ireland, a Christian Endeavour Society that has been in existence for two years. The members are young men only, and none but members are admitted to the prayer meetings.

Cincinnati, O.—The executive committee of the Cincinnati Union has decided to push the work along the lines suggested at Boston. The official organ—the Living Present—will devote one month each to missions, good citizenship and junior work.

Woodstock, Ont.—The First Congregational Society held an "automatic" prayer meeting, which proved to be one of the best meetings it has had for some time. The service was opened by the organist, and it was excellently sustained by all the members.

A Young People's Society in Alleghany, Pa., varies its sentence prayers by calling for a series by the young women of the Society, and afterwards for another series by the young men.

BOSTON CONVENTION.

Next Monday evening there will be a union meeting of all the societies in town, held in Charlotte street church. The report from the Boston Convention will be given. The following is the programme:

15 minute song service.
Opening hymn.
Prayer.
Short address, Rev. J. J. Rae.
Remarks from President Mr. H. P. Kennedy.
Special music, St. Andrew's Society.
Collection.
Report of Convention, Miss Eaton, of Norwood.
Hymn.
Report continued.
Remarks from Honorary President, Rev. W. C. Beer.
Special music, St. Andrew's Society.
Hymn, "God be with you."
Prayer.

SALEM—OTONABEE.

Our last Endeavour meeting was of great interest to all, being our regular monthly business meeting. The topic, "Conquering difficulties with Christ's help," was conducted by Miss Annie Cromie, dwelling chiefly on Paul's trials and difficulties, and comparing ours in this present time with his. We have been wondering very much of late, Mr. Editor, why is it that so many of those who claim to be God's children are so much opposed to the Endeavour Society. You find them in every part of God's moral vineyard. They cannot be constrained to attend the meetings, but will slightingly speak of the Endeavour movement and yet know nothing at all about how its meetings are conducted, only by what they hear. We wonder whether it is selfishness or lack of sympathy for the spread of God's cause amongst the young people of our land, or the want of the love of Christ in the heart. The question is, how can such be reached to get them to the meetings and thereby get them interested in the work for Christ and His church. We humbly pray for the outpouring of God's Holy Spirit upon the Endeavour movement throughout our land, as the salvation of the world largely depends upon the young people of to-day.

BETHEL, OTONABEE—KEENE CIRCUIT.

The Y.P.S.C.E. of this place seems to take a very remote corner of your column, for it is seldom we see mention of it at all, but we are struggling along, going about our work cheerfully, having Christ for our guide and leader.

The society is in a very prosperous state, so much so that it has now a membership of 85, 46 active and 39 associate, the active members being not only active in name but also in deed, and quite a number of the associate members should be active regarding the stand they have taken.

Our committees are endeavouring in all ways possible to make the society a success. We have at present 15 taking up the home class work department of the Sunday school. Our time of meeting is Wednesday evening of each week at 8 o'clock sharp. There is a programme made out every two months by the prayer meeting committee, assigning the reading topic and prayer meeting to different members, each part being handled by a member.

Last Wednesday, Aug. 28th, the topic was taken up by S. Armstrong, and it was conducted in such an able manner th it showed there had been great interest in getting it up. The meetings are well attended, 60 being the average. Our monthly consecration is the first Wednesday evening of each month.

A TIRE THAT IS ALWAYS FILLED.

An Automatic Pump That is Worked as the Wheel Revolves.

The bicycle rider on a tour is no longer compelled to make wayside stops to inflate his tire. An automatic inflator has been patented, which keeps the tire constantly filled to any degree of firmness he may desire. It has been patented by Philip W. Stanford, of San Francisco, Cal. The large figure represents the device applied, the pistol rod of the pump being seen through a cut-away portion of the tire, while the small figure is a sectional view, of the pump. The piston rod is hollow, and has at its lower end a foot-piece normally abutting against the inner surface of the outer wall of the tire, and an air exit port communicating with the interior of the tire. There is in the piston head a port controlled by a spring-pressed valve, and in the head of the cylinder is a port formed in the plug of a duster filter screwed into the head, the latter port being also closed by a spring-pressed valve, while within the cylinder and between its head and the piston is a spring to return the piston and cylinder and the wheel is made by a flexible sleeve, a feet flange of which is clamped between the outer surface of the rim and the inner wall of the tire, the packing and sleeve allowing the parts to yield to side strains on the piston rod. The desired degree of tire expansion is obtained by varying the projection of the piston rod into the tire by screwing the rod farther into or out of the piston, or by similarly adjusting the footpiece, or by the adjustment of the encircling sleeve. In operation, each time the tire presses upon the ground and is compressed at the point opposite the foot of the piston rod, the upward movement of the latter allows the air in the cylinder to pass into the tire, and on the piston being forced downward by the spring, air is drawn into the cylinder, the air drawn in passing through a filtering diaphragm designed to free it from dust.

Farmers Should Keep Bees.

Why not more farmers raise bees? Not more than one out of ten attempt it; in a four mile drive I saw only two out of the many farms and residences along the line that keep an apiary. When we consider the advances made in the art of beekeeping, the many modern devices to lessen the disagreeable features which everyone may avail themselves of, it is surprising that more persons do not engage in this industry. The profits are good and the outlay not costly if only a portion of one's time is expended in their care. They will pay when one's whole time is employed in caring for the bees as the profit is commensurate. Many women have engaged in beekeeping with success and any woman with a moderate amount of courage may achieve independence by prudently managing an apiary. Begin with only a few colonies at first and add more as experience and profits increase. Do not expect to make a fortune in a few season bt by patient continuance in well doing an occupation will be built up having firm foundation and bringing the reward which comes only to the diligent and faithful. We would urge upon our farmers the desirability of beekeeping in furnishing their families with a toothsome luxury.—Farm and Home.

Did You Ever Think

That you cannot be well unless you have pure, rich blood? If you are weak, tired, languid and all run down, it is because your blood is impoverished and lacks vitality. These troubles may be overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla because Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure, rich blood. It is, in truth the great blood purifier.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

ALL AROUND THE FARM.

Apple trees should be so pruned that the parts may be reached by a spray; well-pruned trees allow free access of light and air among the branches, and this prevents fungi from obtaining so strong a hold.

A bee-keeper says that should a colony become queenless from any cause three weeks may be gained by having an extra queen to give it at once.

Account books at this season would be of assistance. They enable the farmer to know how much each crop cost and in estimating the results he will partially be guided in his next season's operations.

It is well to always mix a little chopped hay, straw or corn fodder with sound fed. This gives the finer food proper bulk, and keeps it from packing up the animal's stomach. It also adds variety to the ration.

To give good plants for winter blooming pansy seed should be sown now. Sow in a pot or shallow box, and place in a cool, shady place until the seedlings are well up. Pot them and still keep where it is cool. They should be nice plants in the fall.

Coarser soil in the bottom of flower pots provides good drainage. The kind of soil is not so essential to their growth as is generally supposed. Any ordinary garden soil is good, and it can be improved by the addition of a little well-rotted manure.

Two or three years of city life under right conditions will polish up a young man and teach him something of business ways. Many of our most skilled and influential farmers have lived awhile in the city. Such men are better contented in the country than many of those who have always lived on the farm, because they better understands the drawbacks as well as the pleasures of city life.

The quality of corn foder is almost unlimited, but it is criminal to waste any of it, as has been the woeful fashion. Cut up, shredded and baled, it keeps green and sweat, and is a rich, nutritious food; it, in this shape, promises to be an important item of food in the future.

It is said that charcoal will absorb 90 per cent. of its bulk in ammonical g . hence if used freely over compost h aps it not only prevents unpleasant o lors, but renders the compost more valuable by retaining the ammonia which would otherwise pass off.

Many, after taking all the care necessary to make a good article of butter, fail to secure the success they expect, and really deserve, simply because they do not take sufficient time to market to the best advantage. With butter the marketing is an important item in making the most of it.

If we are to compete in the open market in the selling of the best quality of butter, it is very essential that no item that will add to its uniform good quality should be overlooked. In no line of work is attention to details more necessary than in the dairy if uniform good quality of the product is desired.

Feed largely affects the quality of the milk and butter. It does not pay to keep a cow and stint her in her rations and have herhardly give a paying quality of milk a good portion of the time and be dry the balance. My experience has been that if a cow is worth keeping at all for her milk, she is worth feeding all she will eat and assimilate.

Here, says an exchange, is something that is worth money to any farmer to know: Sprinkle a little stone lime in your stock tank and not a particle of green scum will form in the water. When the lime loses its strength and scum begins to form, which may be twice during the season, wash out the tank and repeat the dose. It is cheap, and not only harmless, but wholesome, keeps the water sweet and saves work.

Dr. Goessman, of the Massachusetts station, advises growing mixed crops, say summer vetch and oats, as they produce larger yields than when grown singly. Sow together 40 or 50 pounds summer vetch to four bushels of oats, and seed early in June. The fodder is highly nutritious, and may be cut green for hay. Sow at various times; it will grow through the season.

Those who have been liberal in the use of manure and derived satisfactory results may turn their attention to the mode of cultivation. The mechanical condition of the soil has an influence on the crop as great as the effects of the plant food. The supply of moisture in the sod must be sufficient to dissolve the substances provided for the plants, and as their supply largely depends on the mechanical condition of the soil the judicious use of the plow and cultivator will affect the yields.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

SHOWING OFF THE HAIR.

Points for the Plain Girl Who Has Orinarily, Lovely Locks.

The girl with very pretty hair has often no other beauty, and is likely to underestimate the value of her one good point. If the charm of her hair is in its color and quality, dress always to it. If its shade is beautiful and if it waves or crinkles, an Exchange says, you will show it best and suppress your lack of other beauty by dressing very simply and in colors that will set off that of the hair. Then let the locks be carefully arranged, in some picturesque fashion. Folks will say to you, not that you are plain, but that you have beautiful hair. Adopt some distinctive mode, perhaps a loose lock may always be allowed to escape and hang down free, especially if the end curls prettily. Very heavy hair, that is naturally curled and waved may be done up with only three long hairpins, so that the knot may really be almost coming down. Quality and color are emphasised by looseness of knotting and picturesque dressing.

If the beauty of the hair be chiefly in its thickness, then let it be rolled tightly in great heavy ropes or braids. Sacrifice even the contour of the face by letting these ropes wind about the head. Again folks will remark, not upon your plainness, but upon your magnificent head of hair. Select hats carefully, as if confessing to such a lot of hair that you cannot wear the usual fashionable hat. Cultivate, if it suits your style, a trick of letting your head lean, as if weighted by the mass of hair. Now and then do your hair in some way that allows it to hang from the head, no matter whether it is becoming or not, and do it with the air of being obliged to relieve yourself for a little while of the accustomed weight.

When hair is not so wonderful for thickness, but is very long, the best display of it is made by banding the head with it. There are several tricks a girl with fine hair may indulge in. Locks of lovely quality and color, worn as the present fashion permits, loose over the cheeks, may be drawn across the eyes, with all the coquetry another girl would put into hiding behind a fan. The girl with splendidly thick hair may with apparent unconsciousness draw the heavy masses about her shoulder or throat, as a less lucky damsel might a light shawl. A rose tucked behind the ear will draw the eye to a handsome lot of hair, and make the ordinary face less conspicuous. Of course, summer is the great time for the girl whose sole beauty is a magnificent lot of crinky hair. Such a girl absolutely must dive. Then, for of course, her hair gets all wet, she also must dry it. That gives her a chance to sit on the sand with the locks all loose, and what's the use of another girl's being pretty beside a girl like that?

TO MANAGE A DAUGHTER.

A Few Suggestions to the Daring Man Who Would Try.

First—You can't do it; the man who can must be more than mortal.

Second—Give her her own way; it will save her the trouble of taking it.

Third—Pay for the dresses if you can afford it. Her dressmaker will sue if you don't.

Fourth—If she takes a fancy to any man you don't want her to marry, tell her your heart is set on her marrying him and swear she shall never marry any other. You can then give her a free hand and she wouldn't have him if he were the only man left.

Fifth—If there is any man you want her to marry, kick him out of your house, forbid the servants to admit him, cultivate mantraps and spring guns and bull dogs all around your grounds, lock her in her room and vow if she marries him you won't leave her a penny. You won't have to wait long after that for the elopement.

Sixth—If she has no voice encourage her to sing whenever you give a party. It will attract attention to her and give your guests an excuse for complimenting her. Never mind the neighbors.

Seventh—If you are a poor man, teach your daughter how to dance and play the piano. She can learn cooking and dressmaking and those things after she is married.

The Small Belongings of Dress.

For wear with untrimmed bodice there are shown large flaring collars and cuffs of dead white embroidery trimmed with butter-colored Valenciennes lace. These are pretty, and as they stand laundering well, really give, in wear, their money's worth.

A belt and collar of gold braid caught with cut hooks and eyes are in vogue, and may be worn with any dark-colored or all-white bodice. The collar is formed of gold braid a little over an inch wide, while the belt is two inches wide and the clasps are selected to suit the width of each. Belts may be of silk, ribbon or leather. Seal or snake skin belts with silver buckles are liked for outing or traveling wear, and very often have bags to match put upon them, but for an elaborate with a leather belt is not considered in good taste.

The regular belting can be gotten in any color, and is most effective when its clasp is a small gold buckle elaborately carved. Young girls fancy silver buckles, upon which are engraved their monograms, but these can scarcely be spoken of as new, though they are popular.—August Ladies' Journal.

SIMPLICITY ITSELF.

The Lesson Which the Village Maid Has Taught.

Simplicity seems to be the key note of gowns this season. But what deceptive simplicity. A gown of organdy, or batiste, or fine lawn, is not such an inexpensive affair when one considers the silk lining over which it is made, and the lace, ribbon and other accessories which trim it. With what care also must the gown be made. The village maid, who originated this fad by capturing the hearts of men with her simple gowns, found her dresses easily put together. But the simple gown, as it has been evolved, must have a skirt which hangs to perfection and a bodice which fits as one of broadcloth would.

Plain, flaring skirtings are finished with a broad hem, or a flounce, edged with narrow Valenciennes lace. The bodices are of lace or embroidery, enhanced with ribbon bows.

Madame has a gown of striped lawn, green and white. The bodice is tight-fitting, of white embroidery. The puffed sleeves of lawn are caught in with choux of the dress material. Black velvet ribbon, which enters largely into the adornment of every gown, forms shoulder straps, which end back and front with small velvet choux.

The hat is of white straw, trimmed with green ribbon and white flowers. Black is introduced in the stiff wings which mingle with the ribbon bows.

The Changed Rubies.

There seems no end to the curious stories about jewels lost and stolen. One of the latest is that of Mrs. A., who recently took a pair of large ruby solitaires to eb reset at —'s, where they had been purchased. The morning after the maid brought her the card of the firm, saying a gentleman wished to see her, and on going down to the drawing-room she found one of the clerks, who told her that the stones, which were apparently of great value, were in reality false and worthless. Very much agitated over the intelligence, Mrs. A. asserted that the jewels had never left her possession since their purchase, and claimed that the fraud must have been perpetrated before she received them. This, of course, the firm denied, but the feeling on the subject become very bitter on both sides, and detectives were employed to ferret out the mystery. When a former butler of Mrs. A. was proved to be a discharged clerk of the well-known jewelers, the inference was obvious, although no proof against the man has been found and the jewels have never been recovered.—Boston Gazette.

Pointer for Butter Making.

John Sprague & Son, of Ameliasburg, Ont., the junior member of which firm is instructor for the Ontario Creameries Association, states that they have received 25 barrels of Windsor Salt, and that it is No. 1, both for Cheese and Butter. They consider it the best salt they have used for years, and recommend it to all the Creamery men in Ontario.

Real Temperance Work Progressing.

The good cause of temperance flourishes in spite of the mistake of some of its misguided friends. Drunkenness is becoming less prevalent. The managers of the great railway lines and other corporations are helping the temperance movement by insisting on sobriety among their employes. In congress and in state legislatures there is not one-third as much inebriety today as there was forty years ago. On the farms and in the factories and mills, and wherever men work for their bread, there is a gratifying diminution of intemperance. This "good work goes on" bravely and hopefully. —Washington Post.

Every Day Gives Momentum to the Success of South American Nervine.

Canadian Citizens from Every Quarter Tell of the Extraordinary Results Following the Use of This Wonderful Remedy.

MR. C. G. CHAPIN, OF BURK'S FALLS, ONT.

There is encouragement in the knowledge that even after the skill of eminent physicians has failed, and many medicines have been used, a certain cure for the diseases of life is to be found in South American Nervine. This is a remarkable medicine, especially when the trouble is nervous debility, indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headache, or a general breaking-up of the system. It has made thousands of cures of Canadian citizens all over this beautiful Dominion, and they have not been slow to sing its praises.

The strength of South American Nervine rests in its being something more than a mere tonic. A tonic will give temporary benefit, but if disease is in the system something more is needed to remove it. South American Nervine possesses all the virtues of a tonic, but more than that, it is a disease-healer. It has been discovered that certain nerves have entire control over the stomach, liver, heart, lungs and indeed all internal organs. When disease comes upon the individual, if a careful analysis is made of the trouble, and things are not gone about in haphazard fashion, it will be shown that the disease has its origin in a derangement of these nerve centers. South American Nervine goes at once to the nerve centers and removes the disease. Then strong, rich, pure blood runs through the veins and gives health and exhilaration to all parts of the system. This is one secret of the power of South American Nervine. But it does not stop here. There is no medicine that is so great a nerve-builder, nor flesh-producer as Nervine. It purifies the system. It imparts to it health and vigor, and builds up the constitution.

Now, this is exactly what was done in the case of Mr. C. G. Chapin, a well-known jeweller, of Burk's Falls, Ont. He says: For years I had been much troubled with nervous debility, and believe I had tried all proprietary medicines, but none seemed to relieve me, until I used South American Nervine. To my surprise the first bottle gave me great relief. I am still taking this great remedy and must say I have not felt so well in years. I highly recommend it to all suffering from nervous disease, for it has made a great change in me."

CRICKET.

Toronto, Ontario, Sept. 5—The 22nd international cricket match came to a close yesterday at Rosedale, the Canadian eleven gaining the victory over the team from across the border by a majority of 140 runs, the total scores being: Canada 411, United States 271. The visitors' last wicket fell at 1.30. Bristowe of Ottawa fielded for Gillespie, and will take his place on the eleven against the Englishmen instead of Lyon.

With 25 runs to the credit of their team and two wickets down, Bohlen and Houghton at 11.30 resumed the United States' innings to the bowling of Jacques and Laing. Houghton was caught by the latter off Jacques for 15. Cole followed, but Laing's second ball dismissed him for nothing. Then Bohlen and Cregar formed a lasting partnership, and the Germantonian, who, in the first innings, had appeared the most dangerous of the strangers, began to make things lively for the fielders. He gave a fine display of hard hitting all round the wickets, only giving one doubtful chance in a short stay of 45 minutes. Amid cheers he drove Wadsworth over the grand stand for 6, and in addition made 10 fours, three threes and nine twos, finally being caught and bowled by Lyon for 80. It was a marvellous catch by the Rosedale man—a hard-hit ball only a few inches from the ground. Bohlen's was the largest score made during the match. Cregar stayed on with Brooke, putting up splendid cricket, making four drives for 4, and contributing a creditable 48 before Bristowe took an almost impossible catch in the outfield. Score 171. Brooke (11), Bristowe (0), Sharp (2), and Mallinclodt (2) followed in rapid succession, and Goodman carried out his bat for 14, being the last of the visitors. Scores:

BIG BLAZE IN BOSTON.

A Wharf, Steamer and Freight Sheds Burned.

Boston, Sept. 5.—The Boston and Albany wharf and freight sheds in East Boston, known as Pier 1, Grand Junction docks, were destroyed by fire this morning. The sheds were filled with freight of various kinds, none of which could be saved.

The steamer Burton, from Pregreso, had just discharged 5072 bales of hemp at the Albany wharf and the cargo was burned with the other goods in the freight shed, which also included a large quantity of flour for export. The Cunard steamer Cephalonia was not damaged beyond the blistering of the paint and scorching of the rail on her starboard side. The loss is estimated at $500,000, of which $200,000 falls on the Boston and Albany Railway Company.

FORTY MILES OF FLAMES

Worst Forest Fire New Jersey Has Had in Years—Egg Harbor Menaced.

Cape May, N.J., Sept. 4.—A change of wind to the south gave the forest fire, which began near Woodbine yesterday, fresh impetus this afternoon, and it is burning with great fury. Its line is said to extend for 40 miles, and the flames are eating their way with great rapidity toward Egg Harbor.

It is the worst forest fire in years. Gangs of men are out fighting with might and main to stop its onward rush by back firing, but they are making slight headway. Residents are fleeing from their homes, which are endangered.

Dense masses of smoke and flying cinders are driven before the brisk winds and passengers on the railroad trains are almost stifled. They describe the fire as very alarming.

A Canadian Cruiser Seizes Newfoundland Vessels.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 5.—Private telegrams from Labrador state that Newfoundland fishing vessels have been seized by a Canadian cruiser for a breach of the customs regulations.

Particulars cannot be obtained until the arrival of the mail steamer, which is due to-morrow, but the probable cause is that the vessels were selling salt. By an arrangement between the Canadian and Newfoundland Governments, Newfoundland fishermen fishing in Canadian waters are permitted to carry free of duty what salt they require for curing their own fish. Salt has been unusually scarce along the coast this season and it is believed that some of the vessels seized sold salt to other vessels in violation of the customs regulations.

The Government has decided to take no action until fully informed of the whole circumstances, especially as one seizure has been made because a vessel had a wrong clearance, a merely technical violation.

Mr. Thompson, member of the Assembly for Twillingate, has resigned, receiving a Magistracy, to enable Robert Bond, the Colonial Secretary, to replace him. Mr. Bond has not had a seat in the Lower House since he was disqualified for bribery and corruption last year.

CECIL RHODES NOT DEAD.

On the Contrary He is Reported To Be in Good Health.

London, Sept. 4.—The Agent-General of Cape Colony has received a cablegram setting at rest the rumors of the death of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, the Premier of Cape Colony. The cablegram says that Mr Rhodes is in good health and attending to his business as usual. Mail advices, however, represent him as being in ill health, but these are, of course, of much earlier date than the telegraphic advices.

THE INDIAN BUDGET.

Shows a Deficit Less Than Previous Budgets.

London, Sept. 5.—Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, introduced the Indian budget in the House yesterday. The statement showed that the expenditures of the Indian Government continued to exceed the revenue, but the deficit was less than shown by the previous budgets. The fall in the rate of exchange was the chief difficulty, the Secretary said, but the financial position was distinctly better than it was three years ago.

Mr. J. Kenyon, Conservative, said he hoped that the Government would repeat the cotton duties in India. Hon. H. Fowler, Secretary of State for India under the late Liberal Government urged that the Indian finances ought to be considered with a view to conserving the Indian interest.

Mr. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, concurred in Mr. Fowler's views.

Belleville, Sept. 3.—At the cheese board here to-day 13 factories boarded 1,615 boxes white. 7 9-16c was bid for selections, and 7c for board. No sales.

We are into Ordered Clothing to make it a success. With our buying power—and the above snap is an instance—we propose to push for all there is in it. We will sell for cash and cash only, and instead of expecting $7.00 profit on a $22.00 suit, we will be content with $2.00 profit.

Facts are convincing. Nothing else will carry assurance home. Here is your fact and your opportunity. We place in our centre window a range of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, and

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

PAYMENT OF MEMBERS

Favored by the British Labor Congress.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT CARDIFF.

County Councillors Should Also be Paid —Compulsory Closing of Shops at an Early Hour Urged—Abolition of the Lords Another Plank.

Cardiff, Sept. 6.—The attendance of delegates as well as that of the public at to-day's sitting of the Trades' Union Congress was very meagre. The resolution favoring the payment of salaries to members of Parliament, moved by Mr. E. Cowley of the Miners' Federation, was passed unanimously. It is as follows: "That this Congress tenders its thanks to those members of Parliament who have supported the principle of paying members for their services, and hereby instructs the Parliamentary Committee of the Congress to do their utmost to get the question again introduced into Parliament with a view to its being legalized, coupled with the payment of returning officers' charges, from the local rates.

Mr. W. Inskip of the Boot and Shoe Operatives moved a resolution, opposing the landing of pauper aliens, and Delegate Caplon moved a resolution directly negative. In support of his resolution, Mr. Caplon contended that the remedy for the evils complained of lay in the union of all workers. Experience, he said, showed that foreigners made as good trades' unionists as any in the country. After further debate, Mr. Inskip's resolution was carried by a vote representing 266,000, against 246,000 for the negative resolution. Mr. Inskip's resolution set forth: "In view of the injury done to a large number of trades and trades' unions by the wholesale importation of foreign destitute paupers, this congress calls upon the Government to take the necessary steps, either by bill, official inspection or order, to prohibit the landing of all pauper aliens who have no visible means of support."

The Yorkshire power loom weavers presented a resolution re-committing a motion of the Local Government Act of 1888, so as to include the payment of traveling expenses and ten shillings a day to members of the county councils. It was adopted.

A resolution was submitted by the Thames Waterman and Lightermen, endorsing the principle, that wherever the interests of workingmen are involved, they should have the right of representation (by election) upon public administrative bodies having jurisdiction or control of their actions. This resolution was carried, as was the resolution offered by the National Shop Assistants, in regard to shop hours.

The resolution is as follows: Resolved, that this congress of organized workers repudiates the assumption of those who are opposed to legislative limitation of shop hours, on the ground that the earlier closing of shops would inconvenience the working classes, as it is of opinion that the drastic legislation is needed to safeguard the health of the men and women and young people who work in shops, and hereby authorizes the Parliamentary Committee to assist in the National Union of Shop Assistants, warehousemen and clerks in promoting any early closing bill through the House of Commons to effect that object; and, further, pending practical legislation on the question, the congress calls upon the Trades Unionists not to shop after the hours fixed by the National Union.

Mr. J. M. Jack of the Associated Society of Iron Moulders moved the following resolution: This congress is of the opinion that the representative character of the House of Commons is impaired and its decisions rendered nugatory by the power of the House of Lords, and with a view of maintaining inviolate the supremacy of Parliament this congress calls for the speedy abolition of the second chamber. This resolution was also adopted.

After further business the Convention adjourned.

FEDERATED UNIONS.

The Formation of a National Union Favored in London.

London, Sept. 5.—The third day's proceedings of the Trades Congress opened at 9 o'clock with a resolution that the election of officers be held on Friday morning.

President Joblin read a telegram from President Mallory of the Patrons of Industry regretting inability to have representatives at the meeting of the Congress. "We, however, wish you a most harmonious meeting and continued success."

The report of the committee on constitution was then taken up and the following changes made: 1st, That the name of the body be "The Canadian Federation of Labor." Its object shall be to unite all the labor organizations of the Dominion, so as to secure the repeal of existing laws, the enactment of new laws or amendments to the existing statutes in the interest of wage earners, to formulate and discuss all subjects pertinent to the cause of labor, and to further, by every honorable means the welfare of the working classes. It shall form organizations in localities where none at present exist, either into local unions or assemblies of the Knights of Labor, but in no case shall any body of working men belonging to any trade or calling at present having an international or national union be granted a charter.

In the event of the formation of an international or national union of the trade or calling of the union so chartered being formed, it will be the duty of the proper officers of the Congress to see that said union becomes a member of said international or national union. Unions so organized by this Congress shall be known as "Federal Labor Unions," and shall hold regular meetings for the purpose of strengthening and advancing the labor movement.

The fee for the charter shall be $5. Meetings to be held at least once a month. The Congress shall be composed of delegates duly elected and accredited from trade councils, central labor unions, trades unions, federal unions and district and local assemblies of the Knights of Labor, and the executive of the Patrons of Industry in the Dominion of Canada.

This clause created a warm debate, Delegate St. Pierre making strong efforts to have the name Patrons of Industry struck out. A second amendment was made to have the name of the Socialist party and Industrial Brotherhood inserted. The Congress then adjourned to take a drive around the city.

DEMERS PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

The Inter-Provincial Board of Arbitrators in Session in Montreal No Decision Given Regarding School Funds.

Montreal, Que., Sept. 6.—The Court of Queen's Bench was crowded this morning when Napoleon Demers, accused of the murder of his wife in St. Henri last June, was arraigned. Demers was calm and collected and answered "not guilty, and am ready for my trial," quite steadily. The only evidence of feeling he displayed was when his eyes fell upon his aged mother in the court room. He was represented by Mr. O. Desmaires, who applied for a speedy trial, and after some discussion the crown fixed Monday next as the date.

The Board of Arbitrators to investigate the accounts between the Dominion and the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec is in session here to-day. Provincial Treasurer Harcourt, Mr. J. R. Forsyth, Mr. J. M. Clark and Aemilius Irving, Q.C., represent Ontario. The question taken up at the present sitting was as to whether the $10,506,000 mentioned in the Dominion statute of 1873 is fixed and determined as to the items composing the amount or whether these items can be investigated, inquired into and objected to by the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. It was expected that the board would render judgment this morning on the important question of the school fund argued at the last meeting in Toronto, but that judgment has been postponed.

THE SEIZURES OFF LABRADOR.

Two Schooners Seized For Looting, Another For Having No License

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 5.—Advices from Labrador confirm all reports of the seizure of our vessels. An official letter from Bonne Esperance says that A. L. Howard, Canadian Colector of Customs, has seized the schoners Telegram and Canford, Newfoundland vessels, presumably for loting stores, and they will not accept the duties. They have also seized The Foaming Billow, Captain Baikin of Halifax, Nova Scotia, for not having a trading license which no Halifax vessel ever had. He is causing a great deal of trouble. He tried to seize the stamer Baracoa, a chartered ship, taking a load of fish in Canadian waters, but she escaped. He likewise threatened to seize the Virginia Lake mail steamer, and he has a large schooner armed with guns and revolvers in readiness.

THRILLING TALE OF THE SEA.

Fearful Experiences of a Coal Vessel Off Cape Horn.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—The British ship Mackrihanish, Captain Saunders, arrived last night, 144 days from Swansea, with a cargo of 2347 tons of coal. Nearly every vessel which has reached here in the past week has had a thrilling story of battles with the elements, but the experience of the Mackrihanish were the worst. In June she was hove to for five days off the Horn, during which time heavy seas swept from stern to stern smashing her boats and sweeping everything movable into the sea. A tidal wave buried the vessel at one time, filling her decks, and at another time a blizzard froze her rigging and running gear so that the ship was unmanageable. Ice clustered above the vessel in some places to a thickness of two feet and had to be broken with hammers in order to get at the ropes.

REIGN OF TERROR IN RUSSIA.

Nihilists as Active as in the Worst Days of Alexander III.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—The Lokal Anzeiger learns from St. Petersburg that the Nihilist scare prevailing in the Russian capital has become very intense and measures taken to protect the Emperor and other members of the Imperial family suggest a return of the days marking the worst period of the reign of Alexander III. The summer palace park is closed and the Czar is guarded at his every step. It is reported that the Czarina, whose delicate condition has reached an advanced stage, is suffering greatly from the nervous strain which this state of affairs imposes upon her.

1000 CARS FOR CATTLE

One Manitoba Firm's Order to the C.P.R.

SHOWING EXTENT OF THE TRADE.

Since Last Saturday the Same Firm Had Shipped 300 Cars of Cattle—Work of the Wheat Ring Exposed By The Patron's Advocate.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Sept. 5.—A stock train of 40 cars will leave the western part of the Manitoba and Northwestern to-morrow for Montreal with a shipment of 720 cattle, principally by Gordon & Ironside, the big cattle buyers of this province. This is from a district which only a few years ago many farmers left, saying it was no good, because they could not grow wheat with any degree of assurance, but which is now rapidly becoming known as the finest cattle district in the West. Its rise is as remarkable as this year's wheat crop, only not so striking.

Gordon & Ironside have placed orders with the C.P.R. for a thousand cars at different points, in addition to three hundred cars of cattle shipped since Saturday. No special orders have been placed for grain cars, but is thought the farmers will, when possible, ship wheat to Port Arthur at once.

The Patrons' Advocate calls attention to the wheat conspiracy, and shows the wrong which forced the price of grain down last fall and winter, under a plea of over-supply, until all the farmers had sold out, then raised the price this summer, as an excuse for the millers and others interested to raise the price of flour. It says the same ring, in spite of the vast decrease of the visible supply and crop shortage of the world, will bear prices here as before. The above is quite plausible, as the prices spoken of here are miserably low, only about 40 to 45 cents per bushel.

The reason given by the Neepawa paper why some farm laborers did not get work there at once was because the men, while on the train agreed among themselves to ask for $40 or $50 per month, and the farmers would not give this. It is estimated now that 700 hundred more men are really needed at various points.

Two hundred and seventy immigrants in the province for the month of August, being principally German, French, Scandinavian and Canadians.

A report comes to-day of one field of 21 acres which yielded over a thousand bushels of wheat.

On George Simpson's farm, near Portage, a field of 40 acres of summer fallow yielded 45 bushels per acre of fine wheat. This is authentic.

Thomas Charlton had an average of 32 bushels off 40 acres from a field inside the town limits.

Mr. McArthur of Westbourne is having an average on his whole farm of 30 bushels to the acre. I have not heard of any yield less than 25 bushels per acre for a whole farm.

A private report from Red River Valley says that there is considerable trouble with smut there. It is believed that the use of the same seed over again year after year causes some of the smut. A change of seed usually gives clean wheat, even when the change is only from one part of the province to another. The cause of smut is not fully known yet to farmers. As an instance, near St. Jean, in the Red River Valley, two brothers divided seed grain and after it was bluestoned on one farm there was no smut while on the other smut was very bad. There is considerable smut on the Mitchell farm near Letellier.

Mitchell farms 2000 acres, of which 1100 is wheat, and will have over 30,000 bushels of wheat at the lowest possible average. Some of the crop is exceptionally heavy and will go over 40 bushels to the acre.

Seven threshing machines were going one week ago near Letellier.

There is a delivery of about 50,000 bushels of wheat per day along the Canadian Pacific lines. The prices paid is from 42 to 53 cents.

French Wheat Crop.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The official report of the French wheat crop shows 120,000,000 hectolitres, as against 121,000,000 in 1894. The grain market here weakened to-day upon the issuance of the report, as it was expected that the crop of 1895 would not exceed 110,000,000 hectolitres.

TRADER STOKES' EXECUTION.

Mr. Curzon Mentions the Matter in the House.

London, Sept. 5.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. George N. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, stated that while the documents received from the Congo country in regard to the execution of the British trader, Stokes, by the Belgian authorities, do not contain all the information desired, they still contain enough to show the very serious character of the case.

Replying to a question by Sir Albert Kaye Rollit, member for the south division of Islington, as to whether or not the Government were prepared to make representations to the French Government with reference to the claims of subjects of Great Britain, which the Malagassy Government has refused to recognize, owing to the British recognition of the French protectorate over Madagascar, the Hon. George N. Curzon said that he was not aware of such a refusal, or of any such case as the member had described. Mr. Curzon added that this is an inauspicious time for the presentation of claims, while hostilities are in progress in Madagascar.

Parliament was prorogued to-day.

A hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a state of constant irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to chronic bronchitis. No prompter remedy can be found than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effect is immediate and the result permanent.

In Advanced Years

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." E. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Cornhill, N. B.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1895.

It is reported in the newspapers that Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, has bought a "bike" and is scorching wildly about the county of York, N. B. This is a good preparation for the scorching he and his party will get at the coming general election, the Free Press thinks.

H. M. STANLEY, M. P., may be able to give pointers about the geography of "Darkest Africa" but when he speaks of "Canada and British Columbia" his knowledge of Canadian geography needs severe revision. It's a pity British statesmen would not pay some attention to gaining at least a superficial knowledge of the great colonies and avoid making mistakes that would bring the birch to a ten-year-old Canadian school boy.

THERE is another break in the conduit across Toronto Bay, which supplies Toronto with water. In consequences the citizens will have to drink sewer-polluted water for months. This is really a misfortune, and may have serious effects on the sanitary conditions of the city. Peterborough citizens with their pure water supply cannot sympathize with the citizens of Toronto, but they sincerely pity them. The city's medical health officer is apprehensive of an increase of typhoid, and advises citizens to boil water before using.

ITS conceded that bye-elections generally result in favour of the government of the day and any variation from this condition is generally regarded as indication of more or less widespread dissatisfaction with the powers that be. According to this the present government, in spite of its large following in the House at present, cannot be said to be very high in the favour of the electors. Of the ten bye-elections contested by Liberals and Conservatives that have taken place since the Thompson ministry was formed, the Liberals have won six, of which four are clear gains. Some reference to the handwriting on the wall is not mal apropos.

THE British Trades' Unions are moving in the direction of the eight-hours movement. An attempt is to be made by the Parliamentary Committee of the British Trades Congress to induce Parliament to pass an Act limiting the hours of labour to eight per day in all trades and occupations in the United Kingdom. If the present Imperial Parliament with its overwhelming Tory predominance assents to such a radical change then the millennium is nearer than is generally thought. Social revolution is slow, and the British Tory pace in the direction of reform, unless hastened by the expedient consideration of retaining office, is perhaps slower.

HOLMES, the alleged multi-murderer, is to be tried in Philadelphia. This is as it should be. Though there is reason enough to believe that he committed a double murder in Toronto, yet Ontario is not ambitious, or should not be so, for the doubtful glory of having the trial take place here. We have miscreants enough of our own to deal with without importing them from the United States. Aside from the matter of expense, which would be no inconsiderable affair, the consideration of a sensational murder trial further pandering to the too much depraved public appetite for unwholesome and demoralizing reading, is worthy of attention. Familiarity with the repulsive details of crime has a tendency of deadening the public sense and stimulating the imitative faculty of the depraved, instead of acting as a deterrent. Let the United States keep their unhung rascals at home, and if proven guilty, hang them.

NEW SOUTH WALES, which for a term left protection for free trade, was not fortunate in its experience with the nostrum which Canadian restrictionists place such reliance on. The figures of employment for the protection and revenue tariff periods are most significant, says the St. Thomas Journal. The following table shows the number of hands employed in the colonies, and the total population in each year from 1885 to 1894:

Year.	Population 31 Dec.	Total Hands Employed.
1885	940,670	38,794
1886	989,340	41,677
1887	1,030,330	43,627
1888	1,061,030	42,051
1889	1,081,230	45,564
1890	1,121,360	44,989
1891	1,166,300	46,135
1892	1,197,450	46,826
1893	1,223,370	38,918
1894	1,251,450	42,751

These are interesting as showing that eight years ago, when the population of the colony was less by 230,000 than it is now, and when its policy was that of free trade, it employed 776 more hands in its factories than it does now with a much larger population, and after three years of protection.

THE New York Tribune draws attention to facts that indicate that free trade Great Britain is not so far on the down grade of decadence as high taxation advocates are so fond of asserting. No fewer than sixty-six persons in Great Britain are shown by the income tax reports just published in London to enjoy annual incomes of over $300,000. There are nearly 2,000 more whose incomes range all the way from that figure down to $50,000 a year, while those possessing from $25,000 to $50,000 a year exceed three thousand in number. Some 5,000 people are taxed on $10,000 to $15,000 per annum, and nearly 15,000 citizens make return of incomes ranging from $5,000 to $10,000. When it is borne in mind that the tendency to rate one's income for revenue purposes at the lowest possible figure is almost universal, and that even the most upright and patriotic of citizens think it fair game to "do" the tax collector, it must be admitted, remarks the Tribune, that the showing of the report is eminently satisfactory to Great Britain.

WHO ARE THE PARENTS?

Lace Had an Object in Kidnapping This Child

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 6—William E. Lace, of baby-farm case fame, and whose alleged wife is now serving a sentence for manslaughter, was locked up at Police Headquarters last evening on a charge of kidnapping Frank Beckett. Beckett is 5 years of age, and is one of the five children who, one year ago to-day, were taken from Lace and his wife by the court and given into the charge of the Children's Aid Society.

When the children were taken from them, the Laces pleaded hard for the possession of the Beckett child, but the court refused to grant their request. Since he finished his term in jail Lace has several times endeavored to get the child away from the home of the Children's Aid Society. His latest ruse was successfully carried out, and but for a mere accident he might still have had the boy under his care.

For some weeks past letters have been received by the officers of the society, purporting to come from the boy's grandfather, Chauncey Beckett. The address given was Jarvis, Ont., a village in Haldimand county, and the letters were full of expressions of paternal interest nd love. Finally it was decided to grant the request of the epistles and send the boy, as they thought, to his grandfather. This was accordingly done on Aug. 1.

A few days ago, word was received by officers of the society, which led them to believe that the writer of the letters was not Chauncey Beckett, but William E. Lace. A warrant was sworn out for Lace's arrest, and an officer of the society went to Jarvis yesterday and placed Lace under arrest. The boy was found with him, and brought back to the city.

Chauncey Beckett is the child's grandfather, but he lives, it has been learned, in Simcoe county. The authorities believe that some mystery underlies Lace's anxiety to gain possession of a child which can be nothing but a burden to him.

Toronto's Water Supply Cut Off.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Yesterday witnessed a repetition of the disaster of Christmas Day, 1892, when the four foot and five foot steel conduit pipes, which supply the city with water for domestic purposes, suddenly rose to the surface of the Bay and cut off the supply. The present calamity is even more serious than the former one. The water supply is wholly cut off, and it will be at least two months before the citizens will be supplied with pure water.

The calamity of 1892 was due purely to accidental causes. The cause of yesterday's disaster is a mystery. It will require a full and complete investigation into all the facts before any definite reason can be ascribed for the occurrence.

The first indications of anything amiss were noticed at the waterworks pumping house at about 7.45 yesterday morning. The Rosehill reservoir contained a good supply of water and the men at the pumping station were preparing to close off the four foot conduit so as to enable them to finish the work of cleaning one of the wells. The speed of No. 5 engine had been slackened with the intention of closing down altogether within a few minutes.

They consider it the best salt they have used for years, and recommend it to all the Creamery men in Ontario.

Gross Irregularity in Regard to Schooners' Clearance Papers—A. P. Low Returns From His Labrador Exploration Trip—Cold Storage For Poultry Shipments.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Dr. Tremblay, Government Medical Officer at Esquimaux Point, on the Canadian Labrador coast, and which is 400 miles below Quebec, was in the city to-day interviewing the Postmaster-General in reference to a winter mail service to the place in which he resides. Last year the department provided a monthly service by dog train and it was greatly appreciated by the residents.

Dr. Tremblay also saw the Controller of Customs and explained to him the circumstances which might have led to the seizure of nets of the fishermen engaged off the Labrador coast. It appears that many vessels clear from Halifax or other ports in the Maritime Provinces fro Newfoundland Labrador, purchasing their supplies, stores, provisions, etc., in bond, as the presumption is they are to be consumed, or used, outside of Canadian waters. In place of going to the Newfoundland Labrador many of the vessels frequent Canadian waters to carry on fishing operations. Dr. Tremblay discredits the report of any seizures, as there is no Canadian cruiser at the present time on the Labrador coast. He states, however, that Captain "Gat." Howard, who last fall established a lobster cannery about 300 miles below Esquimaux Point, but in Canadian territory, in his capacity as preventive officer for the Dominion visited all schooners fishing off the Labrador coast about the beginning of July. Out of 250 whose papers were examined, only four were found to have properly cleared. One of these vessels was from Nova Scotia and the other three from Quebec. Many schooners had no clearance papers whatever, several were without registers, and others without licenses. These were mostly schooners from the outports of Newfoundland. Many vessels were even without names. Capt. Howard did not make any seizures, but told the masters they had violated the law and that they must remedy this state of affairs next season. Dr. Tremblay says the despatch from Newfoundland speaking about seizures is utter nonsense, but may be inspired by interested parties.

A. P. Low of the Geological Survey returned yesterday from an extended trip in the wilds of Labrador. He traveled altogether a distance of over 1000 miles in the interior of the country. Mr. Low, who has probably had more experience of Labrador than any other Canadian explorer, states that this trip was the worst he ever had. For two months it rained almost continuously. The rivers were so swollen with the rain that it was exceedingly difficult and dangerous to ascend them. In making one portage he lost one of his men, an Indian. It rained so constantly that the supplies were saturated and made worthless by water. The tents never got an opportunity to dry. The country through which the party traveled, like the rest of Labrador, is only valuable for its mineral resources. Mr. Low states there is an abundance of iron ore everywhere, and good beds of copper. Indications of silver were seen. In places there were forests of some size, but timber is generally small.

The strike on the Central Counties' Railway is over. The 140 men who struck last week for their arrears in wages went back to work on Monday. The difficulty has been settled by the C.A. Ry. agreeing to complete the line, taking it out of the hands of the contractors and re-engaging the men. The company, however, do not assume any of the contractors' indebtedness, but will merely finish the line.

Mr. A. M. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, returned from his vacation to-day. He leaves at the end of the week, accompanied by Messrs. J. S. Dennis and William Pearce for New Mexico, to attend the Irrigation Conference at Albuquerque.

A. G. Gilbert, manager of the Poultry Department at the Experimental Farm has, with the permission of the Acting Minister of Agriculture, sent out a circular to poultry raisers, notifying them that facilities will be afforded on the steamers now fitted with cold storage accommodation for shipments of choice poultry. He asks for the co-operation of different Farmers' Associations in this matter.

Several orders in council have just been passed, making changes in the Inland revenue service, in the nature of promotions and increases of salary. In the Toronto office the following are promoted from second to first-class clerkships: D. J. Brennan, B. J. Doyle, W. T. Graham. From third to second class: W. R. Cook and W. W. S. Howard. The following first-class excise officers received increases in salary: J. E. Bell, D. J. Flynn and D. Murray.

The Marine Department has just established a new light on Pie Island, Thunder Bay District. It will be utilized for the first time on the 15th instant.

An order in council has been passed, renewing the contract for Ouellette-street ferry, Windsor to Detroit, to the present contractors for a period of 10 years, under existing terms.

A short session of the Cabinet was held this morning.

A deputation from Carleton county waited upon the Acting Premier to-day and asked permission for an Experimental Farm trophy to be exhibited at Richmond next week. Sir Adolphe Caron granted the request.

The winter mail service between England and Canada has been renewed with the Allan line for one year.

Dr. Jones and Chief John Chechalk, representing the Missassaguas of the Credit, had an interview with Mr. Scott, Acting Superintendent-General, in reference to a claim of this band against the Government.

A report is current on the streets this afternoon that the Education Department of Toronto had withheld the grant to the Separate schools for the current half year, on account of the present efficiency of the schools. It appears, however, that the great now due would be for the last half year, and the Government is not likely to take radical action, such as that indicated, without first giving the trustees an opportunity to improve matters.

Mr. Lepine, M.P., was here to-day on departmental business.

In connection with the opening of the Soo Canal it appears that the notification of the C.P.R. Company to the captain of the steamer Manitoba, that permission had been granted for the vessel to pass through the lock in advance of the formal opening next Monday, did not reach him in time. The fault, therefore, does not lie with the department that that vessel was not the first to pass through.

A district meeting of delegates of the Epworth League was held here to-day.

Ex-Ald. Cluff will again be a candidate for the mayoralty next January, in opposition to the present occupant of the office, Mr. Borthwick.

CAUSE OF THE CHINESE OUTRAGES.

Acceptance of Monetary Indemnity and Inflammatory Pamphlets Cause Riots.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 6.—The Commercial Gazette prints a letter dated Shanghai, China, Aug. 9, written by Rev. E. T. Williams, six years pastor of the Central Christian Church, this city, secretary of the Foreign Missionary Board of the Christian Church, and now on a tour round the world, who says the recent riotous assaults on Europeans in China were the result of the temporizing policy of the United States and England with China. He says the English accept money indemnity for outrages which the Mandarins are only too glad to pay, as they extort it from friends of the outraged, and thus accomplish a double purpose. He says that within two months the riots have emptied 20 cities in China of American and European missionaries, and yet the American Minister entrusted the interests of Americans to British missions and to commissions partly composed of Chinese officials implicated in the riots.

He says these riots are anti-missionary instead of anti-foreign; that the Government blue book against foreigners contains lies so indecent that it would be a violation of law anywhere in the United States or England to repeat them. He writes that tracts containing blasphemous lies, and illustrated with terribly obscene pictures, written by Mandarin Hunen in 1890, are still in circulation, and are inciting riots. No American or British authority has uttered a word of protest against these monstrous lies. He says, furthermore, that all the riots have been planned in the Yamens and winked at and assisted by the officials.

PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's L'fe Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars
Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars
More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

The Board of Health.

A meeting of the Board of Health was called for last night, but the announcement failed to gather a quorum. The Whyte dam question was to have come up for discussion. This is the second time within a month that a meeting of the Board has been called, and on both occasions the meeting was postponed, the members failing to attend.

Evidently Taken in Mistake.

During the progress of the Grundy sale on Wednesday some person walked off with a wash stand belonging to another party. Yesterday two quilts which were hanging on the baluster in the hall of Mr. Grundy's residence were also taken. These articles were evidently taken in mistake, and Chief Rossel, who has obtained the names of the parties who took them, and requests that the articles be returned.

Looks Plausible, but—

Trust it not, it is full of deception. Do not buy a label; buy a good wine in the bottle. The label may be imposing; and the long price may give confidence; but know this that the day has come when all the people can drink good wine at a cheap rate, at nominal prices. Eight dollars, ten dollars, that day is done! For good Clarets and Burgundies—$3, and $4 per dozen quarts. Tested by the best judges, among whom is Lieut. Governor Chapleau; enjoyed by the people; asked for in all parts of the country. The famed Medoc at a trifle. Rich wines, a little more than the price of beer. No sting; musle blood makers. Oak Hall's Hustling Manager.

The Windsor Times has the following reference to Mr. Moffatt, who is here opening the Oak Hall, the new clothing store in the old Dolan stand:—"John Moffatt left for Peterborough on Monday, carrying with him the good wishes of his army of friends and a gold-headed cane, the gift of the Epworth League. Few young men in this city have made such a good record as Mr. Moffatt, and in all of his undertakings he has exhibited that business tact and sagacity that always makes a winner. He put Oak Hall to the front and in his new field he will make all of his competitors hustle. He believes in printers' ink, and lots of it, and never tires of telling the public the good qualities of Oak Hall clothing.

It consists of Hamilton binder, Crown mower—front cut, Rival mower—rear cut, Hamilton reaper, Tiger rake, Ideal seeder, Elastic spring tooth seeder, Elastic spring tooth cultivator, No. 4 straw cutter, No. 3 straw cutter, No. 5 cutaway cutter, Star gang plow, combination plow, I. X. L. plow, No. 4 plow, No. 7 plow, garden plow, turnip pulper and slicer, turnip drills, souffler, Diamond seed harrow, spring tooth harrow and land roller.

The company has issued a beautifully printed illustrated catalogue of their farm machinery, printed at the Examiner office, which is distributed to visitors and will make profitable reading to those who wish to procure the best harvesting machinery and agricultural implements produced or procurable in the province.

Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last evening and transacted a little business. The members of the committee recommended the placing of a hydrant on Weller street, about 500 feet from the present hydrant. They also recommended the placing of an electric light on Simcoe street, between George and Aylmer streets. The placing of a light at this point will certainly supply a long felt want, as this had always been a dark spot and has frequently been complained of.

15c a Minute is what few people are privileged to make. You can do it by buying a pound of Os-K-osh tea. For the present you can get it for twenty five cents. One thing is sure, a tea that is used every day by a great number of intelligent and prosperous people, and which is admitted to be a good article is cheap at twenty-five cents, and is a safe investment for those who use tea. One dollar will purchase four pounds at our Peterborough store, 370 George street, as at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto. f

A Sad Affliction.

A family in Ashburnham named Shannon has been terribly afflicted during the past few days, and the case is deserving of the attention of the charitably inclined portion of the residents of the village. Mr. Shannon is confined in one room suffering from an attack of pneumonia, while in another apartment Mrs. Shannon is lying dangerously ill. Both cases are considered serious and very little hope is held out for their recovery. To add to their misfortune four little children are running about the house in a destitute condition, the eldest being a boy, who lost a leg some time ago. The case is certainly a sad one, and the neighbours are doing all in their power to comfort the unfortunates.

Opening Attractions.

Read what the Kingston Whig of Sept. 5th says: "The Circus Girl," as produced last evening, is certainly one of the best comedies produced here for some time. It is Frenchy in construction, but it is so full of verbal peculiarities, and the dialogue is so crisp, whilst the situations are so ultra farcical that the laughter is continuous. The end of the second act is undoubtedly the climax of fun. Mr. Lindley last night deviated so much from his custom that one could scarcely recognize the comedian in the cool, gentlemanly, plausible adept at lying, who kept the stage almost continuously and never over-stepped the attributes of his part. The rest of the support was good, noticeably Miss Baker as "The Circus Girl," and Mr. Lee as the bibulous dude. To-night Harry Lindley's own play of "The Castaways" is produced with great scenic appliances, including the wreck at sea, the tacking ship, etc, and Miss Baker introduces operatic dancing." Harry Lindley opens the Opera House season next Monday, and plays the balance of the week, with change of programme nightly. Prices 10c, 15c and 25c. 1d Attractions at the Central Exhibition.

While the attractions generally set up at Fall Exhibitions are somewhat varied from year to year, yet there is, from the nature of things, an air of sameness pervading all such exhibits, which fails to encourage from year to year the attendance of townspeople to the extent that is desirable. Last year the directors of the Central Exhibition showed considerable and commendable enterprise in procuring attractions calculated to draw the attendance of the townspeople, and the ground thus gained in enlisting the interests of the citizens of Peterborough should not be lost. Last year's exhibit, for instance, was of a high order and was of a nature to form a balance of attractions. Tastes vary, and hundreds who care very little for seeing stock or farm products, however worthy in themselves, are attracted by an opportunity of seeing good pictures. In the matter of fondness for pictures, many of us never outgrow our childhood. There is no doubt that a similar art exhibit to that of last year, with the improvements that experience gives, would prove a considerable drawing card to the citizens of the town and county, who are yearly taking greater interest in art. The matter is worthy the serious consideration of the directors. An exhibition to be successful must not in the matter of attractions be one-sided, no matter how excellent that one side may be—the various tastes of the public should be catered to.

This machinery consists of main engine of 200 horse power, and an electric light, of 35 horsepower, with the necessary condensers, pumps and boilers. The machinery put in has been thoroughly tested and, like all the work of this Company, has proven eminently satisfactory. The contractor for the elevator, which has a capacity of 500,000 bushels, is very highly pleased with the efficient and satisfactory manner in which Mr. Harvey has performed the important work of placing the machinery.

DR. PARKIN DINED.

Dr. Parkin, the newly appointed Principal of Upper Canada College, was given a dinner in Toronto on Thursday evening. The Hon. Geo. W. Ross, during his remarks said he had been delighted, in administering the affairs of Upper Canada College, to find that while there was some opposition to the continuance of the college, there was yet a sufficient demand for its maintenance to justify the Government in going on with it. They felt that it had a constituency of its own, and that it had a work to do in this country, that it might to a certain extent take the place here that was taken by the Public Schools in England. It was well that in the educational affairs of the country there should be diversity in unity. As to the justification for the existence of the college Mr. Ross pointed out that those who supported it were among the heaviest Public and High School taxpayers, and that if they chose to pay fees for their sons at Upper Canada College they should be allowed to do so. If they were not, they could send them to the American schools, which God forbid—(loud applause)—or they could send them to the English schools, which would be the next best thing to sending them to Upper Canada College.

The Kingston Freeman says that the protest against the Hon. Wm. Harty, Commissioner of Public Works for Ontario, is the outcome of a threat made by the P. P. A. brigade of Kingston, "whereby they subscribed part of the petition money, handed it over to the Conservative Executive Committee and demanded that the remainder of the funds be put up by the association; if not the P. P. A.'s would cry quits with the local Conservatives." It asserts that some members of the Conservative committee resisted, but that they were over-ruled, and the result was a surrender to a party which is endeavouring to drive Mr. Harty out of public life simply because he is a Roman Catholic.

OPERA HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS.

Bradburn's Opera House Undergoing Considerable Repairs.

Manager Bradburn of the opera house will certainly have the neatest play house in the Midland District when the improvements contemplated are carried out.

During the past two weeks Mr. Ralph Carton and staff have been busily engaged with the brush on the interior of the building.

The ceiling has been papered in terra cotta and cream and presents a very bright and attractive appearance.

The walls and woodwork have been painted in colours to correspond with the elaborate ceiling and the boxes on either side of the stage will be treated to a dress of gold and white.

The stage and scenery, it is expected, will be also touched up and improved, as well as the dressing rooms in the rear.

The improvements made so far have brought about a marked change in the interior appearance, and opera goers this year will have the opportunity of attending the different attractions in a bright and attractive opera house.

Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

The town is well lighted now with our electric lights and forty-eight "model lights." We are a bright town.

Mr. J. Williams has secured a situation in a drug store in Whitby.

Messrs. Code, Ash, A. Robertson, F. Fry, S. Hendren and W. Rutherford, spent Labour Day at Belmont Lake.

A very successful social was held on the Methodist church lawn last Friday evening. The Norwood band was present. After refreshments had been served a delightful programme was rendered in the school room.

The Model School opened on Tuesday with an attendance of 48. Mr. F. E. Pervey is principal, while Mr. B. Hales has taken charge of Mr. Pervey's room.

The council met on Monday evening, Reeve Pearce in the chair; Councillors Drain, Stuart and Reynolds present.

Minutes of last regular meeting read and signed.

Pay sheet No. 3 was passed as follows: A. Sloan, $3; G. Peters, $6.15; A. Reynolds, $1.00; G. Reynolds, $1.00; C. Wood, $5.50; Geo. Heagle, $2.00; R. Scriver, $19; W. P. Plant, $24; Jas. Kellett, $5.

Mr. Chas. O'Reilly appeared on behalf of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, to ask the council to memorialize the C.P.R. Company to run a passenger car from Norwood to Peterborough on the evening of Oct. 9, the night of the Norwood Fair.

On motion of Councillors Stuart and Drain the request was granted.

A communication from Mrs. Sargent, rent for house occupied by J. Ford, was read. No action was taken.

On motion of Councillors Stuart and Reynolds, George Patterson was allowed $1.50 towards reparing culvert on Mill street.

A by-law to add 5 per cent. to all taxes not paid before Dec. 14 was discussed, but no action was taken.

Labour day was spent very quietly in Norwood. In the afternoon a cricket match was played by a team from Hastings and a home eleven. Neither side was in practice, but yet the match was an interesting one. As will be seen by the score, the visitors were not in it:—

THE SALE OF TOBACCO AND LIQUOR TO MINORS.

Sections of the Law Which Will be Strictly Enforced.

A circular issued by the Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children, of Ontario, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, contains the following sections of the law, relating to the selling of tobacco and liquor to minors, to which the attention of parties interested is called:

SELLING TOBACCO TO MINORS.

Chapter 52, Ontario Statutes, 1892.

Sec. 1.—Any person who either directly or indirectly, sells or gives or furnishes to a minor under 18 years of age, cigarettes, cigars or tobacco in any form, shall on summary conviction thereof before a justice of the peace, be subject to a penalty of not less than $10, or more than $50, with or without costs of prosecution, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for any time not exceeding thirty days.

SELLING LIQUOR TO MINORS.

Chapter 194, R. S. O.

Sec. 76.—Any licensed person who allows to be supplied in his licensed premises by purchase or otherwise, any description whatever of liquor to any person apparently under the age of eighteen years, of either sex, not being resident on the premises or a bona fide guest or lodger shall, as well as the person who actually gives or supplies the liquor, be liable to pay a penalty of not less than $10 and not exceeding $20 for every such offence.

(2) Any licensed person who allows to be supplied in his licensed premises, by sale or otherwise, any description whatever of liquor to any person under the age of twenty-one years (hereinafter called minor) in respect of whom a notice in writing has been given to any such licensed person, signed by the father, mother, guardian or master of such minor, correctly stating the age of such minor, and forbidding such licensed person to sell or supply such minor with liquor, the said minor not being resident on the premises or bona fide guest or lodger shall, as well as the person who actually gives or supplies the liquor be liable to pay a penalty of not less than $10 and not exceeding $20 besides costs for every such offence.

SIR CHARLES RIVERS-WILSON'S LINDSAY VISIT.

Scugog City Goes Crazy Over the Railway Magnate.

The Lindsay Warder says:—"The neighbouring hamlet, Peterborough, had been pluming itself on an expected visit from Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, the new President, and general staff officers of the Grand Trunk Railway. As Mr. Paton explains, the officers could not find time to stop at each town, hence the over-looking of our neighbours. The following correspondence explains itself. It occurred in anticipation of the visit to Lindsay:

LINDSAY, August 31st, 1895,

W. Hayden, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—The President, I understand, will not be able to visit small places this trip. On this account you will hardly see him. He will be here on Monday, however, and as your stove is said to be polished in great shape, I thought perhaps you would loan it to me for the occasion. I will explain to him, of course, that it is your stove, and that you helped shine it yourself. What do you say?

Yours fraternally,
A. M. PATON.

PETERBOROUGH, August 31st, 1895.

A. M. Paton, Lindsay:

DEAR SIR,—I understand the President's chief objection to pass over the Midland is that he has a holy horror of mud, and as that hamlet of yours has an unenviable reputation for producing that article in vast quantities, I can fully sympathize with him. Sorry I cannot comply with your request for a loan of my stove. I am afraid its lustre would be diminished by the fogs of that marshy swamp, which with stumps forms the landscape of the mighty Scugog; also the art of polishing is specially my own, and it would be simply useless for anyone there to endeavour to copy it. However, I do not like to see a good fellow stuck, so I will let you have our old camp stove, it will be in perfect accord with the general surrounding of that delectable locality. Many thanks old man for the hint. Forewarned, forearmed you know.

Fraternally yours,
W. HAYDEN.

Trilby's Foot.

The step 'twixt the sublime and ridiculous is quickly made. Surely literature presents no more grotesque idealization than Trilby's foot, and the numerous worshippers that have figuratively speaking bent knees and kissed the big toe of the foot, when reason once more come to their rescue, will feel as if the production of the genuis Ass were perennial. By the way did you notice when reading Trilby how highly it commended Putnam's Corn Extractor, which renders impossible the discordant excrescence, corns. Trilby's foot would not be worthy of homage if marred by corns; neither would yours. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

THE HUFFMAN HOUSE.

Brief Description of This Elegant New Hotel—Fine Airy Rooms and First Class Furnishings—A Complete Combination of Comfort and Luxury.

The Huffman House, next east of the Customs building on Charlotte street and on the corner of the market square and Water street, is now one of the finest and most completely and best equipped hotels in the district. The building, admirably situated and facing the river with a wide view on the east, is well planned for making a first class hotel and the renovation made by Mr. Huffman, and the excellent equipment and furnishing, make the Huffman House in every respect a first-class hotel and well worthy the patronage of the travelling public.

The renovation embraces a complete repainting of the building from the basement to the attic, so that, with entire new furniture throughout, absolute cleanliness obtains. Briefly referred to, the accommodations are as follows: On the ground floor, at the entrance, is the spacious rotunda containing the broad, richly carpeted stairway, which continues, from floor to floor, to the roof, which is pierced with a lantern, glazed with coloured glass, which throws a mellow light below. To the left of the rotunda is the private reading room, handsomely carpeted, the doorways provided with chenille portieres. Sofas and luxurious easy chairs and handsome curtains give this fine parlour a cosy home-like appearance which is not detracted from by the curtained alcoves at the further end. Next come the general reading room and the handsomely appointed offices, and behind that is the elegantly equipped bar. A spacious dining room with elegant furnishings in keeping with the rest of this floor, has a menu of the highest order. The lavatory and closet system are worthy of special mention and all appointments and plumbing are of the very latest style. The lavatory washbasins are of marble with nickel silver fittings.

The second and third floors are in keeping with the character of the first. On the second floor the corridors are wide and richly carpeted and furnished here and there with sofas and comfortable seats for rest. On this floor are four large finely furnished parlours, and a cosy reception room, opening on a balcony that overlooks the market square. There are besides twelve large bedrooms, all newly and elegantly furnished, those on the eastern side opening upon balconies overlooking the river and taking in a fine view. On the third floor are 28 bedrooms, all of large size and all thoroughly equipped with first-class furnishings. All the bedrooms are provided with incandescent electric lights and electric call bells. A cosy, home look is given the rooms by lace shades to the incandescent globes, and other little fancy articles tastefully distributed. In fine, nothing is omitted in any part of the establishment that can be expected in a first-class hotel.

As before mentioned the building has been papered and painted anew, thus making everything clean and sweet, a condition which, under the capable oversight of Mrs. Huffman, will continue to prevail. Both she and Mr. Huffman have had a long experience in the management of first-class hotels; they understand thoroughly the wants of their guests and the manner of catering to them in the most acceptable manner. Assisted by a completely and elegantly equipped hotel building, replete in all modern requirements, they are in a position to confidently solicit for the Huffman a liberal share of the public patronage and to guarantee first-class accommodation and service and the most courteous attention to every want.

Their patronage since the house was opened has been very encouraging, and with the added improvements and with others to follow, the Huffman House has a promising future.

This morning a most handsome new hotel bus, elaborately decorated and made by St. Charles & Pringle, Belleville, arrived, and was put into commission.

In the renovation of the house, the plumbing was done by Mr. Adam Hall, under the superintendence of Mr. E. A. Kemp, in the thorough and effective manner that characterizes the plumbing work of this establishment.

The painting and paper hanging (the paper supplied by the Peterborough Bookstore) was very creditably done by Messrs. Sanderson & May.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day" performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurane in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would no doubt prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though (as will be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award due credit to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and, therefore, of the higher value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of his claim that Maltine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel," and affirms that "it is a wonderful heart sustainer." This preparation may be had of all druggists, and may be relied upon as an agent of infinite value in nervous prostration and brain exhaustion, resulting from undue strain upon the mental or physical energies.—Daily Globe, July 6, 1895.

CRICKET.

It is to be hoped that the walkover the Canadians had with the American cricketers presages a similar victory for the British yacht Valkyrie III over the Yankee Defender. She will at least put the cisatlantic yacht on her defense. The first of the five races will be sailed to-morrow, barring accidents.

The scores in the International Cricket match in Toronto are creditable to both teams. They look something like the scores in first class Old Country matches. Cricket, however, seems to be dead in Peterborough. Where are the stalwarts? There is plenty of good material in town, in one sense, but the true spirit of cricket seems to have fled.

THE WHEEL.

A meeting of the members of the Peterborough Bicycle Club was called for in the parlours of the club, Charlotte street, last night, but very few members turned up, and in consequence little business was transacted. It is expected another meeting will be called at an early day.

Percy Brown's good race on the tandem with Sam Gibbons, at Peterborough, led to his being engaged by the Brantford Co., and in the future will wear the all red of the "Red Bird" team, along with Marshall Wells, Angus McLeod, Sam Gibbons and Harley Davidson.

Loughead has given up his idea of following out the circuit and has gone home. He will probably do all his record work on the Sarnia track, and not at Springfield, as was at first intended.

Angus McLeod has gone to Sarnia for a few days' rest.

J. P. Bliss won the mile open, with Rigby second and E. E. Johnson third, at Buffalo, yesterday.

Poultry Houses and Yards.

Give fowls free range, and where this is impracticable or impossible, endeavor to make their surroundings conform as nearly as possible to the natural state. A comfortable roomy house is the first requisite. More double-boarded, two-roomed houses, large enough for comfort are needed. Every such house should have either an east or south entrance, a liberal number of windows and should be elevated about 18 inches from the ground. The wind will thus pass under it freely, insuring a dry floor. I prefer an inch or so of dry sand upon the floor, which needs to be removed frequently. Good yards are also necessary—the larger the better. Hhey most not constitute a source of disease on account of accumulated filth and dampness. Spade up and turn over a liberal portion of the yard every Saturday night. Drain away all water from the premises, digging a ditch or two if necessary.

Pointer For Poultrymen.

In feeding chickens provide pen or netting like the illustration, or it may be made of slats, under which the little chicks may feed without being crowded away by the larger ones. It can be raised as the chickens grow, and is one of those clever little devices that help to secure the poulterer's profits.

GOOD ROADS.

Wide Tires Preferable to Narrow Ones in the Majority of Cases.

Starting with a wagon and load weighing 4,590 lbs, it was found in Indiana that a 3-inch tire required 150 lbs less draft to be drawn over sod than a 1 1-2-inch tire; 150 lbs less draft on a hard road and 300 lbs less draft to move a load on a dead pull. The conclusion of this experiment may be summed up as follows:

1—On hard roads, block pavements and other permanent and substantial roads there is no argument, so far as actual draft is concerned, in favor of the wide tire, the effect being rather against the wide tire.

2—In their effect upon hard roads the wide tires have the advantage. This benefit is not sufficiently appreciated by turnpike and macadam road companies.

3—In soft mud, slush and under similar circumstances, under which even the wide tire cuts in, the advantage is against the wide tire and in favor of the narrow.

4—On sod and soft ground, where the wide tire does not cut in and the narrow does, the advantage is on the side of the wide tire.

Experiments at the Utah Experimental Station demonstrated that a given load on 1 1-2-inch tire drew 41.6 per cent. heavier than when on a 3-inch tire, the draft being on a fairly stiff grass sod. On a moist but hard road the 1 1-2-inch tire drew 12.7 per cent. heavier than the 3-inch.

Wide tires are not only lighter in their draft than narrow ones under nearly all condition, but cut up roads very little, in fact, when 6-inches wide tend to make the road bed better continually. They could be gradually substituted for the present narrow ones and better roads be the result, especially on the farm and on turnpikes largely used by farmers.

BUTTERFLY AND FAN TRICK.

How It is Practiced by the Japanese Jugglers.

Japanese jugglers use invisible threads to great advantage in some of the tricks performed by them. One of the cleverest of these is the butterfly and fan trick. It is done in a very simple way, and yet looks so natural that the spectators are pleased with the effect. Two or more paper butterflies are attached by a hair of from twelve to fifteen inches in length. This hair is again attached in the centre between the butterflies with another hair or fine black silk thread two and one-half or three feet long—one end being attached to the juggler's belt.

The juggler arrives on the scene with the butterflies in one hand and the fan in the other. With the first motion of the fan they seem to fly away, but the hair holds them together more or less—the appearance being that they flutter about and around each other very gracefully. With a little practice one can easily acquire the trick and make the butterflies settle on a bouquet, on the arm or any other place near at hand that may be desired.

Describes the condition of thousands of people at this season. They have no appetite, cannot sleep, and complain of the prostrating effect of warmer weather. HOMEMADE CHEESE.

The Implements to Make It Are Few and the Process Simple.

The implements needed are very few, and such as are to be found in every household, with perhaps the exception of the hoop. This can be easily made from a discarded measure, such as a peck or half-bushel, or a cheese hoop can be obtained from the store and cut down to the required size. A cheese weighing 10 pounds is of convenient size. Choose a cool spell so that if enough milk cannot be obtained at one milking it can be saved and added to the morning's milk. A piece of rennet the size of the hand, previously soaked for 24 hours in a pint of water, or a rennet tablet is added to the milk. Place over the fire in any small vessel large enough.

For our cheese making, we used a tin wash boiler holding about 12 gal. Stir in the whey made by soaking the rennet; or, if a tablet is used, dissolve and add to the milk. Stir until thoroughly mixed or incorporated with the milk. Heat gradually up to 84 degrees F., remove from the fire and let stand until coagulation takes place, after which the curd should be cut into small squares to allow the whey to escape. The whey should be of a greenish cast and transparent when the curd is set. If the whey is milky it denotes that it was not heated enough or there is a deficiency of rennet.

After the curd has set which will be in about half an hour, dip off all the whey possible before removing the curd, have a square of cheese cloth scalded and spread in a clean basket, which should be placed in a tub or other vessel large enough to hold the whey. A clothes basket can be used, being careful to wash and dry quickly after.

Dip the curd from the boiler, place in the cheesecloth and let drain awhile. Then with the hand, break the curd up fine and salt to taste. Gather the cloth by four corners and shake well until well settled in the centre of cloth. Place in the hoop, place the hoop on a clean board and put to press; a bench or even the sink can be used if no other place can be found. Fold the cloth evenly over the curd and place the follower or cover over it. A small weight should be used at first, changing to a heavier weight afterward. Let remain in press 30 hours, turning once and clean wet cloth being used to turn it upon. Afterward set away a day to dry, then grease well with melted butter, turn every day and repeat the process for one week. Bandage the sides and keep in a cool, dry place secure from flies. I use no annotto for coloring, preferring the color to be natural.

GROWING IN GREAT CLUSTERS.

Cherries That Cluster Together Like Currants on the Branch.

In 1878 a delicious cherry was discovered growing in the mountains of Larimer County, Colorda. This was unlike any cherry commonly cultivated, as it was found growing on very dwarf trees, and the fruit was borne on every branch in dense clusters, the bunches more like grape or currant clusters rather than cherry. It created quite a sensation among nurserymen when first introduced, and cultivation has improved the original variety. As a late cherry it now appears in our Eastern markets at the same time with the plums, and a successful cultivator claims he has picked from fifteen to twenty quarts of the fruit from a three-year old bush, and he has counted eighty cherries on a branch twelve inches in length from a two-year-old bush. The fruit when ripe is jet black, and of a size somewhat larger than the English Morello and is very sweet. The small trees or bushes seldom reach a height of over four feet, but the branches are so thickly clustered with the cherries that the yield is quite as prolific as that from large trees of other varieties. When marketed small branches are often broken from the bush, showing its peculiar habit of growth, and when these are noticed in the future we will know that we are indebted to the Rocky Mountains for this fine fruit.—Philadelphia Record.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

That hacking cough can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

That is the case with many people. They need spectacles, and the strange part of it is that some folks never know how bad their eyes are until they have them tested. Have been going through life without seeing as much as they ought to see—perhaps suffering from headaches and tired eyes.

If you will call at Sanderson's Jewellery Store, George street, your eyes will be examined free of charge. If you need Glasses they will be supplied at a reasonable price. Do not neglect this matter and so be like those who have EARS TO HEAR AND HEAR NOT.

ABOUT LABOUCHERE.

THE EDITOR OF LONDON TRUTH IN HIS SANCTUM.

Personality of a Very Remarkable Man—His Course in Parliament and His Methods as a Speaker and a Journalist—Some of His Opinions.

C. Frank Dewey writes as follows from London to the Chicago Inter Ocean:

"I really could tell you nothing particular about myself," was the brief message the busy member for Nottingham, editor of London Truth, and litterateur, Henry Labouchere, sent in answer to my inquiry. On the following day, however, I called on him by appointment, for in busy London everything must be done by appointment.

No. 5 Old Palace Yard is within the precincts of Westminster—I might say, inside the Parliament buildings, with but a step for England's enfant terrible to cross over.

I am told he is the first to arrive and the last to leave the House.

In St. Stephen's ancient quarter every house bears the stamp of age, and Mr. Labouchere's palace is a typical example of that class.

The "knocker" admits into a large octagonal foyer, under a cupola of vari-colored glass. The most conspicuous ornament in this large, bleak, chilly, stone-floored hall is a large wooden chest, old enough to have been King Lear's steamer's trunk, and an iron box as black as the gates of the tower. In another minute I was ushered at once into the presence of the famous parliamentarian, wit and lobbyist, whose keen-edged words have frequently caused heated discussion and many a heart ache in the sacred circles of Mayfair.

It's a truly old-fashioned parlor in which we are sitting, with a high ceiling, low window and glass doors.

An uncommonly large fireplace, more fit to be on a Texas ranch, emits a volume of heat into this spacious room, which, on account of repairs going on in the other parts of the house, serves the three-fold purpose pro tem, of parlor, reception-room and library. The modern Juvenal reclines negligently in a big arm-chair, and rests his feet on the iron fender.

Mr. Labouchere is perfectly self-possessed, some call it blase, but I prefer the former expression. His large head sits well on the stocky frame, and from under the thick eyebrows the rather small but piercing luminaries look positively, always steadfastly, and in moments of animation snap savagely.

If the face is a study there is nothing attractive in the cheap smoking-jacket, over a pair of bilious-colored trousers and shiny boots of no particularly cut or style.

Mr. Labouchere loves to display his forehead. It is broad and full, and particularly copious over the eyes. Nor is there much poetry in his expression.

He is an idealist. Neither melancholy nor vacillation has found admittance into those hard lines about the mouth. The eyelids are baggy from late hours, and possibly from much anxiety, but indomitable courage is traceable in the distended nostrils. Those hard cheeks and the grimly-compressed lips are not given to frivolous merriment. His is a cold laugh—a distant smile, tinged with satire, which reverberates his speech.

Mr. Labouchere, as I have said, is perfectly self-possessed. He prefers to employ every moment of his life's fickle stay to some practical purpose, and his occupations are many.

Notwithstanding our animated conversation, he went on cutting the pages of a new book sent him for review; how soon he'll cut the author, the next number of Truth may tell.

Occasionally he looks up with an ambiguous smile, seldom with confidence. "Do I believe in interviews? Certainly not," and he emphasizes the negative with an unmistakable cockney accent. "Why did you come to see me? You might have written anything and saved yourself the bother. A good journalist has no need of the principal; it's wasted time. Write anything pertinent to the subject; shape it so as to suit your readers; who cares? And if the interviewed party were to say a lot of things, the journalist would only repeat that which suits the purpose. Therefore I think it advisable to write the interview in the editorial rooms."

"But, Mr. Labouchere," I interrupted, "surely this cannot be your serious opinion; neither would you practice it yourself."

"Well, no; but then we edit Truth—and nothing but the truth," and Mr. Labouchere permitted one of those abbreviated smiles to illumine his cynical face.

"The fact is, we must not always practice what we preach," he went on. "Consistency is too stale, in a sense. The modern world requires acid, spice, and all piquant sauces of scandal and fiction."

"My opinion on the House of Lords? It is useless to repeat," and he pulled himself up in the rocker. "I am irrevocably opposed to it. We do not want an unnecessary evil, and the days of legislators by divine right are past.

"You have a tolerably good system of government, but deficient in practice. I daresay your improvements have kept apace, else your eagle would hardly scream so loud.

"But I will let you invent the rest of this interview," and he lit another cheap cigarette, of which he appears particularly fond.

As the time went on, however, Mr. Labouchere became a trifle more loquacious. "Oh, yes! I recollect that interview at Lake Como two years ago. I was rusticating in Tuscany, so was Hurlbert. I did the smoking and Hurlbert wrote the interview. Do I recollect the contents? Certainly not, nor do the publishers" (with a pull at his pointed beard).

"Hurlbert is a good fellow, but that interview will hardly survive his fame."

To my question how he managed to edit such an interesting paper and participate in almost every question in Parliament, he replied: "Mental discipline and physical training is the secret of my success. I eliminate all useless questions, and grasp the opportunity by the forelock, as Socrates would have said. I never get mixed, nor do I feel a lack of resolution. My course is clear, and from which I seldom deviate. Of course I am not without assistance," and turning about I saw at the other end Mme. Labouchere at her desk assorting a stack of letters and manuscripts.

In a moment I divined the secret of his success, for Mrs. Labouchere has become as clever in literature as she used to be on the stage.

At nearly three score years of age this modern Juvenal has established a name in London's history, and next to the late Mr. Parnell is the most feared man in Parliament as well as in society.

He understands how in an eminent degrees to interest members of the highest aristocracy, often reaching up to the Queen's own circle, who serve his paper with social gossip, which, under his facile pen, assumes piquant and interesting form.

In Parliament his satire and keen-edged wit has often pierced the opponent's shield, and although he may lack originality his criticism is often logical and almost always feared.

Of course, Mr. Labouchere is somewhat of an egotist; but he is entitled to a reasonable amount of self-adulation, for he is the architect of his own fortune, having attained to present eminence in society, letters and politics by sheer industry, courage and originality.

From a simple clerkship when a young man of twenty-four, he became a partner in a famous London firm, and about twenty years ago embraced journalism and politics. At a period when England's politics was divided by legion of irreconcilable questions—from Disraelian Imperialism to Gladstonian Liberalism—Mr. Labouchere entered the latter's triumvirate, and no one appeared stancher in support of England's G. O. M. than the editor of Truth.

On the whole Mr. Labouchere is a lively and energetic man for an Englishman, and if he has a habit of getting into trouble he has also a happy knack of getting out of it.

For instance, the other day, after he had printed an important piece of news about the proper way to cook crawfish, and a humane reader of Truth expostulated with him about his advice to the cook to cut the live fish in halves, he retorted merrily by expressing the opinion that it is ridiculous sentiment to treat creatures of low or rudimentary organization as if they had the same susceptibility to pain as a human being, and settled the question finally by telling an anecdote about an angling friend of his who once "caught a perch foul."

"The hook pierced the fish's eye. My friend felt that he had not caught the perch according to the rules of the game, so, to compensate him for losin his ye, he put him back into the water He then baited his hook with the eye and went to work again. Within three minutes he caught the same perch again with his own eye."

This is a capital fish story. I haven't heard a better tale in a long while. It is a lie, of course, but all fish stories are, and it has the merits of originality and humor. I like Mr. Labouchere the better for such harmless fibs.

Delicious Cream Spinach.

Four quarts of spinach, one large head of lettuce, one tablespoonful of sugar, a slight grating of nutmeg, one teaspoonful of flour mixed with half a pint of cream or milk. Clean the spinach and lettuce and put them in a stewpan with one quart of boiling water. Boil rapidly for five minutes, then turn the vegetables into a colander, and pour cold water over them. Press as much water as possible from the vegetables and then chop very fine. Put the butter in a stewpan and on the fire. Add the minced vegetables and seasonings and cook gently for fifteen minutes; then add the flour and cream and cook fifteen minutes longer.—August Ladies' Journal.

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $30,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

New York, Sept. 5.—The impression seems to have obtained prevalence in London that the American odds on Defender are 3 to 1. At that odds Englishmen would be willing to lay almost any wise wager, and would be perfectly justified in so doing. But no such odds are offered even by ultra-patriotic Americans, while those who have seen both yachts and are able to judge of their relative qualities estimate that 2 to 1 would be too much to offer against such a promising craft as Valkyrie. A few bets have been made at those odds, it is true, but as the day of the race approaches the general disposition is to make the odds 2 to 2 or 5 to 4. There is no doubt that Valkyrie is within a fractional foot of the 90-foot limit, that her sail area surpasses that of Defender, and that she will have to give the American sloop a time allowance of a minute or more. Some of the Englishmen who have discreetly offered to lay odds of 1 to 3 against Defender have varied this proposition by offering even money that the visitor wins one race of the series. Many astute Americans would bet the same way, as they feel assured that the English single-sticker will be fleet as a phantom in a light breeze and will under drifting conditions have an equal if not superior fighting chance with Defender. A light breeze may be looked for in some one of the races if not in the majority of them, so the average New York yachtsman will be satisfied if Defender wins 3 out of 4 or even 3 out of 5.

Saturday's International yacht race will be the occasion for an innovation in the means of transmitting news of the progress of the contest between the champion boats. The public of both the old and the new world are to have prompt and accurate information of the progress of the yacht races between Defender and Valkyrie through the enterprise of the Commercial Cable Company, whose steamer Mackay-Bennett will lay a submarine cable to the scene of the yacht races. The end of the cable will be on board and specially connected with England and France through the company's main ocean cable, landing at Coney Island. The Postal Telegraph Company will also have an office on board the MacKay-Bennett, and will forward telegrams to all points in the United States and Canada.

Defenders' loadwater line length is 89.85 feet; sail area 12,600 square feet; racing length 100.10. Valkyrie III.: Loadwater line 90 feet; sail area 12,500 square feet; racing length 100.00.

ENGLAND'S ATHLETIC TEAM.

Celebrated Athletes From Across the Water.

New York, Sept. 5.—The big Cunarder Aurania, which steamed slowly up to the Columbian line dock, foot of Christopher-street, at half-past 6 o'clock last evening, had on board two teams of British athletes, one of which is to contest for international honors against a picked team of New York Athletic Club men at Manhattan Field on Sept. 21, and the other will contest for the international collegiate supremacy against the Yale team on Oct. 5. They are from the London Athletic Club and Cambridge University.

The full list of the London A.C. athletes is: C. A. Bradley and A. R. Downer, who will represent the London Club in the 100 yard dash; G. Jordan and W. Fletcher, who will run in the 220 yard and 440 yard events; F. S. Horan, in the half and three-quarters mile; Godfrey Shaw, the hurdler; W. J. Oakley, the hurdler and broad jump; W. E. Lutyens, one and three-mile events; Reginald Williams, high jump; W. Mendelssohn, broad jump; A. B. Johnstone and G. S. Robertson, hammer throwing, and E. J. Watson, weight putting.

The London A.C. men are captained by Godfrey Shaw and trained by the old timer Jack White, who was also aboard Fletcher, Horan, Lutyens, Johnstone, Mendelsohn and Watson are Cambridge men and eligible to take part in both events.

Among the other Cambridge men aboard were F. M. Jennings, C. H. Lewin, L. A. Pilkington, G. Gomer Williams, E. H. Wilding and H. L. Davenport, President Horan is in charge of the Cambridge W. G. Hemingway, who at present is playing with the Cambridge cricket team, their matches against the crack All Australian willow wielders is also eligible to play in the Cambridge athletic team, and will probably be called upon for the running broad jump.

The only member of the London Athletic Club team who did not arrive yesterday is R. J. Wilkins, the long-distance runner. He has taken passage on the Majestic, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday, and will probably arrive here on Sunday or Monday next.

Although the coming meeting is called a match between the London Athletic Club and the New York Athletic Club, it is really an international struggle between all America and all England.

The Ex Premier Coming to Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—One of the important announcements made by Dr. Parkin at the National Club last evening was that Lord Rosebery had intimated to his friends that he would pay another visit to Canada at an early date. Lord Rosebery, it may not be generally known, was in Canada as a very young man in 1872, and at that time made a very close study of Canadian politics and Canadian public men. London, Sept. 6.—The House of Lords yesterday passed through all their stages without debate the bill for the removal of any doubts as to the validity of the act of the Dominion of Canada, respecting the deputy Speaker of the Senate and the bill respecting the thirteenth section of the Irish Land bill of 1891.

His Elevator Experiment Was Fatal.

Montreal, Sept. 5.—John Graham, 9 years old, a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, convalescing from lung trouble, about two weeks ago strayed from the ward, and while the elevator man was absent for a moment, started the machine. He was carrried up with it until he struck the door and then fell to the floor of the shaft, injuring his skull. Despite careful attention the lad died. An inquest was held to-night, and a verdict attributing his death to the elevator being left open returned, but not holding the elevator man criminally responsible.

Saving Waste.

For the privilege of picking out rags, bones, bottles, tin cans, etc., at the various dumps, Italian contractors pay to the city of New York about $80,000 a year; from which it is inferred that if there were a complete system for the separation and collection of these articles in the houses where they are discarded much more would be recovered. Mr. Waring, chief of the New York Street Cleaning Bureau, thinks it safe to assume that "with a universal and well-regulated collection and sale, there might be recovered, in cash, one cent per diam for each member of the population, beyond the cost of collection and sale. This would amount annually to over $7,000,000, enough to pay all the cost of street cleaning and street sprinkling, and, in addition thereto, to repave the whole city within a very few years, so far as this is needed, and to keep the pavements in repair perpetually." It is stated that a large amount of solder is obtained by sprinkling old tin cans with coal oil and firing them in a kettle. Tin from scrap tin plate is obtained by placing it in a solution of sulphate of copper, which dissolves the tin in the state of sulphate, while at the same time metallic copper is deposited. In the presence of the iron the sulphate of tin is decomposed in turn with the setting of metallic tin at liberty and the formation of a solution of copperas. In reality, it is found that the solution of copper corrodes the iron and detaches the tin that is fixed to it. Beneath a double bottom, upon which the tin clippings are arranged, there collects a mixture of tin and copper, which is separated, or which is utilized directly for the manufacture of stanniferous brasses or bronzes.

ORDERED CLOTHING!

A Fourth Department Now Added.

WE begin the Fall Campaign with a new department, that of Ordered Clothing. We have added this in order that customers and the public may find with GOUGH BROS. that service which will suit all classes and all requirements.

We retain the services of MR. DUNCAN CAMERON as Cutter and Manager of the staff engaged in this department. We have equipped our Tailoring Rooms with the best machinery and appliances and know we can turn out work the equal of th best city establishments. We solicit your orders.

We recognize that much is expected of GOUGH BROS. and that thousands will look for some radical changes in the prices of clothing made to order. If you are interested read about what we have to say.

On going to the wholesale markets to buy our stock of materials, we found a large lot of Scotch, English and Irish Woolens and Imported Worsteds, stopped by the English shippers in transit to a dealer in the west. We were invited to make a bid. We did so, and the goods were sold to us by the bank

At One Third of the Cost Value.

We are into Ordered Clothing to make it a success. With our buying power—and the above snap is an instance—we propose to push for all there is in it. We will sell for cash and cash only, and instead of expecting $7.00 profit on a $22.00 suit, we will be content with $2.00 profit.

Facts are convincing. Nothing else will carry assurance home. Here is your fact and your opportunity. We place in our centre window a range of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, and

For the Next Twelve Days we Will Make Suits to Order From These Cloths at

THE BATTLE TOO HARD

"I Prefer Death to Seeing My Children Suffer."

"I HAVE EATEN MY LAST BREAD."

Attempted Suicide of a Montreal Woman—"I Have Fought as Much as Ever I Could Against My Misery, But I Have No More Bread and My Children Are Crying."

Montreal, Que., Sept. 7.—Mrs. George Turner, 89 1-2 Canterestreet, was found in a dying condition at her house with a bottle of laudanum beside her on a table. She was removed to the Notre Dame Hospital and treated, and hopes are entertained for her recovery. The police found a loaded revolver and the following letters, which tell the sad tale:

Sept. 4, 1895.

Dear Mary,—About you I am in great trouble, as I have not succeeded in raising some money. I tried to borrow and could not. I cannot get any from Thompson and to-day I took another small line of samples and will work hard to raise money by the end of the week. You must be very miserable, and perhaps starving, and I cannot help you. I am wretched about myself. Yours sincerely,

GEORGE.

Lying beside this letter was the following one in French: It was dated Sept. 5:

"I prefer to die than see my two children suffering. I have fought as much as ever I could against my misery, but I have no more bread and the children are crying. Blame no one if you find me dead. I am the only responsible person for the act I have committed."

The woman's husband got out of work some time ago, and in order to help matters along the woman opened a small candy store, only to lose all the little money she had invested. The husband left to look for work, and as his letter states was unsuccessful. Worse times succeeded bad; hence the despair of the mother. All the neighbors speak highly of Mrs. Turner as a wife and a mother.

HUMAN HEADS FOR FOOTBALLS.

Double Murder by Beheading Followed by Suicide.

Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 7.—The most horrible murder and suicide in the history of this country occurred last night. James Ward killed Aaron Hunter, his fatherin-law, and John Hunter, his brother-in-law. Ward cut off the head of the elder Hunter and split wide open the head of the son. Family differences are supposed to have led to the crime. Last night at 11 o'clock Ward and Aaron Hunter were in town, and had apparently arrived at a satisfactory understanding. Ward insisted, however, upon the old man going to the woods for the purpose of hunting coons. While the hunt was in progress, and Hunter was sitting on a stump, Ward hit him on the neck with an axe. His head was split wide open. When Hunter fell Ward struck the prostrate body again and cut off the head. The axe sank into the ground. The murderer then proceeded to kick the head of his victim about. He then went home, awoke his wife and told her to call her brother, as he and the old man had treed a coon, and ask him to come and help fell the tree. The younger Hunter got up and went out into the yard with only his shirt on, when Ward, with a stroke of the axe felled him to the ground. Young Hunter died almost immediately with his head split open.

Before many hours the crime was generally known, and a posse consisting of miners and farmers started on the hunt for Ward, armed with various weapons.

Just as they had located Ward and surrounded the field in which he had been hiding, a single shot was heard. The posse closed in on the spot from whence the firing had come and found Ward on his back on the ground with a revolver in either hand and a bullet wound under the left eye. He was already dead.

TO BEAT THE FAST TRAIN RECORD.

The New York Central Will ... a New Record.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—The Courier says: Since the recent speed performances of the English West Coast and East Coast Railroad between London and Aberdeen, which showed the remarkable feat of covering 540 miles in 538 minutes, the officials of the New York Central have been studying the figures, and it is reported that a movement is on foot to prove that American locomotives can make better time than the English flyers. The best long distance run in the United States was made by the Empire State Express over the New York Central in 1891, when 436 1-2 miles were covered in 439 1-2 minutes, while the actual running time was nearly 15 minutes less. The report is now current in railroad circles that the time of the Empire State express is to be shortened nearly an hour in the very near future.

THE SEIZED VESSELS.

Newfoundland Enters a Strong Protest.

RELEASE HAS BEEN ORDERED.

"Gat" Howard Made the Seizures Off Labrador—Comptroller Wallace Leaves For Manitoba—The Millers Object to Mixed Wheat—Neway Notes From the Capital.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 7.—Controller Wallace leaves for the Northwest and British Columbia to-morrow. The ostensible object of his trip is to inspect the Customs outports along the British Columbia boundary in respect of which requests for further facilities have recently reached the Department. Mr. Wallace, when in Manitoba, will doubtless endeavor to learn what are the prospects for a compromise on the school question.

The first official notification of seizures of Newfoundland vessels off the coast of Labrador came to the Acting Premier Sir A. P. Caron to-day in the shape of a telegram from the legal firm of Morrison & Morine of St. John's, Nfld. The telegram stated that the schooner Crawford and three other vessels had been seized and asked that prompt steps be taken for their release. The seizure was made by Capt. "Gat" Howard, but no report was received from that officer in connection with the matter. Sir A. P. Caron sent a telegram over to Hon. Mr. Wallace, who immediately considered the case. Departmental officers hold that the vessels have been guilty of a technical offence, and telegrams were accordingly sent to points along the north shore and to Anticosti in the hope of intercepting Howard and instructing him to release the vessels pending the receipt of his report and consideration of the case by the department. Sir A. P. Caron, moreover, telegraphed to Mr. Morine what had been done and expressed regret that any inconvenience should have been inflicted upon owners of vessels.

A reference to departmental records shows that Capt. Howard was appointed acting preventive officer of Customs under date 4th of April last. He was authorised to seize any vessels found guilty of violating the Customs law, but was enjoined to be exceedingly cautious and to be very sure of his facts. He is not paid any salary, but is to receive a share of proceeds of any fines that may be imposed. He is under instructions to report from time to time to the Collector of Customs at Quebec.

Hon. Mr. Wood, Controller of Inland Revenue, has had under considerations representations of the Dominion Millers' Association in reference to a decision of the department to allow scoured wheat to be mixed with No. 1 hard. The following is a copy of his reply sent to Mr. Watts, secretary of the Dominion Millers' Association, under Friday's date:

Sir,—Your communication of yesterday's date was duly received. Instructions have been given to have the Flour Board established at once. The date of the meeting will then rest with the chairman. With regard to the postponement of the decision as to the vexed question of mixing, I have only to say that the Department has to consider the interests of the producers and of those who invest their capital in moving the western crop, as well as those of the eastern millers, who really use but a trifling proportion of the growth of Manitoba wheat, and who, last year, I am credibly informed, except in one case, which occurred through an inadvertence, did not receive a single bushel of wheat from the Port Arthur elevators. Apart from the case alluded to, every bushel was either exported or purchased direct from Port Arthur elevator as "cleaned wheat." It is important to determine what would be the effect of too restrictive legislation on our great transportation routes. Our great competitor is Duluth, and so long as our prairie wheats are mainly sold side by side with the products of Minnesota and Dakota in European markets, our methods must be assimilated to those of the controlling export markets. If we initiate restrictive legislation which does not prevail there, will not our products seek a foreign route to the sea, rather than submit to the exactions demanded when shipped from our own ports?

The Atlantic and Northwestern Railway Co. gives notice of its intention to apply to the Governor-in-Council for approval of an agreement by which that company leases to the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. for a period of 999 years from 1st April, 1894, the portion of its railway between Egansville and a junction with the Canadian Pacific Railway near Renfrew with option to the lessee to purchase the portion of railway so leased at a specified price.

The Canada Gazette contains announcement of appointment of Hon. J. C. Patterson to be Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba and of Sir John C. Schults to be administrator of the Government of Manitoba pending Lieutenant-Governor Patterson's arrival.

The Gazette also contains the new regulations defining the grades of wheat and other grain under the General Inspection Act.

The Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Co. has received a license to carry on the business of accident insurance.

A number of St. Catharines people are seeking incorporation as the Power Pope and Belting Co., with a capital of $20,000.

The path of school reformers on the Ottawa Separate School Board is a difficult one. The French committee held a meeting to-night, at which Trustee Lavoie asked formal permission to replace three Christian Brothers, who were teachers in Garneau school, by two Sisters and one lay teacher. Acting under informal consent, Trustee Lavoie had secured the services of two Sisters. To-night, however, when a motion was made approving his action, two trustees left the meeting and broke the quorum. Oscar MacDonell, editor of Le Temps, has received a communication from a legal firm acting for Brother Flamien of Montreal, head of the Christian Brothers, notifying him that unless he withdrew his aspersions against the fraternity an action for $25,000 damages would be entered against him. Oscar will not withdraw.

Senator Perley of Wolseley, N.W.T., writes to a friend in Ottawa that making all allowance for possible damage to wheat from every cause, the good wheat of this season will equal an average harvest. He goes on to say: "The crop is immense. You never saw the like of it. I will raise more grain on my farm here this year than I did in 22 years I farmed in New Brunswick and more than I had in all the previous years I have farmed in the west. My boys have a splendid crop this season. Just imagine, at this station (Wolseley), and from this municipality alone, there have been sold and shipped this season $25,000 worth of beef cattle and the same may be said of several other stations. This, with butter, pork, and all other products, makes a fine return to the farmers, particularly as they now raise all they require for food for their families, that is to say, vegetables (the crop of which is just immense), and lots of good beef and pork, together with bread, butter, eggs and poultry. Another thing of very great consequence is that nearly all the implement debts are paid."

An unknown man was found dead in J. R. Booth's lumber yard at Chaudiere this morning.

Col. Gascoigne, the new commandant of the Canadian militia, is no stranger to Canada. At the time of the Red River expedition of 1870 being organized Col. Gascoigne was A.D.C. to Lieut.-Gen. Sir James Lindsay, who was in command of the troops at Montreal.

Capt. Smith, agent of Marine Department in Halifax, has been instructed to proceed to Miramichi to investigate a recent collision whereby lives were lost.

It has been decided to transfer James Fitzsimmons, Deputy Warden at B.C. Penitentiary to the institution at Stoney Mountain, Manitoba. Fitzsimmons is a good officer, but ran counter to public opinion in British Columbia.

Hon. J. F. Wood leaves for the Northwest in about two weeks.

George MacDonell, M.P., Algoma, leaves for Winnipeg in a few days to meet Premier Bowell and Hon. T. M. Daly. He is anxious to induce the Ministers to stop at Port Arthur for a day.

IS HE A MAD PIRATE?

A Canadian Revenue Collector Causes a Panic.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 7.—In an armed cruiser, with 25 men, a Canadian revenue collector named Howard, supposed to be insane, has been playing startling pranks along the Labrador coast, capturing vessels chasing steamers and threatening to seize whole fishing settlements. He entered Bradore Harbor last week, seized two Newfoundland vessels while they were loading fish, the Canford and Telegram, put prize crews aboard and took them to Quebec to be sold. He refused any information, beyond informing their owners that vessels were seized for having no coasting clearances, things unknown on this coast.

He seized a vessel from Nova Scotia and her captain resisted on the ground that she was a Canadian ship, but Howard's crew was too powerful. He tried to seize an English steamer, the Baracoa, while taking a cargo of fish for market, but she escaped before he reached the harbor. He now threatens to capture the mail steamer Virginia Lake when she makes her next voyage, but he will find out his mistake, as her owners intend to prepare to give him a warm reception.

One fishing crew of 80 persons was compelled to abandon the industry, owing to this trouble. He has caused general consternation on the coast, nobody knowing what he may next do. He has threatened several men with his revolver and it is feared that he may shoot somebody.

No other Canadian officials ever acted in the same spirit, but always endeavored to work smoothly with the fishermen.

Howard says he has special instructions from the Canadian Government. No one here can imagine how such a person could be maintained in the service of any self-respecting Government. The problem will be a difficult one to deal with unless Canada sends a special steamer down to take charge of him. Howard declares he gets two-thirds of all seizures, and he will try to seize every vessel in which he sees prospective gain. The Colonial Government has received a batch of letters praying them to take steps to relieve them of the danger of having such a person running riot. No doubt is entertained here that if Howard is not mad he far exceeded his orders, and that the seized vessels will be restored to their owners, but they will still be heavy losers, owing to the disturbance of their business.

HIS HOTEL OR HIS ALLEGIANCE.

Canadian Darcey Must Give Up One or the Other in Buffalo.

Buffalo, Sept. 6.—Thomas H. Darcey, a Canadian, keeps the Empire Hotel, Nos. 144 and 146 Exchange street. For 25 years he has sold liquor in this country without taking out a license in his own name. To-day he was arrested and held in $500 bail for violating the internal revenue laws, which provide that none but citizens of the United States shall sell liquor. The Federal officials say Darcey will have to give up hotelkeeping or his allegiance to the Queen. Darcey has an aversion to becoming a citizen and is a staunch Canadian.

SPANISH ATROCITIES IN CUBA.

While the European powers are very properly making a good deal of stir about the Armenian and the Chinese atrocities, we have a condition of affairs on this side of the Atlantic that demands prompt and decided protest and, if that is not attended to, armed interference. Advices from unhappy Cuba assert that the Spaniards, who are making an attempt to subjugate the revolted Cubans, are committing atrocities as revolting as those committed by the Japanese at Port Arthur, or those committed by the heathen Chinese mobs, or by the Turks in Armenia. Last Tuesday morning the Spanish troops committed a horrible massacre of the citizens of Baire, indiscriminately butchering with brutal cruelty men, women and children. One young lady who refused to renounce her Cuban lover, to whom she was betrothed, and swear allegiance to Spain, was most brutally murdered; she was stabbed with bayonets, suspended from a tree and her body riddled with bullets. We don't expect so much from the pagan Japs and the "heathen Chinee," in the way of waging war according to the civilized code, but it is to be expected that a Christian country like Spain should respect the amenities of civilization even in the subjugation of a revolted province, which it seems have been goaded to armed resistance to tyrannical and oppressive rule of its Spanish taskmasters; for, from all accounts Spain treats Cuba more as a pillaging ground than a colony. If the reports of the massacre are true, armed intervention of the powers would not be out of order.

CONFEDERATION NOT ENDANGERED.

Some of our Yankee newspaper neighbours seem to think—and, perhaps, the wish is responsible for the paternity of the thought—that Confederation is to be smashed by the friction arising from the Manitoba school question. One journal goes so far as to hazard the suggestion that "Canada, when it comes to us, will come in pieces." There is not the slightest danger of Canada going to the United States, either "in pieces" or otherwise, over the Manitoba or any other question. This question does not involve any attack on any religion; it involves a matter of religious administration, and as such is certainly, one would think, capable of settlement. If it were an attempt to subvert the religion of a large and respectable party of the community, resistance to the utmost would be justifiable, but since it only relates to the method of dissemination, the possibility of an amicable settlement is not to be regarded as remote. Difficult questions have arisen and have been settled, and another difficult question is not going to throw us off our balance. The helmsman of the Canadian Ship of State has only to steer by the chart of our constitution to keep clear of the rocks.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Where is the Board of Health? Are they, in the sarcastic language of the prophet, "talking or pursuing, or are they on a journey, or peradventure do they sleep and must be awaked?" Two meetings of the Board have been called to consider an important matter, and there has been no quorum and, consequently no business done. The holidays are now over and there seems to be no excuse why matters, claimed to affect the health of the town, should be neglected. The early fall is the time in the year that the Board of Health should be most active, that is the time of year when the harvest, due to unsanitary conditions, is reaped. In the interests of both parties concerned in the Whyte's dam affair, the question of the maintenance or removal of the dam should be settled. The residents in the vicinity who claim that the dam induces conditions prejudicial to health should know what they can depend upon, and those who have material interests at stake should also be relieved by having the matter settled one way or the other.

TARIFF REDUCTION AND PROSPERITY.

The Americans, in spite of a reduced tariff, are still rejoicing over the return of prosperity and the rapid recovery from the financial crises of 1893-4. The voluntary raising of wages of over a million labourers in mill, factory and mine, within a few months, is regarded as unprecedented even in the most prosperous times. If tariff reduction has benefitted American workingmen, is it illogical to suppose that a similar process will injure Canadian workingmen? The United States have discovered that high taxation does not bring permanent prosperity. High tariffs may be accountable for a temporary and unwholesome prosperity—but as a fixed principle of national life it is as futile and disappointing as the nostrums of the rain makers, regarded as substitutes for nature's showers.

A MASSACRE

Of Cuban Men, Women and Children By the Spanish Troops

New York, Sept. 7.—The Press says: Atrocities by Spaniards as revolting as those committed by the Japanese at Port Arthur have just been reported to the Cuban revolutionary party in New York. Enrique Trujillo, editor of El Porvenir, has received a letter from Juan Maspons Franco; chief of staff under Gen. Maximo Gomez the commander-in-chief of the insurgent army, which sends details of the capture and recapture of the city of Baire and the massacre of 37 inoffensive Cubans, mostly women and children, by the Spaniards under Commander Garrido.

On Tuesday morning, according to Col. Franco's letter, a company of insurgents under Jose Rabi surprised the Spanish garrison in the fortress commanding the city of Baire, killing more than 70 men and taking 50 more prisoners. They captured a large quantity of arms and persuaded the prisoners to enlist in the insurgents ranks. An hour later three companies of Spanish troops, under command of Garrido, came up, and after a short but sharp resistance the Cubans fled, leaving the fortress again in the hands of the invaders. Soon after the fort had been regarrisoned with Spaniards one of the companies broke loose and began to pillage the city. Comander Garrido himself, Franco states, led the uniformed rioters.

Col. Franco describes graphically the scenes of horror that followed. The Spaniards were wild for the spilling of blood. Every human creature who came in their path was ruthlessly slain. Within five minutes the streets of Baire were deserted by the panic-stricken natives, but the Spaniards followed them into their houses and killed them in their own rooms.

"Age, sex and condition were wholly disregarded by these liveried butchers," says Col. Franco. "Old and young women, children, even infants, were slaughtered one after another. Shocking indignities were offered to the unfortunate victims before and after death. The Spanish soldiers stamped on the bodies of those whom they had slain, and ground their heels into the faces of many who were still living.

"Senorita Delores Madera, a beautiful girl of 18, betrothed to one of Captain Rabis lieutenants, was seized on the street, cruelly beaten, repeatedly stabbed with bayonets and brutally insulted. Commander Garrido was in the neighborhood while this outrage was perpetrated," says Col. Franco. "One of Garrido's captains commanded the girl to renounce her Cuban sweetheart and swear loyalty to the Spanish Government. She scornfully refused, whereupon the captain struck her across the face with his sword, inflicting a terrible gash. With blood streaming down her face she taunted the Spaniards with their cowardice. Thereupon the maddened soldiers seized her, bound her hand and foot, threw a noose around her neck, and hanged her to a tree. Te torture of Senorita Madera was prolonged as much as possible. She was drawn up slowly and slolwed to strangle by degrees. While she was still alive, but no longer conscious, her bodywas riddled with bullets."

PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 399 George Street.

GENTLEMEN,—Having used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam in our family for years I have no hesitation in saying that it beats everything else we ever tried for coughs and colds in children as well as grown up people. It relieves that tight binding sensation in the chest. We would not be without it for anything, as we have a large family. WILLIAM ANDREW, Commissioner in B. R., Balmoral, Man.

WHAT THINK YE ALL OF IT?

Well and Strong After Half a Century of Suffering!

The Cure is a Wonderful One

Wrought by Paine's Celery Compound

The Great Strength and Health-Giver.

MRS. PARSONS.

The memory of the great discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound will ever be sacred to the thousands who have been wonderfully delivered from disease and suffering. The united efforts of this world's medical men will never equal the work, the mighty life-saving results, that have come to sufferers through the virtues of Paine's Celery Compound.

The most difficult, most distressing, and the seemingly hard and incurable cases, are successfully cured by the great medicine. There is no reason why any man or woman should despair and give up hope, while they can procure the medicine that drives away disease.

Strong and uncontrovertible proof—testimony from one who suffered for over fifty years—will give hope and inspiration to many of Canada's sufferers who, up to the present, have been unsuccessful with physicians and the common advertised medicines of the day.

The marvellous and speedy cure of Mrs. A.R. Parsons, of Sutton, P. Q., has created a wonderful sensation in that special section of the Eastern Townships. Professional men, business men, and farmers, have discussed the subject, and to-day Paine's Celery Compound has a reputation and a fame in the district that no other medicine ever possessed.

Mrs. Parsons writes very briefly, but to the point; she says:

"I am delighted to send my testimony regarding your most valuable medicine, Paine's Celery Compound.

"Some time ago I had Grippe, which left me so lame and weak, that for six months I could not get up without help. I told my husband that nothing else but Paine's Celery Compound could help me, after other medicines and doctors had failed.

"After taking several bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, I feel that I am cured; I can now walk and go up and down stairs with ease, and do all my housework. Under the blessing of God and your Paine's Celery Compound, I am now well."

LABOR CONGRESS OFFICERS.

Three Important Resolutions Passed at the London Conference.

London, Ont., Sept. 7.—The Labor Congress elected officers this morning as follows: President, Patrick J. Jobin, Quebec, re-elected by acclamation; Vice-President, Alex. Macdonald, Ottawa, re-elected by acclamation; Secretary-Treasurer, George W. Dowen, Toronto, re-elected by acclamation; Executive Committee: Quebec—J. P. Ryan, Montreal; H. Laforce Langevin, Quebec; John Scott, Quebec; Ontario—D. A. Carey, Toronto; J. W. Patterson, Ottawa; John Flett, Hamilton; Manitoba—C. C. Stewart, William Small, W. J. Hodgins, Winnipeg; British Columbia—George Bartley, Vancouver; William McKay, Victoria; Thomas Salmon, Nanaimo.

The only fight was over the election of the Ontario delegates. The lucky candidates were: George T. Bealas, Toronto; Michael Powell, jr., London; R. Hessell, London; W. S. St. Pierre, Ottawa.

Quebec was selected as the next place of meeting. The other places voted on were Kingston, Brantford and Montreal.

The Dominion Government will be asked to issue all money at a low rate of interest, and to declare at the same time that all banks shall be banks of deposit only. The Provincial Governments will be requested to issue non-interest-bearing bonds as well as pass a law to enable municipalities to do likewise for the purposes of public expenditure.

The first row between the new unionists, the Socialists and the old Unionists occurred when the bill, passed at the last Ontario Legislature, which provides that grounds exceeding two acres in cities and towns may be taxed as farm lands, was under consideration. The committee reported that it would be advisable to insist on its repeal.

Delegate Stewart of Winnipeg gave notice of motion with the idea of obtaining the presence of the Congress in that city in 1897.

On motion of J. Hawthorne of London it was decided to petition the various Provincial Governments to amend existing laws dealing with the subject of wages, so that all employes shall in future be paid weekly and in the current money of the Dominion.

Just before adjournment for luncheon Vice-President C. O. Currie of the Patrons of Industry put in an appearance and made a short speech. He regretted exceedingly the fact that the representatives of the Patrons had not been present at the different sessions of the Congress. He believed that the amalgamation of the two classes would make a great organization.

Burdock Pills, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

AN EMBEZZLER CAUGHT.

A Toronto Reporter Gave the Clue to His Capture.

Toronto, Ont., September 7. — A despatch from New York says: George T. Parsons, bookkeeper and cashier for George B. Gurley of No. 107 Franklin-street, who disappeared about a month ago after having falsified his employer's accounts to the extent of $4000, was arrested yesterday at the foot of West Forty-second-street as he stepped from a Weehawken ferry-boat on a bench warrant issued Aug. 28, which charges him with forgery in the third degree.

From information received Chief O'Brien of the Detective Bureau communicated with the Toronto police. Parsons had been in that city for more than three weeks and was located at his boarding house, 20 Queen-street east, by a World reporter. Acting upon the information published in this paper on Wednesday morning the police authorities wired back that Parsons had left Toronto for Niagara Falls. From there he was traced to Buffalo. The detectives learned yesterday that the fugitive had started for New York, so all the railroad centres were watched for him. Parsons arrived on a West Shore train, and crossed the river about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, when the detectives met him.

The prisoner is 44 years old, and gives his address as No. 266 Seventh-avenue. He was taken to Police Headquarters, and from there to the District Attorney's office. Later he was arraigned before Judge Fitzgerald, who postponed, fixing bail until the prisoner had retained counsel. Parsons was committed to the Tombs.

Honest Help.

Thousands of men are suffering because they lack the courage to make known their early errors and to endeavour to remedy them. Nervous weakness, loss of manhood and the many ills due to early discretions, excesses or overwork can be quickly, successfully and permanently cured if you will only let the right people know what ails you. Write to me in confidence and I will tell you free of charge how to get cured. I have nothing to sell, but am desirous of honestly helping you. Perfect secrecy assured. MURDERED WITH A CLUB.

One Squaw Kills Another in a Drunken Brawl

Wheatley, Ont., Sept. 6.—Yesterday some Indians, living about seven miles east of here, went with baskets to Leamington, where they secured liquor and got drunk.

After returning home two of the squaws, named Mrs. Joseph Peters and Mrs. Thomas Dodge, got into a fight, which resulted in the former striking the latter on the head with a club, killing her instantly. The Peters woman is under arrest, charged with murder.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25c.

from taking medicine. They don't like its taste. But they are eager to take what they like—Scott's Emulsion, for instance. Children almost always like Scott's Emulsion.

And it does them good.

Scott's Emulsion is the easiest, most palatable form of Cod-liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda added to nourish the bones and tone up the nervous system. The way children gain flesh and strength on Scott's Emulsion is surprising even to physicians.

All delicate children need it.

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars
Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $20,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

A Division Court Case.

Division Court was held yesterday morning, when the town was the defendant in a case. Geo. Dunsford, the prosecutor, it appears in 1892 paid the taxes on 61 Weller street, thinking the bill he paid was one of his own tax bills. The error was not discovered by Mr. Dunsford until some time afterwards, and the town solicitor, Mr. E. B. Edwards, contends that it is too late for him to recover the claim. The argument was adjourned until Tuesday. Mr. A. P. Poussette appeared for Mr. Dunsford.

Explanatory.

With reference to the paragraph referring to the illness of Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, Ashburnham, it is gratifying to announce that the circumstances are not so grave as reported, and that the family is not in need of financial assistance. It is true that both Mr. and Mrs. Shannon are seriously ill, but they and the children are looked after by friends. There is no hope of Mrs. Shannon's recovery and but little of Mr. Shannon's. It is to be regretted that persons who supply information on such matters to the press should not be more sure of the facts, as in this case the family mentioned has been subjected to unpleasant publicity which did them and their circumstances an injustice.

ATTACKED BY A BULL.

Mr. Jos. Howson, of Mather's Corners, Severely Injured by a Bull—His Life Saved by a Dog.

Mr. Joseph Howson, of Mather's corners, is confined to his bed to-day, suffering from injuries sustained by being attacked by a Jersey bull yesterday morning, and can congratulate himself on being the owner of a dog whose sagacity saved him from a terrible death.

Yesterday morning Mr. Howson started for the fields to bring home the cows. When he reached the pasture the and with head down and tail erect made a charge on Mr. Howson.

The animal knocked the unfortunate man down, and proceeded to gore him violently for about five minutes, but fortunately the animal had been dehorned some time previously or else Mr. Howson would have been terribly mangled.

During the struggle Mr. Howson's dog came to his rescue and immediately and was successful in drawing it away from its assault on Mr. Howson. The farm hand also appeared on the scene, but the dog had saved his master's life, and it now remained for him to be removed to a place of safety.

When the bull had made its first attack Mr. Howson endeavoured to ward off the blows with his feet, but the animal's blood was up and Mr. Howson was as a child in its fury.

The injured man was removed to his home and Dr. Harrison speedily summoned. It was found upon examination that Mr. Howson had about the body, and it is feared that he is injured internally. To-day he is suffering considerably from his injuries, and has to be moved in his bed from one position to another. It will be some weeks before he will be able to be around again.

Yesterday afternoon the bull again gave trouble. The hired man was tackled in the lane by the beast. It grew furious at the appearance of the man and immediately got down on its knees, on all sides. Mr. R. Howson, brother of the injured man, stood at the gap in the lane with a double-barrelled shot gun, and bringing it to his shoulder, lodged the contents in the bull's face.

TEARING UP THE EARTH

This had a wonderful effect on the animal, which immediately assumed a lamb-like attitude, and after the men procured pitchforks, the animal was quietly marched to the stable.

The affair was an exciting one while it lasted and the bull made things lively for a time.

The bovine, it is said, also attacked Mr. Howson's son, Herman, some time ago.

INSPECTING THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

Inspectors Prendergrast and White Visit the Town Separate Schools.

During the past two weeks the Separate school inspectors, Messrs. Prendergrast and White, have been engaged in inspecting the different Separate schools of the town, and yesterday afternoon their work was brought to a close in a very pleasant manner at the Convent of the Congregation de Notre Dame.

The good sisters of the Convent had invited the two inspectors to witness the different classes in calisthenics perform the various evolutions. The different classes from the A B C calisthenic class to the Fourth Form performed with remarkable precision the cymbalette drill, wand drill and club swinging.

At the conclusion of the exercises Mr. Prendergrast, who stated that the Peterborough Separate Schools were the first to be visited by him in his official capacity, expressed his surprise and admiration at the precision and facility with which the children performed the different exercises, the first he had witnessed performed by any school pupils. He congratulated Sergt.-Major Rundle, their instructor, and also the sisters, on the the excellent showing of the pupils, and dwelt on the beneficial effect following such exercises.

Mr. White also congratulated the pupils on their work, and in returning thanks to Miss Maggie Doherty for her services as pianiste, referred to the important position music held in the education of the youth, its introduction often bringing sunshine into life.

Rev. Father Casey, who was present, also added a few words and stated he was proud that the local Separate Schools had been honoured by Mr. Prendergrast's first visit in his official capacity. The Inspectors visited the Murray street, Lake street and Convent schools and were well pleased with the standing of the different departments.

AT INVERLEA PARK.

The Concert Last Evening at Inverlea Park.

Last night at Inverlea Park the Fire Brigade Band gave what will probably be the last band concert at that resort this season.

The programme rendered was an excellent one and the large number of auditors thoroughly enjoyed the different numbers rendered.

Next week the band will play in Court House Park, and this will probably bring the concert season to a close.

The programmes rendered during the season by the band have been of a nature to meet the approval of the many lovers of music in town, who will regret to see this source of amusement and pleasure discontinued for the season.

Trilby's Foot.

The step 'twixt the sublime and ridiculous is quickly made. Surely literature presents no more grotesque idealization than Trilby's foot, and the numerous worshippers that, have figuratively speaking bent knees and kissed the big toe of the foot, when reason once more come to their rescue, will feel as if the production of the genuis Asz were perennial. By the way did you notice when reading Trilby how highly it commended Putnam's Corn Extractor, which renders impossible the discordant excrescence, corns. Trilby's foot would not be worthy of homage if marred by corns; neither would yours. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

XXIX.

The Religions of the World.

"All peoples know that the religious consciousness is that wherein they possess the truth; and religion they have ever regarded as their true dignity and the Sabbath of their life. —HEGEL.

The interesting letter on "Fetichism," contributed to our column last week, naturally leads on to the larger consideration of religions in general. No thinking man can fail to be struck by the fact of the universality of religion. The Dutchman, Tiele, who is, perhaps, the greatest living authority on heathen religions of antiquity, says that "It is legitimate to call religion in its general sense an universal phenomenon of humanity." Religion is the most important factor in human progress, it possesses the profoundest interest to the bulk of humanity, it is as natural to man as thought." "Religion," says Principal Grant, "is a note of the race. It cannot be derved from outward sources any more than thinking or loving. There are, indeed, persons destitute of religion, just as there are persons destitute of intellect or affection, all alike to be pitied as we pity the deaf, the dumb, or the blind, but normal human beings are religious."

-Religion is a very

but then so are many things which we yet understand. Love, grace and spirit are not easily defined. Readers of Kidd's Social Evolution will remember the numerous definitions quoted by him. Dr. Martineau says, "By religion I understand the belief and worship of supreme mind and will, directing the universe and holding moral relations with human life." Cardinal Newman says, "By religion I mean the knowledge of God, of His will and of our duties towards Him." Both of these definitions strike me as being too exclusive. The following from a work entitled "Faiths of the World" is more satisfactory :—"Religion is the communion between a worshipping subject and a worshipped object—the communion of man with what he believes to be a God." Matthew Arnold's famous definition is too wide, though certainly helpful to our understanding of religion. Religion is ethics heightened, enkindled, lit up by feeling; the passage from morality to religion is made when to morality is applied emotion."

The origin of religion is still and will probably long continue to be a disputed question amongst scholars, but all the evidence of the past and of the present supports the beautiful expression of man's natural fitness for religion given in Genesis 1,—"And God said, let us make man in our own image, after our own likeness," or as it is expressed in Gen. ii, —"And God breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life and man became a living soul." A peculiar relation with God, one separating him from the lower orders or creation, and adapting him for communion with God, which is the is indicated in these words.

Religions have been elaborately classified by various writers; the broadest classification is the following:—I. Nature Religions (what St. Paul calls the worship of the creature rather than the Creator), of which most old heathen religions, Greek, Egyptian, Babylonian and others, are examples. II. Ethical Religions, subdivided into (a) National Religious Communities—Taoism and Confucianism, in China; Brahmanism; Jainism (India); Mazdaism (Persia); Judaism; and (b) Universalistic Religious Communities—Mohammedanism, Buddhism, Christianity.

There can be small doubt that the Universal Religions must gradually absorb all others. Mohammedanism, Buddhism and Christianity alone are in the field. Of the last Tiele, writing expressly from the scientific point of view, says:—"Christianity alone preaches a worship in spirit and in truth; and in that which Rothe called its greatest excellence, in its variety, * * its power of adapting itself to the religious wants of various generations, peoples and individuals, in a word in its elasticity, which is the natural result of its purely spiritual character, Christianity ranks incommensurably high above both its rivals."

There are two ways in which men have looked at other religions than their own; (1) As the direct work of the devil. (2) As "broken lights" from the sun of truth, and as such, though more or less imperfect, to be studied sympathetically. The latter view is sometimes regarded as modern, but it is not so. One of the in the third century, Clement, of Alexandria, held this view, (indeed we might quote St. Paul in its favour.) "We shall never," to again quote Principal Grant, "gain the non-Christian nations until we treat their religions with justice, and until courtesy, respect and love take the place of the contempt which is now so general, and the only excuse for which is that it is largely based upon ignorance.

Christianity, we firmly believe, is destined to become universal. If it were presented with the simplicity of our Lord's own teaching, our own divisions would soon disappear, and like the rider on the white horse in the Revelation it would "go forth conquering and to conquer." In its simplicity the Gospel is adapted to every race and every class. Doubtless there would and must continue to be a great diversity in the exact way in which Christianity is apprehended; for all doctrine, in the last analysis, is based upon personal experience, and personal experience is varied. Doubtless, also there will be differences in forms of worship; for one man is aided by elaborate and beautiful ritual, which to another is tedious and unnecessary. But these are not really incompatible with a unity that would embrace them all. Christianity will prevail when we really present it to the world, and not the various "isms" that have come into existence through historical circumstances, that cannot be repeated amongst other people.

ORIENTAL HOTEL IMPROVEMENTS.

General Renovation—The Highest Quality of Sanitary Plumbing Introduced—Other Up-to-Date Improvements.

This season has witnessed a great boom in hotel improvements in Peterborough. The EXAMINER has noted the improvements made to two of our leading hotels, and now the marked improvements that have been made in the Oriental being about completed, though others are to follow, merit a short reference to what has been done which will be of interest to the travelling public and our citizens generally During the summer the entire house has been brightened with paint and repapered, this part of the work being done by Messrs. Cook, Mitchell & Cook, the paper being suplied by the Peterborough Bookstore.

Last fall a thorough system of steam heating, with radiators in all the rooms, adding greatly to the comfort of this comfortable hotel, was put in at an expense of $4,000 by Messrs. Purdy, Hanson & Co., Toronto.

But the most important improvement, from a sanitary point of view, and one that places the sanitary condition of the Oriental Hotel at the highest point of effectiveness, is the changes and additions that have been made in the plumbing, involving an expenditure of about $1,800. To speak generally, there have been placed nine new closets; and two elegant new bathrooms have been fitted up. The closets, known as the "Primo jet closets," are of the very latest and most highly improved type; so recently have these improved articles been introduced, they do not appear in the latest catalogues. Several of these closets have been placed in the general lavatory on the first floor, and others on the second and third floors. The general lavatory is most elegantly fitted, including marble wash basins with nickel silver fittings; the new urinals, in their marble stalls, have the most improved appliances, nickel silver fittings and slate floors. The closets, mounted with cherry and with tanks of the same wood, have nickel silver fittings, and are generally of the most elegant character. The new baths on the second and third floors are steel clad and have complementary marble wash basins. But it is in the plumbing that the greatest excellence exists—and a very important matter it is, for first-class sanitary conditions such as now exist in the Oriental Hotel can only be secured by first-class plumbing. In this case it is of the best that can be done—both in material and workmanship. The plans and specifications prepared by the well known architects, Messrs. Gordon & Helliwell, Toronto, called for first-class material—and this has been used in the form of extra heavy lead and iron pipe—and first-class work, which was done by Mr. Adam Hall, under the superintendence of his foreman, Mr. E. A. Kemp, the actual work being done by Mr. Peter Thompson, in a manner that meets the warmest approval of the architects. Mr. Thompson, who has been seven years in Mr. Hall's employ, is a first rate plumber of long experience, having assisted at the putting in of the steam fittings in the late Mr. Romaine's printing establishment about 25 years ago. All the plumbing work done in the Oriental job is elegantly as well as well done. All work is perfectly trapped, all traps are perfectly ventilated, the entire job carried out according to the best principles of sanitary plumbing, and now the sanitary condition of the Oriental Hotel is second to none.

The work of improvement has not been confined to this. Work has been progressively carried on, the landlord, the Dickson Company, aiming to keep the place in the condition of perfect repair demanded in a first-class hotel. This desire is shown by the fact that within the past couple of years about $6,000 has been expended upon improvements, including the improvement and renovation of the bar and billiard room, steam heating, plumbing, etc. And the work of improvement is not to stop here. The brick work is to be tuck-pointed and the exterior generally brightened and improved. As it now stands the Oriental Hotel is a thoroughly well equipped modern hotel, with elegantly equipped and furnished rooms. Mr. Geo. Graham, the proprietor, who took charge about two years ago, has brought the Oriental to the front by dint of good management and attentive solicitude for the comfort of his guests. The table is exceptionally excellent, and the good general management accounts for the extensive and growing patronage the Oriental enjoys.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day" performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurane in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would no doubt prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though (as will be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award due credit to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and, therefore, of the higher value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of his claim that Maltine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel," and affirms that "it is a wonderful heart sustainer." This preparation may be had of all druggists, and may be relied upon as an agent of infinite value in nervous prostration and brain exhaustion, resulting from undue strain upon the mental or physical energies.—Daily Globe, July 6, 1895.

AN IRISH JAUNTING CAR.

Peterborough Possesses One From the Old Sod.

Mr. T. Fitzgerald wears a broad smile on his usually happy face these days, and the cause of it is that he has in his possession an Irish jaunting car from the shores of old Erin.

Mr. J. D. Collins, who recently visited the continent, while in Dublin procured the vehicle, and had it forwarded to Mr. Fitzgerald. The car arrived on Thursday, and has since been viewed by hundreds of admirers.

The car is a bulky-looking affair, strongly built, and capable of carrying four persons besides a driver. The seats hang down over the wheels on either side, and can be closed up after using. The car is painted black, set off with narrow stripes of green, the iron work being silver mounted.

Yesterday afternoon a venerable Hibernian and his friends enjoyed a drive in the turn-out, with Mr. C. Smith as coachman, attired in a high hat, frock coat and a green ribbon flying from the whip. The occupants of the car, as it passed up street, looked as proud as if they were driving through Nelson Square, Dublin.

A SABBATH SUNSET ON LAKE ROSSEAU.

Long miles of pearly lake; a softest breath
That scarce the sleeping waters trembleth,
Or noiseless stirreth in the poplar bough.
Curving island shores all mirrored now;
In dual loveliness the sombre pines,
The gleaming birchen stems, and tangled vines,
And slopes of mossy stone. The sun at rest,
A golden splendor filling all the west,
And robing mere and bank and lonely height
In the glory of celestial light.
Then dreamy crimson shores in purple seas;
A Sabbath stillness; thoughts of low-bent knees,
Of men that worship, haloed saints that sing,
And bruised prophets grandly entering in.

Animal Vision.

Birds are commonly credited with an extraordinary range of vision. Circumstances lend aid to the development of the mental factors in their case. The usual distance at which terrestrial species use thier eyes is limited by the ground horizon. But in the case of the soaring birds, such as vultures and eagles, the horison, the natural limit of sight, is enormously extended. Macgillivray early noted that though birds of prey have orbits of great size—the eyeball of the common buzzard being one and one-eighth inches in diameter—they do not, as a rule, soar when seeking their prey. The eagle, when hunting, flies low, just as do the sparrowhawk and the hen-harrier.

Yet the vultures and condors, birds which admittedly do soar when seeking food, have been proved to find carrion by sight. A carcass was covered with canvas and some offal placed upon it. The vultures saw this, descended and ate it, and then sat on the covered portion within a few inches of a putrid carcass. When a hole was made in the covering they saw and attacked the food below. But the rapid congregation of vultures from a distance to a carcass is probably due to their watching their neighbors, each of which is surveying a limited area. Charles Darwin pointed out that in a level country the height of sky commonly noticed by a mounted man is not more than 15 degrees above the horison; and a vulture on the wing at the height of between 3,000 and 4,000 feet would probably be two miles distant and invisible. Those which descend rapidly and appear to have come from beyond the range of human sight, were perhaps hovering vertically over the hunter when he killed is game.

There remains one undoubted instance in which bird vision is far keener than that of man. The great grey shrike, Lanius excubitor, is habitually used by the men who catch falcons at Valhenswaard to give notice of the approach of a hawk. The bird sees it far sooner than the men, and at once gives notice of its approach. This is a single instance in which the specialised acuteness of sight may be due to the fact that the bird in question much resembles in color the pigeons, which are the falcon's favorite food. But long sight does not seem a common property of bird-vision. The gannets, which catch fish at sea, descend from a considerable height, but they kill their prey on the surface of the water, or near it. Nocturnal birds and animals though able to see with little light, have no enhanced power when the light is more powerful; and the animals which, like deer, feed by night or day indifferently, have only developed a keenness of vision from constant fear and vigilance. Horses and cattle, which have the same power of sight by night, have never increased their visual range. Dogs habitually rely on another sense, that of scent, in preference to their eyes, and will walk over a dead bird, while their brain is intent on discovering its place by scent alone. Weasels, when hunting, will run up to a human being who imitates the squeak of a rabbit, and peer up at him, to discover where the sound comes from. The smallness of the eye limits its powers; just as the best telescope has usually the largest object-glass, so the largest eye will probably be the best organ of sight; and in the absence of any extraordinary developments in the size of the organ itself in animals, their powers of vision must, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, be supposed to be proportionately limited.—London Spectator.

American Carriages in England.

To the eyes of an Englishman, accustomed to carriages of somewhat massive build, and horses occasionally lapped with too much leather and rather over decorated with matter of brass or plate "furniture," there is at first sight something strange in the skeleton-like appearance of the American wagon and buggy, and with light harness and ever check-rein; yet the Cortland Wagon Co., an American firm of builders, have a branch in London, and there are two or three agencies in addition, while it is well-known that in the country American carriages have been adopted by reason of their extreme lightness, and during the hunting season men may be seen driving themselves to covert in a buckboard. Until, however, Englishmen grow quite accustomed to these spider conveyances they appear to lack the more imposing appearance of the insular mail phaeton, T-cart, or even the family wagonette.—London Telegraph.

HANDLING CONSTRICTORS.

The Trick by Which the Serpents Are Managed Without Danger.

Snake dealers in South Africa have a fine contempt for their squirming and venomous wares, though it is sometimes difficult to induce ship captains to carry them as freight. The snake dealers handle the boa constrictors with great deftness. This serpent bites, but his bite is not venomous, so that the chief danger to the handler is from the serpent's normously powerful muscles. The dealers have learned that the boa, to be really dangerous must have a fulcrum in the shape of something around which he may coil his tail.

Th boa is, in fact, a lever in which the ordinary arrangement is power, weight, fulcrum. Knowing this, the dealers drop a soft hat over his head, that he may neither see nor bite, and then snatch him so suddenly from his resting place that he has no opportunity to brace himself by seising a fixed object with his tail. After that the essential thing is to see that he is not brought within distance of any such object.

A snake dealer on board a Brazilian steamer the other day was occupied in transferring his boas from one box to another. He opened the box for an instant, dropped a hat over the head of one of the creatures, snatched it from its fellows, and, rushing across the deck, dropped it into the other box. The thing looked so easy that a deck hand, waiting until the snake owner's back was turned, essayed to repeat the act. He neglected to use the hat, and with a yell yanked a great snake from the box, with its fangs fixed in his fingers. Not daring to let go, yet fearing to hold on, he began whirling the snake about his head, meanwhile dancing madly over the deck. The snake man managed to capture the reptile and box it in security. Then somebody expressed concern for the rash deck hand, to which the snake owner answered:

"What, him? He's all right. But think of my snake! It's worth twenty of that bug!"—New York Sun.

Some Historic Watches.

Mary of Scotland had her watches. In those days there was great variety in the shape of the watch. A favorite shape was that of a skull; another was that of a coffin. Descriptions exist of several of Mary's watches. There was one coffin-shaped in a crystal case. There was another in which cat-gut supplied the place of the interior chain in the modern watch. One very marvelous piece of workmanship in form of a skull is the property of the Dick Lauder family. It was originally the property of Mary, Queen of Scots, and was bequeathed to Mary Setoun, her maid of honor, February 7, 1557. On the forehead of the skull are the symbols of death, the scythe and the hour glass. At the back of the skull is Time, and at the top of the head are the Garden of Eden and the crucifixion. The watch is opened by reversing the skull. Inside are the holy family, angels and shepherds with their flocks. The works form the brains. The dial plate is the palate. Another skull-shaped watch which belonged to Mary was a gift from her husband, Francis II. Arnold, of the Strand, presented George III., in 1764, a watch of his manufacture set in a ring. Later, in 1770, he presented the King with a small repeating watch also set in a ring, the cylinder of which was made of an Oriental ruby. The Czar of Russia when he heard of these mites of watches, offered Arnold 1,000 guineas if he would make one for him, but the artist would not consent.—Jewelers' Review.

The Sargasso Sea.

The surface of it seems, says a writer in Chamber's Journal, like a perfect meadow of seaweed. It is supposed that this enormous mass of gulf weed may have been partly grown at the bottom of the shallower parts of the sea, and partly torn from the shores of Florida and the Bahama Islands by the force of the Gulf Stream. It is then swept around by the same agency into the Sargasso sea, where it lives and propagates, floating freely in mid-ocean. And the shore is ever increasing, both by addition and propagation, so that the meadow grows more and more compact, and no doubt at the inner parts extends to a considerable depth below the surface. Nor is this all, for at least two-thirds of all the infinite flotsam which the Gulf Stream carries along with it in its course sooner or later finds a resting place in the Sargasso Sea. Here may be seen huge trunks of trees torn from the forests of Brazil by the waters of the Amazon and floated down far out to sea until they were caught and swept along by the current; logwood from Honduras, boats from the islands, staved in, broken and bottom upward; wrecks and remains of all sorts reaped from the rich harvest of the Atlantic; whole keels or skeletons of ruined ships, so covered with barnacles, shells and weeds that the original outline is entirely lost to view; and here and there a derelict ship, transformed from a floating terror of the deep into a mystery put out of reach of man in a museum of unexplained enigmas.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaints.

ONTARIO PETROLEUM

COAL OIL IN THE FRONT RANK OF CANADIAN INDUSTRIES.

Process of Pumping and Refining Crude Petroleum—Its Many and Useful Products—History of the Coal Oil Find at Petrolia and Oil Springs.

The study of the petroleum industry of Ontario is a study of small beginnings which are rapidly developing into great enterprises. From being a small and very unimportant branch of Canadian activity, it has advanced into the front rank of Ontario industries.

The first attempt to utilize Canadian petroleum was made about the year 1859. At that time liquid oil was extracted by rude processes from "gum oil," a thick, black substance which found its way to the surface of the ground in the neighborhood of Oil Springs, County of Lambton. The next step was to dig surface wells from 40 to 60 feet deep, and having a shaft of from four to six feet in diameter, into which the oil oozed up through the porous soil. This crude oil was then pumped to the surface by hand power and taken to the refinery, where it was partially refined and made ready for shipment. In 1861 an attempt was made to drill in the rock at Oil Springs. This new departure was highly successful, and flowing wells were struck which produced large quantities of oil. Owing to the fact that drilling tools often dropped through and were lost it was inferred that these wells tapped some large crevice filled with oil and gas, and when this crevice was emptied the well was either abandoned or pumping resorted to. The greater part of the overflow from these early wells was lost during the interval between the striking and the controlling of the flowing oil. In 1860 similar wells were struck at Petrolia, but in no case did the flow continue for any length of time, and at present all the oil produced in Ontario has to be pumped.

In the old days the process of drilling a well was very slow and expensive, but with modern machinery and better methods a well can be drilled in from three to six days, and $150 to $160 is sufficient to cover the cost. At first drilling was done with cable tools, but this method has been entirely done away with, and at present ash poles are used to connect the engine beam with the drill—a steel bar three and one-half inches in diameter and from 25 to 30 feet in length. The well is drilled out to a diameter of about 4 5-9 inches and casing is put down as the boring progresses to keep water from interfering with the action of the drill.

After the oil is struck a pump of 1 1-4 to 1 1-2 inch tubing is put down and the well is ready for operation. Formerly much of the pumping was done by hand, but steam engines have taken the place of manual labor, thus largely increasing the output of the wells. One engine furnishes power sufficient to pump from six to ninety wells, by means of a combination of pump rods working on a horizontal wheel so arranged that their weight balances one another, and minimizes the power required.

The petroleum after being pumped from the wells, is run into large underground tanks, each holding about 8,000 barrels. These tanks are built by boarding up an excavation and covering it over, and they are a sure protection against fire. The soil about Petrolia is an absolutely impervious clay, and the oil is held without the slightest loss. These tanks are always kept filled with oil or water, otherwise the sides would cave in.

Canadian petroleum in the crude state is not so pure as the American variety. It is more largely tainted with sulphur, and the most difficult part in the process of refinement is to eliminate this noxious ingredient Moreover, Canadian crude oil contains less illuminating oil than the Pennsylvania product, but yields more heavy lubricating oils and paraffin.

The crude oil is distilled in large sheet iron retorts. The necessary heat is furnished by means of a spray of mixed petroleum and steam injected beneath the retort into the fire-chamber, which is lined with fire brick. The distillate is carried in tubes immersed in long vats of water. As the different distillates appear at various stages of the process they are led off into different troughs, and flow into separate tanks. The first that appear are the incondesable gases—gasoline and naptha. The gasoline is used to dissolve rubber for waterproof clothing, to remove grease from wool and to separate flax oil from flax seed. The best brands of gasoline deodorized are used for the intense clear flame in which the bamboo filament of an incandescent bulb unites with the platinum wire to lead in the electric current. Other brands are used to melt the solder in canning machines. Deodorized napthas are useful in the manufacture of paints, varnishes and lacquers. They make a good wood stain, and, with resin and metallic oxides, make a good paint for barrels.

The next products which appear are illuminating and wool oils, and, finally, heavy lubricating oils, while an incrustation of carbonaceous matter or cake is left in the retort. This cake makes good fuel, and is largely used in the vicinity of Petrolia and Oil Springs.

All the grades of distillation are divided at will, either by stopping the process at different stages, or by subsequent re-distillation and treatment, into an almost endless variety of lighter and highly combustible intermediate illuminating and lubricating oils, and also into such solids as vaseline and parafine.

There is also an oxidized matter thrown away as worthless; from which tars and asphalts for roofing purposes might be produced, should a sufficient demand arise.

Illuminating oil is refined by agitating it with 2 per cent. of sulphuric acid, which destroys the odors and removes free carbon and other tarry materials which are drawn off below. Then, after washing the remaining product with water, caustic soda and letharge are added. The soda neutralizes the acid, which is very injurious to metals, and the letharge combines with the sulphur, forming lead sulphide. Flowers of sulphur are then added to precipitate the lead and other impurities, and the oil comes out cleared. A new and better process redistils the oil after the letharge and caustic soda have been added, and before the flowers of sulphur have been put in, most of the sulphur is in this way left in the retort in combination with the lead precipitate. The remainder of the process is carried on with the re-distilled product, as described above. Finally, in all processes the product is bleached in the light in an open vat, after which the oil is ready to be barrelled for shipment.

The tar or residue remaining after the illuminating oil has come off is redistilled, resulting in a yield of 70 per cent. gas-oil, used in the manufacture of illuminating gas, and 30 per cent. of parafine oil. This parafine oil is put into a freezing vat, and from 8 to 10 per cent. of parafine wax crystallizes out from it. This wax has all the oil squeezed out of it by pressure, and is then refined by chemicals, one part of the result being made in wax candles, while the smaller portion is used in the manufacture of artificial flowers and fruits and chewing gum. The remaining oils, after the parafine has been crystallized, are made into lubricating oils, such as parafine oil, cylinder oil, mineral lard, mineral seal, antigrease, and vaseline.

It is easy to see that but little waste is incurred in the manufacture of petroleum products, for science is rapidly opening up new avenues for usefulness, even in the case of the most worthless residuum of distillation and refining, and Canadian illumiating and lubricating oils are competing on almost equal terms in the markets with the best brands of American manufacture.—The Canadian Magazine.

Napoleon and the Barber.

Napoleon's smooth face was a sure evidence of his dislike for a beard. In some anecdotes of the Russian campaign there is a story told of the great Emperor and a poor, but witty barber, who had occasion to shave him.

Napoleon had made a rather lengthy detour from the line of march with a detachment of officers. Arriving at a small village they refreshed themselves with a good meal and baths. Napoleon, wishing to be shaved, the village barber was called in. While the poor fellow stropped his razor and passed it industriously over the great Emperor's chin, he remained silent and seemingly melancholy, although performing his work with amazing rapidity and smoothness. When he had finished, Napoleon complimented him, remarking: "But, man, why do you wear such a melancholy face? You should be happy to have the privilege of shaving an Emperor."

"I am doubly happy, your majesty."

"Then what is it that troubles you?"

"Alas, your majesty, when I think of the kings upon kings and emperors that have died without knowing what it was to be shaved by me, I am sad and melancholy."—Harper's Round Table.

An Odd Custom.

The oldest temperance society in the world is the abstaining commune in Achiyka, in Siberia, all of whose members are strict teetallers every day in the year except one. Regularly on the first day of September, year after year, all the adult members of the commune assemble in the parish church, and everyone takes a solemn vow before the altar to drink no wine, beer or spirits "from the morow" of the following day for the whole year. The clause, "from the morrow" is introduced in order to give them a reward for their vitues in the shape of a whole day of drunken carnival. As soon as they leave the church they begin to indulge in a horrible Bacchanalian drinking, which continues throughout the day, until neither man nor women in the village is sober. This is naturally followed by considerable physical suffering, and then by mental remorse, whereupon the penitent parish enters upon its twelvemonth of model sobriety, and all live like the Rechabites. Some students imagine that this queer proceeding may be a prehistoric tribal custom.

A LADY OF WATERFORD COMPLETELY CURED.

Suffered for Two Years from Indigestion and General Debility.

Unable at Times to Attend to Her Household Duties.

Treated by Nearly All the Doctors in the Town Without Relief

"Six Bottles of South American Nervine Cured Me," Says Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., Over Her Own Signature.

MRS. D. A. GRAY, OF WATERFORD, ONT.

Certain dates are epoch making. They mark transitions in the individual life that are never forgotten. Their impress may be pleasant or sad, or both. As Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., an estimable and highly respected resident of that community, goes back in memory to the year 1893, her recollections are not of the most roseate character. Can there be anything rosy to one who is a victim of indigestion? All is sombre and sadness. But there was a silver lining to the cloud, as we shall see. Previous to 1893 Mrs. Gray tells us she had been troubled very much with indigestion and general debility for a period of nearly two years. Hers was no ordinary case. At times she was prevented altogether from attending to her household duties. Waterford has a number of skilled physicians in its midst and their services were called in, but in her own language, "I cannot say that they relieved me in any way." An era of joy was ushered in when her mother read the story of a cure by South American Nervine in a case where the symptoms, as Mrs. Gray says, "seemed to be exactly like her own. I bought a bottle and found much relief. After taking six bottles I was cured." The date was an epoch making date in this lady's life.

What the symptoms of Indigestion are, too many know. What the trouble is in its worst forms thousands know. People lament the spread of insanity in the present day. How far removed from loss of reason is a case of aggravated indigestion? The world to every such victim is blue enough, black enough, so uninviting and depressing that no wonder they are beside themselves. And yet the remedy is within the reach of all. That great discovery, Nervine, will cure the most desperate case of indigestion, debility or nervousness. You ask for evidence. A cloud of witnesses in the Dominion of Canada are saying amen, and amen, to the testimony of Mrs. Gray. Why suffer, fellow-citizens, friends and brethren?

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen —Aquatic and Field Sports.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—The Oxford and Cambridge cricketers were royally welcomed yesterday at Rosedale, when the international cricket match with Canada's selected team was begun. It was an ideal day, and the 1500 spectators had their most genuine enjoyment of the year.

The Canadians did splendidly against such formidable opponents, and a close finish to-day will likely result.

It was a most fashionable assembly that thronged the grand stand, balconies and club house lawn, and all remained until stumps were drawn at 5.30 for the day, with the Englishmen ahead by 51 runs and one wicket.

Promptly on the scheduled time twelve handsomely-athletic young men took the field, Capt. Terry having won the toss. The Varsity men appear about all of a size, ranging between Capt. Mitchell, six feet, and the full-chested and spectacled Mortimer, two inches below him.

The fielding on both sides was generally clean and accurate, although the Canadians made little effort to get two or three hits that looked within reach of the long fielders. Wadsworth caught a hard-hit ball from Hill's bat at square leg, and this, with Terry's quick and accurate return when Merriott was run out, were marvellous fielding displays.

The visitors wore a natty cap and coat of a combination of the historic dun and fir of a combination of the historic dark and light-blue, and, as the baseball rooters would say, were always in the game. Thus it is no wonder that one of Toronto's most thorough sportsmen, who signs himself "Stumps," sent this pointed letter

"As an Englishman and an old cricketer, allow me to express the hope that a Canadian eleven in the field will never imitate that frantic yell with which our young visitors yesterday all at once appealed to the umpire. It sounds like intended intimidation. It is bad form. Enough for the bowler, wicket-keeper, captain or person actually concerned to make his appeal; but that universal yell! Let us hope that will not be imported. Our men appealed in the good old-fashioned, orthodox way, and I hope they will continue to do so. There were one or two questionable decisions given when the Englishmen were in the field, and they were not improved by the way in which they were demanded."

The Canadians played good and careful cricket all round, the principal scorers being: Goldingham (19), Terry (20), Jacques (10) and Wadsworth, not out (20). Jacques was caught neatly by Mitchell at short slip, while Marriott dismissed Wilson in the same place. Wadsworth played an admirable innings. Robinson's work behind the wickets excited considerable favorable comment. Hartley, for the visitors, took five wickets after luncheon for 12 runs.

Taking the Englishmen all round, they did not bat as well as the Canadians. Of their total of 188, 131 were obtained by three men—Druce, Phillips and Robinson. The Canadian captain neglected to place a man at long field when the bowling was towards the stand, and this probably largely increased the visitors' score. Lex Martin, at long on, did most serviceable work for Canada.

Druce, who proved so formidable at New York, played an innings of 33 in excellent style, finally being caught and bowled by Lyon. The best stand was, however, made by Phillips, who indulged in some hard hitting before Goldingham took his wicket for 51. Robinson, who for a long time played along with him, struck six fours, and was bowled by Goldingham for 47. The remainder of the visitors were easily disposed of, until Arkwright and Hartley came to the wicket, when the game was adjourned until this morning. Scores:

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.

A YOUNG LADY IN ELGIN COUNTY TELLS HOW IT SAVED HER LIFE.

The Case Baffled the Family Doctor and he Gave it up—Relief Came When Hope Had Almost Gone—Health Again Restored.

From the Tilsonburg Observer.

Mr. J. W. Kennedy, who resides on the 8th concession of the township of Bayham, is one of the most respected farmers in the township. Recently an Observer representative visited his home for the purpose of learning the particulars of the recovery of his daughter, Miss Alice Kennedy, from a severe and trying illness, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, after medical assistance had failed. Miss Kennedy now presents the appearance of a healthy and active young woman of twenty, and bears no indication of having passed through an illness that baffled the doctors' skill. To the reporter Miss Kennedy said that in the autumn of 1893 she was taken ill and a physician was called in. Despite all the doctor did for her, she continued to grow worse. She suffered from severe headache, became very pale, rapidly lost flesh, and her limbs were cold and swollen. She suffered great pain and it was with much difficulty she could move about, and would sometimes lie for hours in a half stupor. At last the doctor said he could do nothing more for her, and the family asked his advice as to her using Dr. William's Pink Pills. He said he was of the opinion that they would not help her. In spite of this adverse criticism, however, she determined to give them a trial, and before the first box was finished the wisdom of the decision was made manifest. An improvement was noticed and with joy Miss Kennedy continued taking the Pink Pills until she had used fourteen boxes, when she felt that she was completely cured. She has not taken any since the early summer, and has not had any recurrence of her old trouble, and never felt better in her life. Indeed Miss Kennedy says that as a result of the Pink Pill treatment she has gained 25 pounds in weight. A short time after she began the use of the Pink Pills the doctor who had previously attended her, called and was much surprised at the improvement in the young lady's appearance, and said that if Pink Pills had caused the transformation by all means to continue their use. Miss Kennedy's statements were corroborated by her father and sister, both of whom give all the credit for her marvellous recovery to Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially valuable to women. They build up the blood, restore the nerves and eradicate those troubles which make the lives of so many women, old and young, a burden, dizziness. Palpitation of the heart, nervous headache and nervous prostration speedily yield to this wonderful medicine. They are also a specific in the cases of locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, the after effects of la grippe, etc. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from overwork, mental worry, or excesses of any nature. They are sold only in boxes, the trade mark and wrapper printed in red ink, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

BRITAIN SHOULD PAY ITS SHARE

In the Event of Newfoundland Joining Canada.

London, Sept. 7.—Sir Julius Vogel, formerly Agent-General for New Zealand in London, has written a letter, which The Times publishes, relative to the statement concerning Newfoundland made in Parliament a few days ago by the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Sir Julius thinks that the advantage to the United Kingdom and the whole empire of incorporating Newfoundland and Canada may over-balance the inexpediency of allowing the taxpayers of Newfoundland to receive relief from the taxpayers of Great Britain. If this should be so, it would not be fair to throw the whole cost on the Dominion.

Great Britain need not fear establishing an evil precedent. She ought to refund to Canada part of the cost the latter would be put to.

Canada and the Copyright.

London, Sept. 7.—The Times this morning says that Mr. Newcombe who came to London on behalf of Canada to secure a change in the copyright law, is carrying home certain modifications of Canada's demand with regard to the Copyright Act. It is understood that these recognize the right of copyright in Canada to every person who has any right to copyright in the United Kingdom. There are also other concessions which it is believed will satisfy Canada's expectations. Hall Caine sails for Ottawa on September 18 as a delegate from English authors to confer upon the terms of the proposed reconstructed bill.

Healy's Man Snowed Under.

Dublin, Sept. 6.—The Parliamentary election in Kerry, where so much bitterness was caused by the nomination of a candidate by the Healyites in opposition to the candidate previously put forward by the followers of Mr. Justin McCarthy, has resulted in the choice of Farrell, the McCarthyite nominee, by 1209 votes, against 474 votes cast for Murphy, the Healyite candidate.

Died of His Injuries.

Buda Pest, Sept. 6.—The Archduke Ladislas died to-day from the injuries which he received by the accidental discharge of his gun while he was hunting in the forest of Agra on Monday.

SIR VAN HORNE ON MIXED WHEAT.

Not to Allow the Mixing Would Be an Injustice.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—Sir William Van Horne's opinions on the vexed question of the right of vendors to mix scoured wheat with Manitoba No. 1 hard do not exactly coincide with those expressed by the Boards of Trade of Toronto and Montreal. Speaking to a reporter concerning the action of the Controller of Inland Revenue in postponing the issuance of the proposed order-in-council restricting the mixing the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway said:

"I think the Government was quite right in not excluding wheat which had been treated for smut by brushing, from the higher grade, if the brushing has made it fit for that grade. To have excluded it would have worked a great hardship to a large number of farmers. I think there will be much less smut this year than last, and that when the next seeding time comes everybody will join in such treatment of the seed as will get rid of the difficulty and then we will hear no more of it."

ORDERED CLOTHING!

A Fourth Department Now Added.

WE begin the Fall Campaign with a new department, that of Ordered Clothing. We have added this in order that customers and the public may find with GOUGH BROS. that service which will suit all classes and all requirements.

We retain the services of MR. DUNCAN CAMERON as Cutter and Manager of the staff engaged in this department. We have equipped our Tailoring Rooms with the best machinery and appliances and know we can turn out work the equal of th best city establishments. We solicit your orders.

We recognize that much is expected of GOUGH BROS. and that thousands will look for some radical changes in the prices of clothing made to order. If you are interested read about what we have to say.

On going to the wholesale markets to buy our stock of materials, we found a large lot of Scotch, English and Irish Woolens and Imported Worsteds, stopped by the English shippers in transit to a dealer in the west. We were invited to make a bid. We did so, and the goods were sold to us by the bank

At One Third of the Cost Value.

We are into Ordered Clothing to make it a success. With our buying power—and the above snap is an instance—we propose to push for all there is in it. We will sell for cash and cash only, and instead of expecting $7.00 profit on a $22.00 suit, we will be content with $2.00 profit.

Facts are convincing. Nothing else will carry assurance home. Here is your fact and your opportunity. We place in our centre window a range of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, and

For the Next Twelve Days we Will Make Suits to Order From These Cloths at $12.75 PER SUIT.

There you have it! Stylishly cut, elegantly trimmed, perfectly fitting Suits for $12.75. Look at the goods! Size up the Values and tell us if GOUGH BROS are not making a revolution in the Ordered Clothing trade.

PROMOTER WM. KYLE ARRESTED

Charged With Attempting to Bribe a Niagara Falls Alderman to Secure an Electric Franchise.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 8.—Chief Thomas Young Saturday arrested William Kyle of Toronto, the promoter of the International Belt Line Railway Company of this town, who with John M. Brinker of Buffalo, Arthur E. Schoelkopf and Hans Nelson of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and others are seeking incorporation from the Ontario Government to construct and operate an electric railway to connect with the American system across the two bridges through this town and village of Drummondville.

The warrant, which was sworn out by His Worship Mayor George Hanan, charged Kyle with attempting to bribe a member of last year's council to have a certain vote carried in favor of Kyle while he was before the Council in the interests of Alex. Manning and Z. A. Lash of Toronto. Charles Black of this town and Messrs Mooney and Kelly of New York are the principal owners of the present horse car line between Clifton and Drummondville, and were at that time as represented by Kyle seeking a bonus of $75,000 to convert the tramway into an electric system, greatly extending the same.

Kyle was arrested near the Clifton House hill and brought to the court-room. He sent after his solicitor, W. M. German, who appeared for him before acting Police Magistrate Logan. T. D. Cowper of Welland County, attorney, appeared for the Crown. Kyle, who entered a plea of not guilty, expressed a desire to have the case proceed, but on Magistrate Logan announcing he had no jurisdiction to try the case Mr. German asked to have the hearing enlarged till next Saturday, which was granted, and bail fixed at $2000, Mr. Kyle himself $1000 and two others $500 each.

GAUTHIER PRONOUNCED SANE.

His Trial One Week Hence—Demers Arraigned This Morning.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—The trial of Napoleon Demers for the murder of his wife will open in the Court of Queen's Bench Monday morning.

In the case of Gauthier, accused of the murder of Celina Consigny, his affianced wife, the medical expert reported on Saturday that he was sane and able to stand his trial. The trial was set for the 16th inst., and the defence given permission to introduce Drs. Burgess and Bourque as expert witnesses to prove his insanity.

The Ripper Again.

London, Sept. 9.—Another supposed Jack the Ripper murder was discovered this morning at Kensal Green. The victim was an unfortunate woman of the outcast class, and her throat was cut from ear to ear and her head frightfully battered with a stone. No trace has been discovered of the murderer.

SHAMROCKS DEFEAT CAPITALS.

But Ottawa's Twelve Are Still at the Top of the League.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—The championship match between the Shamrocks and Capitals on Saturday was a pretty exhibition of skilful lacrosse all through, without the usual manifestations of foul play and roughness, and resulted in favor of the Shamrocks by 6 goals to 2, but the result does not oust the Caps from the top. The first five games were decidedly interesting, the Shamrocks having the best of the score, but the Capitals, with their reinstated men, Carson and Carleton, put up a clean, steady and strong game. After the fifth game the play was, however, very languid. The teams were:

Shamrocks (6)—McKenna, goal; O'Brien, Stinson, Dwyer, Moore; Kelley, centre; Hinton, Danaher, O'Meara, Wall and Tucker.

Capitals (2)—Crown, goal; Sparrow, Devine, Hugh Carson, Binks, James, George Carson, Carleton, Murphy, Ketchum, Smith and Powers.

Messrs. W. Bramley and C. H. Clendinning were umpires, and Harry Brophy referee.

The damage to building and contents, including Knights Templar and Masonic lodge regalia, swords, banners and other paraphernalia, is estimated at $100,000.

ROASTED BY ROBBERS

Desperate Outrage Near Parkhill.

A MAN AND WOMAN TIED UP.

Man and Woman Bound and Gagged—The Man's Feet Roasted Until He Disclosed Where His Money Was Kept.

Parkhill, Ont., Sept. 9.—Friday night three masked men entered the house of John Bullock, three miles from town. Mrs. Bullock, who resides with her son, was sleeping down stairs, and the men tied her securely to the bed. Her screams awoke Mr. Bullock, but before he was aware of what was going on he was seized, thrown down, gagged and bound.

The burglars demanded money, and on Bullock's refusal to state where it was kept the men roasted his feet until the agony became unbearable.

The robbers secured $35 and a watch. On leaving they went to the stable, hitched up a horse and buggy and decamped. Mrs. Bullock managed to free herself an hour later and with the aid of a neighbor Bullock was untied. The house had been ransacked from top to bottom.

TEN ARRESTS FOR ARSON.

Montreal Men Charged With Conspiring to Burn Premises for the Insurance

Montreal, Sept. 8.—A sensation was caused in the city on Saturday, when it became known abroad that ten or twelve leading citizens were about to be arrested on a charge of arson. During the afternoon, Silas H. Carpenter, chief of the Canadian secret service, and Charles D. Harrison, fire insurance adjuster, appeared before Judge Dugas in the Police Court and swore out warrants for the arrest of ten gentlemen well-known in business circles. Three of them were executed during the afternoon, and this evening there are eight in the cells. The officers preserve a good deal of secrecy about the details, but Mr. Carpenter says he is acting under the instructions of the Attorney-General and Crown Prosecutor Quinn, and that the crown was working on these cases before the development of the famous Boyd-Gillies & Co's case, for which Jenkins, Haynes and Clarke are to undergo their trial at the present session of the Queen's Bench. The fires concerned run over two or three years back, and over a million dollars worth of property is said to have been destroyed in them. A fireman was killed at one of the fires also. The evidence given by Clarke and Haynes in the enquete in the Boyd-Gillies & Co. case, showed that a cleverly planned conspiracy had existed to burn the warehouse for the insurance, and it is hinted that even more startling developments will ensue when the charges against these men come to be investigated. Those arrested are: William Thomas, of William Thomas & Co., wholesale furriers, 514 St. Paul-street; Lewis Lowenthal, merchant tailor, 1811 Notre Dame-street; Isaac Davis of I. Davis & Son, wholesale furriers, 506 St. Paul-street; George Payeur, foreman of Keller's fur dyeing works; Pt. St. Charles; Adolphe Sassonville, foreman fur cutter in Vineberg & Sons; Edwin Richardson, foreman in a roofing company; St. Antoine-street; John Besier, fur merchant, 211 St. Lawrence-street; L. N. Dagenais, merchant tailor, 351 St. Paul-street. There are three more arrests to follow.

Judge Jette rendered a very important judgment for members of the C.M.B.A. in a case of Doherty v. Thompson Saturday. This action arose out of the fact that a certain number of the members of Branch 41 seceded when the Quebec Grand Council was organized, refusing to recognize its authority and pretending to still be themselves the legitimate Branch 41. Among those who thus left was the present defendant recording secretary of the branch, who gave up all his books, but refused to sign the joint cheque required to get the branch's money out of the bank. Thereupon other members of the branch, who had not seceded and formed a majority, took out the present action against Thompson. The court declared that the organization of the Quebec Grand Council was regular and valid and that Thompson must sign the cheque or pay the amount himself.

Sir Henry Tyler Off for Peru

New York, Sept. 8.—Sir Henry Tyler, representing men who hold £32,000,000 in Peruvian securities, is here on his way to Peru. Some time ago Peru defaulted on the interest. To the British creditors she made over certain railroads, guano beds and lands, and agreed to pay £80,000 a year. This agreement was ratified by Congress. The bondholders were incorporated as the Peruvian Corporation. Recent political troubles have made it necessary to test the soundness of the agreement, and perhaps to have it ratified by the present Government.

Kerwood, Ont., Sept. 9.—While threshing on Saturday afternoon, Charles W. Langford got entangled in the machinery and received injuries that may prove fatal. His right arm has been amputated and he has serious wounds about the head.

A Corpse Clogged the Wheels.

New York, Sept. 8.—As a freight train on the New York & Harlem River Railroad was pulling past 42nd-street, early this morning, the engineer fancied that there was something clogging the wheels of his engine and made an examination. Sticking betwdeen the wheels of the first freight car he found the frightfully-mangled body of a man about 30 years old. The body was removed to the morgue.

Five Blown to Pieces

THE DEFENDER WINS

Valkyrie Defeated in the First Race

BY NEARLY NINE MINUTES.

At First the Englishman Led, But Soon Was Overhauled—The Wind Was From 5 to 8 Miles an Hour With a Steady Increase.

New York, Sept. 9.—Defender, the aluminum and bronze boat, defeated Valkyrie III. 8 minutes 49 seconds in the first of the races for the America's Cup Saturday acording to this table of official times:

	Start.	Turn.	Fin.	E.time.	C.Time
Defender	12.30 50	2.56 29	5 21.14	5 00 24	4.39.35
Valkyrie	12.20 46	3.39.52	5 59 30	5.08.44	4.48.44

A critical consideration of the comparative merits of the two boats shows: First, that Defender was unquestionably better handled than Valkyrie; second, she outpoints her in any wind; and, third, she seems better before the wind, though as was said the wind had shifted so that the so called run home was really a broad reach.

Also it appears that Defender foots faster than Valkyrie in stiff weather, besides beating her to windward. The English boat is undeniably faster in a light breeze such as the race began with, but even then she cannot sail so close to windward.

It would appear that Dunraven's only hope now is a drifting match.

Twenty thousand people on board the greatest flotilla that ever assembled off Sandy Hook witnessed the race, and there was a scene of hilarious joy when Defender crossed the line fully two minutes ahead of Lord Dunraven's boat.

The joy of the multitude was undoubtedly increased by the fact that Valkyrie led the Yankee boat for the first hour. She walked away from Defender in a way that led Englishmen to fondle the hope that their day had come at last. Bright visions of the America's Cup floated before their eyes, while the patriotic Americans who were packed tier above tier on the many-decked excursion steamers were very glum.

A hush fell over the marine amphitheatre when the boats started, and all the joys of yachting seemed gone when the Valkyrie easily moved to the front and showed heels to Defender. Cheers and enthusiasm were missing for a full hour when the British boat was leading. There was only a five-knot breeze at the start, and, as predicted, Valkyrie was going through the water faster than the Defender in the light air. There was a lumpy sea on, and quite a swell came in from the ocean, but the buffeting of the waves against the Britisher's bow did not keep her back. She outpointed and outfooted the Herreshoff boat to the amazement of the great crowd of spectators. But after establishing a lead of a good quarter of a mile, the wind having freshened, the cup hunter failed to hold her own, and the Yankee began to gain. When the crowd saw it there was a general brightening up, and as it became plain that the product of American brains was picking up her rival a cheer went up and tug boat whistles screeched.

As both yachts were beating to windward, it is impossible to say just when the Defender overhauled the British boat, but it was about 1.25 p.m. when the boats had covered nearly half of the 15 miles of windward work. Once the Defender got her gait there was no catching her and as the wind continued to freshen she opened up a very large gap between her stern and the bow of the Valkyrie. When Defender reached the outer mark she had an advantage of 3 minutes and 27 seconds. There was a big demonstration as the Yankee boat made the turn. The wind having shifted the run home became a broad reach, and it was of constant gain for the American boat. Going home the gain was 4 minutes 53 seconds.

With the time allowance of 29 seconds the Defender's victory was by 3 minutes 49 seconds.

The wind was 10 knots an hour at the finish. The day's race showed Valkyrie III. moved like a ghost in a wind of less than 6 knots and that she seemed speedier than Defender in that wind. It also showed that with a wind of from 8 to 10 knots in both windward work and broad reaching the English boat could not keep the pace set by Defender.

Both yachts were somewhat interfered with by the attendant fleet, but the patrol yachts kept a fairly clear course except at the start and finish.

It was just 12.20 o'clock when the preparatory gun boomed out and the red ball was hoisted on the committee boat, the Walter A. Luckenbach. The wind was very light, perhaps five miles an hour, and was from the east southeast. The sea was moderately still. It was Valkyrie's own weather, in which she ought to do her very prettiest. If she did not run now, there was little hope for her. Both boats were standing along the line, close hauled on the starboard tack, and so headed for the Long Island shore. Valkyrie was to windward and Defender had just walked through her lee, so that she was apparently, although not actually, ahead. Defender had spread her main sail, club topsail, jib and stay sail, with her jib topsail in stops. Valkyrie had only main, club topsail and jib, with no stay sail. Now came the prettiest part of the race, where skilful seamanship is at its highest premium—the manoeuvring for the weather gage. Defender went about followed by Valkyrie, and both ran back along the line

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 23 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1895.

THE farmer who has wheat to sell with the price at 62 cents derives very little comfort from the dollar-a-bushel price that was obtained a few months ago when his bins were empty.

CIRCUMSTANCES indicate that at no very distant period the native-born "Yankee" will be an extinct quantity—like the dodo or the megalosaurus. The well-known aversion of the average American wife to burden herself with the duties of maternity will, if maintained, in time lead to the result that no children will be born of American parentage. Advance sheets of the Michigan census, dealing with the nativity of the inhabitants, show that the proportion of foreigners is steadily on the increase. The number having both parents foreign-born is now greater than the number having both parents native Americans. The proportion of foreign-born has increased more than 17 per cent. in fourteen years. The most serious aspect of this growth is the accompanying tendency of the foreigners to retain their former habits, customs and ideas of government.

SATURDAY'S Globe has a capital cartoon. It represents a scene in Manitoba referring to the recent magnificent harvest. A long spout leads from a steam thresher in the distance and at the end of the spout the typical Manitoba farmer is holding a bag under a weak dribbling stream of wheat pouring from the spout. The smallness is explained by the circumstance of the spout which is labelled "Protective Tariff System," is at several points pierced with half a dozen holes through which the wheat briskly pouring into as many measures labelled respectively,—"Tax on House," "Tax on Lumber, taxes on Light," "Taxes on Clothes," "Taxes on Furniture" and "Taxes on Farm Implements, Barb Wire and Binder Twine." The farmer who is bending beneath the weight of an obese and overfed figure, "The Red Parlour Monopolist," is addressed by Mr. Foster, who turns the tariff screw—"Accept my congratulations, Mr. Farmer, on your magnificent harvest," and the Northwest farmer replies, with eyes despondently bent on the scantily filled bag under the spout, "Thank you kindly, sir, but it doesn't seem to pan out much for me after all." There's a world of truth in this picture. What with high freight rates and the taxes eating into the farmer's profits the year round—taxes and freight rates get the wheat and the farmer gets the toil. The situation may not appeal so strongly to the Ontario farmer, but let him place himself in the North west farmer's place—or take a tariff list and examine where the taxes touch him, and he will find that he has not very much to boast over, and that he can sympathise with Northwest Farmer.

WEST HURON.

There seems to be some possibility after all of the Dominion Government risking a contest in West Huron. The Ottawa Journal says that while the government is not likely to be in any particular hurry in issuing a writ for an election in West Huron to fill the seat for the Dominion Parliament just vacated by Mr. Patterson, there is no doubt but a contest will take place there before Parliament meets next January. "But for this special session of Parliament an election would not be necessary. If the House met and one of the seats had been left unfilled, then the Opposition, knowing that West Huron is usually a Grit constituency, would refuse to conduct public business until such time as the date of the election was fixed. The Government, therefore, would not give their political opponents the opportunity of doing this." The allusion to the power of the terrible Grits to prevent public business going on is amusing, but that is by the way. A Conservative paper published in the region in question, The Huron News Record, says that for West Huron the appointment means in all likelihood another election before the present Parliament expires, and that "no doubt ere long a riding convention will be called and a candidate placed in the field." The obvious objection to bringing on an election is that Mr. Patterson's majority was only 16. But it is possible that the Government have really been convinced by the efforts of the official comforters to show that the loss of 1,450 votes in Westmoreland somehow represented an improvement in the position of the party.—Globe.

PROF. WIGGINS PREDICTS A GREAT STORM.

The Weird Weather Wiseacre Gives his Reasons.

Ottawa, Sept. 6th.—Professor E. Stone Wiggins, who predicted the great storm that passed over the Atlantic and Pacific in March, 1883, predicts a storm of equal violence between the 17th and 21st of the present month. Asked to-day his reasons for predicting the storm of 1883 and the one he promises us for this month, the professor said:—"My reasons were these: The sun and moon were in the same arc of right ascension, almost in the same spot in the heavens, and were near the celestial equator, and at the moment when our Northern Pacific was turned towards the sun. Their united force was increased by the moon's perigee being at her nearest orbital point to the earth. Furthermore, she was in conjunction with Venus on March 5th, with Mercury on March 6th, and with Mars on March 7th. On looking over my calculations of the March storm of 1883 made in September, 1882, I find reference to a sister storm on September, 21st, 1895, twelve years afterwards. On the 18th of the present month the moon will pass over the sun's disc, a few degrees west of San Francisco, causing a solar eclipse, the moon herself being in perigee, and two hours later on the celestial equator, Mars and Venus will both be in conjunction with her on that day. A great storm will therefore sweep the shores of all the continents from the equator to the poles as early as the 17th inst., but on the east coast of North America it will reach its climax with high tides by the afternoon of Saturday, 21st inst. There is danger of volcanic upheavals on the meridian of Japan and of earthquakes in South America and Mexico."

Hauling Corn From The Field.

A handy wagon for hauling fodder corn, corn for the crib, or corn stover as well as other bulky crops is shown below. The rear wheels are 2 feet high, the front wheels 3 feet 8 inches. A platform is made of inch boards and may extend beyond the rear axle as far as desired or according to length of corn, so the corn can be laid straight. A rope is tied to the cross-piece at the rear end of the platform, b, and allowed to run the whole length of the platform, a, with end enough to come back over the corn as at a, after it is loaded on the wagon. The rope is used for unloading, by being pulled, the whole load coming off at once. This platform can be built long enough to come within one foot of the ground at rear end of wagon so the men loading can step on to it and lay the corn down, but I prefer for them to hand it to the driver because he is more apt to lay it straight. The load can be taken off in less than one minute. I can haul more with this wagon than with two of the ordinary kind. The wheels can be made higher or lower, just as any one likes.—Farm and Home.

Necessity for Tree Planting.

In some parts of the world, where timber is a necessity and coal a luxury, the planting of trees is made a matter of law. In Norway the law requires that every person who cuts down a tree must plant another; the same applies to some parts of Germany. We have no such laws in the United States, but the necessity will soon be upon the residents of several sections of the thickly populated east. In the arid west State laws already offer bounties to tree setting, in some States, and the law might well be enacted in several others. Do not wait until a tree is cut before planting another, but plant valuable wood trees in the waste places at once.

Constructing a Farm Bridge.

Haphazard construction of farm bridges is a risky matter, the safety of valuable animals being often thus put in jeopardy. The accompanying illustration shows an easily constructed and very secure bridge where a single log cannot be used as a stringer. Rails can be added along either side for greater security at the top.

WHAT IS MEANT BY STYLE.

It Does Not Come From Money or the Dressmaker.

"Style is a mysterious quality," said an observant dame. "It is one of the few desirable things that money cannot buy. A first-class dressmaker may dress a woman artistically, but she cannot give her style.

"Style does not mean variety of apparel; it does not even mean richness of material. These things are welcome additions to it, but not essential. The best dressmaker, though she may do her utmost, and greatly improve the contours by toning down a defect here, and emphasizing a good point there, cannot make the form, the frame, over. It is in the poise of the head and shoulders, the habitual way of moving that the indescribable quality of personal style lies secreted. If the average woman of to-day were asked what good gift she would choose as a boon from a fairy godmother, provided she could have but one, there is no doubt that she would, on mature consideration, select style.

"Style outlives youth and good looks. It gives a woman an immense power of holding her own and carries off awkward predicaments. It makes its possessor, in the long run, often outshine a commonplace beauty, no matter however plain she may be individually. Style frequently renders a woman presentable in a shabby gown, and is a gift that holds good for rain or shine, in hot or cold weather alike—one that once possessed never deserts its possessor.

"To analyze it completely is impossible; one can only get a hint, a suggestion, of its inherent attributes here and there. But one thing is certain, to be well dressed and aware of it, is decidedly not 'stylish.' The fundamental principle of style is to wear an old gown with the air of a princess and to wear a new one as if you had forgotten its newness. That is a safe rule to follow.

Vacation Hints.

It is an easy thing to overdo the pleasures of vocation. An endless round of picnics, dances and the like are as wearing as an endless round of work. At the same time,

Don't settle down into a state of stagnation during vacation. The machinery of your body needs cleaning up, polishing up, oiling up, toning up—not "shutting down," isn't it Cowper who suggests:

"Absence of occupation is not rest,
A mind quite vacant is a mind distressed."

The pleasure and good one gets from a vacation does not at all depend upon the amount of money spent. The high-priced fashionable resorts are not always the best places in the world for persons in need of rest.

Just a word to those going off for a rest. Let your rest come in time to do you some good, and in order to do this do a little resting before going away. If you expect to enjoy your trip, and to get the most out of it mentally, as well as physically, do not go to the very end of your strength in getting ready to go away. There are times it seems almost impossible to avoid putting off a good many things until the last moment; one thing so depends upon another that none can be long anticipating, but it does seem to bad to have much of the pleasure of the trip itself and most of the holiday spoiled by the fatigue consequent upon the preparation for the jaunt.

The Proper Signature.

In this day women's clubs and women's newspapers, when women are the officers and managers of various charitable organizations, editors, etc., it is highly important that what constitutes a woman's signature should be clearly understood. A married woman signs her name in just the same way that a single woman signs hers—that is with her Christian name and the surname that legally belongs to her. That is her only proper signature. When Mary Smith marries John Brown she signs herself henceforth as Mary Brown, or, if she wishes to retain her family name, she may sign herself as Mary Brown-Smith. Her address is distinctly from her signature. A woman's social and business standing is usually conditioned by her husband's. Hence, for social and business convenience she is known as Mrs. John Brown. But that is merely a distinguishing title, not her name, and therefore, cannot be correctly used as a signature. She must sign herself as Mary Brown, or Mary Smith-Brown, and the title Mrs. John Brown may be added in parenthesis as her distinguishing title.

FISH SUPPLY IN THE LAKES.

Whitefish Almost Entirely Gone From the South Shore.

In a recent issue of the Buffalo Times considerable space is devoted to the subject of the depletion of the fish supply in Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, and some of the causes which have contributed to this unfortunate condition of affairs.

It did not require this comprehensive statement of facts to convince dwellers on the borders of these two great lakes that the fisheries have declined in importance during the past ten years. As late as 1885 large catches of whitefish were the rule along the south shore of Lake Ontario, from the Niagara River to the Ducks and Clayton. To-day the catch of a single fairly adult whitefish off the harbor of Charlotte would be heralded as an unusual event, and the specimen would command a fancy price as a rarity. At Sodue it is not uncommon to find two or three fair-sized whitefish in the seine, and at points further east along the shore they are still more common. As a commercial element, however, the whitefish no longer cuts any figure along the south shore.

The condition of affairs in Lake Erie seems to be fully as bad, if not worse, the industry of whitefishing having declined very rapidly during the past few years, until it is now of comparatively little account. The Times writer does not hesitate to ascribe the cause to the wasteful practice of netting "baby" fish. It seems that it has been the practice to bring to the Buffalo market whitefish which were barely distinguishable from smelts by their size, and reputable dealers are charged with purchasing and selling these immature fishlings. In these circumstances, it is certainly not strange that whitefish of marketable size should disappear from the waters of Lake Erie.

In a less degree the same reasons probably apply to Lake Ontario, although it is the opinion of some experts that other causes have contributed to the scarcity in its waters. It is contended that the large amount of sewage allowed to enter Lake Ontario from the cities along the south shores has driven the whitefish to more congenial quarters in other parts of the lake. This claim would seem to have some foundation, from the fact that very large specimens are still caught along the Canada shore and at points remote from the cities on the American side. Lake Ontario fishermen are not, however, entirely guiltless in the matter of catching and marketing undersized fish.

The Times writers treats at length the efforts of the Fish Commissioners to restore the supply of whitefish in the two lakes mentioned, but does not appear to be very hopeful of the result. The lack of uniformity of the laws regulating the taking of fish in the lakes seems to be the chief obstacle to progress in correcting the evil, and a national law, coupled with an international agreement with the Dominion, is suggested as the proper remedy. That the present condition is unfortunate, and that it works hardship to the people of moderate means, is apparent. Whether any plan can be devised which will remedy this dismal state of affairs, and restore these great food-producing sources to their former condition, remains to be seen.—Rochester Democrat.

All About the Wheel.

Abbas Hilmi, the young Khedive of Egypt, rides a wheel built for him of solid silver.

The most precious bicycle in the world is owned by the Gaikover of Johore. It is of massive gold, and inlaid with diamonds and sapphires.

Bicycles are now being constructed of papier-mache, and it seems that they stand the wear and tear of heavy road-work very well.

The largest collection of wheels of various types is owned by Mr. Frederick Verney, the Secretary of the Chinese Legation at London. It contains 128 bicycles, 5 tandems and 42 tricycles. Every member of his numerous family is an expert rider, and even his little three-year-old daughter takes a spin along with the rest of the family.

Privy Counselor Alfred Krupp, the cannon king of Germany, has joined the wheelmen. Heretofore interested in wheels only as far as they served to move his gun carriages, he has become very enthusiastic upon the subject, and may be seen every morning going out on his safety, rain or shine.

Automatic Ticket Sellers.

The Berlin city railway has experimentally introduced automatic ticket-sellers at the stations of secondary importance. The apparatus used is considerably wider than other slot machines in use before, and contains a number of slots for tickets to various destinations. If the supply is exhausted the money is returned by pressing a button just beneath the slot—return being made only if no ticket was delivered by the apparatus. A general introduction of these slot machines in the small suburban stations for commuters' trains will result in a considerable saving to the railroad company.

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

A Painful Accident.

Mr. R. Young, of the Edison Works, met with a painful accident on Saturday. Mr. Young was operating a planer when by some means his limb caught in the machine. Injured in a Mill.

The[illegible] a bad accident last week in Mr.[illegible] sawmill, at Ingoldsby, Haliburton. A man named Kellar, who had only been employed there for a few hours, and who had been warned several times to be more careful, dropped his arm across an edging saw. The bone was sawed clean through. He was put on the train and sent to Haliburton where Dr. Giles gave him every attention. He was brought to Peterborough a few days ago and placed in Nicholls Hospital.

Visitors to the Industrial Exhibition at Toronto should not fail to visit the Toronto Opera House during the appearance of the mellow, genial, beaming and clever Dan McCarthy with his supporting company of twenty or more people, who perform in the jolly Irish comedy dramas, "The Rambler From Clare," and "The Pride of Mayo." Mr. McCarthy will occupy the boards from Sept. 2nd to 14th, and will give no less than nineteen performances. As is customary at the Toronto Opera House there will not be an increase in the regular popular prices prices at the theatre during the fair.

Mile Post Marauders.

Oak Hall Clothing Store has had erected on the roads leading to town mileposts, which indicate the number of miles from the point where placed, as follows: "— miles to Oak Hall Clothiers, Peterborough." This morning the firm learned that three or four of these posts on the Lakefield Road had been removed from the ground and some carried away entirely. Mr. Moffatt, the manager, offers a reward of $50 for the detection and conviction of the guilty person or persons. He is determined to demand the full penalty of the law upon any persons found guilty of such offence, and all good citizens will co-operate with him in his efforts to repress this vandalism, which is by no means a credit to Peterborough.

HIS DAYS ARE SHORT.

Dennis Slattery, an Inmate of the Gaol, Getting Very Feeble.

Poor old Dennis Slattery, who has been confined in the gaol for some time past, as a vagrant, and whose term expired Saturday, applied this morning at the Police Court to be sent up on the hill again.

The unfortunate old man is very feeble and had to be assisted up the narrow stairs to the court room. As he stood before the J. P.'s, Messrs. Adam Hall and R. S. Davidson, he presented a sad spectacle indeed. His snowy-white hair is heavily matted on his head, while his wrinkled face plainly shows the result of being left to the mercies of a cruel world. He is, besides, quite deaf, and it is feared this is the last time the unfortunate man will ask for shelter in the county gaol.

The old man will be confined in the county gaol for the winter. When asked this morning if he had friends, Dennis replied he had no one to look to but God and himself.

HE WILL NOT GIVE UP HIS ALLEGIANCE.

A Former Peterboroughnian in Trouble in Buffalo.

A despatch from Buffalo states that Mr. Thomas H. Darcey, proprietor of the Empire hotel, Exchange street, in that city, is in trouble. He is charged with violating the internal revenue law, which provide that none but citizens of the United States shall sell liquor.

On Friday Mr. Darcey was arrested, charged with the above offence, and held in $500 bail. The Federal officers state that Darcey will have to give up selling liquor or his allegiance to the Queen.

The despatch further states that Mr. Darcey has an aversion to becoming a citizen of the United States, and has always been a staunch Canadian.

Mr. Darcey is well known in Peterborough, having conducted a saloon in the premises now occupied by the Hub Restaurant.

A HAVELOCK SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

A Bullet From a Revolver Lodges in a Boy's Neck.

A few days ago an accident, which nearly proved fatal, occurred at the residence of Mr. John Johnston, about a mile east of here. The hired boy purchased a revolver a few days before and had it in his pants pocket hanging in his room. The two boys of Mr. Johnston, aged 3 and 10, took the revolver out of the pocket and were playing with it, when suddenly it went off, the ball passing through the neck of the younger boy. It was a pitiable sight to see the little fellow suffering and bleeding from the wound. Dr. Jeffs was at once summoned to the scene of the accident, and upon a careful examination found that the wound would not prove fatal. The little fellow is getting on nicely at present.—Standard.

THE SMITH-IRWIN ASSAULT CASE

BEFORE THE COUNTY POLICE MAGISTRATE.

The Trial of the Parties Connected With the Affair Being Held To-day—A Large Number of Witnesses to be Examined.

The parties connected with the recent Springville assault cases came up for trial at the Court House to-day before County Police Magistrate Edmison. There was a large of spectators present during the trial from Springville and vicinity County Crown Attorney Wood appeared for the Crown. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. E. B. Stone for the defence. The charge against Smith for assault was taken up.

Mr. Reuben Irwin was the first witness. He met Smith at the market arcade on Saturday, 31st Aug. Smith came up and called his wife a ——————. He said to witness you are a ——————, and asked him to go over to Cavanagh's stables and settle it. Witness replied that there were other ways to settle it, and with his wife left to see Mr. Dumble. Mrs. Louden followed him up, and asked witness to not do anything for her sake. Saw nothing of Smith until I went to Post Office after six o'clock. Mr. Smith was there and two little girls. I asked Tom. if there was any mail. He replied, "I will give you mail, you ——————; you and your —— —— (his wife) tried to have me pulled." Mr. Smith came to the door while he was going out, and Mrs. Smith said, "Tom, give it to the ——." I told him I wanted no trouble with him, but only wanted my mail He jumped off the platform saying, "I will give you your mail, you —— ——."

I then ran away. He ran after me and caught me below his lower gate on the road. He said "pull your coat off." He then grabbed me by the collar and struck me and knocked me on my knees. He then struck me twice and then we clinched and wrestled. Then Mrs. Smith came out with a brick and stone in her hands. My father came to the rescue and caught Mr. Smith by the arm, asking him to cease fighting. Smith had his arm around my neck. We were all on our feet. This was in front of Mr. True's gate. My father was next to Mr. Smith. Mrs. Smith struck my father in the face with a brick and then struck me with a stone, which knocked me on my knees. Then Smith kicked me twice through the gate. When I got to my feet both Smith and his wife were pounding my father with a brick and stone, and Smith was also kicking him. Mrs. Smith said, "Tom, kill the old ——————! Kill him—the old——." My wife came across the road and took me by the arm to take me home. I was pretty sore and weak. The shirt was torn off me.

[The shirt was produced in court, covered with blood, which witness said came from his wounds.]

The shirt was clean and sound at the time. Both Smith and the wife tore it off. Before my wife came Smith and wife were pounding my father. Smith at this juncture came over and struck my wife and and then jumped on to me. We both clinched and fell to the ground. We both regained our feet and had a slight tussle. Smith said to his wife, "Go into the house, Annie." I then got away and went into my yard. She replied, "I will kill that old ——————," and she made a run for my father. My father and I were both at our home. There was nothing more outside of the threats made. Smith said to my father, "I just want two minutes more with you, you old ——————." He kept this up for an hour and a half. My father got a gun and threatened to kill Smith if he came any further. I took the gun from my father. At this juncture the witness stepped down.

Dr. Carmichael was then called. He said the old man Irwin came to his office on Aug. 31st, near midnight. He was covered with blood, with handkerchief covering his eyes, and his moustache blood-clotted. The cut was an inch and a quarter in length. He put in three stitches. The wound was under right eye. He found some dirt in the eye but could not say what the dirt was composed of. Both eyes and nose were swollen. His cheek was almost swollen level with his nose. He dressed the wound and lanced the left eye to let the black blood out. Irwin complained of pain in the side, but no bones were broken. Saw patient again on Tuesday at Springville. He still complained of pain in the side, and wound in his face was dressed. There was a ragged edge on wound. Could not say whether it was a brick or fist.

To Mr. Stone—I would not like to say a stone caused the wound. I examined his side. I said he might be hurt inwardly His son spoke to me about lawsuit when I visited the man. I didn't know how he was hurt.

To Mr. Wood—He examined the man's sides. There was a great deal of tenderness on one side.

Mr. Irwin was again called, and to Mr. Stone, said—He lived in the States for some time. There is no charge against me in Buffalo. When Smith called him and his wife names he just listened to it. He used no bad language towards Smith at the post office. He talked about the fight with his wife. Everbody was talking about it. During the fight witness did not swear at Smith, as he remembered. Smith did not kick him at the gate until his wife came up with the brick and stone. Smith kicked witness on both sides with his right foot. He was only once on Mr. True's walk. Witness also dodged the brick thrown by Mrs. Smith two or three times. Both were beating his father during the fight; is about 64 years of age. His wife had nothing to do with the fight. Smith did not throw any stones or bricks.

The case is still in progress.

Can Heart Failure be Prevented?

Startling and brief the announcement, "Sudden Death Caused by Heart Failure." Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries, and reporters arousing the forebodings of those victims of indigestion and mal-nutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation, in palpitation or fluttering, of functional disturbance of the heart; symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable, and speedily fatal, malady. Maltine with Coca Wine is potent in restoring conditions that no longer render possible such alarmingly disturbing symptoms. Maltine with Coca Wine, through its remedial influence upon the nervous system, soothes into calmness the disorganized nerves. The heart, in response to increased nerve force, no longer plunges and beats as if determined to break.

Maltine with Coca Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient remedy for all those functional derangements that find manifestation in lassitude, sleeplessness, despondency and loss of appetite and digestive power. A nerve tonic, a body-builder, a nutrient and digestive agent of inestimable value. All druggists sell it.

EX-MAYOR H. H. SMITH.

A few days ago the EXAMINER intimated that there was a probability of Mr. H. H. Smith, formerly mayor of Peterborough, and for ten or eleven years Dominion Land Commissioner at Winnipeg, being transferred to Ottawa as Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and of Mr. W. B. Scarth succeeding him in his Winnipeg office. This arrangement is considered as good as decided upon as will be seen by the following from the Daily Nor-Wester, Winnipeg:

"It was announced some time ago that Mr. H. H. Smith, who for ten or eleven years past has acted as Dominion Lands Commissioner for the Northwest, would be removed to Ottawa to be installed into the position of a deputy Minister, and that Mr. Scarth would succeed him. A Winnipeg dispatch to a Montreal paper says that the change will come into effect on the first of September. We do not know this, but it is quite understood that the arrangement is to be carried out, and if not early in September it will no doubt be soon. So far as it concerns Mr. Scarth this is all right; citizens of all shades of politics will rejoice that he has been selected to take charge of a department whose affairs years of experience have qualified him to administer. But it means also the loss of Mr. Smith, who has been a leading citizen in its best sense for so many years. We need not speak of his administration of the public lands of the North west; it may be that we could not estimate its character at its full worth if we were to do so. The fact that during all the years he has had charge of these lands, and was responsible for their management, there have been no complaints of injustice or hardship speaks more eloquently of the efficiency and fidelity with which his duties were discharged than anything we could say. There is no doubt he has been a faithful, capable painstaking officer; that at least is the reputation he has made for himself here where his duties have come under our immediate and daily observation, and we may be sure that it is the reputation that has preceded him, otherwise he would not be called to the more active and responsible duties of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The public service, therefore, loses nothing by his removal; in the larger sphere of activity which awaits him it will, perhaps, be developed in time that the change has been a gain. It is as a private citizen that he will be most missed in Winnipeg, for in that character he was known to all as a gentleman who deserved and received the respect of others. The time of his departure is no doubt very near, and it is fitting that on leaving he should be assured that he will take with him the good wishes of all classes of the people.

The hosts of friends of Mr. Smith in Peterborough will heartily endorse the the personal references of the Nor-Wester, as suggesting pleasant memories of Mr. Smith's residence in this town while the references to the efficient discharge of his official duties can be largely endorsed on the strength of our knowledge of Mr. Smith's administrative ability in the position of Mayor of Peterborough for some years. It is a high compliment to Mr. Smith that an independent journal like the Nor-Wester should bear such strong testimony to the successful administration of his department and to his personal qualities. In reference to his official duties many citizens of Peterborough who have had occasion to have business dealings with Mr. Smith, experienced invariable courtesy and attention without any distinction on account of political considerations.

Mr. Smith's record as mayor of Peterborough is one which he is entitled to look back upon with satisfaction and his personal qualities, geniality, obliging disposition and courtesy, made him many personal friends, who heartily congratulate him upon the success he is credited with since he left Peterborough, and upon the recognition of his services implied in his selection for the incumbency of his responsible new position, and, though disagreeing with Mr. Smith's political opinions, THE EXAMINER has pleasure in joining in these well-justified congratulations.

While conceding that Mr. Smith made a good mayor and an efficient Land Commissioner, we have yet to learn what special qualifications a lawyer has for the position of Deputy Minister of Agriculture. This profession has not been noted for special activity in the interest of the farmers. What the Department of Agriculture wants is both a chief and deputy who have a practical knowledge of farming, and are therefore able to deal practically and sympathetically with the requirements of the farmers' special interests, which are far and away the most important interests of the country. So far as the real benefit to the farmer is considered, and aside from purely clerical considerations, it would be just as consistent to appoint a farmer minister of justice as to place over the department of agriculture a lawyer, who, in a figurative sense, has his hands too much in other person's pockets to be able to effectively grasp the handles of the plough. There are certainly enough good honest and intelligent Tory farmers in Canada from which the Dominion Government could select a capable Minister of Agriculture.

THE PETER HAMILTON EXHIBIT.

The Highly Creditable Display at the Industrial.

The Globe has the following in reference to the splendid exhibit of agricultural implements made by the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company at the Toronto Industrial:—

"The drawing power of Canada's Great Fair is proving increasingly strong each year and gradually, but surely, the best concerns are taking advantage of this great annual opportunity of placing their goods on view. An illustration of this fact may be found in Agricultural Implement Hall, near the centre, where the above company shows full lines of farm implements to the number of twenty-five—enough to supply complete outfits. For forty-eight years this well-known Peterborough industry has enjoyed the confidence of its patrons, and yet for the first time its output is shown here. And one of the first and strongest impressions made on the mind of the visitor is the beauty of finish, and the evident choice of the best material, so as to combine lightness and efficiency. Of course it is impossible in a brief notice to give a detailed description of the binders, seeders, spring tooth cultivators, spring tooth seeders, turnip sowers, straw cutters, ensilage cutters, mowers, rakes, plows, harrows, etc., that go to make up a splendid display. Nor is it necessary, for everything is of the most modern design and workmanship.

To the uninitiated a binder is a binder, but it needs only a moment's scrutiny of the "Hamilton" harvester to learn that it possesses in its knotter features of value that at once evidence its superiority. It is so simple in construction and operation that it is almost impossible to get out of order. The parts are few in number, and every part is easily accessible, and every farmer learns by experience the advantage of these qualities.

The spring tooth cultivator is another implement that merits more than mere mention, for it is so easily adjusted to uneven ground or change in depth that a boy can operate it.

Hamilton's New Ideal Combined Drill and Broadcast Seeder has a most suggestive name, but the facility with which it does its work fully justifies it. Quantity of seed, depth of sowing, angle of drill hoes are so ingeniously provided for that the operator simply "touches the button" and the machine does the rest, with more than human accuracy.

The forty-ninth annual catalogue of the company is that for 1896, and we cannot do better than take a paragraph therefrom:

"In presenting you with our forty-eighth annual catalogue we have behind it the practical experience of nearly half a century. We have made a specialty of the construction of agricultural implements and harvesting machinery, and in proof that our efforts to present farmers with the best quality of implements that the constant advances in mechanical improvement admit of, is shown by the fact that our output has been greater the past year than in any of the forty-eight years of our manufacturing operations. Every year has witnessed a similar steady increase of our trade, yet we do not claim to have the most extensive works in the country. We do not claim surpassing quantity, but we do take our stand on quality."

All this goes to prove that the Hamilton Company is an important factor at the fair, and that farmers and others interested will be well repaid by calling at their exhibit in Machinery Hall.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept, discoloured teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

Like a Swelling Tide.

is the increasing demand for Osh-k-Osh Tea. This is the best forty cent tea on the Canadian market. This is no idle talk boast. It stays at the head of the head of its class, and is being sold at the low figure of twenty-five cents. Like our thirty-five cent tea, it is a leader; but unlike it in this respect—you can always buy our thirty-five cent tea for thirty-five cents, but shortly you will have to pay forty cents for Osh-k-Osh. Stroud Bros., 370 George street, Peterborough, also at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto. m

HOME COMFORT RANGE COMPANY.

Last week's EXAMINER contained a paragraph copied from the Belleville Ontario, in connection with the operations of the Home Comfort Range Company. In reference to these statements, the Belleville Ontario has been making further enquiries, and it says:

"The Home Comfort Range, we find on investigation, to be a first-class article. The Quinte Hotel is furnished with the same range, only a larger one, and from the same company, and it gives the best of satisfaction. From what we have gathered from different farmers who have got this range in their homes we find the information given us and published last week was not true. The sellers denied that they ever offered to take board or take in exchange an old stove. They look like business men and therefore have just as good a right to sell their stoves as other men."

The Lindsay Post in reference to the same matter says:—The representatives of the Home Comfort Range Co., of Toronto, who have been operating in this section, with headquarters in Lindsay, for some three months past, have removed to Campbellford. While here they disposed of about seven carloads of their ranges to farmers and townspeople and we understand purchasers are very highly pleased in every instance. Some skeptical people who do not read the papers and had never heard of the company, wrote to Aurora people, where the firm's representatives last worked, but found that the testimonials furnished were most reliable. Mr. J. M. Prittle, the manager, made many friends while here, and every man under him leaves a good record behind. All we need say is that square dealing was the motto of the firm while here, and Campbellford people will find it the same.

And the Lindsay Warder has the following:—

"Wrought Iron Range Co.—The agent of this company, Mr. Prittle, left here this week for Campbellford, which place he intends to make his headquarters for some time. During his stay here, for somewhat over three months, we have not heard one word of complaint against him or any of his staff, in reference to their mode of dealing, from anyone with whom they had any business transactions.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Rugby football will boom in Peterborough this year if the enthusiastic meeting held by football enthusiasts recently is any criterion. It was probably the largest meeting yet held in the sporting line, and if Peterborough footballists fail to make a name for themselves this season, it will not be for lack of enthusiasm. The following officers were elected at the meeting which was held in the club rooms of the Palace Restaurant:

Chaplain—Rev. E. V. Stevenson.
Hon. Presidents—Rev. V. Clementi, Geo. W. Hatton.
President—R. B. Rogers.
Vice-President—H. T. Greenwood.
Sec.-Treas—E. M. Poussette.
Capt—H. A. Moore.
Committee—Messrs. Mackenzie, Lefevre, Lambe, Drope, Montgomery, Macpachen.

Arrangements were made to secure at once a place for day and night practice. The first practice of the club took place on Saturday afternoon on the P. A. A. A. grounds.

FOOTBALL.

The Keene football club ran their annual excursion to Bewdley, on Friday, per steamer North Star, fully two hundred and fifty passengers being on board. Keene seniors defeated Bewdley seniors 2 goals to 0, and the juniors of both villages tried conclusions, and the game resulted in a draw.

OTONABEE.

Death of an Old Resident, Mrs. J. J. Welch.

On Monday morning, Sept. 9th, Mary Ann Lee, wife of Mr. John James Welch of Otonabee, passed away to rest at the age of 71 years. Mrs. Welch was a native of Wiltshire, England, where she was married fifty-three years ago. In 1853 with her husband and family she came to Canada, settling first on lot 24 in the 14th concession, Otonabee, and subsequently removing to the present family residence, lot 25, in the 13th concession. Mrs. Welch about two years ago by a fall sustained a fracture of the thigh, and three weeks ago another fall produced a fracture of the neck of the thigh bone. Her vital forces were not sufficient to resist the effects of this accident and she succumbed after three weeks illness. Mrs. Welsh was distinguished for the qualities that made her beloved and respected in the several capacities of wife, mother and neighbour. She was a member of the Anglican church, worshipping when in health at St. Luke's, Ashburnham. She leaves behind her a husband and eight children; the latter are, in the order of age, Mr. Thomas James Welch, Otonabee; Mrs. S. Guthrie, Harvey; Mrs. Henry Voicey, Minden; Mrs. Geo. Frost, Otonabee; Mrs. Wm. Bennett, Harvey; Mr. John B. Welch, North Monaghan; Mr. Ed. L. Welch, Otonabee, and Mrs. William Downer, Downer's Corners. Mrs. Welsh's death is the first break in the family circle, though some of her grand and great grand children have died. She leaves also fifty-two direct descendants—eight children, forty-one grand children three great grand children. Funeral on Tuesday, Sept. 10th, at 3 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

BEWDLEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Keene Football Club held their annual excursion, per steamer North Star, to Bewdley on Friday, to play the return match with the home club. After a very fast game of one hour the score stood 1 to 0 in favour of Bewdley, the winning goal being made just three minutes before time was called. Although the visiting team furnished the referee, they indulged in considerable kicking against his decisions. The weather was excellent and the field very fair to both teams.

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should enrich their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

JUST LOVELY!

Have you seen the latest stylish kind of Photographs Sproule is taking now?

THE NEW WOMAN.

She is Much Talked About But it is Difficult to Locate Her.

The new woman is popularly supposed to be a woman of liberal education and advanced ideas, a woman prepared to maintain her rights and claim her privileges, and make and keep a fair standing-ground for herself in whatever field she chooses to exploit her convictions or exert her abilities. She is supposed to look with a certain disfavor on domesticity, to go about with a chip on her shoulder among old-fashioned people who fancy that a woman's natural sphere is in the narrow world of home. The new woman, we learn incidentally, cares little for marriage, regarding it as an incident in life, but proudly holding herself above the old stupid notion that love and matrimony are cardinal points in the destiny of her sex. She is said to be opposed to sacrificing herself on the altar of childhood, and to look with pitiful scorn on the mother of a half-dozen boys and girls. Whatever a man may do, this product of fin de siecle fancy is said to insist upon doing, setting her feet firmly down on the antiquated myths which once obtained—the myth of the right of the weaker to protection by the stronger, of the adoration of the mother as the most blessed of all women on the earth, of the queenly dignity or her who rules the home and keeps alight the fire on the hearth.

Our question is where to find this personage so glibly described and discussed, but so elusive when she is sought? She is absent from our drawing-rooms, where to-day, as in former years, gracious matrons and fascinating maidens impart to society the ease, the flavor, the sweetness, which make the intercourse of well-bred people with one another equally reposeful and stimulating.

She is not to be discovered in the innumerable professions and trades which women have made their own, from the pulpit to the printing office. The woman doctor, albiet an excellent physician, is as womanly as our mother Eve, and one seeks in vain for novelty in the woman professor, artist, minister, clerk, type-writer, journalist, or woman engaged in any avocation known to the utility of the hour. Purely womanly under the student's cap or gown, or under the frills and flutings of the beautifully arrayed debutante, our women of the hour are just what their mothers and grandmothers were—sincere, single-hearted, straightforward, impulsive, emotional, self-denying, lovable, tenderly loving beings. "God Almighty made them to match the men," and until He unmakes them they are unlikely to change in any very important particular.—Harper's Bazar.

Is This Why.

Some women think bloomers becoming

And some don't?

They Pull Gray Hairs.

A unique occupation taken up by certain enterprising young women in need of a little extra money is that of "gray hair pullers." The day the first gray hair makes its appearance is one of sorrow to many fashionable women, and the hair is generally plucked out regardless of the old saying that a dozen will come to its funeral. Soon afterward the gray hair puller is summoned and engaged to come at regular intervals. She takes down her patron's hair, combs it gently and carefully removes every hair which has departed from its original hue and pins up the locks again.—New York World.

Lazier, Hamilton, 6—3, 6—0; D. J. Greentree, Hamilton, beat J. R. White, Hamilton, 6—3, 6—3; M. S. Glassco, Hamilton, beat R. Burns, Hamilton, 6—4, 2—6, 7—2.

Fancy Prices for Shorthorns.

The Warbaly herd of Shorthorn in England, which was established by Mr. Booth, recently sold 40 animals at auction. The average price was $700 per head, the animals being purchased for shipment to all parts of the globe except the United States and Canada, several going to the Argentine Republic. The scene of the sale was a most animated one and it cannot fail to have a great influence on the Shorthorn interests in America. Farmers are beginning to wake up to the fact that thoroughbred cattle of all the desirable breeds are to-day cheaper than ever, that they cannot afford to feed or breed anything else, and that there is sound reason for expecting advancing values on such stock.—Farm and Home.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Resny, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

PROVIDING FOR WINTER

PLENTY OF NUTRITIVE MATERIAL IS NECESSARY FOR THE MILCH COW.

Grain Meal, Cottonseed Meal, Linseed Meal, Given With Bran and Clover or Timothy Hay Will Keep Up the Flow of Milk Without Reducing the Cow to a Skeleton.

A writer in the American Cultivator very pertinently says that there will be a short hay crop over most parts of the country east of the Mississippi river. This will compel farmers to rely more largely upon other feeds for cows and farm stock generally. As hay is on most eastern farms the chief reliance for cattle feeding, it becomes an important question what can be most economically substituted for it. Happily there is now everywhere a good prospect for a large corn crop and the coarse small grains. These are generally in proportion to their nutrition cheaper than hay. They are also much more effective as milk producers than is hay. Corn stalks, with either wheat, bran or corn and oat meal, makes a better ration for milk than does hay or any other bulky feed. Any kind of straw is very objectionable to give to milch cows. Its nutritive value is too small in proportion to its bulk, and if grain is given with it a part of the nutrition of the grain is required to help digest the coarser fodder. An animal that is merely to be kept in store condition may afford this waste of nutriment. But in the cow giving milk there is a constant drain on the secretory organs, and this must be supplied by plenty of nutritive material in the food.

For cows that give milk as large a part of the food as can well be digested should be in concentrated form. Grain meal, cotton seed meal and linseed meal, given with wheat bran and clover or timothy hay, will keep up the flow of milk without reducing cows to a skeleton, as will be done by feeding mainly on succulent food of small nutritive value. The best silage for cows is that made of corn grown for grain and cut into the silo with grass formed and grain in the doughy stage. This is not, however, a well-balanced ration for producing milk. It is too fattening. The wheat bran and the oat meal provide more of the nutrition required to produce milk and they tend less to fatten the cow. This should always be avoided. It requires good judgment to keep a cow from growing poor, and yet without putting fat on her sides and interior instead of in the milk pail. Most farmers allow their cows to grow too poor during the winter. They are especially likely to do this in years when feed is scarce and dear. A cow bearing a calf is too often in winter fed only on corn stalks, straw and a little hay. So long as she continues to give milk some grain feed may be added, but as the time for farrowing approaches the milk supply dries up and with it the extra feed. We would not have cows fed heavily so as to fatten them before calving time, but the almost universal tendency is to the other extreme. They are kept too thin in flesh, and as they begin the milking period with no surplus fat, all that they put into the milk pail must be fed to them during the milking season.

A point not often thought is that while the cow is being stinted during the winter while bearing her calf her digestive organs are weakened by deficient nutrition, and when the time comes for the farmer to feed the cow all she will eat of the most nutritive ration, she is unable to digest it, and the attempt is a failure. Cows need an abundant supply of nutritious food so as to maintain their digestive organs in a good condition. This is especially true of cows that are bearing young. At this period their appetites are always hearty, and their digestion improves if they have enough food to task it to the utmost. There is no true economy in giving cows any less than they will eat up clean. If they are thus gaining flesh too rapidly, give some ration that is less fattening, but though they will not eat so much in bulk, they should at least have all they will eat. This is also best for the calf. For its sake the secretion of milk should always be kept up so long as possible. If the dam is stinted, the digestion of its unborn young is injured also, and this must affect its value in after life. We all recognize the importance of heredity in maintaining good milk and butter characteristics. But this heredity is most sensibly felt in the dam and in the condition of the cow before the calf is born. If the cow during the winter is constantly suffering from hunger a farmer need not wonder if its calf the following summer is continuously bleating. This has been the experience of hundreds of farmers who have not appreciated the fact that its reason was to be found in unwise attempts at economy in feeding cows the previous winter.

A Bank Fruit and Vegetable House.

Where rough rocks or cobblestones are abundant, a fruit and vegetable house may be very advantageously built into a bank, as shown in the illustration. The front wall of the house is carried to the right and left a little way, to serve as a retaining wall for the earth of the bank. The back and sides are laid up in stone to the top of the ground. The rest of the building is wood. A wide door permits a team to be driven, or rather backed, into the building to unload or to load. When laying up the wall at the sides and rear it will be well to lay a line of drain tile outside the stones, to lead away any water that may soak down from the hill above. Half lime and half cement, with sharp sand, make a good mortar for such stone work.

Farmed in the Street.

"Did I understand you to say that Thompson was a farmer?"

"Good gracious, no! I said he made his money in wheat. You never heard of a farmer doing that, did you?"—Beatrice Democrat.

There Are None.

I remember once of a publisher in London who made up his mind to publish a book that should have no typographical errors whatever. He had his proofs corrected by his own proof-readers, until they all assured him that there were no longer any errors in the text. Then he sent proofs to the universities and to other publishing houses offering a prize of several pounds sterling in cash for every typographical mistake that could be found Hundreds of proofs were sent out in this way, and many skilled proof-readers examined the pages in the hope of earning the prize. A few errors were discovered. Then all the proof-sheets having been heard from, the publisher felt assured that his book would appear before the public an absolutely perfect piece of composition. He had the plates cast, the edition printed and bound between expensive covers—because as a perfect specimen of the printers' art it was of course unique in literature, and exceedingly valuable to bibliophiles. The edition sold well and was spread all over the country. The publisher was very much pleased with himself having done something that had hitherto been considered an impossibility. Then his pride had a fall, for six or eight months later he received a letter calling his attention to an error in a certain line on a certain page. Then came another letter announcing the discovery of a second error in this perfect book. I believe before the year was up four or five mistakes were found.

Golf Fiends.

Not play golf? Why, of course you play. Everybody plays, or talks of playing, for not to be well up in the sports of the day is a mistake few fin de siecle women are guilty of. There is no doubt it is rapidly superseding tennis, for much more attention is being bestowed on golf costumes this season than on tennis costumes. The game languishes somewhat during midsummer weather, for although the exercise is not necessarily very violent there is so much walking in the hot sun that only enthusiasts keep up a lively interest when the thermometer goes up into the 90s. Bicycle fiends, tennis fiends and golf fiends will dilate at length upon how much cooler they feel when indulging in violent exercise, but all the world are not fiends and some few people do exercise their common sense instead of their muscles and wait for cooler weather.

Honest Help.

Thousands of men are suffering because they lack the courage to make known their early errors and to endeavour to remedy them. State of Trade.

New York, Sept. 6.—Bradstreets' State of Trade says: Fall trade at Toronto has opened quite satisfactorily, the volume of orders placed, particularly on millinery, being ahead of last year. Crops in the Province of Quebec are fairly good. Country merchants have asked for renewals rather more frequently than expected. Montreal reports general trade somewhat behind expectations. Nova Scotia country merchants are buying conservatively. In New Brunswick crop prospects are fair. There are 33 business failures reported from the Dominion of Canada this week, against 42 last week, 29 in the week a year ago, and 27 two years ago. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton and Halifax, amount to $16,785,000 this week, against $16,907,000 last week, and $14,876,000 in the week a year ago.

Not the Embruzier Wanted.

Zurich, Sept. 6.—The police of this city have informed the federal authorities that their search for William R. The man whom they arrested a few days go on suspicion that he was Foster turns out not to be the man who is wanted.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the persual of his letter hereto appended. QUERY:—How many of the people of Peterborough invests their money to better advantage?

THE DEFENDER WINS.

starboard tack again, she broke out a number two jib topsail one size larger than the Valkyrie. Valkyrie went about off the line and ran back to meet Defender, with her boom to starboard, but well in board, and the wind on her beam. Defender meanwhile coming up from the southward close hauled on the starboard tack. She had the right of way and passed to the windward of Valkyrie, thus gaining the coveted windward position; then stood for the line still on the starboard tack with the wind on her beam and her sheets still close hauled. Valkyrie jibed over and found herself to the leeward of the Defender. In this wise they approached the line. The rival champions calculated their time well.

Both boats were to the leeward of the line when the starting gun sounded at 12.20. Both headed for it at once and passed over as follows: Valkyrie, 12.20.46; Defender, 12.20.50. Defender crossed much nearer the top of the line, however, and so was considerably to the windward for the British boat. Both the racers were now well away, standing, as they had crossed, on the starboard tack, with sheets close hauled, which, in the wind, meant that they were heading along the Long Island shore. Valkyrie was leading by a hundred yards or more as well as the distance could be estimated from the press boat, some distance behind her, while Defender still held her windward position, which to some extent was an offset to Valkyrie's lead. As they sped on the excursion fleet massed up to windward, and gave way and opened a narrow line through which racers passed and the gap between the two giant boats, narrow enough at first, began to widen slowly but surely. Measuring the comparative speeds by the apparent rates at which they passed the mass of the excursion boats it looked as if the English craft was going three feet to the Defender's every two. Defender was pointing up to windward better, however.

At 12.40.00 Defender went about and Valkyrie followed her, both standing off on the port tack. This brought the Defender apparently ahead, but as the Valkyrie was considerably to the wind the American boat's lead was only apparent, and she was in reality some distance astern. Defender was much the quicker in stays, seeming to whirl about as on a pivot. The conditions on these tacks were different from the preceding one, as the sea was then on the beam and the yachts rode easily over it. Now it was on the weather bow, and they had to cut through it. Both yachts began to pitch and to splash the spray from their bows. The English boat seemed to ride the waves more easily and with less fuss than Defender, but it was plainly to be seen that she was not gaining as she had on the opposite tack. Still she held her own with ease.

Then Capt. Haff tried an experiment and Defender was seen to leer away a trifle from the wind. She rode the waves much easier this way, and she at once began to outfoot the English boat, though of course she lost to leeward. Valkyrie, sailing easily, worked still further up to leeward. This was a losing game for Defender, however, and at 1.12.30 she went about and stood towards the Long Island shore on starboard tack again. Valkyrie followed instantly and it was seen that the English boat was fully a quarter of a mile ahead, though a little to the leeward. In the light wind and with the sea on the beam the Valkyrie had a decided advantage, and again she began to walk away from the Defender. The American boat made her worst showing at this point of the race and it almost seemed as if she had a different wind from one which was doing such good service for the Dunraven craft. Now, however, the luck turned and fortune began to favor the American. The wind became stronger, increasing from 5 or 6 knots an hour to 9 or 10. Defender began to pick up noticeably. She not only pointed up better to windward than Valkyrie, as she had done all along, but she now seemed to feel as well and a little better.

The Valkyrie went about and stood over towards the Defender on the port tack. The latter kept right on her course. It was evident they would pass close together, and for the first time since then it was evident that the existing relations of the boats would be clearly seen. Defender was on the starboard tack and had the right of way. Would Valkyrie pass her bows or would she pass astern?

On they came, and the excitement was intense. It looked as if the Valkyrie would cross the Defender's bows, until suddenly, just as they came together, the English boat suddenly put about right in the Defender's lee and stood off on the same tack with her. She had failed in her attempt to cross ahead of the American boat, and she would not pass astern. It was a costly move for Capt. Cranfield, and he had not only put his boat about twice unsuccessfully but he had also run her into his opponent's lee.

In the midst of the excitement, at 1.50 the Defender went about, and the two boats separated again. At 1.54 the Valkyrie went about again, and a minute later the Defender also tacked. Once more they approached each other as before, Valkyrie on the port tack and the Defender on the starboard, with the right of way. This time the Defender crossed the Valkyrie's bows, amid another deafening cheer, and, going about quickly, took up a position just ahead of and to the windward of the Englishman, at the same time showing him a neatly-lettered stern. This was too much. The Valkyrie could not stay there and be blanketed. She promptly whirled about, and went off on the starboard tack. She had had quite enough of jockeying, too, and she did not come about again until she made her final reach for the mark. The Defender soon tired of her course to the southward, and coming about she, too, stood on the port tack, well up to windward of the Valkyrie, though behind her in distance.

The Defender had unquestionably gotten the best of the two little encounters, and her friends were highly elated in consequence. Moreover, the fact that she had been in a position to do so showed that she had overcome the Valkyrie's lead since the wind freshened and that the weather was not in her favor. The English boat could no longer outfoot her since the wind had increased, while the Defender could still edge up to windward.

The Defender rounded at 3.36.29, Valkyrie at 3.39.52 and a half-mile behind in distance. Her crew seemed very slow in setting her big balloon jib topsail, but finally it filled, a beautifully fitting sail, and on she swept in pursuit of the fast-fleeing Defender. The wind had shifted so that the run back was not dead to leeward, but was made with sheets only about one-quarter eased off and the wind coming over the port quarter. For this reason the spinnaker was not set on either boat, as it could not have been held out. Now began a stern chase in good earnest, but a hopeless one as far as Lord Dunraven's boat was concerned, for the Yankee flyer not only kept her lead with ease, but gained steadily from the mark to the line. It was a race no longer, but a triumphal procession for the Defender, escorted by the entire excursion fleet.

Figures About the Boats.

The figures below tell how nearly alike in their racing lengths are the two yachts:

	Defender. Feet.	Valkyrie. Feet.
Length on load water line.	88.45	88.85
Base line	131.79	136.05
From forside of mast to forward point of measurement	73.55	78.94
Extreme length of spinnaker boom	73.30	78.94

The Valkyrie allowed the Defender 25.10 seconds over a 30-mile course.

COLONIES AND ITS NAVY.

Proposal to Give Them a Voice in Its Control.

London, Sept. 9.—Correspondence between the Imperial Federation Committee and the Ministers of State, which was published to-day, indicates that the colonies of Great Britain may be called upon to contribute towards the cost of maintaining the Imperial Navy, and in return be offered a proportionate share in its control. The Imperial Federation Committee urges that this arrangement would lighten the burden of the British tax-payer and at the same time advance the cause of Imperial unity.

The utterances of colonial statesmen, including Sir Julius Vogel, formerly Prime Minister of New Zealand, are cited to show that they support the movement.

The Marquis of Salisbury pointed out to the members of the committee that there were fatal risks attending a divided control of naval affairs, but the Duke of Devonshire, Lord President of the Council, the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, and the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, all promised that the proposal should have careful consideration.

In this connection The Globe this afternoon, in the course of a long article, says that the British Empire may truly be said to be on its trial. The anomaly of the present position has forced the question whether the result is satisfactory and whether we can go on much longer without a radical change. None of our colonies, The Globe asserts, can regard itself safe from hostile attacks. In the case of war between England and America Canada might be expected to be invaded, and self-protection of any of the colonies against any one of the great powers is so manifestly out of the question that the colonies would be thrown back upon the Imperial Navy. Colonial governments, The Globe adds, do not hesitate even now to claim the services of the Queen's ships whenever they are needed. It seems incredible, The Globe concludes, that there should be any doubt as to the obligation of the colonial tax-payers.

BUCK LAKE TRAGEDY.

The Two Men Charged With Being Implicated in the Death of James Barrett of This City Released.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 9.—The case against Maurice Miles and Charles Molsons, charged with murdering James Barrett, formerly of this city, at Buck Lake, was resumed and concluded before Justice Savage at Novar Saturday.

Charles Warner testified that deceased had told him about a year ago that he was troubled with heart disease. The fact that the boat was not seaworthy and that it was unfit to carry three persons safely was also strongly brought out.

Crown Attorney Johnson, in summing up, spoke at some length on the evidence given by Dr. Harrington of this city, which went to show that every symptom favored the idea of death or at least unconsciousness before sinking in the water.

The prisoners were ably defended by Mr. Tytler, who pointed out the previous good characters of accused, the defectiveness of the boat, the absence of motive and the possibility of deceased having received the blow by falling on the boat in jumping out.

Justice Savage did not consider the evidence strong enough to warrant a committal, and they were accordingly discharged.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks of News From the Whirling Wheels—Interesting Cinders for the Eye.

Next week the summer railway service on the Chemong line will be discontinued for the season.

The summer service on the Lakefield branch will be continued until after the Toronto exhibition.

The Port Hope noon G. T. R. express, which formerly left here at 11.45 now leaves at 12.05. This change has been made recently.

The traffic in freight and passengers has considerably increased on both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. lines as a result of the Toronto Industrial Fair.

Workmen were engaged a few days ago gathering up the old rails along the siding into the flour mill in Ashburnham.

Mr. M. Minore, night operator at Havelock, the Standard says, has obtained a leave of absence of two weeks. He intends to make a tour of the western hemisphere and will visit friends in Peterborough, Port Hope and Toronto on his return.

Four more engines left Lindsay for Montreal Saturday.

Conductor Haskell, of the Peterborough-Lakefield branch, is being relieved by Conductor Russell.

Howry & Son's Mogul engine, which has been undergoing extensive repairs at Lindsay, last week, was sent to Fenelon Falls Saturday.

A United States consul has arrived at the Midland elevator. This looks as though large shipments of grain will take place from there this fall.

Both of the brakemen on the Sutton branch are now on the sick list, and three men were dispatched to work on that train—two relieve those that are ill, the third one being necessary on account of the very heavy traffic during the exhibition.

Mr. Chas. J. Pusey, president of the I. B. & O.R.R., who was in town recently, said his road is already in good running order for thirty miles east of Irondale Junction, and that by the end of November he hoped to have the line completed to a point near Bancroft, in Hastings county, some twenty miles further on.

On Tuesday Mr. J. W. Harcombe, assistant mechanical superintendent, Mr. T. Bushey, foreman carpenter, Toronto, and Mr. Jas. ORDERED CLOTHING!

A Fourth Department Now Added.

WE begin the Fall Campaign with a new department, that of Ordered Clothing. We have added this in order that customers and the public may find with GOUGH BROS. that service which will suit all classes and all requirements.

We retain the services of MR. DUNCAN CAMERON as Cutter and Manager of the staff engaged in this department. We have equipped our Tailoring Rooms with the best machinery and appliances and know we can turn out work the equal of th best city establishments. We solicit your orders.

We recognize that much is expected of GOUGH BROS. and that thousands will look for some radical changes in the prices of clothing made to order. If you are interested read about what we have to say.

On going to the wholesale markets to buy our stock of materials, we found a large lot of Scotch, English and Irish Woolens and Imported Worsteds, stopped by the English shippers in transit to a dealer in the west. We were invited to make a bid. We did so, and the goods were sold to us by the bank

At One Third of the Cost Value.

We are into Ordered Clothing to make it a success. With our buying power—and the above snap is an instance—we propose to push for all there is in it. We will sell for cash and cash only, and instead of expecting $7.00 profit on a $22.00 suit, we will be content with $2.00 profit.

Facts are convincing. Nothing else will carry assurance home. Here is your fact and your opportunity. We place in our centre window a range of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, and

For the Next Twelve Days we Will Make Suits to Order From These Cloths at $12.75 PER SUIT.

There you have it! Stylishly cut, elegantly trimmed, perfectly fitting Suits for $12.75. Look at the goods! Size up the Values and tell us if GOUGH BROS are not making a revolution in the Ordered Clothing trade.

SYNDICATE OF ARSON

The Montreal Gang Operated Throughout Canada.

MILLIONS MADE WITH THE TORCH

Chiefs of the Gang Posed as Wholesalers and Terrorized Customers Until They Yielded to Their Proposition. Those Arrested Will Go to the Grand Jury at Once.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—The eight merchants arrested on charges of arson were brought up in the Police Court this morning, but were not asked to plead. The Attorney-General gave orders that they be brought at once before the grand jury and this will be done to-morrow.

John Belser, the leader of the band, for ten years has defied detection while planning arson conspiracies which will stand out conspicuously in annals of crime. Belser and his confederates had nothing whatever to do with the Boyd, Gillies & Co. fire, but the repentant incendiary in that case not only confessed to his individual crime, but gave the Crown its first clue to the great firebug syndicate.

Evidence already in possession of the Crown identifies the Belser band with fifteen fires in Montreal alone within the last three years. These represent, it is confidently believed, only a small part of the crimes committed by the band in other Canadian cities westward from Quebec as far as Winnipeg.

The total loss to English and Canadian fire insurance companies mounts up into the millions, representing heavy losses for half a dozen leading companies, whose private detectives for years have been working unsuccessfully, to well-nigh fatal drain upon their surplus funds.

Mysterious fires began to attract general attention in 1885, and so abnormally heavy grew the insurance losses that the rates were advanced year after year until in this city, where the buildings are well made and where the fire department is well disciplined and well equipped, rates on certain risks were $1.17 on $100. The merchants of Montreal protested.

It was universally recognized that these mysterious fires were a part of the operations of an organized gang. Nine out of every ten fires of mysterious origin were discovered at some time between Saturday night and Monday morning, when the premises devoted to business were presumably vacant. Investigation of the Boyd, Gillies & Co. fire threw the first light on the mystery. C. D. Hanson, chief adjuster of the Dominion Adjustment Bureau, took the initiative in the work of running down the conspiracy, and employed Silas H. Carpenter of the Canadian Secret Service Company as chief detective. M. J. F. Quinn, Q.C., was employed, and together the three men began operations two months ago. Little by little they accumulated the evidence against Belser and his fellow conspirators.

The method of the gang may be described briefly as follows: Belser, Thomas and Davis were wholesalers in various lines, and would sell small merchants on liberal terms as to time. When under pressure of unsuccessful business a creditor would default in payment, the wholesaler would urge him to accept more stock and increase his insurance.

This was done in all of the 15 cases already discovered. The insurance amounted frequently to double the value of the goods. The Belser gang, selecting their victim with great care, and making sure of his moral pliability, would secretly advise him to burn his store. If this advice was not accepted the crime was insisted upon under penalty of suit for indebtedness. With ruin staring him in the face, the unfortunate victim would consent to the arrangement, and on the Saturday night set for the fire would turn his store over to Belser and his followers. The conspirators would then secretly remove the greater part of the stock and arrange the mechanism destined to create the fire.

An ordinary alarm clock was invariably used for this purpose. Its back and sides were removed, the gong was taken off, and the metal sounding alarm was fitted with a glass bulb filled with sulphuric acid. It was then wound up, the alarm set for any hour at which the conspirators desired the fire, and the floor beneath was covered with chlorate of potash. When the alarm finally struck, the glass bulb was shattered, sulphuric acid mingled with the explosive salt, and the mischief was accomplished. Belser and his confederates then invariably insisted that their victim should pay them not only the original bill, but also for the stock which had been secretly removed—in this way appropriating the bulk of the insurance money collected by the unfortunate. They invariably worked upon weak men, who kept quiet, fearing to be involved in the ruin certain to follow exposure.

John Belser, the chief, has lived for the last twelve years in this city, in a suburb known as St. Lambert, and is supposed to be a man of large means. He is 55 years old, and if the authorities are correct a fugitive from justice in New York city. Victims of the conspiracy who have filed their confessions with the Queen's counsel say that Belser was originally identified with a small but desperate band of firebugs who operated successfully for a year in New York city, and that when forced to flee to avoid arrest purchased the secret of the alarm clock method from his chief for $500. Adjuster Hanson and Counsellor Quinn quietly visited New York city in August and devoted an entire week to the task of accumulating evidence against the Belser syndicate. Some of the unfortunate retailers lured into crime by these conspirators had left Montreal in terror and settled in New York. It was to reach these men and to obtain their confessions that the two Canadian officials made the trip.

Full immunity was pledged, but the dread of consequences was not to be overcome in a day or a week, and the two investigators returned to Montreal practically empty handed. Success crowned their subsequent efforts, however, sufficiently to positively identify the Belser syndicate with a few, at least, of their crimes.

New York, Sept. 10.—Counsellor Quinn arrived in this city early yesterday morning, and registered at the Hotel Brunswick, where I found him later in the day. When confronted with the facts, as given above, Mr. Quinn reluctantly, but positively, confirmed every detail.

"It is true," said he, "that we have unearthed a mammoth conspiracy, which has been in operation at least ten years, and which has cost our insurance companies millions of dollars. I am not at liberty now to reveal all that I know of Belser's identity or of the workings of his nefarious syndicate. All that I can say is that the conspiracy girdirons Canada, and that to-day's arrests are merely preliminary to a wholesale bagging of the guilty, if it can be accomplished. There can be no doubt but that in Belser we have the organizer and leader."

As the conspirators are arrested their pictures will be taken and forwarded at once to Counsellor Quinn. He will submit them to Acting Chief Conlin, and every effort will be made to get at their records. The police of this city know none of the men by their present names, but the Canadian authorities are confident that both Belser and Davis are fugitives from New York.

BURNED BY A GAS JET.

Thomas Faulkner Fatally Burned by a Gasoline Pipe Breaking

Hamilton, Sept. 9.—In the death of Thomas Faulkner, a bricklayer, living at 259 Bold-street, which occurred about midnight Saturday, the first fatality has occurred in the construction of the T., H. & B. tunnel. On Saturday night, Aug. 31, deceased was excavating in the tunnel when the bank gave away. The falling earth crushed him against the gasoline pipe and the jar broke the pipe. The escaping fluid ignited and burnt Faulkner so severely on the side and the arms that he died from the injuries received last night.

Coroner White will hold an inquest Monday.

Killed by Lightning at Caledon.

Caledon, Ont., Sept. 9.—John Puchering, aged 23, was killed by lightning today while out hunting. He went into a vacant stable belonging to Mr. A. Hillock during the storm and was found later by Mr. Hillock dead. One of his dogs was killed also. Deceased resided with his father at Credit Forks.

Montreal Boat Aground at Cephalonia.

London, Sept. 10.—A despatch from Cephalonia, an island in the Mediterranean, says the British steamer Escalona, Captain Lindsay, from Leghorn, Palermo, etc., for Montreal, is stranded at Cacava. She will probably float after discharging about 300 tons of her cargo. A contract has been made that for £2000 a portion of the cargo not to exceed 450 tons shall be unloaded and again loaded.

Killed on a Crossing.

Mount Vernon, Sept. 10—James Wise, aged 27, a well-known young man of Bronxville, N.Y., was struck and almost instantly killed this afternoon while crossing the tracks of the Harlem railroad in this city.

Two Killed by Collapse of a Pier.

London, Sept. 10.—A portion of a pier at Morecambe, Lancashire, collapsed to-day throwing a large crowd of persons into the water. Two were killed and a number injured.

Trolley Accident in Kingston

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 10.—Patrick Keegan and wife of Loughboro, in a rig, were struck by an electric car. Mrs. Keegan had her left leg so badly mangled that amputation was necessary, and she may die. Mr. Keegan was stunned only.

Ocean Rates to Advance.

Liverpool, Sept. 9.—Pending negotiations will probably result in a few days in an advance of the rates of trans-Atlantic steamship companies. The companies have, however, arranged nothing definite as yet.

H.M.S. Majestic Runs Aground

London, Sept. 9.—The new battleship Majestic started on her trial trip this morning, but ran aground on the sands at Spithead. She was floated at high water, but a further trial of the ship has been postponed until her hull can be examined to ascertain whether she has received any injuries or not.

Killed Defending His Fruit.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 9.—Anthony Erhart was locked up to-night, and in the morning will be charged with murder. He and some friends while in the country Sunday attempted to rob a farmer named Mott Purcell. Purcell resisted and Erhart crushed his skull with a club.

Mrs. Talmage's Will.

Brooklyn, Sept. 9.—The will of Susan W. Talmage, wife of the Rev. Dr. Talmage, was admitted to probate to-day. The property is valued at $166,000 and goes to Dr. Talmage. The sum, it is said, represents Dr. Talmage's earnings as a lecturer, he turning his earnings over to his wife, who was his manager and press agent.

BRANDED AS A LIE.

Canadian Dairymen Charged With Gross Fraud.

BY A BRITISH FARM JOURNAL.

Charged With Selling "Imitation" Cheese in the British Market. Prof. Robertson's Denial—Making Such Cheese in Canada is Prohibited Under Heavy Penalty.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—A Star special cable from London says:

Another scare has been raised in the hope of checking Canadian competition with the British farmer. The North British Agriculturist alleges on what it terms good authority that a considerable proportion of the so-called full milk cheese from Canada is really made from separated milk, fattened with oleomargerine, which is very difficult to detect. It urges that the Board of Agriculture make an expert inquiry and suggests that this explains why the Canadians are able to undersell the British farmers. They sell their cheese at forty shillings per hundredweight, or fourpence per pound.

The Times repeats the charge to-day with deep regret, and says it is nothing short of suicide to the Canadian trade.

I have been interviewed by leading shippers, who say at least the statement is a gross exaggeration, but still must do great harm unless promptly and officially denied. The largest London buyer of Canadian cheese says that any such fraud would not long escape them. He buys more Canadian cheese now than ever, and does not believe the charge. Other buyers confirm his statement.

Prof Robertson's Emphatic Denial

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 10.—Prof. Robertson, Dairy Comissioner, is out with emphatic denial of the statement made by The London Agriculturist that Canadian cheese, now being sold in English markets, is made of skimmed milk fattened with oleomargarine.

Prof. Robertson says not a single box of this class of cheese is made in Canada, that under the Dairy Products Act of 1893 the manufacture of imitation cheese is prohibited under a heavy penalty, and moreover under an Act passed at the instance of George Taylor, M.P., the importation of oleomargarine into Canada is absolutely prohibited.

Prof. Robertson says that filled or imitation chees from the United States may have reached England, but it could not be confounded with Canadian, as all American cheese passing through the Dominion for export is branded at Montreal as "Product of United States."

ENGAGED FOR SIXTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Now Able to Enjoy Life—A Solemn Vow.

Sharon, Pa., Sept. 10.—James Ewing, aged 85, and Margaret Christy, aged 80, both of Crawford County, were married Friday. Sixty years ago to-day they became engaged, but made a solemn vow that not until they were well enough off to enjoy life would they marry. Ewing raised the mortgage on his farm on the wedding day.

RAN DOWN IN LONDON.

An Iowa Incendiary Captured at London the Less

London, Ont., Sept. 10.—On the strength of a description from the police authorities of Clinton, Iowa, the authorities here have arrested a man named Stewart on a charge of arson. He will be held pending the arrival of an officer from Clinton. A reward was offered for his capture.

WILL EXPLORE THE MYSTERY.

The Disappearance of Engineer Ivey at Collingwood to be Investigated.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—The Attorney-General's Department does not purpose allowing the apparently mysterious disappearance and equally unaccountable return at Collingwood of William Ivey, the G.T.R. engineer of that city, to go unfathomed, if its officers can get at the bottom of the case.

Detective Greer will leave for Collingwood in a day or two, and will devote several days in an attempt to ferret out the facts, with a view of deciding whether, as is generally supposed at Collingwood, Ivey wandered away while temporarily insane, or was kidnapped. Ivey is practically a well man to-day, having made rapid recovery. He still is unable to give any explanation of his disappearance.

SCULTHORP EXTRADITED.

A Fugitive From Justice Returns For Trial.

Toronto, Sept. 10.—After consulting with Crown Attorney Currie, a friend of the family, William J. Scalthrop of Port Hope, yesterday returned voluntarily to Rochester with Sheriff Hannan of that city to answer to the charge of grand larceny, according to the indictment found against him by the grand jury.

The press some time since announced that Sculthorp's extradition would be asked. His father, a respectable resident of Port Hope, read the article, came to Toronto and consulted Mr. Curry as an old friend and legal adviser of the family and young Sculthorp's voluntary return was the result.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realised more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

WHY NOT WEST HURON?

For an election in Westmoreland, a Conservative stronghold, the writs were issued the very day a vacancy in the representation occurred. But for West Huron, a very doubtful constituency for the Government, no writs are forthcoming. The Montreal Herald thus explains the reasons for the government's refraining from disturbing the rural peace of West Huron with the turmoils of an election contest: "The Government thought to take the Opposition napping in Westmoreland. The Liberals had no candidate there and the Government thought that the prospect of a campaign to extend over about a fortnight only would scare them into letting the Conservative candidate go in by acclamation. In West Huron the case is different. There the Liberals have had a candidate in the field for two years; a candidate who is as sure of carrying the county back to the Liberal fold as we may be sure of anything in this world. Mr. Cameron is waiting for the Government to come on. Like Job's strong horse, he paweth in the valley and rejoiceth in his strength. He goeth on to meet the armed men and smelleth the battle afar off. That is to say, Mr. Cameron is simply hungering for a chance to give the Government candidate a royal biding in West Huron. This is why the Government does not open West Huron right off. It will be observed also that the Government is not anxious to look horns with the Opposition in Cardwell; or in Llegar, or any other place where it cannot afford to lose about 1,500 votes."

DEMERS MURDER TRIAL.

Counsel For the Crown Outlines the Case Against the Accused.

Montreal, Sept. 10.—When the trial of Napoleon Demers for the murder of his wife on June 13 last, began yesterday in the Court of Queen's Bench, every available seat and inch of standing room was occupied. Mr. Justice Wurtele occupied the bench. Demers betrayed some nervousness at first, but soon regained his self-control. A mixed jury was sworn in, but not until 54 names had been called, both defence and prosecution taking advantage of the privilege of challenge. Forty witnesses were summoned for the Crown and forty-five for the defence. They answered their names and then had to withdraw.

Messrs. M. J. F. Quinn, Q.C., and Archambault, Q.C., Crown prosecutors, took up most of the day in addressing the jury, outlining the crime and the evidence against the accused. They told how the woman was found lying in her home, with her throat cut and her infant lying in the cradle wailing for food, and proceeded to state that they would show that the woman could not have committed suicide. Then it must be murder, and the jury would have to decide if anyone else but the husband had committed the deed. The Crown proposed to show that the woman was dead before he left the house in the morning to go to his work and to show that the stories he told about her preparing breakfast for him, bidding him good-bye, etc., were falsehoods, by means of witnesses. Demers said the milkman had not arrived at a quarter past 6, but they would show that two milkmen called before 6. The Crown contended that the woman was first struck on the head and then her throat cut, a pillow being used to prevent the splashing of the blood.

J. A. U. Beaudry, C.E., was the first witness, and produced a plan of the premises, which the jury afterwards visited.

CANADA MAKES HER OWN LAWS.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper in Speech Yesterday.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—Sir C. H. Tupper, Minister of Justice, at the Exhibition luncheon yesterday in the course of his speech dealt with the copyright question, incidentally thanking the directors for an opportunity of utterance on this subject. What do we know about author's rights? some might ask. What do we care? It meant this to us:

He was a loyal subject of Her Majesty, most of those around him were loyal subjects of Her Majesty. Our loyalty had stood the test. We had been subjected to misgovernment by Her Majesty's ministers in the past, and might in the future. We must remember that we had not only the rights of 5,000,000 citizens to consider, but of millions and millions in the future. If the ties between Canada and the Mother Country were to be cemented and made stronger our rights of self-government must be respected.

In regard to the copyright question, we must know whether the unanimous will of the House of Commons is to be respected. He believed that Mr. Chamberlain, great man as he was, would rise equal to the occasion. It was not a question of rights of authors. We have a right to misgovern ourselves if we choose, either in regard to copyright or in regard to tariff. In England there were cotton and copper interests, which would be glad to see our tariff laws reversed. We must be given latitude to work out the burden of our responsibilities.

The demand of the House of Commons from 1889 to the present time on a matter respecting our rights of self-government must be heard. Canadians were one; Canadians had spoken as with one voice in the House of Commons. There might be differences of opinion as to the wisdom of the legislation itself, but there was no difference of opinion as to the fact that a demand by the Canadian people exercising their rights of self-government, as in the past, must be conceded by Great Britain, or else the grand conceptions of British statesmen, both at home and in the colonies, may be long and unfortunately delayed.

Therefore he hailed with pleasure the news that the new Colonial Secretary was going to give us the advantage of his great ability in the amicable settlement of the difficulty.

TWENTY-NINE MINERS LOST.

Efforts at Rescue at Osceola Prove of No Avail.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 10.—Ten miners went down the southern shaft of the Osceola Mine this morning. The party descended in the skip or iron car, used in bringing up rock from the mine to the 24th level, and managed to press north on that level within 250 feet of the shaft next south of the burning one. At that point two of the party were overcome by the gas, and to save adding fresh victime to the already long list, the relief expedition turned back. In No. 1 shaft, at the other side of the mine, a similar attempt was made, but at a depth of only 280 feet down the shaft smoke was met in such volume that it was deemed foolhardy to descend further, and the miners quickly came to the surface.

Twenty women are widows and 50 children are fatherless by the disaster in the Osceola mine. Most pitiful scenes are being hourly witnessed in the vicinity of the shafts that have not yet been sealed, bereaved women and children clinging to the spot in the desperate hope that some loved form may yet emerge from the opening. Notwithstanding every effort that could be thought of, even to the hazard of more lives, was made to save the doomed men. There were many to-day who censured Superintendent Parnell, who has general control of the Clark-Bigelow mines, because he ordered No. 3 shaft, in which the fire started, to be hermetically sealed. Finally he felt compelled to make a statement, and he accordingly addressed a large gathering and explained that leaving the shaft open would only give the fire more headway without in any way benefitting the imprisoned men. It was thought that the plan of leaving Nos. 1 3 and 5 shafts closed, with 2 and 4 open would create a draught towards No. 2 shaft and clear 4 of smoke. Orders were given to that effect, but late in the afternoon it was found of no effect and every shaft was ordered tightly closed up, to remain so for 24 hours. The reason why the lost men paid so little attention when warned of the fire was the fact that so small a quantity of timber was used in the mine it had the reputation of being one of the safest in the copper district. Michael Johnson lost his life by going down into the mine after Captain Edwards, whom he supposed to be in the vicinity of the fire. In fact, the fire was discovered by Edwards and he went to the surface to get hose to extinguish the flames. The actual damage to the mine cannot be heavy if the fire is smothered before it reaches other shafts.

$44,000 Blaze at Alpena.

Alpena, Mich., Sept. 10.—Yesterday the Folkerts & McPhee's sawmill, in the centre of the city, was burned. Over 100 small fires were started on the roofs of dwellings. The mill, a portion of the docks and fire engine house No. 2 were destroyed; also nine million shingles and 100,000 posts on the docks. Loss $44,000.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

For cholera morbus, cholera infantum, cramps, colic, diarrhœa, dysentery and all summer complaints, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for nearly 50 years.

WANTED, A MARKET!

Trade Restrictions Retard Canada's Progress.

FREER TRADE WITH BRITAIN.

Reduced Duties on British Goods Would Cause a Bigger Demand For Canadian Produce There—The Tory Policy is to Shut Us From That Market.

Ottawa, Sept. 10.—Now that during the Conservative Administration Canadian cattle have been scheduled in Great Britain, Conservative stump speakers appear to desire that the mother land should adopt a system of protection. They go up and down throughout Canada, shouting distress in England and endeavoring to create the impression that England will adopt protection. If these views of the Canadian Conservatives were adopted a great market for Canadian products would be cut off.

In order to get a greater benefit from the British market than Canada obtains at present Hon. L. H. Davies (Liberal), M.P., moved in the House of Commons April, 1892, the following:

"Inasmuch as Great Britain admits the products of Canada into her ports free of duty, this House is of the opinion that the present scale of duties exacted on goods mainly imported from Great Britain should be reduced."

The following members voted for Mr. Davies' proposition: Allen, Armstrong, Bain (Wentworth), Bechard, Beith, Bourassa, Bowers, Bowman, Brodeur, Brown, Bruneau, Campbell, Carrol, Cartwright (Sir Richard), Casey, Charlton, Choquette, Christie, Colter, Davies, Dawson, Delisle, Devlin, Edgar, Edwards, Featherston, Flint, Forbes, Fremont, Gauthier, Geoffrion, Gillmor, Godbout, Guay, Langelier, Laurier, Lavergne, Leduc, Legris, Lister, Livingston, Macdonald (Huron) McGregor, McMillan (Huron), McMullen, Mignault, Mills (Bothwell), Monet, Mulock, Murray, Paterson (Brant), Perry, Proulx, Rider, Rinfret, Rowand, Sanborn, Semple, Somerville, Sutherland, Vaillancourt, Watson, Welsh and Yeo—64.

The following members voted against Mr. Davies' motion: Amyot, Bain (Soulanges), Baker, Barnard, Bennett, Bergeron, Bergin, Bowell, Boyle, Cameron, Carignan, Carling, Caron (Sir Adolphe), Corbould, Curran, Davin, Davis, Denison, Desaulniers, Desjardins (Hochelaga), Desjardins (L'Islet), Dewdney, Dickey, Dugas, Dupont, Dyer, Earle, Fairbairn, Foster, Frechette, Gillies, Girouard (Two Mountains), Gordon, Grandbois, Guillet, Hasen, Henderson, Hodgins, Hughes, Hutchins, Ives, Kaulbach, Kenny, Kirkpatrick, LaRiviere, Lepine, Lippe, Macdonald (King's), Macdonald (Winnipeg), Macdonell (Algoma), Mackintosh, McAlister, McCarthy, McDonald (Victoria), McDougald (Pictou), McDougall (Cape Breton), McKay, McLean, McLennan, McLeod, McMillan (Vaudreuil), McNeill, Madill, Mara, Miller, Mills (Annapolis), Moncrieff, O'Brien, Ouimet, Patterson (Colchester), Patterson (Huron), Pelletier, Pridham, Prior, Putnam, Reid, Rohillard, Rooms, Rosamond, Ross (Dundas), Savard, Simard, Skinner, Smith (Ontario), Stairs, Taylor, Temple, Thompson (Sir John), Tisdale, Tupper, Turcotte, Tyrwhitt, Wallace, White (Cardwell), White (Shelburne), Wilmot, Wilson and Wood (Brockville)—98.

In this connection it may not be amiss to quote from a paper which has never supported the Liberal party, but is nevertheless compelled to speak out owing to the vicious trade policy of the Conservative party. This paper, The Orange Sentinel, in its issue of March 14, 1895, has the following editorial:

"Canada ought to be one of the greatest and most progressive nations in the world. The Dominion covers one-fifteenth of the earth's surface, embraces about forty per cent. of the British Empire, and is exceeded in extent by but one nation—Russia.

"And the resources of this country are in keeping with its extent. Every province, save Prince Edward Island, contains practically all the known mineral. British Columbia alone has produced $50,000,000 in gold. The coal territory of the Northwest is double the area of Portugal, and the annual value of our fisheries is over $20,000,000.

"But still Canada does not progress as she should. Although we are supposed to have drawn 800,000 immigrants from Europe during the ten years ending with 1890, our net increase in population was only half a million, or less than twelve per cent., as compared with nearly nineteen per cent. for the previous decade, and still higher ratios for the periods yet further back.

"What are the causes of this comparative stagnation? To our mind there are several. The opening up of the vast western territories of the United States while ours were still locked up by the Hudson Bay Company started a stream flowing towards the Republic that has not yet been fully diverted. The railway and land monopoly policy applied for a time to our Northwest, after it was taken over by the Canadian Government, prevented many from going there in the first instance, and caused thousands to remove after they had gone. And the persistent booming of the new lands of the United States, both by the press of that country and a section of our own, as well as the vigorous efforts of the American Government and railways, have also had an effect. But the chief reason after all for the slow advancement of Canada is found in the trade conditions that exist.

"Here is an almost boundless territory which, as we have said, is fairly bursting with natural riches. What is the first and greatest want of such a territory? A market. We want consumers for the products of our fisheries, forests, mines and farms . . beyond the capacity of this country to supply. This want could be supplied to a certain extent by the United States, but the terms on which this advantage is offered by our neighbors—free trade with them and discrimination against the Mother Country—are such that no loyal section of the Empire could think for one moment of accepting.

"Besides, there is open to us another and better means of supplying our great want. Across the sea, in the British Islands, is a market for all, and more than all, we can produce. Great Britain imports $45,000,000 worth of horned cattle every year; $55,000,000 worth of bacon and hams; $25,000,000 worth of beef; $60,000,000 worth of butter; $22,000,000 worth of cheese; $124,000,000 worth of wheat; $21,000,000 worth of barley; $25,000,000 worth of oats; $70,000,000 worth of flour; $18,000,000 worth of eggs; $13,000,000 worth of fish; $8,000,000 worth of apples; $10,000,000 worth of hides; $11,000,000 worth of lard; $30,000,000 worth of leather; $19,000,000 worth of copper; $13,000,000 worth of iron ore $17,000,000 worth of fresh mutton; and $92,000,000 worth of timber.

"Why do we not furnish a larger proportion of these enormous supplies. Because it is a natural law of commerce that trade cannot all flow one way; one nation cannot sell to another without buying something in return; there must be return cargoes for the ships that carry produce from the shores of one country to another if trade is to be profitable, and, as we in Canada, by an almost prohibitive tariff on British goods, restrict our purchases in Great Britain, we by that very act restrict our sales to that country also.

"What should be done, therefore, is to make a sweeping reduction in the customs duties now levied on manufactured goods imported from the United Kingdom. The adoption of this policy will vastly cheapen many articles that are used daily by our people; it will, by increasing our purchases in the Mother Country, add to our sales there as well, and it will make of the cities of Canada the purchasing market for hundreds of thousands living just across the border. Even now vast numbers of Americans buy a large proportion of their clothing in Canada. If the cost of the British cloth from which this clothing is made were reduced by 25 to 50 per cent., as it would be by a reduction in the duty on it, still larger numbers of Americans would make purchases here and tailoring would become the greatest industry in Canada.

"Two objections to such a policy as herein outlined may be anticipated—the alleged difficulty in raising a national revenue and the interference with local manufacturing enterprises.

In reply to the first it may be said that there would be no revenue difficulty. The increase in consumption of British goods would more than make up, so far as the national treasury is concerned, for the reduction in the rate of customs taxation. Besides, we would, by the adoption of this policy of freer trade, largely reduce the expense of government. Canada has made a standing offer of an annual subsidy of $750,000 a year for a fast steamship service on the Atlantic, and the public treasury is being drawn upon now for what is virtually a subsidy to increase the volume of our butter exports to England. Withdraw the artificial barriers against trade with the Mother Country, erected by ourselves, and there will be a sudden bound in the commercial intercourse between ourselves and our fellow-subjects beyond the seas that will make both the expedients above alluded to wholly unnecessary.

"Nor will it be found, on examination, that there is much in the cry about the alleged injury that would be caused our manufacturers. What manufacturing industries really would be injured? For answer let us look at the census returns. These show that the total output of Canadian manufacturing establishments in 1891 was $476,000,000. But of the industries that turned out the enormous bulk of the products represented by these figures by far the greater part would be very largely benefited by absolute free trade with the Mother Country. Among those in the class just mentioned are: Flour mills and vegetable food producing establishments with an output of $70,000,000 a year; saw mills, flour mills, carpentering and cooperage industries, with a product of $69,000,000; leather making establishments which produce $35,000,000 worth of goods annually; tailoring and dressmaking establishments with a product of $34,000,000; agricultural implement factories, blacksmith shops and foundries, the output of which is valued at $23,000,000; fish, cheese and meat-curing industries and furniture and house building establishments with an output of $25,000,000 each; carriage factories that turn out $20,000,000 worth of goods; book and stationery houses that have an output of $10,000,000; stone and clay works with a product of $10,000,000; lighting establishments which produce $8,000,000; and ship and boat building industries that have a turnover of $7,000,000 a year.

"Here is an output of $342,000,000—out of a total of $476,000,000—which represents the products of manufacturing establishments that would really be benefited by freer trade with the Mother Country. Even admitting that the industries represented by the balance of $134,000,000 yearly output would be injured by the policy herein approved—which we do not admit—the fact remains that over two-thirds of our manufacturing enterprises, as well as the whole of our agricultural, mineral, lumbering, fishing and transportation interests, would be immensely benefitted by it. Surely under these circumstances no one can for a moment doubt that the balance of advantage is overwhelmingly in favor of freer trade with the Mother Land, and that such a policy ought to be at once adopted by this country."

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars
Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars
More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $20,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Quarterly Meeting of Y.P.S.C.E.

The regular quarterly meeting of the local union Y.P.S.C.E. was held last evening in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, when a report of the Boston meeting was submitted by the County Delegate, Miss Eaton, of Norwood. A practical address was made by Rev. J. J. Rae, after which a quartette composed of Mrs. Jones, Miss Fowler, Mr. G. W. Mulligan and Mr. Hilliard Jone, sang an appropriate selection, which was followed by an effectively rendered solo by Miss Weber. A full account of the proceedings will be published to-morrow.

A Glad Heart Makes Work Light.

The best work can only be done when the bodily health is good, because the body reacts upon the mind, and a mental inertia supervenes when the body is enfeebled. To have the body in a strong, healthy, buoyant state use Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine, which upon the first symptoms of debility, loss of appetite, and general weakness, should be regularly taken. And then it is a fine old wine, desirable for its own sake as a beverage, being pleasant, stimulating and mellow. Its great advantage to the invalid is that it makes blood which is so sadly needed and this gives a new vitality to the whole system. It is a tonic, and incomparable bracer, and it is at the same time a rare old wine of exquisite bouquet. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

A Disgraceful Row.

Ashburnham residents are loud in their complaints concerning the conduct of a number of young men who attended a ball, which was held in the village last night. At a meeting of the directors of the Central Exhibition last evening. Messrs. Ed. Brown, Wm. Croft and Dr. Beatty were appointed judges of horse speeding which will take place at the fair, and the President and Secretary, and Messrs. Davidson and Kennedy were authorized to make final arrangements with the acrobats performing at the Toronto fair, if their performances were satisfactory.

Fall Buckwheat.

Mr. R. Waram, of Smith, brought to the EXAMINER sanctum to-day a sample of buckwheat grown upon the farm of Mr. W. J. Fowler, 8th line, Smith, which measured five feet six inches and which is said to be a fair average of the field from which the sample was taken. Mr. Waram never saw a better crop. Mr. Telford, of Ennismore, is thus outdone by fourteen inches. Next!

Another Thousand!

One thousand more of the celebrated "A. H. S" tablets have just been opened at the Peterborough Bookstore. The demand for this popular writing tablet keeps increasing, because it is the best writing tablet made. It is put up in cream laid, ivory, white, pearl, amber, and English vellum paper—to suit all tastes, and the price is the wonder—only 10c, 12½c and 15c. The best for the money that has ever yet been offered. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Some Tall Corn.

Mr. Robert Renwick, of Harvey, seeing an item in the EXAMINER recently in which some samples of tall corn were mentioned, to-day sent in a couple of stalks measuring 12 feet 6 inches in height. The corn in the field from which they were taken will average a height of ten feet. This is astonishing, but Mr. Renwick mentions having seen even taller corn in a half acre field of Mr. Thomas Elliott's, at Lakehurst, where one stalk was found to measure 13 feet 4 inches, and the entire field to average 12 feet. These samples would be hard indeed to beat.

Some Indian Words.

Omemee means pigeon. The village was so named at the suggestion of Judge Benson of Port Hope, because it is on Pigeon river—now shrunken to the dimensions of a creek—which flows into Pigeon lake. In former days wild pigeons were exceedingly plentiful there, and that fact no doubt accounts for the river being so named. Bobcaygeon is a corruption of Pah-pe-ka-ge-won. When asked its meaning our interpreter drew a line to represent a river which widened out into a lake, narrowed to a river, and again expanded to a lake. Those who have been on Sturgeon and Pigeon lakes will readily recognize how well the word describes those waters.—Orillia Packet.

A Runaway Accident.

Mr. Will St. Charles, of Belleville, who has been spending a few days in town, met with quite a severe accident on Saturday night when out driving with a friend. The gentleman was driving a very spirited horse and taking advantage of a moment when the lines were held a trifle slack, the animal bolted and turning a corner very suddenly, upset the buggy and flung out both the occupants. Mr. St. Charles was unfortunate enough to bruise his knee badly and also receive a severe cut over the left eye. The driver escaped uninjured and the horse was caught a trifle further on, having damaged the buggy only a very small extent. Mr. St. Charles returns to Belleville to-day.

South Monaghan Bridge.

Mr. Riddell, of South Monaghan, who is in town to-day attending the Cheese Board, informs us that Mr. Hayes, the contractor for the abutments of the new iron bridge across the Otonabee, will have his contract completed on Wednesday evening, and it is expected that the Central Bridge Works will commence to place the iron spans and swing this week. The contract calls for the bridge to be completed by Monday, 30th September. Then it is expected a grand demonstration and bridge opening will take place. Water flows freely under the bridge.

Sunshine and Shadow.

Harry Lindley, the well known and popular comedian, opened a week's engagement at the opera house last night, supported by a strong company of seventeen players. The house was crowded to the doors, and standing accommodation was at a premium. The play presented was the melodrama, "Sunshine and Shadow," and the audience was delighted indeed by the manner in which Mr. Lindley and his company presented it. Mr. Lindley himself is too well known to need any comment, as his visits to Peterborough are always remembered with pleasure. This year his support is the strongest that he has gathered about him for years, and therefore during the ensuing week the Peterborough public may expect many treats, as the reportoire of the company embraces some of the strongest plays of the season.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT.

Mr. Mills, chairman, presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee:

Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That the Peterborough Water Company be instructed to place a hydrant for fire protection on Weller street, 500 feet west of the hydrant farthest west on that street at present.

2. That the Peterborough Light and Power Company be instructed to place an electric light on Simcoe street, midway between George and Aylmer streets.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. BRADY,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

SEWERAGE.

Mr. Best, chairman, presented the report of the Sewerage Committee as below:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Sewerage Committee beg leave to report that they advertised for tenders, as instructed, for the completion of the outfall sewer to Townsend street. Two different tenders were asked for: One for the sewer to be constructed of brick from Rink to Townsend; and the other for a sewer to be constructed the whole distance of 30 inch pipe. The tenders received for the brick and pipe sewer were as follows:

William Jones	with 1½ inch pipe	$2,974 00
	" 2½ " "	3,274 00
Robert Grant		3,275 00
T Rutherford and Jas Bogue		3,280 00
W L Innes		4,059 50

For the all-pipe sewer the tenders were:

Robert Grant		$1,835 00
William Jones	with 1½ inch pipe	2,199 00
	" 2½ " "	2,499 00
W L Innes		2,359 50
Rutherford & Bogue		2,427 00

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY BEST,
Chairman.

Mr. Best moved the reception of the report.

Mr. Dawson moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, in amendment that the contract be awarded to Messrs. Rutherford & Bogue.

Mr. Mason moved in amendment to the amendment, seconded by Mr. Denne, that the report be referred back to the committee to advertise for an all brick sewer.

Mr. Cahill said the intention of the Sewerage by-law, was to give work to Peterborough citizens. He would like to have Mr. Grant get the contract, but as there was only six dollars excess in Messrs. Rutherford & Bogue's contract, and they being local men he was in favour of their getting the contract.

Mr. Stone also favoured giving the contract to the local firm.

Mr. Best advocated Mr. Grant's claim to the contract.

Considerable discussion took place over the matter of whether the sewer across Spaulding's Bay should be brick or tile but the matter was left open.

Mr. Dawson pointed out that every member of the Sewerage Committee was in favour of giving the contract to the local firm.

Mr. Richard Sheehy was heard by the Council, advocating the giving of the contract to Messrs. Rutherford & Bogue, as they were local men.

The amendment was declared carried, giving the contract to Messrs. Rutherford & Bogue, and a motion moved by Mr. Dawson, seconded by Mr. Cahill, making nine hours a day's work on this contract agreed to.

AN EXEMPTION BY-LAW.

Mr. Dawson moved the second reading of a bylaw to exempt the machinery and appliances of the oatmeal manufacturing establishment of Messrs. Meldrum & McAllister. The bylaw was read a second time and finally passed, granting exemption for 9 years.

The matter of the petition of the residents of Gilmour street, received at an earlier date, was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee and the deputation of residents invited to be present.

A GRIEVANCE.

Mr. A. Sanders was heard in reference to his license to peddle in town. He was paying a heavy license while others were doing a similiar business and allowed to carry it on without a license. He claimed as a market gardener that he was not receiving justice and he either demanded protection or a refund of his license fee of $30.

Referred to Finance Committee.

THE HOLBROOK ASSAULT CASE.

Hearing Before Judge Weller—Technical Assault Under Provocation Proven—Holbrook Sentenced to One Day in Jail.

Mr. Jas. Holbrook, of Belmont, came up before Judge Weller this morning on the charge of having committed an assault upon Mrs. Weese, of the same place, occasioning actual bodily harm. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. W. A. Stratton was counsel for the defence.

Mrs. Weese, the complainant, was the first witness, and related the particulars of the assault and the injuries inflicted on her, which consisted of a cut over the eye and acut on the leg, which she said was inflicted by the defendant with a saw. This was corroborated by the evidence of her son.

For the defence Mr. Holbrook went into the box and admitted having struck her, under great provocation, over the eye, but that he had not inflicted the wound on the leg, and that he had inflicted the wound on the eye more in self defence than otherwise. The defence also called a large number of witnesses as to the character for veracity of Mrs. Weese in her neighbourhood.

In giving judgment His Honour, whilst holding that technically an assault had been committed, held that it had been committed under considerable provocation and without serious injury to the complainant, and he sent Mr. Holbrook back to gaol for one day, then to be released.

THE SMITH-IRWIN ASSAULT CASE

BEFORE THE COUNTY POLICE MAGISTRATE.

The Hearing of the Charges and Counter Charges—The Evidence Submitted—The Smith's Convicted—The Husband Fined $20 and the Wife $10—The Charge Against the Irwins Dismissed.

Below is the continuation of the evidence in the Irwin-Smith and Smith-Irwin cases. The evidence in the four charges was taken concurrently :—

Thos. Irwin, father of Rueben Irwin, swore he was in the yard when the fight was going on. He went out and tried to stop it and caught Smith by the arm. Smith let go of his son and started at him (the witness). Mrs. Smith then came from her house with half a brick in one hand and a stone in the other. Witness was not struck until they reached True's gate. He did no fighting, but merely tried to part them. Mrs. Smith knocked his son down with a stone, and then Smith grabbed him and witness cried enough when Mrs. Smith struck him with a brick below the right eye. He got a blow on the left eye also and a kick on the leg and side, all from Mr. Smith. Witness was bent over when Smith kicked him. His son was getting up and coming to his rescue at this time. Mrs. Smith struck him with a stone, she still kept in her hand. Witness was knocked stupid, but he did not strike any blows. His daughter-in-law came to his assistance at True's gate. She took her husband by the arm and took him home. Smith followed and struck Reuben and his wife. Reuben was at True's gate at the time. Smith and wife followed the three up, throwing stones, until they reached their own yard. Witness then brought out the gun. He did not provoke Mr. Smith or wife. That evening he came to town and Dr. Carmichael dressed the wound. Mrs. Smith gave him the wound. There were no other stones thrown except those by Mrs. Smith.

To Mr. Stone—Reuben's wife was in the house at the time of the quarrel. Witness was struck by Mrs. Smith before Reuben's wife came up. He saw Smith kick his son. He was coming up the road at the time. He told Smith, "That's enough of that!" Smith then grabbed him. Mrs. Smith came up and struck his son. The son was knocked down during this time. The blow from the brick knocked witness down on his knees. He was kicked inside of True's gate. He did not strike Mrs. Smith, nor use any bad language. He brought out the gun ; his son took it from him, and shot it off in the air. His son did not do any fighting. It was the Smith woman who knocked his son out.

Mrs. Rueben Irwin remembered the trouble at Springville. Her husband went for mail, and while she was talking to father-in-law she heard a noise, and looked over and saw Mr. Smith chasing her husband out of the post office. She heard him say "I will give you mail and more, too, you ——— ———." Smith then struck my husband near True's gate on the road. Mr. Irwin had hold of his own coat. She could not say he was taking it off. She then saw both men together, but could see no blows struck. When Thos. Irwin went out to pacify them she saw Smith strike him (Thos.) with his hand. She was looking at them at the time. Did not see Thos. Irwin strike any blows. She next saw the three men together, and finally Mrs. Smith appeared with the brick and stone in her hands. Thought she had brick in the left hand. She struck her husband with a stone on the left side of the face. They were at Mr. True's gate at this time. Mr. Smith and wife struck her father-in-law right along. She did not notice her father-in-law get the blow under the right eye. She saw Smith kick her husband after he fell at True's gate. She was on the road at the time, but was not the first lady on the scene. Her husband was leaning down when she came up, but was not anxious to fight. His shirt was torn, and when he came out of the fight it was all blood. She saw Smith tear some of it. Mr. Smith struck witness near her own gate. He then struck her husband. She next went inside her own gate. Smith came up and stated he wanted a few minutes more with the old man. Smith stopped around, and tearing of his shirt threw it on the ground and jumped on it. Mrs. Smith was swearing at the time, with stones in her hands, which she threw at R. Irwin and his father. They kept this up for over an hour. There were no stones thrown on their side, and she gave no blows.

To Mr. Stone—There was no abusive language used by her husband or herself or any fighting. She only took hold of her husband. He was badly used up. She was the first women on the scene. She could not say what blow knocked her husband down. Smith kicked her husband once when he fell. He was leaning over on his knee at the time. They were pounding her father-in-law all the time. Mrs. Smith pounded her husband. Smith started at the old man when he went to make peace. He was struck at True's gate with a brick. Her husband was struck with the stone. She helped her husband up when he was struck down. He has been suffering since. She was not injured. Witness did not call Mrs. Smith a dirty ——— or throw any stones.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution against Mary Ann Smith and Thos. Smith. The evidence for the defense was begun.

Mrs. Thos. Smith was the first witness. She heard the previous witness say that she told her husband to "go for the ——— ———." She did not speak that way or hear her husband either. She was not at the post office when Irwin came in. Heard of no trouble in the building, or any words. Mrs. Smith said her husband called her, and she next saw her husband, Mr. Irwin, sr., Mr. R. Irwin and his wife inside True's gate. She did not use such language as "Give it to the ——— ———." When she saw them at True's she came out with the baby in her arms, and set it on the grass. When she arrived on the scene she saw Mrs. Irwin holding her husband's arm, while she was saying "Give it to him, dad ; give it to him hubby." Reuben was also saying the same, and called her husband a "black ——— ———."

They were giving it to him as fast as they could. The old man had her husband by the neck and tore the shirt from his back. Mrs. Irwin had her husband by the hand and in trying to pull him back the old man hit her on the forehead. She did not carry either a brick or stone then. She did not hit anyone with a brick or stone that day. The old man called me a black ——— and struck me. My husband did not kick old Irwin or Reuben Irwin. She saw Reuben Irwin throw stones. Her husband was hit by a stone. Reuben struck his own father with a stone in the face when throwing at her husband. She did not throw stones—only two at the fence after the row was over. Her husband did not use such language on the market square on Saturday. Continuing Mrs. Smith said, things were peaceful around Springville as far as she was concerned. Things were happy with her and her husband. Her mother and husband has had a few quarrels. She did not know of her husband leaving the house with one of the children. She had two stones in her hand when Reuben said he would murder or shoot after the fight was over. We did not stay on the road very long. Her husband told her to put the stones down. She had no brick in her hand until fight was over. She found Mrs. Irwin in the thick of the fight. She told her to let go her husband. She took hold of old Irwin till the fight was over, and she was struck. She saw her husband hit old Irwin once. Reuben Irwin threw the stone from the road to True's gate and struck his father. The old man struck her when she was facing Reuben Irwin's. Reuben also struck her husband with a stone on the head. The old man called her a black ——. Mr. Irwin had not a white shirt on.

Thos. Smith said : He heard what Irwin had said about the post office quarrel. He said Irwin came for his mail, and he said there was a good deal of talk going on lately. He did not hear any swearing that evening, nor did he threaten him. His wife was not there. When witness went to the door Irwin made for him, throwing off his coat. He had no white shirt on. He knocked off Irwin's blow and knocked him down twice before he got over to True's. Irwin, sr., came up and jumped on his back, and Mrs. Irwin took him by the arm, and Reuben told the old man to "put it to him." They all three pushdd him to True's yard. Witness' wife told Mrs. Irwin to let go her husband. While the affair was going on old Irwin, sr., struck his wife, calling her a ——— ———. Witness then struck him. He did not kick old man Irwin or his son. He did not see his wife when she came up and did not see her having hold of old Irwin's braces. His wife did not bit old Irwin with a brick. Old man Irwin was hit in the face by his son after he had hit witness in the head with a stone. Reuben Irwin threw the only stones, except those his wife picked up at the conclusion of the fight. Old Irwin scratched his face. Witness would swear he had no white shirt on. Old Irwin tore his shirt off but witness did not jump on him.

Arthur Gibson was the next witness. He was in Springville the night of the row. He saw it at Mr. True's gate. The four participants were there. They were all mixed up together. When he got on the road he saw old Irwin holding Smith, and Mrs. Smith had hold of Irwin. Reuben Irwin ran out on the road and picked up stones and threw them in the crowd. After the fight stones were picked up. Reuben Irwin threw the only stones that witness saw thrown during the fight. Witness saw Reuben Irwin shoot the gun. He told Smith to go or he would hit him. He shot the gun off in a north-easterly direction. Reuben had a bright coloured shirt on. Reuben was bleeding a good deal. Smith's face was pretty bloody, too. He had a few scratches on his face.

To Mr. Dennistoun—Mrs. Smith used bad language towards Reuben Irwin and his wife. She called him a black-leg and a bitch. Smith seemed anxious to fight, and said he could lick the two of them. He saw a white shirt with blood on it on the road. It was Smith's shirt which was nearly torn off him.

Geo. Sifton, sworn, said he was at Springville that night and saw Mrs. Smith throw stones. He also saw Reuben Irwin throw stones. He did not see Thomas Smith struck. Witness was in the post office when Irwin came in. Reuben asked for his mail. He did not hear any reply. Smith asked Reuben to take off his coat. Reuben said "all right." Both of them went out on the road. Smith hit first while Irwin was throwing his coat to one side. He knocked Irwin on his knees, and when he rose he struck him again. Then they clinched, and old man Irwin appeared and grabbed Smith by the back. Witness heard Reuben say "Give it to him dad." He heard no one else. Next saw Mrs. Irwin catch Smith by the braces. Then he went away and came back and Mrs. Irwin asked him to separate the men. He could not say what kind of a shirt Irwin had on. Mrs. Smith was in the fight on the road. She threw a small brick which missed Reuben. He noticed Smith and wife on the road after the fight. He heard Mrs. Smith call the Irwins bastards. The Irwins did not call names. He saw old man hit by his son Irwin. Reuben was outside of True's fence, while the others were inside.

Mrs. Louden was called next. She was on the market square on 31st Aug. She in company with Smith met Mr. and Mrs. Irwin. They talked over the quarrel. Mrs. Irwin said the statements were a lie. After considerable words they parted, Irwins saying they had a "catch on Smiths." They parted and she next met Mr. Irwin and wife at Dumble's office where she wanted them to settle the matter amicably.

Mrs. Mellon was called by Mr. Dennistoun. She saw the fight from the gate—

Mr. Stone objected to this question, as the evidence for the prosecution had been taken.

Mr. Dennistoun—This evidence relates to what took place after the assault.

Mrs. Mellen, continued, saying that Mrs. Reuben Irwin came to her house, and asked her to go and stay with her. She replied she was afraid Smith would go for her. She stated she saw Smith pull off his coat and jump on it. Smith challenged Irwin to come out, calling him a ——— ———. Mrs. Smith threw stones during the row, calling Reuben Irwin a French ——, and a French devil. The Irwins were inside their gate and were challenged by Smith to come out. Mrs. Smith, the witness swore, threw a good many stones. Reuben Irwin stepped out of his gate with a gun and pointed it in the air.

Wm. Milne was next examined. He saw the gun fired off by Reuben Irwin, who took it from his father. He did not aim it at anything. The Smiths were on the road, and Tom Smith was dancing on his shirt. He did not understand language used by the Smiths.

Geo. Howson, sworn, said he saw the racket on the road while coming from town. Smith said he could whip them all if he had his way. The fight was over when he came up. He saw Mrs. Smith throw stones against the fence, and heard her say she was taking a rest when she heard her child say they were killing father. She said two men and a French Buffalo ——— were at her husband. She was excited.

Solomon True, sworn, said he saw the affair. Mr. Smith had no shirt. Mrs. Smith was acting unruly and used bad language. Mrs. Smith said to Mrs. Irwin "Buffalo ———," and "Dirty, black Buffalo ———." His statement about the gun was the same as the previous witnesses.

The Magistrate, together with Mr. W. Eyres, J. P., closely reviewed the evidence at considerable length. He found Reuben Irwin not guilty of pointing firearms and stated he deserved credit in taking the gun from his father during the excitement. The magistrate honourably discharged Reuben Irwin. In his opinion Thos. Smith and wife acted in a most aggravating mannner. Mrs. Smith was a woman of strong passion, and had forgotten things that had taken place during the struggle, hence the contradictory nature of the evidence given. As to the charge against Thos. Irwin for assaulting Mrs. Smith, Mr. Edmison said, he was not satisfied that he did not strike Mrs. Smith, but that he was satisfied that the quarrel was started in the post office by the postmaster. The magistrate said the postmaster, Thos. Smith, in his opinion had no right to interfere with people entering the office. He dismissed the charges against Thos. Irwin, and found the Smiths guilty of common assault. Thos. Smith, being a public servant, in his opinion was not entitled to much consideration, and he would therefore impose a fine of $20 and costs, to be paid forthwith, and in default of payment he was to be committed to gaol for two months at hard labour. In regard to Mrs. Smith, the magistrate said he never felt more reluctant in this life in imposing a penalty than he did on this occasion, the accused being a young woman with four small children. She was fined $10 and costs, and in default of payment one month in gaol. At the conclusion of the court considerable excitement was caused by Charles Pogue, brother of Mrs. Smith, threatening Reuben Irwin, and County Crown Attorney Wood threatened to have him bound over to keep the peace. The Magistrate and Mr. Wood warned the parties to be careful of their actions and avoid threatening language in the future, and live as peaceful citizens of a peaceful hamlet.

The charge against Thos. Irwin was dismissed.

The Dominion Act Will Not Be Sanctioned.

THE ORIGINAL BILL SENT BACK.

An Agent of English Authorities to Visit Ottawa in Support of the Chamberlain and Against the Canadian Copyright Bill.

New York, Sept. 9.—A London cable to The Tribune says the Rosebery Government, on the eve of their defeat, invited Canada to send a special agent to England to confer with the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the copyright question. The Ministry sought to recall the invitation when forced to resign office, but Mr. Newcombe had already left Ottawa. He remained in London without attracting attention until the general elections were finished. He then conferred with Mr Chamberlain on the subject of the Canadian Copyright Act, which the Rosebery Government had neither sanctioned nor disallowed. The new Colonial Secretary did not wish to begin his career in that great office by affronting a powerful section of the empire whose friendship he had won by his dexterity in the fisheries diplomacy. He shrank from throwing out an Act which had been passed by the Dominion Parliament. He was also reluctant to sign a measure which might lead to the abrogation of existing copyright relations between the United States and Great Britain. Naturally, he looked about for some safe middle course. The British Society of Authors had taken steps, with the approval of the publishers, to send out to Ottawa one of their number to explain this position. He was invited to the Colonial Office to discuss the question and to suggest a possible scheme of compromise. Mr. Newcombe was again called in, and was asked to dine with the Secretary of State for the Colonies at Princess Gardens. After repeated conferences Mr. Newcombe was informed that the Colonial Office could not approve the Canadian Copyright Act in its present form, but had decided to return it to Ottawa with an outline of proposed changes, which would enable the Imperial Government to consider it at another time. Mr. Newcombe has sailed this week, taking with him the Copyright Act, and the amendment draft which he received from the Colonial Office.

It may be stated positively that the original Act has been sent back with the intimation that the Colonial Office cannot sanction it. What is the precise nature of the changes which have been suggested is not known outside of the office. Mr. Newcombe would say nothing about the amendments. Mr. Hall Caine has also decided not to say anything about the matter, explaining that he will sail for America within a fortnight, and prefers as the agent of the British authors not to discuss the subject until he arrives at Ottawa, where he thinks his first word should be spoken. Apparently the Colonial Office has sought to compromise the question by showing how the most serious objections to the original measure may be removed. The amended bill is entirely its own work, but the officials expect that the agent of the English authors will open the way at Ottawa for a favorable reception of it. Whether or not American authors and publishers will be protected by the modified Act against the Canadian raids is another question altogether. The real object of the Canadian Act was to obtain for cheap, badly printed editions of popular books easy access to the American market and the impairment of value of contracts made by authors with publishers in the United States, and at the same time to leave the Canadian printers a margin for profit on small editions for their own market.

A Times special from London says, after mentioning the departure of the Dominion Agent Newcombe: Hall Caine, representing the British Authors Society, sails on the Teutonic Sept. 18 and, after a short stay as W. Appleton's guest in New York, and Cape Cod, he will proceed to Canda on the same business. Though not delegated officially by the Colonial Office, he will bear letters of introduction from Mr. Chamberlain to the Dominion's Prime Minister.

For some reason Mr. Newcombe has declined during his stay here to meet Caine, and as both were in continuous attendance at the Colonial Office, there had to be devised a sort of Box and Cox system, by which they came on alternate days or at different hours of the day. Caine is sanguine that a settlement acceptable to all will be arrived at, but Mr. Newcombe's avoidance of him does not seem promising, and a letter in to-day's Times from R. T. Lancefield, secretary of the Copyright Association of Canada, dated Hamilton, Aug. 26, is extremely defiant in tone.

HAS CANADA NO VOICE?

Chamberlain Drafts the Bill and the U. S. Must Be Satisfied With It.

New York, Sept. 8.—The Tribune Sunday morning, in the course of an editorial on the above despatch from London in reference to Canadian copyright matters, says:

Still another question, of highest interest is whether the bill proposed by the Colonial Office will prove acceptable to the United States. To that no answer is at present possible, since the terms of the new bill have not yet been revealed. But it must have taxed Mr. Chamberlain's ingenuity to the utmost to devise a measure at once satisfactory to Canada and not offensive to the United States. The object the Canadian publishers have in view, as we have hitherto explained, is to flood the markets of the United States with cheap editions of books which, under our convention with Great Britain, cannot be manufactured so cheaply on this side of the border. No law permitting less than that will be satisfactory there. No law permitting that will be tolerated here. The enactment and Imperial approval of such a measure would be the signal for instant reprisals and would be a most serious menace to the international copyright agreement between this country and Great Britain. Of that fact there is no possible doubt, and the more clearly it is understood, both at London and at Ottawa, the better for all concerned.

It is sincerely to be hoped that Mr. Chamberlain has devised some safe solution of the problem, and that his official admonitions and Mr. Hall Caine's persuasions will prevail at Ottawa and bring the Dominion Government to a reasonable frame of mind. The Canadian book manufacturers will doubtless be disappointed at not receiving a charter for legalized piracy, but there are more important interests than this to be considered. The welfare of the whole guild of letters and of the whole publishing trade of both Great Britain and America is at stake. To subvert that welfare, to destroy the system of international copyright which has been established after so many years of toil, and to plunge the whole English-reading world back into the chaos of freebooting would be an unspeakable disaster.

AMERICAN DICTATION.

In the Matter of Canadian Copyright Is Discredited.

London, Sept. 7.—The Times publishes a letter from Lieutenant Lancefield of Hamilton, Ont., Secretary of the Canadian Copyright Association, in which he says that it is not conceivable that Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, will allow for one moment colonial legislation to be subject to the dictation of publishers of the United States or the threats of American newspapers.

NEW TRANS-ATLANTIC LINE.

To Be Subsidized By the Imperial Government—An Inter Imperial Route.

New York, Sept. 9.—Mr. Ballard Smith cables the following to The World from London:

I have information that the British Treasury is now seriously considering a scheme for the establishment by the Canadian Government of a new trans-Atlantic service between England and both Canada and the United States, aided by a special Imperial subsidy. This proposal was first mooted at the Intercolonial Conference at Ottawa last year, and Lord Jersey, the representative of the Imperial Government at the conference, supported it tentatively in his report to the British Cabinet. The plan was, at the instance of the Canadian Government, remitted for examination to a committee of experts which had been considering the condition of the mail service with China and the Australian colonies. The experts' report was presented to Lord Ripon early in the year, and was strongly in favor of the Canadian scheme, but as one of its main features was the complete ignoring of Queenstown as a port of call for the proposed new service Lord Ripon dropped it as its adoption would have antaganized the Irish party.

Sir Charles Tupper, Dominion High Commissioner, has been energetically pressing the scheme, at the instance of his Government, and is aware of the favorable report in the pigeonholes of the Colonial Department. He brought the matter under the notice of Mr. Chamberlain instantly he succeeded Lord Ripon as Minister of the Colonies. Mr. Chamberlain's avowed policy is to do everything possible to develop the interests and trade of the British colonies, as against competing foreign countries, and being indifferent about Irish hostility he promptly approved the Canadian scheme and forwarded it only a few days ago to the Treasury with an urgent minute asking the Chancellor of the Exchequer to report as soon as possible on its financial aspects.

The subsidy proposed to be paid by the British Government to the Canadian Government in aid of the new service is £80,000 a year and as this is a vital point of the scheme the decision of the Treasury sanctioning or refusing the expenditure will determine the fate of the proposal.

The scheme provides for building a new fleet of crack steamers for the service, those for New York starting from Southampton and those for Canada from Liverpool via the North of Ireland. The adoption of this proposal would be a reversal of England's established policy as to giving bounty to Anglo-Canadian shipping, and hardly any other member of the Government except Mr. Chamberlain could hope to carry it through. But he has already asserted himself as the strongest departmental chief in the Cabinet. Lord Salisbury undoubtedly appointed him with the expectation that the somnolent traditions of that office would overpower him.

It successful, besides its obvious importance to New York, the scheme avowedly means an arbitrary transfer to Vancouver from San Francisco of all the English mails as well as freight.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE

The Great Health Restorer of the Century.

Sickness Cannot Cope With It—Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record—Cures at the Nerve Centers, and Thus Cures Permanently—A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility—Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but by scientific methods he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health, only when the nerve centers are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centers. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centers, from which comes these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and then builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centers are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

PRACTICAL PICTURE FRAMING.

With Moderate Skill Pretty Frames Can be Made From Plain Wood.

Handsome carved frames are very expensive, and paste frames, though less so, are often undesirable, as the design is frequently mutilated. However, with moderate skill very pretty frames can be made of plain wood. For a medium or large-sized picture let the material be three or four inches wide and 1-2 inch thick, of some nicely grained wood. Oak is very pretty and in good taste, and if procured ready dressed, as it should be, cannot be excelled. The pieces should be cut so that the inner or shorter edge is just one inch shorter than the picture to be framed.

The corners are the most difficult part, but unless you are a professional joiner do not try to make an "invisible" joint, as it will always result in failure. Cut them carefully at an angle of 45 degrees, making them fit snugly. Picture-frame makers usually nail the pieces together with long, slim brads, driven through from the edge, but this is very hard to do without special appliances, in fact, almost impossible. Fig. 1 shows an inoffensive way of overcoming this difficulty. A piece of hard wood 3-4 of an inch thick is cut to a right angle as seen in the cut; this is fastened securely to the back of the frame with screws, and 1-2 inch from the inner edge, thus holding the corner and at the same time forming a place for the glass and picture. The body of the frame should be thoroughly polished with sandpaper and furnished with corners somewhat like that at Fig. 2. These corners consist of two pieces, each 1-8 inch thick, the one being a perfect square, tacked or glued upon the corner of the frame; the other, an openwork design or scroll, sawed out with a scroll-saw, or if this is not convenient, a carved rosette, glued upon the first. The frame done, give it three successive coats of thin varnish, and when perfectly dry it is ready for use. Put the glass in place, and back of it the stretcher or picture, and secure it firmly. To keep out dust place a heavy sheet of manilla paper over the back of the picture and fasten the edge all around with tacks or glue to the back of the frame, if with tacks use verwy small ones, such as are used in tacking window shades to the rollers.

This is offered merely as a suggestion which the practical mind can easily grasp, adjusting the minor details to suit the individual taste.

Druggists say that their sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla exceed those of all others. There is no substitute for Hood's.

WHEELMAN AND WALKER.

The Pedestrian Would be a Giant Who Could Race With a Bicycler.

The great distance covered by bicyclist with ease shows conclusively that the human walking aparatus although it may be the best possible contrivance for all the uses for which it was designed, is not to be compared with wheels, for the one purpose of getting over the ground. A single observation of a wheelman going at moderate speed shows that, with an effort which in walking would result in two steps of say two feet each, or a total advance movement of four feet, with the wheel the advance movement would be two bicycle steps, or downward pressure of the feet, each resulting in a forward movement of seven and one-half feet, or fifteen feet for one entire revolution of the pedal shaft, and this with less exertion than is required to take two steps. In fact, it would be easier for the bicyclist to make fifteen feet on a level with one pressure of one foot than to take two steps.

Now, in view of these magnified steps made by the bicyclist, it would be interesting to know what the stature of a man must be to make in walking the same distance made by the bicyclist with the same number of movements of the feet. Clearly the steps in this case must be seven and one-half feet each, which, at the lowest estimate, represents three steps of an ordinary man. It would, perhaps, be nearer the mark to say four steps, but to be on the safe side we call it three, and have made an illustration showing the comparative size of a wheelman and a pedestrian built to keep step with him. The pedestrian must at least be eighteen feet high. The man with this great stature would, after all, fall far short of making the speed of the bicycle. There is nothing like rotary motion; the wheel would be the winner in any race. While the bicycle has the advantage over the extremely tall pedestrian, it is obvious that the tall wheelman has no advantage over the short one.—Scientific American.

"Knickers" for Servants.

Lady Habberton, who is nothing if not a dress reformer, is urging that women servants dress in knickerbockers. This, she thinks, will do away with skirts which catch fire from the stove, knock over fine china and porcelain, interfere with the movements of the wearer, get torn by clumsy people and carry dust from the street into the house. This idea, however, is not original. At different times in France, Italy and Spain, the maids of the royal palace have been attired as pages. Lady Habberton and Rosina Vokes share the glory—if there be any—of having invented the divided skirts. Lady Habberton also invented a dress waist which suspends the weight of the garments from the shoulders.

WELL SATISFIED.

Folks Living Under the Shadow of the Mountain are Pleased.

HAMILTON, Sept. 9.—A very large increase has lately taken place in the sale of the specific remedy for complaints of the liver, and Dodd's Kidney Pills are in great demand. There are no complaints either from druggists or the public. The druggists being so near Toronto, the headquarters for distributing, are never in any danger of running out of the medicine for long, no matter how large the demand may be, and the public has long been thoroughly satisfied as to the valuable qualities of the pills, and the manner in which they invariably effect a cure.

Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

Chips of Knowledge.

In spite of the large consumption of Egyptian cigarettes in Europe, the amount of exported cigarettes is almost insignificant as compared with that reserved for use in the country itself. While the total export of 1894 amounted to 175,613 kilogrammes, no less than 2,515,821 were consumed in Egypt.

Some of the tops with which the Chinese amuse themselves are as large as barrels. It takes three men to spin one, and it gives off a sound that may be heard several hundred yards distant.

Cupboard Love.

"Do you love me?" said the paper bag to the sugar.

"I'm wrapped up in you," replied the sugar.

"You sweet thing," murmured the paper bag.—Boston Traveler.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept, discoloured teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

NEWS NUGGETS

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal

—Brockville is to have an electric street railway.

—An Indian tramp spent the night in the cells.

—The water will be run off the Little Lake for a few days after Wednesday next, 11th, for the purpose of repairing the dam at the locks.

—The members of the Lindsay Band have invested in new uniforms, in which they will appear at the Toronto Exposition, where they have an engagement to play.

—The odour from the cells in the police court was particularly disagreeable this morning. The Property Committee have as yet taken no action in regard to abating this nuisance.

—The Children's Aid Society will have a case before the Police Magistrate on Thursday morning in which a woman will be charged with forcing her children to beg on the streets.

—The Agricultural Society should ask the bicycle boys to get up an illuminated parade for the second night of the fair. No doubt they would agree to do so if presented with complimentary tickets.

—Perhaps you are not satisfied with the fit of your corset; or you can't get used to it. You will have no such complaint if you wear the P. N. They are designed for any figure, and are only on sale by R. Fair, at the Golden Lion, made in many styles. Short waists, short corsets, long corsets, abnormal corsets, nursing corsets, invalid's corsets, etc.

—A young mechanic was tried this morning and fined two dollars and costs for being drunk and disorderly on Saturday night. He was reeling along Simcoe street, it appears, and fell through Mr. Dundas' window. When Mr. Dundas hurried out to ascertain the cause of the commotion he was abused and struck by the lad, but did not lay any charge, as the damage done the window was settled for by the culprits employer.

—The following from the Canadian Wheelman refers to another branch of the same establishment which has opened a branch in Peterborough—Oak Hall Clothiers: President Doolittle's sign boards will be at a discount in Essex county. The wheelmen up there have long enjoyed the advantage of mile posts, which were erected on all roads leading to Windsor by Mr. John Moffatt, manager of Oak Hall. Of course it is an advertising dodge, but as mile posts they are all right. They are painted white with black figures and letters on both sides, and the figures are large and distinct enough to be read without any trouble. The miles were measured properly, too, which said cannot be said of some mile posts in an adjoining country.

METHODIST MISSION GRANTS.

Methodist Financial District Meeting.

At a financial district meeting of the Methodist church, this morning, in Ashburnham, at which Rev. W. R. Young presided, a grant was made of $236 to the Harvey Mission, and $204 to Apsley. Chemong Lake and Hiawatha being Indian Missions, the same grants as last year were recommended. A committee composed of Messrs. W. R. Young, W. Limbert, J. J. Rae, W. Wand and K. Mark, was appointed to arrange the time and place for a Holiness convention. On motion it was decided to hold the next district meeting in Millbrook.

Can Heart Failure be Prevented?

Startling and brief the announcement, 'Sudden Death Caused by Heart Failure." Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries, and reporters arousing the forebodings of those victims of indigestion and mal-nutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation, in palpitation or fluttering, of functional disturbance of the heart; symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable, and speedily fatal, malady. Maltine with Coca Wine is potent in restoring conditions that no longer render possible such alarmingly disturbing symptoms. Maltine with Coca Wine, through its remedial influence upon the nervous system, soothes into calmness the disorganized nerves. The heart, in response to increased nerve force, no longer plunges and beats as if determined to break.

Maltine with Coca Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient remedy for all those functional derangements that find manifestation in lassitude, sleeplessness, despondency and loss of appetite and digestive power. A nerve tonic, a body-builder, a nutrient and digestive agent of inestimable value. All druggists sell it.

The cry is "Give me Grafton's Clothing!" Honest buyers want nothing better at the price.

Clegg's Flor de Formosa

TURF.

Mr. F. E. Jones' running mare, Nettie Wood, won the half mile run at the Toronto Fair on Saturday. There were eleven contestants in the race, but the Peterborough mare was too much for the others.

WHEEL.

The last number of the "Canadian Wheelman" has the following pointer in reference to Peterborough's chances for securing the annual meet of the C. W. in Peterborough for 1896:—"I know of a few Toronto wheelmen who are laying their plans to participate in the festivities of the Quebec club on September 14th, on the occasion of their second annual race meet. Harry McKellar brought home last year such glowing accounts of the treatment meted out to him by the Ancient Cityites, that the mouths of the local riders have watered ever since. Judging by all reports, Big Chief Van Felson is assiduously laying all the pipes to land the '96 fixture. The jealousy between Montreal and Quebec must be fully as strong as the feelings between Toronto and the little city beneath the Mountain. A member bf the Montreal Bicycle Club, well up in the inner circle, informed me last week that his club would support Peterborough's claims. There is a pointer for someone." And for some one in Peterborough, too. If the local pushers are in earnest there should be no let-up—their hands should always have a grip of the "wires."

YACHTING.

New York, Sept. 9.—The Defender and the Valkyrie lay at anchor this morning about a half-mile apart off Bay Ridge. They were continually surrounded by a fleet of boats containing curious spectators. The sailors on the Defender were engaged in scraping down her free-board, scrubbing her deck and making the thousands of preparations necessary before a race. H. Maitland Kersey went on board the Valkyrie at 10.30 o'clock. He said:

"The Valkyrie will be all ready for to-morrow's contest. We all hope to do better than on Saturday. I have no more to say about Saturday's race. It is now a matter of history."

The Valkyrie's crew were as busy all the morning as the Defender's, and doing practically the same work. Weather Observer Dunn has promised fair weather for to-morrow, the second day of the international yacht series. "The present indications for to-morrow," he said, "are that we shall have fair weather and light to fresh winds, generally from the southeast. That means that the breeze will probably vary from 6 to 10 miles. The chances are that the weather will remain good during the entire period of the races. There is no storm in sight, and I see no reason to expect one."

The race for to-morrow will be sailed over a triangular course. The start will be from the Sandy Hook lightship, unless the weather conditions make another starting point necessary. Each leg of the triangle will be 10 miles.

Harding Defeats Sullivan.

London, Sept. 9.—The race for the sculling championship of England between Wag Harding, the present champion, and Tom Sullivan of New Zealand, the ex-champion, took place to-day over the course on the Thames, and resulted in a victory for Harding.

Above Hammersmith a foul occurred, but the boats kept on. Reaching Chiswick Eyot Harding darted ahead, and, rowing very fast, won with perfect ease in 22 min. and 50 sec.

Harding got away first, and led for a few strokes, but Sullivan overhauled him and was half a length ahead at the London Rowing Club house. As the contestants reached the mile they were both driven over to the Surrey side by the encroachments of excursion boats crowded with spectators. At the Soap Works Harding was gaining, but Sullivan again drew away, and was two lengths ahead at Wiggins'. Harding gained again for a few strokes, and at Hammersmith bridge Sullivan's lead had become reduced to a length and a half. Hammersmith bridge was reached in 8 minutes and 56 seconds.

A Fourth Department Now Added.

WE begin the Fall Campaign with a new department, that of Ordered Clothing. We have added this in order that customers and the public may find with GOUGH BROS. that service which will suit all classes and all requirements.

We retain the services of MR. DUNCAN CAMERON as Cutter and Manager of the staff engaged in this department. We have equipped our Tailoring Rooms with the best machinery and appliances and know we can turn out work the equal of th best city establishments. We solicit your orders.

We recognize that much is expected of GOUGH BROS. and that thousands will look for some radical changes in the prices of clothing made to order. If you are interested read about what we have to say.

On going to the wholesale markets to buy our stock of materials, we found a large lot of Scotch, English and Irish Woolens and Imported Worsteds, stopped by the English shippers in transit to a dealer in the west. We were invited to make a bid. We did so, and the goods were sold to us by the bank

At One Third of the Cost Value.

We are into Ordered Clothing to make it a success. With our buying power—and the above snap is an instance—we propose to push for all there is in it. We will sell for cash and cash only, and instead of expecting $7.00 profit on a $22.00 suit, we will be content with $2.00 profit.

Facts are convincing. Nothing else will carry assurance home. Here is your fact and your opportunity. We place in our centre window a range of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, and

For the Next Twelve Days we Will Make Suits to Order From These Cloths at $12.75 PER SUIT.

There you have it! Stylishly cut, elegantly trimmed, perfectly fitting Suits for $12.75. Look at the goods! Size up the Values and tell us if GOUGH BROS are not making a revolution in the Ordered Clothing trade.

A WIN FOR VALKYRIE

Defender Beaten By Forty-Seven Seconds.

A MISHAP LEADS TO A PROTEST.

The 30-Mile Race Around a Triangular Course, the Second For the America's Cup, Ends in Favor of the Englishman—A Protest Lodged by Defender.

New York, Sept. 10.—Close jockying between the British and American commerce of Sandy Hook to-day resulted in batants for the America's Cup in the an unfortunate accident to the American. The result was a victory for the Englishman by 47 seconds, according to this schedule of times:

	Start.	Finish.	Et. time.	Cor. time
Valkyrie....	11.00.13	2.55.22	3.55.09	3.55.09
Defender....	11.01.15	2.57 40	3.56.25	3.55.56

The boats in jockeying for the line had shown some of the prettiest work that has been seen here, which resulted in the Valkyrie obtaining the windward position. As the two boats headed for the line it was discovered that Valkyrie had the advantage. Both finally approached the starting line with Valkyrie leading and to the windward of the Defender. Had both held their courses there would have been no trouble, but the anxiety of the British skipper to get his boat over the line first and to the windward of the enemy made it a question if he would not cross before the starting gun sounded. To prevent such a predicament the Valkyrie broke away a trifle and eased out her sheets. The main boom of the Britisher swept over the Defender, carrying away the topmast shrouds on the starboard side and tearing out the jaws of the spreader. The topmast cracked and was badly sprung. Just as the crash came the starting signal was given and Valkyrie sped away like a rocket. Defender was luffed in the wind, the jib topsail lowered and the wreckage removed, and Mr. Iselin decided to continue the race. A protest flay was displayed and the committee boat showed an answering pennant.

There was a good sailing breeze, the sky was clear, after the mist of the morning had been dispelled, and the ocean was comparatively smooth. In the beat of ten miles to windward of the first turn, Valkyrie gained an advantage of 2 minutes and 52 seconds. At one time she led by fully a mile, but as the wind freshened from the 6 knots at the start to 15 at the first turn, and 18 shortly afterwards, the Defender began to gain. The second leg of the race was a broad reach, and Valkyrie used a balloon jib topsail, while the Defender was content with a baby jib topsail. Still the Defender gained 17 seconds on the second leg. On the run home the Defender gained 1 minute and 17 seconds. The time allowance of Valkyrie to Defender is 29 seconds, and, allowing for this, the difference between her time over the course and the Defenders' time was 47 seconds.

The Defender was the first of the two racers to leave Bay Ridge. At 7.45 she took a line from a tug and started for the scene. The Valkyrie left her moorings ten minutes later in tow of the tug Pulvar. Both boats got up their mainsails going down the bay. Defender used the Herreshoff mainsail and the snow-white topsail, which she displayed for the first time on Saturday. The Valkyrie's mainsail fitted far better than that of the American boat.

The yachts were not seriously hindered by excursion steamers about the start. After the race was under way more boats continued to arrive. At the turns and during the race the attendant fleet gave the yachts plenty of room. Both yachts were towed to Bay Ridge, where they are anchored for the night. To-morrow a new topmast will be put into Defender. The Regatta Committee stopped their boat at Bay Ridge on the way to the city and Mr. Iselin made a verbal protest in regard to the fouling. Mr. Rush, the club representative on hte British boat, was asked by the committee to present his version of the affair. At 10.30 p.m. the following notice was posted on the bulletin board of the New York Yacht Club:

"The Defender protests the Valkyrie on the ground that she bore down on her just before reaching the starting line, thereby causing a foul which resulted in the carrying away of her spreader and the springing of her topmast."

Commodore Smith of the America's Cup Committee, said this evening that the protest would not be decided until to-morrow. It was soon after 10 o'clock, when the committee's tug arrived off the lightship. She found a gentle breeze blowing from almost due south, at the rate of 6 or 7 miles an hour, and a gentle running sea.

At 10.50, the preparatory signal was fired. Both the racers were then on the starboard tack. Each had the same canvas set, consisting of mainsail, club topsail, staysail and jib, with a jib topsail in stops ready to break out. When the gun was fired the Defender, which was to eastward, came about on the port tack, and stood toward the Valkyrie. The latter being still upon the starboard tack, had the right of way, and as the Defender approached her, she luffed up into the wind and went about. This brought Valkyrie to windward of Defender, and just a trifle behind, but well overlapping her, and so gave her the weather guage. Defender could easily have averted this by luffing and going about when the Valkyrie did, but as there was five minutes left before the start, Captain Haff did not do so, thinking it would be easy enough to shake off the Britisher before crossing the line. But there was where Captain Huff made a very big mistake. The Valkyrie was just where she wanted to be, and she stayed there. Do what she could, the Defender could not shake off the foe clinging to her flanks, and there she stayed until long after the race was begun. The manoeuvres by which the Defender endeavored to make the Valkyrie lose her grip were especially interesting, in view of the subsequent foul to which they led. After the Englishman had secured the much coveted position both boats stood along toward the westward on the port tack until beyond the committee boat.

Then Capt. Huff tried his little trick which he thought would rid him of his persistent adversary. He jibed suddenly, hoping to get round and luff up to windward of Valkyrie before she could get around. But Captain Cranfield was quite as clever, he did not attempt to go about and he jibed so quickly that the relative positions of the boats remained unchanged, Valkyrie still keeping the weather. A few seconds remained before the starting gun, and it was seen that Valkyrie was too near the line and was in danger of crossing a second or two before the gun was fired. She immediately began to bear away to avoid crossing. But as soon as she did she found more trouble. There was the Defender just to leeward and a little behind her who had no need to bear away. Defender was allowing Valkyrie plenty of room between herself and the mark and so was acting strictly within her rights in keeping her course. Captain Cranfield could not call for room and the only thing he could do to save himself was to stop headway on Valkyrie. Hence came the foul and its resulting trouble. The long boom of the Valkyrie reaching out to leeward raked across the deck of Defender, only 12 or 20 feet away and striking the topmast shroud on the starboard side carrying it away, breaking the jaw of the spreader and pulling the bolt out of the brass spreader strap. The Defender's lofty topmast immediately buckled under the strain of her jib topsail with a loud crack, and at the moment the starting gun was fired at exactly 11 o'clock. The Valkyrie had preceded her at 11.13 and Defender at 11.01.15.

At 11.24 the Defender went about upon the starboard tack and 10 seconds later the Valkyrie followed her. It was then seen that the Valkyrie was about a quarter of a mile ahead of the Defender and 1000 yards to windward.

At 12.10 bot htacked to port again. their respective positions remaining unchnaged, and at 12.19 another tack to starboard was made. By this time Valkyrie was three-eighths of a mile ahead of Defender and a quarter of a mile to windward. The wind had now freshened to 12 or 14 miles an hour and the water became much rougher. The Defender began to creep up. She not only went more smoothly through the water, but began to outpoint the English boat as well. The wind ha dhauled a little to the westward and the mark was easily reached on this long starboard tack. The Valkyrie rounded ta 12.37.43 and easing off her sheets started for the second mark.

The Defender rounded the first mark at 1.01.35, having been beaten just three minutes and 52 seconds in the 30 miles, counting difference of time at the start. A few minutes later she set a balloon staysail. The run to the second mark was a broad reach, with the wind over the starboard quarter and the sails set to port. The wind kept on increasing, reaching about 18 miles an hour at one time on this leg, and the yachts dashed on at a good pace. Defender held her own much better than could have been expected, and actually gained 17 seconds on the next 10 miles. Much of this gain was due to the difference in the behavior of the two boats in the rather stiff sea way. At 1.58 Valkyrie took in her balloon jib topsail, and at 1.58.10 she turned the second mark, sending up a No. 2 jib topsail as she did so. She then hauled in her sheet and started for home with her mainsail and club topsail jib and jib topsail set. At 1.59 p.m., the Defender, which by that time nearly reached the mark, took in her baby jib topsail and jibed around the mark at 2.01.45. She broke out a No. 2 jib topsail, which in size was about the same as that which the Valkyrie had. Just as the boats were rounding the mark, the breeze took another spurt, and before it settled down again, it had reached a velocity of 12 or 13 miles an hour. Defender was half a mile behind the Valkyrie when she rounded the stake boat, and in less than half an hour she had cut this distance down to three-eighths of a mile. The Valkyrie won by 47 seconds corrected time.

A Little History About Cup Contests

Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie III. is the second of the long list of challengers for the America Cup to win even a heat, and the performance occurred yesterday over the 30-mile triangular course off Sandy Hook. Since the America brought the historic cup back from Cowes, in 51, eight yachts of all dimensions and shapes have challenged and striven to take back the trophy, and have invariably been far from successful. It was in '71, when the deed of gift called for the best in seven heats, that the Livonia, Mr. Ashbury's keel schooner, captured a race. Magic had won the first challenge match, the Cambria being the challenger, and then the English boat had to sail against the entire American fleet. This was the case when the America won in England, and after the second contest the custom was abandoned. It was in the second challenge, in '71, that Livonia came over. She was beaten by the defender Columbia in the first two heats. The third was sailed on Oct. 10 in a good breeze, the Livonia winning by 15 min. and 10 secs. corrected time. This was said to be directly due to a series of accidents to the Columbia, which at different stages of fthe contest had portions of her sail and her steering gear carried away. The committee, under the system of sailing then were privileged to select any defending boat on the morning of the day of the race, and for the fourth heat Sappho was selected. She won the next two heats in the match, and the cup remained in America. The next race was in '76, when the centre-board schooner Madeline defeated the Canadian challenger, Mr. C. Gifford's Countess of Dufferin, in the two heats necessary. In '81 the next challenge also came from Canada. Mr. Alex. Cuthbert's sloop Atalanta being the yacht sent over to try conclusions. She also was beaten in two straight heats. Then in '85 the sloop Puritan defeated Sir R. Sutton's cutter Genesta in the two races. In '86 General Payne's sloop Mayflower outsailed the Galatia, Lieut. Henner's cutter, without losing a heat. In '87 Gen. Payne's sloop Volunteer kept the cup away from Mr. James Bell's Scottish cutter Thistle, and in '93, under the new deed of gift, the N.Y.C. syndicate boat Vigilant defeated Lord Dunraven's Valkyrie in three straight heats. Then the next race was that of aSturday, when Valkyrie III. led for a short distance at the start, but lost the race by about 8 minutes; and yesterday the English challenger performed the almost unprecedented feat of winning a race from the skilfully-constructed and cleverly-manned Defender.

DAVID WANTED TO SEE THE TOWN.

But His New-Found City Friends Maimed Him For Life and Stole His Watch Chain.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 11.—David McNeilly, a young farmer from Jarvis, Ont., came to the city yesterday to see the fair. About 6 o'clock last evening he met a nice man in King-street. The nice man was very friendly and wanted to show David the town. David was glad to find a friend so ready and willing to do the hospitable thing by a countryman.

They took a little walk, and met two more nice men, who were equally anxious that David should have a good time. So the young men strolled up into the Ward, and just about dusk struck a secluded spot back of the Drill Shed. Here they were anxious to take over David's valuables for safe keeping. David resisted the overture, and one of his friends kicked him in the chest, another knocked his front teeth out, and the whole three made a successful endeavor to pound his face to pieces.

They grabbed his watchchain and escaped, but did not succeed in getting any other of his valuables.

McNeilly, whose face is permanently injured, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he will have to remain for a day or so, and will not see the exhibition at all.

FRIED LIVER AND INSURANCE.

The Peculiar Cause of Mr. McKnight Renouncing the Presbyterian Church—

Hamilton, Sept. 10.—The case of Robert McKnight, formerly a Presbyterian pastor at Dunnville, who found matters at Dunnville so unpleasant for him that he resigned his pastorate about two years ago, was once more up before the Hamilton Presbytery today. Not only did Mr. McKnight, who is a young man with a wife, resign his charge, but he withdrew from the Presbyterian Church, his doctrinal views not being quite consistent with Presbyterianism. But the young man was sorry for this a short time afterward, and he applied for re-instatement. He had intended entering the Anglican Church, but he repented this move.

Young Mr. McKnight's case has been considered several times by the Presbytery, and to-day a special meeting had the case on again. Mr. McKnight was given an opportunity to explain himself, and he attributed his Dunnville trouble to bad food and too much politics. The bad food came from the McIndoo boarding house, and the politics from several unfriendly members of his congregation. In regard to the former, Rev. Mr. McKnight objected especially to soggy potatoes and fried liver, the McIndoos serving this combination one day while Mrs. McKnight was not feeling well. The Presbytery refused to receive him back into the ministry.

Great Horses Matched

New York, Sept. 9.—August Belmont, owner of Henry of Navarre; J. R. and E. R. Keene, owners of Domino, and E. J. Baldwin, owner of Rey El Santa Anita, have finally agreed to race their great 4-year-olds, and it is altogether likely that R. L. Rose will be induced to name Clifford for the races, which will be arranged for Sheepshead Bay, Gravesend and Morris Park. The Coney Island Jockey Club's race will be run on Wednesday next, at one mile and a furlong, and will be for $1000 a corner, play or pay, the Coney Island Jockey Club to add $500, and the winner to take all.

Convicted of Ticket Scalping.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—Morris Switzer, a German, who claimed that he did not understand the Laws of Canada, was convicted at the Police Court yesterday of ticket scalping, and sent to jail for ten days in default of $20 fine.

Morris offered to sell to Detective Day of the G.T.R. the return half of an excursion ticket from Sudbury to Toronto, and was promptly arrested.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Union Meeting — Boston Convention — The County Delegate, Miss Eaton, of Norwood, Reports to the Local Union.

The large S. S. room of the Charlotte church was filled with Endeavourers on Monday night to hear the report from the convention in Boston. The President of the local union, Mr. H. P. Kennedy, occupied the chair. St. Andrew's society had charge of the musical portion of the service.

The meeting opened with a fifteen minute service of song led by the efficient choir leader of St. Andrew's, Mr. Mulligan. At the close of this service, Rev. E. F. Torrance, D. D., led in prayer.

Rev. J. J. Rae on behalf of Charlotte street society welcomed the local union. He said, I welcome you because of your youth, also because you are what you are. This society, this large and mighty power, has become what it is, because of its positive belief in the living God. Your are welcome because of your love for the Truth. Be faithful to the Word of God. The highest and purest delights are in the study of the Word. You are welcome not only because you love the Truth, but because you love mankind, striving to lifting up a higher standard of mankind and womanhood. You are welcome because you are believers in the power of the living God. When we have done our best we feel the need of God's power. Power comes from God rather than from the organization. Let us keep Him in our midst and we will have great power for good.

The President, Mr. Kennedy, spoke of the high honour conferred on a man to be called a Christian. It was also high honour to be a Christian Endeavourer. He expressed pleasure at seeing so many of our pastors present.

An excellent solo and quartette were given in fine voice by Mrs. Jones, Miss Fowler, Mr. Mulligan and Mr. Jones, Mr. Mulligan taking the solo part.

The county delegate, Miss Eaton of Norwood, was then introduced. She gave a splendid report, full of good points, and well worthy of the careful attention she received from the audience.

She first spoke of the completeness and heartiness of the reception of the delegates on their arrival in Boston, and then took up the various sessions of the convention, giving many thoughts and extracts from the different speakers. She experienced the difficulty of condensing a fine day's convention into an address of less than an hour; and just here we might say that it is just about as hard to condense her address into the space available to us.

After speaking of

from the Boston pastors, Boston committees, and Governor of Massachusetts, and the responses to those by Rev. Dr. Doyle of Chicago, she then gave extracts from Secretary Baer's report.

There were 7,750 new societies formed last year, the total number now being 44,229. Every country is represented in our membership, except Italy, Russia, Sweden, Greece and Iceland. There is a total membership of 2,473,740. His report went strongly against the liquor traffic. He said Christian Endeavour stands for the abolition of the saloon, and opposition to all that is evil.

At the Presbyterian rally points emphasized were: That each individual member should do their own work; show and fuss will not be as effective as quiet, earnest active work. Look well after the spiritual life in the society. The weak spots in a society are its active members. Personal work and personal responsibility seemed to be the keynotes at this rally.

President Clark said success has been won by unselfish devotion to the cause of Christ, and by intense loyalty to Christ and the church. Each society is a tree with three roots—the pledge, the consecration meeting, and committee work. Let us enlarge our boundaries, our mottoes be "The World for Christ." Rev. Knight, Chaplin of England, brought greetings from in the mother land. C. E. taught service to all, and love to all. The outcome of these is missionary enthusiasm. It also taught separation from all. It should not be a worldly society, but religious. Emphasize the prayer meeting.

LOOKOUT COMMITTEE CONFERENCE.

Every member should be on this committee. None should be associate who believed in and loved Christ. 4 points necessary—love for God, love for man, tact and patience. If unsuccessful in winning souls the trouble is oftener with the winner than the sinner.

The Junior Rally was a grand meeting, 4,600 children on the platform and in the side galleries. Hundreds of children dressed in costumes of all nations where there are junior societies made a beautiful and inspiring sight.

The closing meeting on Monday was the most enthusiastic of them all. At this meeting Dr. Potts, of Toronto, gave an address on "Earnestness," which was powerful and helpful. He said earnestness in soul saving is very much needed.

There were 359 delegates from Canada, with a total of 56,285 registered delegates.

The consecration meeting, with the roll call of states, provinces and counties, brought to a close the most successful convention yet held.

Rev. W. C. Beer, Hon. President Local Union, thanked Miss Eaton for her excellent report. The result should be seen in our societies.

Miss Webber then sang a solo, and Mr. Kennedy spoke a good word for the Provincial Convention in Brantford, Sept. 24, 25, 26. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Rev. J. G. Trotter.

SALEM.

On account of very unfavourable weather, we were obliged to postpone our regular consecration meeting last week, but not wishing to miss so important and interesting a service, we held it on Sunday evening. We were deeply grateful to see an unusually large attendance, among whom were some of the older members of the congregation, who cheered and encouraged us greatly, not only by their presence but also by their glad testimonies and assurance of their sympathy in our endeavour to work for the Master.

The topic was ably discussed by Brother H. S. Armstrong and our respected friend, Mr. S. Sargent, sr., after which we entered upon our consecration service, the responses being freely given, varied in form and interspersed with music. Our meeting was a good one, for we felt the presence of the Master with us, and it was indeed "Good to be there."

BETHEL—KEENE CIRCUIT.

Our last meeting, being our monthly consecration meeting, was well attended in spite of the rain. The topic was conducted in an able manner by H. Patterson, in which all members seemed to take an active part; and our consecration service was one that will be remembered, for it was impossible for a member to listen to the brief testimonies given by both active and associate members without seeing their need of consecrating themselves more fully to their Master's work.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

For cholera morbus, cholera infantum, cramps, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery and all summer complaints, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for nearly 50 years.

DEATHBED INSURANCE

Body of Mrs. George Alger of Pickering Exhumed.

WHAT THE POST MORTEM SHOWS

Within One Month Death Application Was Made to Place $5000 Insurance Upon Her Life in Addition to the $7000 Placed a Year Previously.

Provincial Detective John Murray, accompanied by Drs. John Ferguson and George A. Bingham of Toronto, County Crown Attorney J. E. Farewell and High Constable Calverley of Whitby, and Undertaker Hilts of Pickering village visited the Christian Cemetery at Brougham yesterday and exhumed the body of Mrs. George E. Alger. The action was taken at the instigation of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, who held a policy for $7000 on the life of the deceased and the Home Life Association, to whom application had been made for an additional policy of $5000, a short time previous to Mrs. Alger's death. The first policy taken out in the Equitable was issued about a year ago for $7000. An application was made to the Home Life on July 11 for an additional policy of $5000, but Mrs. Alger died before the application could be properly filed.

The publication in the papers some days ago of the fact that an investigation was being made by the insurance companies, and that the body was to be exhumed, created great interest among the residents of the township, due partly to the fact that this is the first time in the memories of the oldest residents when an exhumation for the purposes of investigating alleged crime has taken place in the township ,and because of the family of the deceased having been one of the most widely known and most honored in the community.

Since it has been noised abroad that the insurance companies were protesting the payment of the policy and asking for an official investigation, the tongue of rumor has not been idle, and when the officers arrived at the little cemetery just outside Brougham many of the curious who had gathered were whispering of rumors of murder having been done, and some were apparently disappointed when informed that the most serious charge likely to be preferred was that of conspiracy to defraud.

High Constable Calverley had spent the night in the cemetery keeping guard over the grave, fears having evidently been entertained that an attempt would be made to remove the body. Mrs. Alger was buried in the centre of the Hubbard family plot.

Messrs. Macdonald & Fitch, Alger's solicitors, were on hand to look after the interests of their client, and threatened to resist any attempts to raise the body, but finally thought better of it. They then demanded that a coroner's jury be called, but when this request was refused. Drs. Bateson of Brougham, Brodie of Claremont and Robinson of Markham were admitted to the post mortem on behalf of Mr. Alger.

To set at rest the rumors of murder by poisoning that had been flying round the township, Messrs Macdonald & Fitch asked that the contents of the stomach be taken for analysis. The crown officers acceded to the request, though their attention was particularly devoted to the lungs, where evidences of the cause of death were expected to be apparent. The official anaysis will be made known in a few days, when specialists on behalf of Mr. Alger will be present, but a superficial examination was sufficient to reveal that the woman's death was due to consumption. The left lung had almost entirely wasted away; the small portion that remained having grown to her side. The right lung was also in an advanced state of decay. These organs, the brain and the contents of the stomach were taken charge of by the physicians, and the body again lowered into its resting place.

A press representative called at the residence of Dr. Francy, in Whitevale, but was informed by Mrs. Francy that the doctor had left home Saturday evening. As to where he went, or when he intended to return, Mrs. Francy said she was entirely ignorant. She expected him home Monday evening, but he did not appear ,and as she had no word from him she did not know anything of his movements. Dr. Francy's name is attached to both applications as medical examiner of Mrs. Alger. He has practised in Whitevale for six years.

Mr. Alger, the husband of the dead woman, is a farmer in comfortable circumstances. His home, two miles west of Brougham, is one of the model farms of the township. Mr. Alger had leased his farm and issued posters announcing a sale of his stock and implements for Sept. 20. Realizing that this would only add to the rumors which had been circulated, he drove through the township Monday calling in the posters and announcing the indefinite postponement of the sale.

When a reporter interviewed Mr. Alger, he declared his innocence of any wrongdoing, and expressed a desire for a searching investigation into the whole matter. When told that Dr. Francy has not been at home since Saturday, Mr. Alger remarked, "The — is a fool, if he is as innocent as — claims to be. I don't fear an investigation, as I have done nothing wrong." He complained bitterly that the crown authorities had given him no official notice of the exhumation of the body.

Messrs. Macdonald & Fitch were seen in reference to the position of their client, Mr. Alger,in the matter. "Mr. Alger is a perfectly innocent man," said Mr. Fitch, "and this action of the authorities to-day in dragging the body of his wife out of the grave we consider a scandal and an injustice to him. The first policy we admit. That was the result of a mutual arrangement between Mr. and Mrs. Alger, when they agreed to insure their lives for $7000 each, in favor of one another. Mr. Alger was then carrying insurance for $5000, and he added another $2000. This last application Mr. Alger had nothing to do with. He had no idea of its existence until after his wife's death. There was undoubtedly a conspiracy to defraud the insurance company, but our client had no knowledge of it. There would never have been any attempt to collect the money if the policy had gone through."

Mrs. Alger, the dead woman, was 41 years of age. She was the only daughter of the late William Webb Hubbard, who was one of the wealthiest farmers in the township. He died a year and a half ago. but Mrs. Hubbard is till alive. Mrs. Alger was the mother of six children, the youngest of whom are twins, a boy and a girl, about 7 years of age.

After discussion, it was decided to adopt, with slight changes, the constitution of the new organization, so that the Canadian Imperial Federation League will no longer be known as such, but will form part of the new society.

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894: also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

Obituary.

Allan Frederick Greatrix, aged 6 years and 7 months, the eldest son of Mr. W. R. Greatrix, formerly of Peterborough, died Sunday morning at the residence of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Greatrix, Belleville. The deceased had been ill but a short time with an affection of the brain. He was an unusually bright child, and his demise is a sore affliction to the parents and members of the family, who will have the sympathy of the community. The remains were interred in the Belleville cemetery yesterday afternoon, the funeral ceremony being conducted by the Rev. H. C. Hutton, of Christ church.

In the George St. Methodist Church to-night Miss McDonald, of Toronto, will speak, Miss Hendren, of Lakefield sing, and Miss Fife will recite. Silver collection.

EXTREMELY SAD SUDDEN DEATH

Miss Young, Sister of Rev. W. R. Young, Found Dead in her Bed.

The public will be exceedingly pained to hear of the distressing shock which Rev. W. R. Young and family received this morning by the finding of the lifeless body of Miss Young in her bed.

The young lady had been on a visit to her brother, Rev. Mr. Young, for some time past. She spent a month with the family at Stony Lake and returned to town apparently much improved in health. Last night she seemed to feel in good health during the evening and there was nothing wrong in her condition noticed. She retired at 12 o'clock. This morning, Miss Young not coming down to breakfast at the usual time, she was called. No answer having been received her room was entered and she was found dead in the bed. She was somewhat of an invalid, being afflicted with some form of heart disease. It is very probable, therefore, that her sadly sudden demise was due to the condition of the heart. Miss Young resided in Kingston, to which city her remains will be forwarded this evening. The body will be interred in Cataraqui cemetery. Rev. Mr. Young will be accorded the deep sympathy of the community in his bereavement.

NO HOME AND NO FRIENDS.

A Woman in Sad Circumstances is Willing to Do Anything to Keep Her Baby.

Mrs. McDonald, whose husband died by the roadside last week near Wentworth, is again in town with her baby, and will be taken to the Peterborough Protestant Home for the present. The woman is willing to work for the keep of herself and child during the winter, and is willing to do almost anything. She states that her husband's dying wish was that she would never leave her child, and therefore she is unwilling to accept aid of this nature from the Children's Aid Society.

McDonald was a tailor by trade and formerly worked in Peterborough, from where he went to the Government lands in the north, and resided there with his wife for over three years. A dispute caused him to take the baby and disappear. His wife found him in the dock of the Toronto Police Court where she had gone to seek aid in her search and the couple started out to return to Peterborough, but by mistake tramped westward. The husband fell by the wayside, a victim of sunstroke. A collection was taken up in Wentworth and the woman sent to Toronto from where she was, at her wish, sent on to Peterborough. She has no friends in this country, being an emigrant girl and her circumstances are particularly distressing.

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality.

Sudden Death.

The death of Miss Ellen Hagarty occurred this afternoon at the family residence on Elm street. The deceased had only been ill about ten days, and her death was most unexpected. For many years Miss Hagarty had occupied a position with the the late firm of Dolan & Co.

The Circus Girl.

The Lindley Company placed that well-known comedy, "The Circus Girl," on the boards last night at Bradburn's Opera House in a manner which earned for the members the enthusiastic applause of the large audience assembled. The roars of laughter evoked by the comical situations were such as to cause citizens to pause outside and wonder what was provocative of so much merriment, and in many cases a fresh burst of applause induced them to seek admittance to share the fun.

Her Last Trip.

The steamer Golden City, plying between Lakefield and Stony Lake, made her last regular trip for the season Monday. Capt. Reynolds, who was in town on business reports having had a most prosperous season, a large number of tourists and summer visitors taking advantage of the fine camping grounds, fishing, etc., of these back waters. For the balance of the season the Golden City will be engaged towing saw logs for the large lumbering concern of Gilmour & Co.

Obituary.

The friends of Mr. George Shannon will regret to learn that the illness from which he has been suffering so long terminated fatally on Tuesday. Mr. Shannon was an industrious and well respected young man, thirty-four years of age, and came to Ashburnham from Douro, where several members of the family reside. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his death. What adds to the sadness of the circumstances is the severe illness of his wife, from which she is not expected to recover. Funeral from the family residence on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Elegant Show Cases—Home Manufacture.

Mr. G. A. Schofield has had placed in his new drug store, corner of George and Hunter streets, two beautiful show cases. They have square edges and corners, and consist of plate glass framed in polished oak, and backed with British mirror plate. The show cases are sixteen feet in length, and are both beautiful in appearance and unusually strong. A man can walk over the top of the plate glass from end to end without any sign of yielding. These elegant show cases were made by the Peterborough Canoe Company, which is to be congratulated upon the elegance and excellence of this branch of their work in which they are doing a fine trade. Mr. Schofield's beautiful drugstore is much improved by these splendid new show cases.

ST. ANDREW'S PASTOR WEDDED.

He Espoused one of London's Fair Daughters Yesterday.

London, Sept. 10.—(Special)—St. Andrew's church was the scene of an interesting double wedding at 3.30 this afternoon, when two of the most popular young ladies in the church were espoused by two Presbyterian clergymen. The principals were Rev. Andrew MacWilliams, B.A., of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, and Miss Effie Carson, and Rev. Wm. Patterson, B.A., of Leamington, and Miss Laura Bilton. The Rev. Robert Johnston officiated.

OF INTEREST TO THE 57TH.

Subjects of Inspection and Examination—Inspection by Col. Cotton, D. A. G., Oct. 24th.

According to recent regulation all local corps of active militia, drilling at headquarters, will be inspected and examined in the following subjects:

(a) Company formed as a squad in single rank and drilled in Sects. 23-33, Part I, Inf. Drill, (as laid down in Sect. 34, Part I.)

(b) Part II Inf. Drill, with special reference to Sects. 58-71, and G. O. (1) of 31st Jan., 1894, Para. 5, (c) (d) (e).

(c) Extended order Part I, Inf. Drill, Sects. 45-57 including drilling by signal.

2. As laid down for the Canadian Militia.

3. In addition to books for administrative purposes, every officer must produce on parade a company roll by sections, and each commander, a roll of his section.

4. To obtain ½ p. c. score at Rifle Practice, divide total score of Company by 200, carrying the division to one decimal place.

5. Credits will not be allowed on this form in respect to Regimental Staff, the return having reference to the company only.

Lt.-Col. Cotton, D.A.G., will be the inspecting officer of the Battalion on Oct. 24th, and those who have had experience of the rigid nature of his inspection will see the necessity of marking, learning and inwardly digesting the requirements of the above subjects. And those who have not had such an experience are advised to perfect themselves as fully as possible in the prescribed curriculum.

There was fair muster of the battalion last night, and the officers and men seem to be taking an active interest in battalion matters. Captains gave their respective companies an hour and a half brisk drill, and at the conclusion Lt.-Col. Bell addressed the battalion in reference to the annual inspection, and urged the men to untiring effort in order to keep the 57th in the front rank of city battalions — a position they receded from by only one point last year. He also stated that the subject of each evening's drill would be announced in due time.

THE RISEN CONDUIT.

The following letter on the rising of the Toronto conduit, by Mr. C. Fessenden, is published in to-day's Toronto papers:

As the matter is one of great interest to your city, I would offer a few observations on the rising of the Toronto conduit pipe. The conditions are such that the pipe cannot rise unless air or some other gas finds its way in. The formation of a vacuum, as suggested by some, is quite out of the question unless the water surface at the point of discharge (the pumping well) is more than thirty feet below the part of the pipe at which the vacuum is formed. This condition, of course, does not exist even when the well is pumped to its lowest point.

If any gas finds it way into the pipe it will flow to a point of maximum elevation (that is to a point from which the pipe slopes downward in both directions) and there remain. Hence we shall have an accumulation of gas at any point of maximum elevation. If a section of steel pipe five feet in diameter, and made of plates half an inch thick, is one-fourth full of gas, it is just ready to float. If the plate is thinner it will float when containing less gas. If gas has accumulated at a point of maximum elevation nearly enough to float the pipe, and the water at the pumping well is lowered a few feet, thus diminishing the pressure at all points within the conduit, this gas under the diminished pressure will expand, and the pipe will rise.

It is probably impossible to prevent gas finding its way into the pipe. It is formed by decomposition of organic matter at the bottom of the bay and sucked in through the leaks along with the dirty water of the bay. It also may be taken in in solution at the receiving end and released from solution when the water holding it reaches a higher level where the pressure is much less. Any gas entering is caught at the higher parts of the pipe, and it is not difficult to believe that in the course of a few years enough should accumulate to work the mischief. The accumulation of gas in the pipe may be prevented as follows: 1. At every point of maximum elevation along the line of the conduit screw into the top of the big pipe a pipe two inches or more in diameter, and reaching well above the surface of the bay. 2. So arrange the suction pipe furnishing water to the pumps that the water in the pumping well cannot be drawn lower than the top of the conduit at the highest point in its whole length. If the above precautions are taken the pipe will continue to lie on the bottom until solid iron swims.

Yours, etc.,
C. FESSENDEN.

DISTRICT EPWORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION.

Rev. A. C. Crews, the General Secretary, Delivers a Stirring Address on the Aims and Methods of the League —Election of Officers.

A convention of the Epworth League of the Peterborough District was in session yesterday afternoon and evening in the Mark street Methodist church. The chair was occupied by Rev. W. Limbert, of Lakefield, the president of the District League, by whom the opening devotional exercises were also conducted.

The first business of the convention consisted in the hearing of reports from the various delegates in attendance. It was apparent from the statements made from the different branches of the League in the district that the organization is in a most flourishing condition, both spiritually and numerically, as it is steadily increasing in usefulness and strength.

Rev. G. Nickle, of Cavan South, delivered a most timely and interesting address on the object of the League to develop the idea "Taking Christ as my example."

Rev. A. C. Crews, General Secretary of the Epworth League, then gave a business talk on the organization and its general work, which proved most instructive to the the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Roger Allin, of Bethany, the services being interspersed with music furnished by the united choirs of the Methodist churches of the town.

Rev. T. S. McKee, of Fraserville, was the first speaker of the evening. He chose for his subject the possibilities of the Epworth League, and the first statement which he made was that our possibilities were the measure of our responsibilities. With Daniel Webster, he thought the greatest thought conceivable was our individual responsibility to God. He expressed the belief that we were responsible to God not only for what we did, but for what we should do. God's commissions, he stated, were not God's permissions merely, but rather God's commands, and when the command was issued it lay with us not to reason why, but simply to do. He recognized the Epworth League not simply for salvation and for Heaven, but for service and reward. It was not a means to just get a member into Heaven by the skin of the teeth, but a means to earn for them the commendation of "He hath done what he could." In the line of Bible culture, the present generation, he stated, was far ahead of all previous ages. If this were not so, it would indeed be a shame to us as possessing as compared to the opportunities of our forefathers. The work of God was not, he was sure, beyond our grasp, and he was sanguine that before the close of the present century the Epworth League would have mastered the book. If the Bible was only given the study and application which was bestowed upon the algebras and histories in the schools, the work accomplished would soon become stupendous indeed.

The machinery possessed by the League was a mighty power. Organization was one of the greatest of powers, but baptism from on high was the chief and greatest power. There was nothing so calculated to bring out the power of the League, and cause its influence to be felt as the baptism of the Holy Ghost. Through it great things were possible. In closing, Mr. McKee expressed the hope that the thought was fully borne home to all that personal spiritual conviction was most necessary in connection with the work.

Rev. A. C. Crews was then then called upon for an address on "The Epworth League, Its Aims and Methods." In opening he dwelt to some extent on the magnitude of the Epworth League which he stated was half as large as the whole Christian Endeavour Society. Its growth has been marvellous since its inception

SIX YEARS AGO.

The Canadian League alone embraced over 60,000 members. There were four departments of the League,—the Christian Endeavour, the Social, the Educational and the Devotional. All these departments were religious and the object and aim of each of these departments was to save souls and promote piety in the young people. The Christian Endeavour department was for the promotion of an endeavour to do something or try and do something for God. In the church there were plenty of members who were well up in the theory of church work but fell lamentably short in the practice thereof. He actually knew of some churches where if twenty members were taken out, every department of church work would be paralysed. The object of the Christian Endeavour department was to remedy this evil and stimulate the young people to make an effort to take an interest in PRACTICAL CHURCH WORK.

The devotional department might be termed the power-house for the creation of Christian energy, and no church would be expected to do much without placing great reliance on this source. The Epworth League could be of great assistance to the pastors. Last winter, for instance, he himself turned over the entire management of the poor fund to his young people, and never before was it so well managed. A large sum of money was collected and most admirably distributed. The Lookout Committee was a splendid feature of the Christian Endeavour.

The Literary Department recognized in every one who had a soul, also a mind, and recognized the fact that the mind was as as the body. Culture and education should not be neglected. There was no demand now for illiterate preachers and the church was looking to its Young People's Societies for its ministers and Christian workers and expected them to be intelligent. While the speaker believed in the religious element being pre-eminently the chief aim of the League, yet what he wished to impress on his audience was the need of symmetrical development along all lines. Mr. Crews rejoiced in the fact that the interests of the young people were being so well looked after by the press of the present day.

Regarding the Social Department the speaker drew the attention of his hearers to the fact that the devil usually got in his fine work on young people through their social relations. The idea was to bring Jesus Christ into their social relations and so oust the devil. He believed that was daily growing stronger and subduing the flow of worldliness which was formerly so conspicuous a feature of the gathering of young people. Work in the social department was not finished by the holding of a social by any means. The social was all very good in its way as a means to the end of promoting a warm cordiality amongst the members. Through this department the young people were doing a great work in the way of improving the social atmosphere of the church.

Before closing the speaker made a few remarks concerning the missionary work of the League. He spoke of a young man who, yesterday, at a district convention, offered himself as a medical missionary to go abroad, and immediately the young people in attendance pledged themselves to his support. This was a grand contribution, indeed, to the cause, and had been a great encouragement to him.

As Rev. G. R. Clare, of Bridgenorth, was suffering under an affliction and was unable to make the address for which his name had been placed on the programme, the convention was brought to a close after a most instructive session.

PETERBOROUGH PRIME CHEESE.

Regular Meeting of the Cheese Board—Large Board and Small Price—Few Transactions.

At the meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board, Tuesday, the following buyers were present, viz:—Messrs. Cluxton, Wrighton, Cook, Hodgson, Fitzgerald and Jones.

Mr. Cook called the attention of the Board to the fact that many of the makers neglected to send scale boards with their cheese to the warehouses. This neglect did much towards facilitating the entry of skippers into the cheese, and hereafter he proposed to charge the factories with the scale boards, which he had to place in the boxes.

Mr. Drummond cautioned the makers against becoming slovenly and neglectful in this particular.

There were 4,619 boxes boarded by the following factories.

MR. GARVIN'S ELEGANT NEW OFFICES.

The Fine Business Home of the North American Life Assurance Company for this District.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, as announced in THE EXAMINER, is the District Manager of the North American Life Assurance Company, and he has provided handsome offices for himself and the company in the new Bank of Commerce buildings. The suite of rooms is on the second floor, and may be reached from either the Water street or Hunter street entrance. They face on Water street and consist of a business office, and a reception and private office. The business office is a well-lighted commodious room, floored with oil cloth, and contains a large fire proof vault, well fitted up with necessary shelving. The walls are neatly papered and adorned with pictures, and the room is well supplied with fine office furniture, including conveniences for stenographer and typewriter. Opening from the business office is Mr. Garvin's private office and reception room, elegantly fitted up, which has a separate entrance from the corridor. Pictures ornament the papered walls, and the floor is covered with Brussels carpetting. The furniture is excellent, fine desks, easy chairs, leather upholstered sofa, consoles, etc., while for the convenience of visitors, a table covered with papers, magazines, etc., will agreeably break the tedium of waiting. Both rooms are provided with beautiful electroliers for electric lighting.

Altogether Mr. Garvin's new offices are conspicuous for elegance and convenience, and it is probable that Mr. Garvin's well known energy and business ability will tax the business capacity of the new offices and justify the wisdom of the company in selecting him as their District Manager.

NERVOUS SYSTEM.

LIST OF DISORDERS CAUSED BY SPECIAL OCCUPATIONS.

An Italian Professor's Study of the Relation of Labor to Nervous Diseases—Children, Business Men and Laborers Suffer—Effect of the Bicycle Upon the Nerves.

Prof. Leonardo Cognetti di Martiis, of the University of Turin, discourses in the Giornali degli Economisti the relation of labor to nervous diseases. The article is mainly directed to showing that each occupation, mechanical or intellectual, has its peculiar nervous disease, and the enumeration as a whole, with its illustrative examples, forms a harrowing picture of the dangers attending modern industrial life. He begins by discussing the perils to the nerves of open-air workers.

Lightning is one of these. Not only does it kill twenty-two persons annually in England and seventy-one in France, but it leaves with shattered nerves many who escape death from the stroke. So of electricity used in various industries. A severe shock from electricity is always liable to produce important nervous changes in the victim. The malarial fevers to which many open air workers, especially agricultural laborers, are exposed are followed in many cases by severe nervous disorders and there is a true rural paralysis resulting from these fevers. Tetanus, which is commoner among the agriculturists than elsewhere, because the germ that produces the disease is often found in swampy ground, is followed by shocking nervous manifestations. Sunstroke often leaves its victim a prey to painful nervous disorders, and the peasant in the open fields, under the intense light of the summer sky, often suffers from nervous afflictions of the eye and more serious disturbances. Reflected light, as from snow, sometimes produces the familiar snow blindness, a nervous affection of the eye. It was once epidemic in southern Russia after a March snowstorm. One form of the disturbance makes the victim practically blind towards sunset and after nightfall. Foundrymen are subject to this form of the disease.

Miners, from an opposite cause, have painful nervous affections of the eye, accompanied with strange illusions, such as the apparent swaying back and forth of objects in the field of vision. Miners working in mountain shafts have the so-called mountain sickness, accompanied by headache, writhing of the body, hesitancy of movement, heart affections, nausea, and vomiting, sometimes followed by insensibility, delirium and coma. All these manifestations are to be ascribed in part at least to the rarefication of oxygen. Aeronauts have the same trouble. Even worse are the nervous disorders that attack men who continue under high atmospheric pressure. The voice becomes metallic, utterance is difficult, and in the case of some sounds impossible; hearing is impaired, muscles are knotted, and smell and taste are sometimes lost, while the laborer handles his tools with difficulty. Seasickness is a nervous affection that has a remarkable medical history, and for which no satisfactory remedy has been found.

Neurasthenia in many forms is the enemy of intellectual workers. The modern school often brings children to epilepsy and St. Vitus' dance. Stammering sometimes comes from mental overwork, and, while a large proportion of children enter school with sound eyes, near-sight is quickly developed and is found to increase regularly as the child advances from class to class. With this comes an actual weakening of the visual power at all distances. Headache, uncertainty of physical movement, sudden alternations of hot and cold, insomnia, and fleeting hallucinations are some of the results of too much mental labor in the case of children.

Business men engaged in speculative occupations are subject to neurasthenia, that manifests itself in the loss of the power of mental application. Madness often follows. Bianchi, the Italian student of nervous diseases, finds as a result of the pressure of modern life a tendency on the part of the young to imitate, accompanied by an intolerance of restraint and other signs of nervous degeneration.

Labor-saving machinery has resulted in making workmen work harder [illegible] severe nervous disorder among those that tend machines. The speed of modern machinery seems limited only by the power of the human attendant, and a constant strain of attention at a monotonous occupation tends to mental breakdown. Pain and cramp of the muscles, accompanied by forms of neuralgia, are some of the disturbances that affect the modern mechanical worker, driven by the pressure of his inanimate fellow-worker. The intense preoccupation and great manual speed of the piano player often produces paresis. Clarionet players have spasms of the tongue. Sewing machine makers, telegraphers, cigarmakers, buttonmakers and others required to maintain high speed at their work, are subject to like nervous disturbances immediately affecting the part of the body especially under strain, but extending to other parts. Dentist's leg is a paralytic affection of parts kept long under pressure. Paralysis of the hammer comes to the man that has one arm constantly plying a tool of the striking kind. It affects the right arm and the right eye is often sympathetically affected. Even the speech is impaired.

The professional bicyclist is subject to shocking nervous maladies. Two phenomena are specially marked in his case, excessive weariness and a mental or perhaps moral deterioration that makes him easily subject to suggestion. There is progressive loss of the power of attention, of critical sense, of judgment, and of all the higher psychic manifestations. The professor evidently has some doubt as to the advisibility of bicycling for women, save in very moderate fashion.

Persons accustomed to use the voice a great deal are subject to laryngeal spasms. Watchmakers and others using strong magnifying glasses become near-sighted. Workers amid strong odors, pleasant or otherwise, lose the sense of smell, as others lose that of hearing in noisy occupations. The mechanic workers more subject to nervous diseases are carters, coachmen, omnibus and street car conductors, fruit sellers, peripatetic vendors, tobacco dealers, and workers, chemists, druggists, sewing machine workers, stationers, booksellers, printers, lithographers, and makers of fireworks.

The professor's list of employments in which the raw material or the finished product is deleterious to health and especially injurious to the nerves of the worker includes gas-making, coke burning, dynamite manufacturing, brandy making, tanning, well digging chemical works of various sorts, working in the more volatile metals, and a dozen other occupations. The nervous injury extends all the way from slight affections of some single organ to loss of the essential powers, mental and physical. Some of the peculiar poisons thus absorbed into the system produce in some victims a tendency to foolish gayety, in others sleepiness, dullness, loss of memory, impairment of sight and hearing and convulsions. Men employed in some chemical works lose sensitiveness of skin and are consequently unable to do any delicate manual task. The vapor of petroleum constantly inhaled has a narcotic effect. Finally, men exposed to violent shocks, such as often come to railway employes, are likely to suffer from severe nervous changes, attended sometimes with impairment of vision or with general nervous breakdown, superinduced in part, no doubt, by the constant nervous strain of their responsibility. The professor is not seeking remedies for all this, but stating facts; nevertheless, he seems to have hope that the shortening of the hours of labor in perilous occupations might lessen the evil results to the employes. New York Sun.

When Creditors Lose Nothing.

A novel plan to get ahead of other creditors and not lose anything by the failure of a customer, has been devised by some Canadian manufacturers. It has been in use for some time, but is not generallly known.

The manufacturers sell goods subject to a discount of 50 to 60 per cent., with an extra 5 for cash. The goods are invoiced, however, at a gross or list price, and a memo attached saying that if the account is paid on July 1 a discount of 50 (or 60, as the case may be) and 5 per cent. will be allowed. If not paid before August 1 they will not get the extra 5 per cent. If not paid by October 1 no discount whatever will be allowed. If the buyer fails, the creditors at once make a claim for the full amount of the invoice, which is in reality 50 per cent. more than the actual market value of the article. That is, an article which usually sells at $1 and is invoiced by everyone else at that price is invoiced by these particular manufacturers at $2, less 50 per cent. if paid at the usual time. If the estate pays 50 cents on the dollar, by this system these manufacturers get the full amount of their actual claim—and sometimes more—while the others get only 50 per cent. or less.

The scheme is a clever one, but recently the inspectors, representing other creditors, when examining the affairs of the estate, have "got onto it," when there has been unusually a "pretty row," after which the clever manufacturers must amend their claims. A number of estates, however, have been wound up without the inspectors discovering the trick.

EYES TO SEE AND SEE NOT.

That is the case with many people. They need spectacles, and the strange part of it is that some folks never know how bad their eyes are until they have them tested. Have been going through life without seeing as much as they ought to see—perhaps suffering from headaches and tired eyes.

If you will call at Sanderson's Jewellery Store, George street, your eyes will be examined free of charge. If you need Glasses they will be supplied at a reasonable price. Do not neglect this matter and so be like those who have EARS TO HEAR AND HEAR NOT.

"SUN" LIFE
Assurance Co'y of Canada.

The Rev. J. L. Murray, of Kincardine, Ontario, assured in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, in December, 1874, under Policy No. 1406, on the Twenty Year Endowment plan, paying an annual premium of $69.90 for ten years. He paid into the Company in all $699. In December, 1894, his Endowment matured, and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,364,70, being a return of all the premiums paid, and in addition, $665,70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back all the money he invested, with about 4½ PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and had his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the persual of his letter hereto appended. QUERY:—How many of the people of Peterborough invests their money to better advantage?

N. B.—This is an example of profits paid under our Five Year Distribution plan. The results under our Reserve Dividend (or Semi-Tontine) policies may reasonably be expected to greatly exceed that realized under the above plan.

KINCARDINE, JAN. 6th, 1895.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Montreal.

GENTLEMEN:—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque in full settlement of claim under my Ten Payment Twenty Year Endowment policy, No. 1406, and I desire to express my satisfaction with the result of my investment. I paid to the Company an annual premium of $69.90 for ten years, making a total of $699, for which I now receive a cheque for $1,364,70, being a return of all I have paid the Company, and in addition, $665.70, besides having had my life assured for $1,000 during the twenty years. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed,) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his persuasion, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles without noticing any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, and the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

HIDEOUS SCENES WITNESSED BY FATHER DUBENDORF.

Story of a Raid by Semi-Civilized Natives Upon a Trading Station—Six Prisoners Slain and Divided Among the Tribe.

Father J. Dubendorf, Superior of a Roman Catholic mission at Onitska, on the Niger, 150 miles above its mouth, tells in a late issue of Le Correspondent of Paris an amazing story of mingled civilization and barbarism among the negroes near the mouth of the river. Father Dubendorf journeyed down the river by canoe some months ago along with Nathaniel, a negro boy of Brass, educated and Christianised at the mission. The Father and his companion were entertained at a Zenobian trading post six or eight hours from the native city of Brass, and there the King of Brass had a pirogue waiting, with the request that the lad be sent to visit his people.

Brass is on one of the mouths of the Niger, not far from the sea. On another of the mouths is the rival city of Akassa, the seat of the British Royal Niger Company, a trading concern, which, according to the Father, has driven out of the region by severe actions three other companies, two French and one English, and has earned, by alleged brutality, the hatred of the natives. Father Dubendorf reached the region when this feeling was at its most intense point, and the natives were ripe for revenge.

When the request of the King that Nathaniel be sent to Brass reached the Father he determined to accompany the boy, lest the latter be detained in captivity by the King, and in time relapse into barbarism. The journey was successfully accomplished, and the Father found Brass a considerable town of palm-leaf-thatched huts. Some had great platforms to catch the rain water, because the water of the river at that point is peculiarly unwholesome. The King clad in a silk robe, a cravat of like material, and a felt hat, received the Father most graciously, offered him lodging, and invited him to share the royal table. The King, who, the missionary takes pains to tell, was once a pupil of a Protestant mission, was now an old man of venerable mien, but abundant strength and activity. Near the King's great house was a house built on a European pattern, and covered with zinc. It was comfortably furnished with European chairs and tables, and had a coal oil lamp. There were glasses and mural decorations. The King's supper was an elegantly-served meal in the European style, and the Father, knowing that earlier kings of Brass had been notable barbarians, could hardly believe his senses.

Early the next morning the Father called on the King, but learned that he was too busy to be seen. Waiting an hour, he was astonished to see the King come forth from a council with the chiefs, naked save for an ornate breech clout, painted, with white rings under his eyes, a musket in his hand, and a knife in his belt. The benevolent old King of the night before was transformed into a savage of ferocious aspect. Sixty canoes laden with arms were drawn up along the river bank, and the King was walking back and forth delivering incoherent orders. At the sound of a cannon he hastily gave the Father his hand, bade him live as if the house in which he lodged was his own, assured him that orders had been given for his comfortable entertainment, and went off, leaving the priest to understand that the expedition about to start was to make war upon a neighboring tribe. The Father saw the King pause before an assemblage of idols near the river bank, sprinkle his warriors with a liquid, and join in the war dance.

Nearly all the men of Brass went on the expedition. An old chief was left behind in charge of the village, and the women were forbidden in the absence of their lords to enter the houses. No sooner were the warriors gone than the women fell to quarreling among themselves over the possession of various household utensils. They wailed over the departure of their sons to the battle, and prophesied their return with wounds or their deaths in the fight. The quarreling kept up until after nightfall, and then the women crept to bed wherever they could find shelter outside the houses.

The first returning canoe reached Brass at six o'clock next morning, and a quantity of booty was carried into the King's house. Then it was that the Father first learned that the attack had been made upon the headquarters of the Royal Niger Company. Father Dubendorf represents that the English would have been destroyed but for a French naval officer, Lieut. Guigues, accidentally at the headquarters, whose courage and address delayed the attack and gave some of the whites time to escape.

A young negro of the returned party leaped upon a cannon just after it had been fired, and displayed the company's flag in token of triumph. Other canoes rapidly arrived, bringing much booty, and many of the warriors wore white breech clouts, in token of enemies slain. By noon nearly all the canoes but the King's had returned. He and some of his warriors had stopped at an island some miles from Brass, and taken ashore six captive Kroumen negroes of the slave coast who had been employed at the company's agency, and had come to hate the people of Brass. These six men were beheaded on the island, and some hours later the King, with a dozen white-clouted warriors, arrived in his canoe, and the six corpses in another. Other captives, still alive, were also brought home.

Then began a scene of savage rejoicing and cannibalism. The bodies were cut in pieces, the children being stationed round that they might be inured to the sight, and whole limbs were carried off to be cooked and eaten. One young negro, who, the Father declares, had been educated at a Protestant mission, taking in one hand the sabre of Mr. Flint, general agent of the Royal Niger Company, and in the other a limb of one of the victims, [illegible] in savage joy about the com[illegible] with a crowd of onlookers [illegible].

The division of the plunder followed accompanied with quarrels and a sort of savage frenzy. The madness of gin and palm brandy was added to that of slaughter, and the scene was so hideous that the Father refuses to describe it. He notes that several parts of a human body were brought to him and he was courteously asked to take his choice. His refusal was evidently not understood.

Later, in looking from his window, the father saw a roast thigh taken to the King's house, and mentally resolved to be careful at his next meal. The supper, at which the King was not present, was served in the European style and with European dishes, save for a large roast which the priest recognized and sent away. His mind was now made up to get away from Brass as soon as possible with the boy Nathaniel. The King was not to be seen, so the priest sent word of his wishes. The King answered that the boy must remain at Brass.

"Then I remain too," was the father's answer, for he knew that the King desired to make a sorcerer of Nathaniel. The latter was eager to be gone, and declared that if the King made him a sorcerer, in return he would, in that character, transform the King into a gorilla.

The father and Nathaniel, neither being guarded, concerted an escape. The village was sound asleep early in the evening, and the two visitors also pretended to go to bed. Between half-past nine and ten they stole to the river, took a light progue, already fixed upon in a reconnoissance early in the evening, and made off. They paddled until exhausted, and then the boy fell asleep. At four in the morning they heard a large pirogue pass their hiding place. They had lost their way during the night, but, conjecturing that this pirogue was laden with merchandise bound for one of the white settlements, they followed it cautiously, and after some hours reached the European factory where they had already been entertained.—New York Sun.

HAMILTON, Sept. 9.—A very large increase has lately taken place in the sale of the specific remedy for complaints of the liver, and Dodd's Kidney Pills are in great demand. There are no complaints either from druggists or the public. The druggists being so near Toronto, the headquarters for distributing, are never in any danger of running out of the medicine for long, no matter how large the demand may be, and the public has long been thoroughly satisfied as to the valuable qualities of the pills, and the manner in which they invariably effect a cure.

A Commissioner in B. B.

GENTLEMEN,—Having used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam in our family for years I have no hesitation in saying that it beats everything else we ever tried for coughs and colds in children as well as grown up people. It relieves that tight binding sensation in the chest. We would not be without it for anything, as we have a large family. WILLIAM ANDREW, Commissioner in B. R., Balmoral, Man.

Saving Cucumber Seed.

Always save cucumber seed for the next year's planting from the very largest and ripest of the big yellow fellows that are brought in from the garden for the making of sweet pickles. It's the children's work to wash the seeds clear of their pulp, rubbing them in a tin pan sieve and straining water through them until fit for drying. It's a long, tiresome task, and last pickle time the children invented a new way for ridding cucumber seeds of their pulp. They poured the bushel basketful of pulp that I had set aside to be cleansed, into a strong gummy sack, firmly tying its mouth. They dragged it onto green sward in the yard and a noisy, jolly time they had, dancing and pounding on the sack with bare feet and broom sticks until the mess in the sack was churned to a jelly. They next dumped the sack into a trough or running water, beating and churning and splashing it about with shouts of fun until the jelly pulp had been coarse sacking, and the seeds alone left a sticky, wet, shiny mass, that was dried with careful spreading and frequent stirring and made two quarts.—Clarissa Potter.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept, discoloured teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to, $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Can Heart Failure be Prevented?

Startling and brief the announcement, 'Sudden Death Caused by Heart Failure." Such is the stereotyped announcement of coroners, juries, and reporters arousing the forebodings of those victims of indigestion and mal-nutrition, who so frequently disturb themselves upon the manifestation, in palpitation or fluttering, of functional disturbance of the heart; symptoms which they are foolishly prone to accept as the signs of an incurable, and speedily fatal, malady. Maltine with Coca Wine is potent in restoring conditions that no longer render possible such alarmingly disturbing symptoms. Maltine with Coca Wine, through its remedial influence upon the nervous system, soothes into calmness the disorganized nerves. The heart, in response to increased nerve force, no longer plunges and beats as if determined to break.

Maltine with Coca Wine has long been recognized as the most pleasant and efficient remedy for all those functional derangements that find manifestation in lassitude, sleeplessness, despondency and loss of appetite and digestive power. A nerve tonic, a body-builder, a nutrient and digestive agent of inestimable value. All druggists sell it.

Miss Annie Scrimger has gone to Rochester, N.Y., on a visit to her brother.

Mr. Geo. Scrimger and son have completed the painting of the Roman Catholic church here.

On Tuesday evening of last week the fire bells rang out, and what appeared to be a large fire was discovered between Peter Baptie's and Chas. Grills' residences. It was put out by energetic citizens with buckets of water before the fire engine arrived on the scene. The fire originated with the children lighting a candle in a Chinese lantern and putting it in a piano case and going away, leaving it lit. It was a fortunate thing that it was so promptly put out, as a fierce wind was blowing and a holocaust was promptly averted.

R. Graham & Son have just received a fine lot of new season's tea direct from Japan—extra quality—and will be sold at a very low figure.

The last Sunday in September will be observed in the Presbyterian church as Children's Day. A special service is being prepared and the medals, prizes and diplomas won by the scholars at the Higher Religious Instruction examination in February will be presented. There will be no meeting of Christian Edeavour Society that evening in consequence.

The Lakefield, Smith and Ennismore fall fair will be held here next Tuesday and Wednesday. Great preparations are being made by the Directors to have this the best and most successful fair yet held here. There will be special attractions for Wednesday afternoon.

When you are attending the fair remember to visit R. Graham & Son's establishment, where they are displaying their new fall stock. Among which will be found new tweed dress goods and trimmings, Golf cloths with plaid backs, tweeds, blankets, flannels, yarns, etc. Also remember their millinery opening, when they will show a fine range of millinery, jackets, cloths and fur capes, with all the latest novelties of the season.

A Glad Heart Makes Work Light.

The best work can only be done when the bodily health is good, because the body reacts upon the mind, and a mental inertia supervenes when the body is enfeebled. To have the body in a strong, healthy, buoyant state use Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine, which upon the first symptoms of debility, loss of appetite, and general weakness, should be regularly taken. And then it is a fine old wine, desirable for its own sake as a beverage, being pleasant, stimulating and mellow. Its great advantage to the invalid is that it makes blood which is so sadly needed and this gives a new vitality to the whole system. It is a tonic, and incomparable bracer, and it is at the same time a rare old wine of exquisite bouquet. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

ORDERED CLOTHING!

A Fourth Department Now Added.

WE begin the Fall Campaign with a new department, that of Ordered Clothing. We have added this in order that customers and the public may find with GOUGH BROS. that service which will suit all classes and all requirements.

We retain the services of MR. DUNCAN CAMERON as Cutter and Manager of the staff engaged in this department. We have equipped our Tailoring Rooms with the best machinery and appliances and know we can turn out work the equal of th best city establishments. We solicit your orders.

We recognize that much is expected of GOUGH BROS. and that thousands will look for some radical changes in the prices of clothing made to order. If you are interested read about what we have to say.

On going to the wholesale markets to buy our stock of materials, we found a large lot of Scotch, English and Irish Woolens and Imported Worsteds, stopped by the English shippers in transit to a dealer in the west. We were invited to make a bid. We did so, and the goods were sold to us by the bank

At One Third of the Cost Value.

We are into Ordered Clothing to make it a success. With our buying power—and the above snap is an instance—we propose to push for all there is in it. We will sell for cash and cash only, and instead of expecting $7.00 profit on a $22.00 suit, we will be content with $2.00 profit.

Facts are convincing. Nothing else will carry assurance home. Here is your fact and your opportunity. We place in our centre window a range of Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, and

For the Next Twelve Days we Will Make Suits to Order From These Cloths at $12.75 PER SUIT.

There you have it! Stylishly cut, elegantly trimmed, perfectly fitting Suits for $12.75. Look at the goods! Size up the Values and tell us if GOUGH BROS are not making a revolution in the Ordered Clothing trade.

A JUDGE RESIGNS.

Necessitating a Change in the Supreme Court.

PROMPT ANSWER TO CHEESE LIE.

Canadian Sealers Seized in Behring Sea—Hall Caine's Visit—Quebec Firm Suing For Extras on a Government Contract—Prof Robertson's Trip West.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—There will be changes in the personnel of the Supreme Court Judiciary within the next few weeks. The leave of absence granted in the spring to Mr. Justice Fournier expired on the 1st instant, and it is currently reported to-day that he has now sent in his resignation, which will, of course, be accepted. His successor will be appointed before the autumnal court term commences.

With reference to the proposed visit to Canada of Mr. Hall Caine, the well-known author, as the representative of the Society of British Authors, to discuss with the Government the copyright question, the Minister of Justice remarked to your correspondent to-day that personally he would be glad to see Mr. Caine and listen to any representations he might desire to make. As, however, in this copyright question, the Government was simply representing the unanimous voice of Parliament, it would be quite improper for him to discuss with Mr. Caine the wisdom or the absence of wisdom of the legislation passed by the Dominion. That could be a subject of discussion only with the British Government.

The charge made by The North British Agriculturist that "imitation" or filled cheese made in Canada is being sold in England, has caused considerable perturbation on both sides of the Atlantic. At the instance of Sir A. P. Caron, Acting Premier, a communication was sent to the High Commissioner informing him that the statement of The Agriculturist is distinctly libelous and requesting him to demand authority for it. The following message was also sent to the British press: The Canadian Government, through the Department of Agriculture, authorise the publication of the following statement: The cabled report of The North British Agriculturist, stating that a considerable proportion of cheese from Canada is made from separated milk, fattened with oleomargarine, is absolutely without foundation. Canadian cheese are made from pure, whole milk only. Not one box of filled or oleomargarine cheese is made in Canada. In 1892, when it was rumored that a foreign firm proposed to start a factory in Canada to make filled cheese, Parliament immediately passed a prohibitory law forbidding manufacture or sale under heavy penalties, going up to $400, half of the fine being payable to the informant. Not one case has occurred since then. The manufacture and sale of oleomargarine was also prohibited, the penalty for violation being a heavy fine or imprisonment. The law forbids the manufacture or sale of imitation or unwholesome dairy products. Importation is also prohibited. Use of brand "Canadian" is restricted by law to cheese and butter made in Canada. Canada is the only dairy country where oleomargarine and manufacture or importation of imitation cheese are wholly prohibited.

Messrs. Brabazon and Cote, leaders of the last of the Canadian field parties in connection with the Canada-Alaska boundary delimitation, returned to the city to-day. The two surveyors were engaged for several weeks in territory east of Mount St. Elias, lying between Cape Fairweather and Yakutat. The United States commission has one party in the field working in southern Alaska. Commissioner King and his staff at headquarters here will be busily engaged from this time out unt lithe end of January in preparing their report for submission to the governments of Great Britain and Prof. Saunders, director of Experimental Farms, has returned from a prolonged tour through Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia. The director has been absent from Ottawa for seven weeks altogether, and returns to his duties imbued with a strong sense of the greatness of our western country and of the magnificence of its resources. Besides inspecting experimental farms in the west, Mr. Saunders spent some weeks in Okanagan district, a fertile fruit-growing valley in British Columbia. While there he says there was considerable excitement over reported gold discoveries. In the Kootenay district the output of gold was great and several mines changed hands at very high figures. The fruit-growing industry of British Columbia has developed rapidly. The cultivation of plums extended more than any other kind of fruit. The apple crop was very good. Mr. Saunders stayed over at Calgary looking into the irrigation work there an dthe effect that it had on the crops. His report to the department will be favorable on question of irrigation.

Prof. Robertson left this evening for Toronto to spend one day at the Exhibition on his way to the Northwest and British Columbia. He will arrive at Moosejaw on Sunday and hold a meeting there at the Government Dairy Station Monday. He will arrive at Victoria, B.C., on Wednesday evening, and address the farmers at the Agricultural Exhibition at Victoria on Friday, Sept. 20. One of the Dominion traveling dairies will give illustrations of butter making at the Exhibition during the week. After spending some days on Vancouver Island with the traveling dairy Prof. Robertson will return to the mainland and visit districts including the Okanagan Valley. He will go over the Calgary district to give such directions as may be needed by the managers and patrons of the new creameries in that district, and then return to attend the Exhibition of the Royal Industrial Society at New Westminster, B.C. While in the West the Dairy Commissioner will also endeavor to make arrangements for a cold storage service for butter and other perishable food products at Vancouver, Calgary and Winnipeg. He will stay off at Winnipeg only on his return journey.

It is stated here that Mr. Dale, late professor of Latin in the University of Toronto, has been offered the chair in the same subject recently vacated by Mr. Fletcher of Queen's. In this case, if Mr. Dale accepts, the two professors will simply change places.

The Government has been notified of the seizure by a United States cutter in Behring Sea of the Canadian sealing schooner Beatrice. She was sent back to Victoria, and arrived there yesterday. The offence is failing to keep a record of the number of seals and location of capture.

Mr. J. Lorne McDougall, Auditor-General, and his wife celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding on Saturday. A number of handsome gifts accompanied the congratulations of their many friends.

Sir A. P. Caron will not be able to go to Richmond on Friday and Sir C. H. Tupper has consented to take his place. The Postmaster-General will leave for Quebec to-morrow to spend a couple of days with his sister, who sails on Saturday for South Africa, where she is going as a missionary.

Carlere, Lane & Co. of Quebec are suing the Government for extras on the contract for repairs to the old Dominion steamer Druid. Deputy Smith of the Marine Department has been subpoenaed to give evidence in Quebec Sept. 10.

Col. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Marine Department, says the Canadian Soo Canal will be used by the largest class of lake steamers. The greater depth of water will in some cases allow steamers to carry 500 tons more freight than by using the United States Canal.

BEHEADED BY TROLLEY.

A Mother Bespattered With Her Child's Blood—The Motorman Narrowly Escapes Lynching.

Pittsburg, Sept. 11.—This evening Guyten Ferrano, 4 years old, was beheaded by an electric car at Sharpsburg. The boy's mother was so close that she was covered with blood that spattered from the mangled remains of her child. The motorman had to run for his life, because of the threats made to lynch him by the infuriated crowd.

A Little Girl Mowed Down.

Brockville, Sept. 11.—A little girl, 5 years of age, daughter of Mr. Henry Johnston, who lives near Atkinson Postoffice, Pittsburg, was in the field playing near where her father was cutting corn with a mowing machine. She hid in the corn, and the father came upon her unnoticed and before he saw her the knives of the machine struck her, cutting one leg in two, twice below the knee and the other nearly off.

Saved His Family But Was Killed.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 11.—As William Ross, his wife and three children reached the middle of Nickajack trestle on the Southern Railroad yesterday, a freight train swept around a curve and on the trestle. Mrs. Ross and two children jumped. Ross tossed the young child into a clump of bushes 15 feet below and started to jump himself, but was too late. The engine struck and killed him. He fell at his wife's feet. The woman and the children were not seriously hurt.

Poisoned Pork Obliterates a Family.

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 11.—The family of Charles F. Krueger, father, mother and six children, ranging in age from 6 to 20 years, were poisoned about a year ago by eating diseased pork, and despite the best medical skill one followed the other to the grave, the last surviving child, Helen, aged 6 years, dying last night. The physicians pronounced their disease trichinosis. Their bodies were literally alive with parasites.

Smoked on a Powder Keg—Five Killed

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—A caisson exploded this morning at sunrise as a morning gun was fired by Battery A, Louisville Legion. Five members of the Battery were killed, two were wounded and one is missing. According to the best reports, the men were seated upon a caisson. One of the privates was smoking a cigaret, and a spark is supposed to have entered the powder box, which exploded without a moment's warning.

Five Killed. Five Injured.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—Passenger trains Nos. 2 and 3 on the Great Northern Railway had a head-end collision at Melby, Minn., this morning. Five were killed and five injured.

Train Thrown in the Water.

Evansville, Wis., Sept. 12.—A wreck occurred on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad near here yesterday, causing the death of two men and the demolition of several freight cars. A drawbar pulling out of one of the centre cars dropped down and caught in the ties of the railroad bridge, throwing the cars into the water.

IT WAS A FOUL BLOW

Which Britain Aimed at Canadian Cheese.

CANADIAN GAZETTE COMMENTS.

Board of Agriculture Urged to Analyze the Cheese and Disprove of the Rumors—An Alleged Copyright Agreement—Increase of British Imports of Canadian Produce.

London, Sept. 11.—The papers here publish the official denial from Ottawa of the alleged adulteration of Canadian cheese

The Canadian Gazette, in an article entitled "Hitting Below the Belt," urges that the Board of Agriculture here adopt The North British Agriculturist's suggestion and analyse the Canadian cheese, so as to finally dispose of such charges, which, it says, are designed to ruin the cheese trade.

The British exports to Canada increased 13 per cent. in August, as against the last year, and declined 8 per cent. in the eight months then ending. The imports from Canada decreased 2 and 3 per cent. for the period. The increases in imports during the eight months were: Cattle, £100,000; sheep, £30,000; wheat and flour, £100,000; hams, £45,000; butter, £21,000; eggs, £22,000; metals, £1300. The decreases were: Cheese, £160,000; fish, £100,000; wood, £200,000. The increase in cattle suggests that the embargo is not an unmixed evil.

E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice of Canada, sails to-morrow for Canada. He says his conferences with the Government here have been confidential, and refuses to anticipate the report which will be made to the Canadian Government. I learn, however, that it is believed that the basis of an agreement has been reached with the London authors and publishers, the Canadian Government insisting that Canada must retain her most ample power to legislate. On no account will the principle of self-government be sacrificed, but certain amendments to the Canadian Act are promised to satisfy the English authors and publishers, while doing full justice to the Canadian readers and publishers.

Regarding Lord Rosebery's reported intention to visit Canada at an early date, it may be said that he has made a political engagement at Scarborough, Yorkshire, for early in October.

Newcombe Sails Thursday.

London, Sept. 11.—The Chronicle says that Mr. E. L. Newcombe, Canadian Deputy Minister of Justice, will sail for Canada Thursday, taking with him a draft of the amendments to the Copyright Act which the Colonial Office has approved.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY IN BRICK.

A Pedlar Brutally Beaten, Robbed, Gagged and Left Tied to the Fence—All For $10.

Formosa, Ont., Sept. 12.—Yesterday a young Syrian, living in Walkerton, and who had been in the habit of peddling goods through the country, was attacked by four tramps about noon, near Formosa, on the Mildmay road, where there is a small bush. Two of the tramps asked him for a watch. He was showing the watch when they knocked him on the head. The two other tramps came up and placed a rubber ball in his mouth so that he was unable to call for help. They disfigured his face terribly, tore his clothes, bound him on the fence rails and took the cash, amounting to $10, and the goods he had with him from him. It was an hour after they had disappeared before the Syrian was found.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S SCANDAL.

Whiteway Declines to Take Action Against the Smugglers.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 11.—Smuggling seizures still continue. Several successful raids were made to-day. Nevertheless the Government shows no disposition to move against the parties involved and the demands made by the press of all shades of politics, for the prosecution of the offenders are disregarded. The political bosses are exerting their pull to stop the proceedings, knowing full well that the Whiteway party is certain to be badly smirched with the scandal. It is conceded now that the utmost that will be done in the cases discovered will be the imposition of fines.

The schooner Lady Aberdeen of Sydney, Capt. McLeod, bound for Barbadoes with fish, which sailed hence on Saturday, became water-logged during Monday night's gale. She was beached at Lanaline yesterday. There is hope of saving her cargo. She lies in a dangerous position, and if a gale arises, she is certain to go to pieces.

A Mouthful of Pearls.

The teeth, perhaps more than any other feature, enhance or destroy that intangible, because complex, thing we call beauty. What more repellant than ill-kept, discoloured teeth? What unsightliness more needless and inexcusable? Ivorine is delightful, whether as a cleanser or in its property of imparting to the teeth that dazzling whiteness so much desired and admired, and as efficiently does it render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine is simply incomparable as a toilet requisite, which accounts for its recommendation and use by leading dentists.

GENTLEMEN,—Having used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam in our family for years I have no hesitation in saying that it beats everything else we ever tried for coughs and colds in children as well as grown up people. Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. A PETERBOROUGH CHEESE MAKER IN THE NORTH WEST.

The following is from the Winnipeg Norwester and refers to a farmer resident of this country who has carried to the west, the special skill that distinguishes Ontario cheese makers: "It is, therefore, specially gratifying to find a new cheese factory in an old district, coming out ahead of the oldest and most reliable makers. Mr. A. A. Jory is the maker of the two cheese from Silver Plains that got 1st and 2nd, the only maker who has got double honours, and it is worth while to ask how he did it. He worked at the business in Peterborough county, Ontario, and came west the year '91, to try for a place as a maker. He failed to get such a place but did whatever he could get to do, and last winter he went down to perfect himself in the Minnesota State school, under Prof. Hecker, receiving his appointment here when work began at Silver Plains. It was not by good luck that he did so well but by skill, carefully and patiently got in the line of real work and experience."

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Two of Millbrook's duck shooters, who were camped at Campbelltown, on the Otonabee river, on Sept. 2nd, came very nearly being shot by one of Peterborough's most prominent physicians. They had been sitting in their tent, when, for some reason or other, they decided to take a walk down to their canoes, about five rods off. They had just reached the water's edge when they heard the report of a rifle and also a slight noise in the tent. They decided to go back and investigate and had not gone far when another shot was fired. On going into the tent they were surprised to find two holes through the tent, then through the provision box, dishes smashed and splinters lying close by. Upon examination a forty-four calibre bullet was found lodged in the tent pole, the other one no doubt having passed out on the other side of the tent. Had the shots been fired a few minutes before, serious results would have followed, as the Millbrookers had been sitting just where the bullets had passed through. It is no wonder that so many shooting accidents occur as long as such reckless shooting is indulged in, and especially by a man of this stamp. He made good his escape from the infuriated hunters, or he would have received a good ducking in the Otonabee.

Mr. F. Mulligan is fixing up the store recently occupied by Mr. S. Bateson, for Mr. R. E. Stanton. New plate glass windows are being put in, and the place entirely overhauled.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely from the Kidneys.

SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the cause for the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in essening the number of victims to this orm of complaint.

STONY LAKE NOTES.

From Our Own Correspondent.

About two week's ago a miner's outfit was found on the Burleigh shore, between Eels and Jack's creeks. It consisted of some tools, dynamite and straps. The owner can save the same by applying to Christopher Crowe, Stony Lake.

The fish are not all caught yet, so there is some inducement to remain at camp. One evening, last week, while out trolling Mrs. J. Craig, of Belleville, and Miss F. Craig, of Fergus, hooked a large fish. After an exciting struggle, the fish was safely landed. When brought home it was discovered to be a fine salmon, weighing 13¼ lbs. The fish was shipped to Toronto and arrived there in fine condition.—CAMPER.

GIVEN TO DEFENDER.

Valkyrie Fouled the Yankee, the Committee Say.

DUNRAVEN ACCEPTS THE DECISION.

And the Englishman Hasn't Even a Chance to Sail the Race Over Again —There Was a Miscalculation of the Distance Between the Boats.

New York, Sept. 11.—Both Valkyrie and Defender were taken from Bay Ridge to the Erie Basin, at South Brooklyn to-day, the last-named to make repairs of the damage which was inflicted by the former in yesterday's race. The English challenger went to the Basin to make a few necessary preparations for the third race of the series, which is to be sailed to-morrow, a course 15 miles to windward, or leeward, and return.

Several hours were spent in taking evidence before the committee, and finally this letter was sent out:

"We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday, protesting Valkyrie. We have given the matter our careful consideration and believe that the foul occurred through the miscalculation of the distance between the two yachts at a critical moment. From our observations, sustained by that of others who were in a good position to see, we find that the Valkyrie, in contravention of section 2 of racing rule 16, bore down upon the Defender and fouled her by the swing of her main boom, when luffing to straighten her course. We also consider that Defender allowed Valkyrie sufficient room to windward to pass clear of committee boat. Your protest is, therefore, sustained."

In order to remove all doubt as to the effect of this decision, J. V. S. Oddie, secretary of the New York Yacht Club, announced that it awarded the race to the Defender without the necessity of its being re-sailed.

Strong efforts were made by the committee to bring about a mutual agreement to re-sail the race, but Lord Dunraven and Mr. Iselin insisted upon judgment on the protest. This left the committee only two things to do—to decide that Valkyrie fouled Defender or that Defender fouled Valkyrie. It was generally agreed here that the British yacht was at fault. Lord Dunraven and his friends held, however, that his boat was crowded by Defender, and that the accident was unavoidable. The committee gave each side ample opportunity to state the case, and took the testimony of the captains of each yacht and of others who were on board.

The racing rule referred to is the following: "A yacht shall not bear away out of her course so as to hinder another yacht in passing to leeward."

Section 2 of the same rule says: "A yacht free shall keep clear of one close hauled."

The rule covering disqualification is: "If a yacht in consequence of her neglect of any of these rules shall foul another yacht or compel another yacht to foul any yacht, mark or obstruction or to run around, she shall be disqualified and shall pay all damages."

Lord Dunraven accepts the decision, and will have the Valkyrie at the line to-morrow for the third of the international races. The Regatta Committee posted the following notice at the house of the New York Yacht Club this evening: "To members of the N.Y.Y.C.: Your committee beg to state that before arriving at a decision on Defender's protest, they endeavored to bring about a mutual agreement between the respective yachts to re-sail yesterday's race, but each preferred that the committee should pass judgment on the protest. (Sgd.) The Regatta Committee."

Lord Dunraven left the club house after hearing. He declined to talk. Messrs. Kersey, Glennie and Ratsey of the English contingent were equally reticent. After the long session of the Regatta Committee was ended, Irving Grinnell, one of the members of the committee, was asked if there was any question whether Lord Dunraven would race to-morrow, in view of the published report that he would not do so if the decision should be adverse to the Valkyrie.

"No," replied Mr. Grinnell, "he accepted the decision as any true sportsman would. He did say, however, that he would not race unless the course was kept clear of excursion boats. Some of these boats behaved very badly yesterday and Lord Dunraven was emphatic in his protests against them."

To-day's race will be 15 miles to windward and return. The start will be from Sandy Hook lightship, unless the committee establish another starting point in order to obtain windward course of 15 miles. The same rules that governed the first two races will prevail.

How Britain Views the Verdict.

Glasgow, Sept. 11.—The Mail says: The decision of the committee is sure to be challenged in this country. It is certain that all Americans who have the true interests of sport, will receive the verdict with dismay. Had the committee declared the race void on account of a technical breach, few persons would be disposed to cavil, but surely they overstepped the bounds of fair play in awarding the race to the Defender. This seriously handicaps the British yacht, and robs future races of all interest, as international contests."

The Herald says: "The decision of the committee will cause bitter disappointment in this country. We cannot, however, impeach the fairness of the committee's decision, or question their right to award the race to the yacht which they declared was fouled by the actual victor. The only question is whether it would not have been more sportsmanlike to have avoided the race altogether, and that is more a matter of opinion. We must, however, accept the decision with the best possible grace."

London, Sept. 11.—The Yachting World in its first leader on the subject, written before the decision, says: "Two races have been sailed. The Valkyrie lost one actually and the second virtually. Whatever may be the committee's verdict it is impossible to doubt that the American champion acvhieved a moral victory. There seems to be small doubt that Mr. Herreshoff has again designed a yacht that is exceedingly well adapted to the purpose for which she was built. Therein we must seek our consolation, for, were he handicapped by having to design a vessel which, first of all, has to brave the Atlantic, it is more than likely that Mr. Watson would turn out a shell capable of turning the tables. Yet, our challenges are issued with full knowledge of the hardness of the conditions governing the contest, and there is no use of grumbling afterwards, but, for the sake of cheering up our despondent pride, let us imagine that the Yankees challenged for the Royal Victoria Gold Cup."

The Chronicle says: We confes we see no reason in the decision of the committee awarding the race to the Defender. The foul occurred before the starting gun was fired, and before the line was crossed. The Defender might have backed out, but she elected to race. Had the Valkyrie wilfully fouled the Defender during the race the penalty could not have been greater. The committee's explanation does not improve matters. We should not be surprised if Lord Dunraven declares the rest of the races off and refuses to compete again, but if he consents to continue, as we hope he will, Thursday's race will probably settle the matter, as there is not much doubt now that the Defender is the fastest yacht."

The Daily News says: "The committee has not only taken Tuesday's supposed victory from the British yacht, but has given it to the Americans. This seems to be rather sharp practice. It may be the rigor of racing law, but it is hardly sport. If the umpire had done his duty he would have recalled the yachts and had a fresh start. The committee's severe award makes poor reciprocity for the generous treatment of the Cornell crew at Henley.

A Cup Contestant Dead.

London, Sept. 11.—The death of Mr. J. C. Ashbury, formerly a member of the House of Commons, and a well-known yachtsman, is announced today. The announcement says he died on the 3rd instant, but does not give the place of his death. Mr. Ashbury took the yacht Cambria to America in 1890 and unsuccessfully competed for the America's Cup. In 1871 he again contested for the Cup with the yacht Livonia, and won one out of the four races sailed.

DURANT'S HARDIHOOD.

He Takes More Interest in the Yacht Race Than in His Trial

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—W. H. T. Durant, the alleged murderer of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams, appears to take a greater interest in the international yacht race than in his own trial. During the afternoon session of the trial yesterday, early editions of the afternoon papers were handed to him; there were columns of his own fight for life—the story of the forenoon's evidence. Was he concerned about it? Not at all. He read the account of the great yacht race and frowned with disappointment over the Valkyrie's victory. The paper in his hand was held without a tremor. The most impressive point reached in the trial yesterday was where Mr. Barnes walked behind the witness stand and brought out the black draped dressmaker's model, upon which were the garments last worn by the murdered girl. There was intense excitement in the audience, but Durant was unmoved.

SCHULTE'S NEW JOB.

Sir John Said to Have Been Appointed on the Boundary Commission.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 11.—Sir John Schultz, the retiring Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba, has been appointed a member of the Alaska Boundary Commission. A commissioner will be appointed by the United States Government and these two will name a third. Evidence will be taken at Ottawa, Washington, and in Alaska and Canada along the line.

POSED AS A GREEN GOODS MAN.

And is Now Prosecuted For Obtaining by False Pretences

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Edward Johnson, a farm hand from Metcalfe, was charged before County Magistrate Dawson on two counts, the first of obtaining money under false pretences, and the second of stealing $100 from Mrs. McCann of Metcalfe. It is alleged that Johnson represented himself to young McCann as a green goods man, and, while he did not actually sell any of the spurious notes, and none were found on him, he, it is charged, obtained certain moneys on the representation that he had spurious goods to dispose of,

64 MILES AN HOUR.

The New York Central Makes a New Fast Train Record

New York, Sept. 12.—An experimental train, consisting of five cars, left here at 5.40.30 a.m. from the Grand Central Station, with the intention of covering the 143 miles between here and Albany in 100 minutes. The only passengers on board are Vice-President Webb of the New York Central Railway and seven invited guests. The cars were one baggage, one smoker, two coaches and a private car.

It is understood that the intention of the management is to run the train through to Buffalo if it proves a success. The trial of to-day is simply a test of speed capacity of the new engines and the ability of the roadway to stand such terrific pressure.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 11.—The New York Central fast rain arrived at East Buffalo at 12.34.57. The official time of the trip is as follows: Distance from New York to East Buffalo, 436 1-2 miles; elapsed time, 497 minutes; average per hour, 64 1-3 miles, English record, 63 1-2 miles.

THE SECRET OUT!

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894; also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

The accident which happened to the vehicle of Mrs. Nesbitt, of Otonabee, at the Hunter street bridge, on Wednesday, is one of a series of similar accidents that have happened here. In planking the bridge, the planks have been cut too short, and with a horse shying to one side or by careless driving, the wheel is apt to be thrown into the opening that exists with the danger of an accident in proportion to the rate of speed. The County Engineer should see that the bridge is made safe by closing the opening in such a manner as to prevent the wheel being caught in it. Further delay may result in serious accident or a serious bill of damages to life or limb or both.

A Glad Heart Makes Work Light.

The best work can only be done when the bodily health is good, because the body reacts upon the mind, and a mental inertia supervenes when the body is enfeebled. To have the body in a strong, healthy, buoyant state use Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine, which upon the first symptoms of debility, loss of appetite, and general weakness, should be regularly taken. And then it is a fine old wine, desirable for its own sake as a beverage, being pleasant, stimulating and mellow. WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. E. W. Cox and Miss Lottie Morgan.

Last evening the residence of Mr. A. P. Morgan was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the season, when Mr. E. W. Cox was united in marriage to Miss Lottie, only daughter of Mr. Morgan. There were present thirty-five or forty guests, all relatives of the contracting parties, including Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Cox, of Toronto, uncle and aunt of the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Symonds, rector of St. Luke's, the bridal pair standing under a beautiful floral bell, and Miss Maude Jones playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the bridal party took their places. The bride, who was given away by Mr. John Morgan, of Warsaw, her uncle, (illness preventing Mr. A. P. Morgan from performing this duty), was attired in a handsome gown of cream silk, skirt en train, with lace and pearl ornaments, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Louie Morgan, of Hamilton, cousin of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid. She was dressed in Marechal Neil yellow silk, trimmed with lace. She wore a pearl pin, the gift of the groom. Mr. Cox was assisted by Mr. Dickson Davidson. At the conclusion of the ceremony the newly wed received the congratulations of the company, and the large number of beautiful wedding presents which the popularity of the fair bride called forth, were duly admired. Mr. and Mrs. Cox left on the 9 o'clock G.T.R. express for a trip to Montreal and St. Lawrence points. They will return in about ten days and in due course take up residence on the corner of Homewood avenue and Walton street, where Mr. Cox is erecting a handsome new dwelling. The circumstances call for cordial congratulations. The bride is a popular and highly esteemed daughter of a popular and highly esteemed citizen. The groom is a young man, who has, by his qualities of character, made a large number of friends. He is a partner in a successful hardware business and the young couple, starting upon wedded life under flattering auspices, have the promise of a happy and prosperous future, for which they have the heartiest wishes of a wide circle of friends and the citizens, generally, of the town in which they are so highly respected.

A large number of the friends of the young people were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. G. R. Clare, of Bridgenorth. Miss Morgan, of Pontypool, was the bridesmaid for the occasion and the offices of groomsmen were performed by Mr. McMullen, only brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins left immediately after the ceremony for the west, where the honeymoon will be spent.

CONES-DAVIS.

Rev. G. R. Clare performed a marriage ceremony on Monday, uniting in the bonds of wedlock Mr. William Cones, of Bridgenorth, and Miss Sarah Davis, of Ennismore. The wedding took place at the parsonage, the offices of groomsman and bridesmaid being performed respectively by Mr. Albert Fraser and Miss Lillie Cones, sister of the groom.

Gough Bros. Branching Out Again.

Messrs. Gough Bros, the Wonderful Cheap Men, having subdued this district are looking for new worlds to conquer. They intend opening a great branch store in Port Hope. The new branch will be in charge of Mr. Thomas Kelly, who left on the noon train to-day to prepare for the opening which will take place in a few days. During the past week Mr. A. J. Gough has been in Montreal making extensive purchases for the new store. The advent of this hustling firm will be a revelation in live business methods to Port Hopers.

May They are From Peterborough.

The proprietors of the phonographs which have been in operation at the eastern end of the Main Building at the Toronto exhibition were arrested yesterday on a charge of publishing obscene matter. It is alleged that they had one or more cylinders charged with immoral songs and sent touters into the crowds to solicit customers to listen to them. One of those invited to hear something good was Detective Duncan, who suspected something was not just right, and investigated the matter with the above result. The prisoners were three, viz., George and Mamie Barrie and John Smith, alias Sinclair. They gave their address as Peterborough, but it is alleged that they really hail from Buffalo. The woman has been an old habitue of the fair and took part in the open air entertainment in front of Machinery Hall last year. The phonographs and the apparatus used in manipulating them were seized by the police and taken to headquarters. If a conviction is secured in this case it will have a very beneficial effect upon the sideshows at the fair, as there are many questionable institutions travelling through the country, especially on the other side, and if one escaped detection it would encourage others to follow another year. The trio mentioned is not known here.

SHE GAVE UP THE RACE IN DISGUST.

THE VALKYRIE BLANKETED BY A PILOT BOAT.

The Course Overrun by Pleasure Boats and the "Britisher," in Accordance With His Stated Determination, Withdraws His Boat.

Just as the Defender and Valkyrie crossed the line to-day in the third of the series of races, a pilot boat ran in and blanketed the Valkyrie, carrying all the wind out of her sails and allowing the Defender to get away from her and show her heels. The Valkyrie immediately lowered her sails and hoisted a flag of protest. Shortly afterwards she bore away for New York harbour, Lord Dunraven being thoroughly disgusted with the manner in which the excursion steamers crowded in upon his yacht. It is understood that the Valkyrie will race no more in American waters under the circumstances, as Dunraven gave the Racing Committee to understand that in the event of the yacht being again interfered with by outsiders he would at once withdraw from the contest.

The committee changed its ruling concerning the foul of Tuesday, and decided that the race would have to be sailed over again, but the Valkyrie will not again contest against the Defender.

THE TOWN AND THE ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Mr. Stevenson's Letter Upon the Subject of the Edison Electric Company's Bonus.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—So many extravagant statements have been made by many people, who have not taken the trouble to enquire, as to the expenditure made by the town to induce the Edison Company to locate their works here, I think it right and fair that correct figures of the same should be given to the public. With this in view I have called upon the Town Clerk, and got from him the items of expenditure in this matter as follows:

Cost of purchase of land bought from the following parties and transferred to the company:
Peter Hamilton	$ 2,815 00
E B Edwards	300 00
E Chamberlen estate	7,621 00
Central Canada Loan and Savings Company	2,500 00
Geo Hilliard	3,900 00
Thos Cahill	675 00
Jas O'Brien for two houses	3,000 00
Total	$20,911 00
Less sold O'Brien's house	$1,500 00
Less sold part of Hilliard property	1,038 88
	$ 2,538 88
Net cost of land		$18,372 12
Paid C P R for siding	$ 1,465 00
Paid G T R for demurrage and sundry expenses of deputations, etc	1,434 75
	$ 2,897 75
Less rebate by G T R Co	$ 550 00	2,347 75
Cost of sewer and drain along Park street continued to river		7,790 93
Cost of intake pipe		3,000 00
Total expenditure		$31,509 80

Now I think it is only fair that the drain down Park street and extending to the river should be treated and dealt with as a general town expenditure, to at least the extent of one half of the cost, viz. $3,895.46, as it has had the effect of draining the western part of the town, rendering it desirable property for residences, and thereby largely increasing the assessment of lands in the locality. Deducting this last sum from the total above, it will be found that the bonusing of the Edison Co. has cost us $27,604.54, and not the forty or fifty thousand dollars we hear so many speaking of, who know nothing of the subject and have not taken the trouble to learn from the official sources.

For some reason or other, many seem inclined to criticise the company and their mode of doing business, probably because the company's methods were different from what they had been accustomed to. I think this has been very unfair, but in view of the fact that during the five years or thereabouts the company have been here, they have expended about $500,000 in wages, (besides the cost of buildings, etc.), which has gone almost wholly into circulation in Peterborough, and that in a short time the whole of their property will be subject to taxation as other property, I think that any supposed shortcomings might well be overlooked. I have also obtained from the Town Clerk the statement that in 1890 the assessment of No. 1 Ward was $770,470, and that in the present year it is $975,155, showing an increase of $204,690, which at the rate of 16 mills on the dollar, produces $3,274.88 of the taxation of the town and almost wholly caused by the establishment of the works here. Interest on $27,604 above is $1,173, which, taken from increased taxes of $3,274.88, leaves a balance of $2,101 in our favour yearly. So that over $6,900 of the money which the town has spent has already been returned to it, and the same will be greatly increased yearly when the company's lands come under assessment. The official sources for my statements are open to all, at the Town Clerk's office, and if any have still doubts upon the matter, I think it would be well for them to verify my figures rather than continue to abuse a company which has been a source of immense benefit to Peterborough, not overlooking that the proposed extension of their works will cause in the building and business carried on a greater development and expenditure in our midst.

There is one more matter I would like to refer to, and that is the express and deliberate agreement of the Council of 1894 to pay the company $5,000 in consideration of the removal of certain of their works from Hamilton to Peterborough, on the faith of which the works were so removed and have been in operation since. But the above sum has never been paid, and, instead, repudiation is threatened. It certainly does not become us to deal other than honourably with this corporation, and now that the company asks, as a business matter, that this money be paid over, and promises to proceed with a building that will cost a large sum of money and greatly extend their works, we should keep faith with them and pay over the money as promised. If doubt is entertained of the legal ability of the Council to do this, they can readily obtain the necessary authority.

I am, your obedient,
J. STEVENSON.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Miss Winnie McDonald's Interesting Address Last Evening.

A public meeting was held in the George street Methodist church, last night, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society connected with that congregation.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. R. Young, B.A., owing to a bereavement in the family, the chair was most acceptably occupied by Mrs. James Kendry, who opened the meeting with a few remarks, incidental to the occasion, after which Mrs. (Dr.) Fife led in prayer.

The musical portion of the programme was opened by Miss Hendren, of Lakefield, who rendered that beautiful old solo "The Lost Chord" in a manner most effective. The Misses Belleghem followed with a vocal duet, entitled "Let the Little Children Come," which was sung in perfect harmony. Miss Fife's recitation, "Hear the Tramp of Nations," was greatly appreciated, and fully merited the warm applause which followed. Mrs. Seward's clear soprano tones were heard to advantage in the solo "Come Unto Me," which was rendered in a manner exceptionally pleasing.

Miss Wynnie McDonald of Toronto, daughter of the late Hon. John McDonald, then delivered an address on "The Offices and Ministry of the Spirit." The audience was a large one and the majority of those in attendance were young people, and although the address partook of a spiritual nature in its entirety, yet the attention which Miss McDonald received was unflagging from the beginning until the end of her address. Miss McDonald is a young lady of most pleasing appearance and though unaffected in her style of address is most thoroughly in earnest. Her remarks on the baptism of the Holy Spirit were delivered on such strictly spiritual lines as to permit of no one illustration drawn from a secular source, and was strongly reminiscent of a sermon delivered from a pulpit, whose occupant can deliver his message without reference to worldly objects. In Toronto Miss McDonald occupies a prominent position in those circles wherein the great work is most energetically carried on, but more especially devotes her time and attention to the conducting of Bible classes amongst the members of the Police Force.

The address was followed by a solo by Mr. John Miller, entitled "Jesus, the Good Shepherd," which was sung in good voice. Miss Hendren brought the programme to a close by the rendition of the vocal solo "Thy Will be Done," after which Rev. E. Cragg pronounced the benediction.

ALMOST A FATALITY.

A Little Girl Struck by an Electric car Last Evening.

Last evening as little Irene Lawrence, the six-year-old grand-daughter of Mr. Robert White, of the White House, was crossing Charlotte street, just in front of the hotel, she was knocked down by a motor car and badly shaken up, as well as considerably bruised and frightened.

The little girl was just returning from the grocery after purchasing some grapes, and ran directly in front of the car before it could be stopped, although every effort was made to bring it to a standstill by the motorman. The step of the car struck the child and fortunately threw her away from the track, and thus in all probability saved her life, as the spectators who observed the incident, were positive when they saw the little one's danger, that they were about to witness a fatality.
